tion <sup>21</sup> was subjected to vanity, not of its own will, but <sup>22</sup> by reason of him who subjected it, <sup>21</sup> in hope that <sup>23</sup> the creation itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the children of God. <sup>22</sup> For we know that <sup>24</sup> the whole creation <sup>25</sup> groaneth and travaileth in pain <sup>26</sup> together until now. <sup>23</sup> And not only so, but ourselves also, which have <sup>27</sup> the firstfruits of the Spirit, <sup>28</sup> even we ourselves groan within ourselves, <sup>29</sup> waiting for our adoption, <sup>30</sup> to wit, <sup>31</sup> the redemption of our body. <sup>24</sup> For <sup>32</sup> by hope were we saved: but <sup>33</sup> hope that is seen is not hope: <sup>34</sup> for who <sup>35</sup> hopeth for that which he seeth? <sup>35</sup> But if we hope for that which we see not, <sup>36</sup> then do we with <sup>37</sup> patience wait for it.

hand of God, * who also maketh intercession for us. 35 Who shall separate us from the love <sup>1</sup> of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? 36 Even as it is written,

"For thy sake <sup>b</sup> we are killed all the day long;

We were accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 Nay, in all these things we are more than <sup>c</sup> conquerors through <sup>d</sup> him that loved us. 38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, 39 nor height, nor depth, nor any other <sup>e</sup> creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

9 I say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience bearing witness with me in the Holy Ghost, <sup>a</sup> that I have great sorrow and unceasing pain in my heart. 3 For <sup>f</sup> I could <sup>g</sup> wish that I myself were <sup>h</sup> anathema from Christ for my brethren's sake, my kinsmen <sup>i</sup> according to the flesh: <sup>j</sup> who are 'Israelites; whose is <sup>k</sup> the adoption, and <sup>l</sup> the glory, and <sup>m</sup> the covenants, and <sup>n</sup> the giving of the law, and <sup>o</sup> the service of God, and <sup>p</sup> the promises; <sup>q</sup> whose are <sup>r</sup> the fathers, and of whom is Christ as concerning the flesh, <sup>s</sup> who is over all, <sup>t</sup> God blessed <sup>u</sup> for ever. Amen. 6 But <sup>v</sup> it is not as though the word of God hath come to nought. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel: 7 neither, <sup>w</sup> because they are Abraham's seed, are they all children: but, <sup>x</sup> 'In Isaac shall thy seed be called. 8 That is, it is not the children of the flesh that are children of God; but <sup>y</sup> "the children of the promise are reckoned for a seed. 9 For this is a word of promise, <sup>z</sup> According to this season will I come, and Sarah shall have a son. 10 And not only so; but <sup>aa</sup> Rebecca also having conceived by one, <sup>ab</sup> even by our father Isaac — 11 for the children being not yet born, neither having done anything good or bad, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of "him that calleth, <sup>ac</sup> it was said unto her, <sup>ad</sup> 'The elder shall serve the younger. 13 Even as it is written, <sup>ae</sup> 'Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated.

14 What shall we say then? <sup>af</sup> 'Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid. 15 For he saith to Moses, <sup>ag</sup> 'I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion. 16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that hath mercy. 17 For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, <sup>ah</sup> 'For this very purpose did I raise thee up, that I might shew in thee my power, and that my name might be published abroad in all the earth. 18 So then he hath mercy on whom he will, and whom he will <sup>ai</sup> he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he still find fault? For <sup>aj</sup> who withstandeth his will? 20 Nay but, O man, who art thou <sup>ak</sup> that repliest against God? <sup>al</sup> Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why didst thou make me thus? 21 Or <sup>am</sup> hath not the potter a right over the clay, from the same lump to make <sup>an</sup> one part a vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour? 22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering <sup>ao</sup> vessels of wrath <sup>ap</sup> fitted unto destruction: 23 <sup>aq</sup> and that he might make known <sup>ar</sup> the riches of his glory upon vessels of mercy, which he <sup>as</sup> afore prepared unto glory, 24 <sup>at</sup> even us, whom he also <sup>au</sup> called, <sup>av</sup> not from the Jews only, but also from the Gentiles? 25 As he saith also in Hosea,

<sup>aw</sup> 'I will call that my people, which was not my people;
And her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 <sup>ax</sup> And it shall be, <sup>ay</sup> that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people,
There shall they be called sons of <sup>az</sup> the living God.

27 And Isaiah crieth concerning Israel, <sup>ba</sup> 'If the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, <sup>bb</sup> 'it is the remnant that shall be saved: 28 for the Lord will execute

1 Some ancient authorities read of God. 2 Or, creation 3 Or, pray 4 Some modern interpreters place a full stop after flesh, and translate, He who is God over all be (is) blessed for ever: or, He who is over all is God, blessed for ever. Others punctuate, flesh, who is over all. God be (is) blessed for ever. 5 Gr. unto the ages. 6 Some ancient authorities omit and.

his word upon the earth, finishing it and cutting it short. 29 And, as Isaiah hath said before,

"Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed,

"We had become as Sodom, and had been made like unto Gomorrah.

30 What shall we say then? "That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith: 31 but Israel, following after a law of righteousness, did not arrive at that law.

32 Wherefore? <sup>1</sup>Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by works. They stumbled at the stone of stumbling; 33 even as it is written,

"Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence:

"And he that believeth on him shall not be put to shame.

IO Brethren, my heart's desire and my supplication to God is for them, that they may be saved. 2 For I bear them witness that they have a zeal for God, but not according to knowledge. 3 For being ignorant of God's righteousness, and seeking to establish their own, they did not subject themselves to the righteousness of God. 4 For Christ is the end of the law unto righteousness to every one that believeth. 5 For Moses writeth that the man that doeth the righteousness which is of the law shall live thereby. 6 But the righteousness which is of faith saith thus, "Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down:)

7 or, Who shall descend into the abyss? (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead.) 8 But what saith it? "The word is nigh thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach: 9 because if thou shalt confess with thy mouth Jesus as Lord, and shalt believe in thy heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved: 10 for with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. 11 For the scripture saith, "Whosoever believeth on him shall not be put to shame. 12 For there is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon him: 13 for, "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved. 14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher? 15 and how shall they preach, except they be sent? even as it is written, "How beautiful are the feet of them that bring glad tidings of good things! 16 But they did not all hearken to the glad tidings. For Isaiah saith, "Lord, who hath believed our report? 17 So belief cometh of hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. 18 But I say, Did they not hear? Yea, verily,

"Their sound went out into all the earth, And their words unto the ends of the world. 19 But I say, Did Israel not know? First Moses saith,

"I will provoke you to jealousy with that which is no nation,

With a nation void of understanding will I anger you.

20 And Isaiah is very bold, and saith,

"I was found of them that sought me not; I became manifest unto them that asked not of me.

21 But as to Israel he saith, "All the day long did I spread out my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

I say then, Did God cast off his people? God forbid.

For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin. 20 God did not cast off his people which he foreknew. Or wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elijah? how he pleadeth with God against Israel, 3 Lord, they have killed thy prophets, they have digged down thine altars: and I am left alone, and they seek my life. 4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? "I have left for myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5 Some ancient authorities read confess the word with thy mouth, that Jesus is Lord.

8 Or, the inhabited earth.

9 Or, in

5 Even so then at this present time also there is <sup>a</sup> a remnant according to the election of grace. 6 But if it is by grace, it is no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. 7 What then? <sup>a</sup> That which Israel seeketh for, that he obtained not; but the election obtained it, and the rest <sup>a</sup> were hardened: 8 according as it is written, <sup>a</sup> God gave them a spirit of stupor, <sup>a</sup> eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this very day. 9 And David saith,

And a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see,

And bow thou down their back alway.

11 I say then, Did they stumble that they might fall? God forbid: but by their <sup>1</sup> fall <sup>a</sup> salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy. 12 Now if their fall is the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fullness?

13 But I speak to you that are Gentiles. Inasmuch then as <sup>1</sup> I am an apostle of Gentiles, I glorify my ministry: 14 if by any means I may provoke to jealousy them that are my flesh, and <sup>a</sup> may save some of them. 15 For if the casting away of them is <sup>a</sup> the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead? 16 And <sup>a</sup> if the firstfruit is holy, so is the lump: and if the root is holy, so are the branches. 17 But if <sup>a</sup> some of the branches were broken off, and thou, <sup>a</sup> being a wild olive, wast grafted in among them, and didst become partaker with them <sup>2</sup> of the root of the fatness of the olive tree; 18 glory not over the branches: but if thou gloriest, it is not thou that bearest the root, but the root thee. 19 Thou wilt say then, Branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in. 20 Well; by their unbelief they were broken off, and thou <sup>a</sup> standest by thy faith. <sup>a</sup> Be not highminded, but <sup>a</sup> fear: 21 for if God spared not the natural branches, neither will he spare thee.

22 Behold then the goodness and severity of God: toward them that fell, severity; but toward thee, God's goodness, <sup>a</sup> if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise <sup>a</sup> thou also shalt be cut off. 23 And <sup>a</sup> they also, if they continue not in their unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again. 24 For if thou wast cut out of that which is by nature a wild olive tree, and wast grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which are the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, have you ignorant of this mystery, <sup>a</sup> lest ye be wise in your own conceits, that <sup>a</sup> a hardening in part hath befallen Israel, <sup>a</sup> until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in; 26 and so all Israel shall be saved: even as it is written,

27 And this is <sup>a</sup> my <sup>a</sup> covenant unto them,

28 As touching the gospel, they are enemies for your sake: but as touching the election, they are <sup>a</sup> beloved for the fathers' sake. 29 For the gifts and <sup>a</sup> the calling of God are <sup>a</sup> without repentance. 30 For as ye <sup>a</sup> in time past were disobedient to God, but now have obtained mercy by their disobedience, 31 even so have these also now been disobedient, that by the mercy shewn to you they also may now obtain mercy. 32 For God <sup>a</sup> hath shut up all unto disobedience, that he might have mercy upon all.

that are lowly. <sup>45</sup> Be not wise in your own conceits. <sup>46</sup> Render to no man evil for evil. <sup>47</sup> Take thought for things honourable in the sight of all men. <sup>48</sup> If it be possible, as much as in you lieth, <sup>49</sup> be at peace with all men. <sup>50</sup> Vengeance not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto <sup>51</sup> wrath: for it is written, <sup>52</sup> Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord. <sup>53</sup> But <sup>54</sup> if thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him to drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. <sup>55</sup> Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

13 Let every soul <sup>1</sup> be in subjection to the higher powers: <sup>2</sup> for <sup>3</sup> there is no power but of God; and the <sup>4</sup> powers that be are ordained of God. <sup>5</sup> Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God: and they that withstand shall receive to themselves judgement. <sup>6</sup> For rulers are not a terror to the good work, but to the evil. And wouldest thou have no fear of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have <sup>7</sup> praise from the same: <sup>8</sup> for <sup>9</sup> he is a minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for <sup>10</sup> he beareth not the sword in vain: for <sup>11</sup> he is a minister of God, <sup>12</sup> an avenger for wrath to him that doeth evil. <sup>13</sup> Wherefore <sup>14</sup> ye must needs be in subjection, not only because of the wrath, but also <sup>15</sup> for conscience sake. <sup>16</sup> For for this cause ye pay tribute also; for they are ministers of God's service, attending continually upon this very thing. <sup>17</sup> Render to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute <sup>18</sup> is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

11 And this, knowing the season, that now it is high time for you <sup>1</sup>to awake out of sleep: <sup>1</sup>for now is <sup>2</sup>salvation nearer to us than when we first believed. 12 <sup>2</sup>The night is far spent, and the day is at hand: let us therefore <sup>1</sup>cast off <sup>2</sup>the works of darkness, and <sup>1</sup>let us put on the armour of light. 13 <sup>1</sup>Let us walk honestly, as in the day; <sup>2</sup>not in revelling and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, <sup>2</sup>not in strife and jealousy. 14 But <sup>1</sup>put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, <sup>1</sup>to fulfil the lusts thereof.

1 But <sup>1</sup>him that is weak in faith receive ye, yet not <sup>2</sup>to doubtful disputations. 2 <sup>1</sup>One man hath faith to eat all things:

but he that is weak eateth herbs. 3 Let not him that eateth set at nought him that eateth not; and let not him that eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him. 4 <sup>1</sup>Who art thou that judgest the <sup>1</sup>servant of another? to his own lord he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be made to stand; for the Lord hath power to make him stand. 5 <sup>1</sup>One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. <sup>1</sup>Let each man be fully assured in his own mind. 6 He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord: and he that eateth, eateth unto the Lord, for <sup>1</sup>he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, unto the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks. 7 For <sup>1</sup>none of us liveth to himself, and none dieth to himself. 8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; or whether we die, we die unto the Lord: <sup>1</sup>whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's. 9 For to this end Christ <sup>1</sup>died, and lived again, that he might be Lord <sup>1</sup>of both the dead and the living. 10 But thou, why dost thou judge thy brother? or thou again, why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for <sup>1</sup>we shall all stand before <sup>1</sup>the judgement-seat of God. 11 For it is written,

As I live, saith the Lord, to me every knee shall bow,

And every tongue shall <sup>1</sup>confess to God.

13 <sup>1</sup>Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge ye this rather, <sup>1</sup>that no man put a stumblingblock in his brother's way, or an occasion of falling. 14 I know, and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, <sup>1</sup>that nothing is unclean of itself: <sup>1</sup>save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean. 15 For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, <sup>1</sup>thou walkest no longer in love. <sup>1</sup>Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died. 16 <sup>1</sup>Let not then your good be evil spoken of: 17 <sup>1</sup>for the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but <sup>1</sup>righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost. 18 For he that herein serveth Christ is <sup>1</sup>well-pleasing to God, and approved of men. 19 So then <sup>1</sup>let us <sup>1</sup>follow after things which make for peace, and things whereby we may <sup>1</sup>edify one another. 20 <sup>1</sup>Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. <sup>1</sup>All things indeed are clean; howbeit <sup>1</sup>it is evil for that man who eateth with offence. 21 <sup>1</sup>It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.

22 The faith which thou hast, have thou to thyself before God. <sup>1</sup>Happy is he that judgeth not himself in that which he <sup>1</sup>approveth. 23 But he that doubteth is condemned if he eat, because <sup>1</sup>he eateth not of faith; and whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

1 Now <sup>1</sup>we that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves. 2 <sup>1</sup>Let each one of us please his neighbour for that which is good, unto edifying. 3 For Christ also pleased not himself; but, as it is written, <sup>1</sup>The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell upon me. 4 For <sup>1</sup>whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our <sup>1</sup>learning, that through patience and through <sup>1</sup>comfort of the scriptures we might have hope. 5 Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you <sup>1</sup>to be of the same mind

one with another according to Christ Jesus: 6 that with one accord ye may with one mouth glorify 'the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. 7 Wherefore receive ye one another, even as Christ also received 'you, to the glory of God. 8 For I say that Christ 'hath been made a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, that 'he might confirm the promises given unto the fathers, 9 and 'that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written,

"Therefore will I 'give praise unto thee among the Gentiles, And sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith,

"Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again,

"Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; And let all the peoples praise him.

12 And again, Isaiah saith,

"There shall be 'the root of Jesse,

And he that ariseth to rule over the Gentiles;

"On him shall the Gentiles hope.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all 'joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, in the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And 'I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye yourselves are full of goodness, filled with 'all knowledge, able also to admonish one another. 15 But I write the more boldly unto you in some measure, as putting you again in remembrance, 'because of the grace that was given me of God, 16 that I should be 'a minister of Christ Jesus unto the Gentiles, 17 ministering the gospel of God, that 'the offering up of the Gentiles might be made acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost. 17 I have therefore 'my glorying in Christ Jesus 'in things pertaining to God. 18 For I will not dare to speak of any 'things save those 'which Christ wrought through me, 'for the obedience of the Gentiles, by word and deed, 19 'in the power of signs and wonders, in the power of 'the Holy Ghost; so that 'from Jerusalem, and round about 'even unto Illyricum, I have 'fully preached the gospel of Christ; 20 yea, 'making it my aim so to preach the gospel, not where Christ was already named, 'that I might not build upon another man's foundation; 21 but, as it is written,

"They shall see, to whom no tidings of him came,

And they who have not heard shall understand.

22 Wherefore also 'I was hindered these many times from coming to you: 23 but now, having no more any place in these regions, and 'having these many years a longing to come unto you, 24 whensoever I go 'unto Spain (for I hope to see you in my journey, and 'to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first in some measure I shall have been satisfied with your company) — 25 but now, I say, 'I go unto Jerusalem, ministering unto the saints. 26 For 'it hath been the good pleasure of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor among the saints that are at Jerusalem. 27 Yea, it hath been their good pleasure; and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, 'they owe it to them also to minister unto them in carnal things. 28 When therefore I have accomplished this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will go on by you 'unto Spain. 29 And I know that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by 'the love of the Spirit, that ye 'strive together with me in your prayers to God for me; 31 'that I may be delivered from them that are disobedient in Judaea, and that 'my ministration which I have for Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints; 32 that I may come unto you in joy through the will of God, and together with you 'find rest. 33 Now 'the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

I commend unto you 16 Phoebe our sister, who is a 'servant of the church that is at 'Cenchreae: 2 that ye 'receive her in the Lord, worthily of the saints, and that ye assist her in what-

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which are causing the divisions and occasions of stumbling, <sup>f</sup> contrary to the <sup>2</sup> doctrine which ye learned: and <sup>g</sup> turn away from them. 18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Christ, but <sup>h</sup> their own belly; and <sup>i</sup> by their smooth and fair speech they beguile the hearts of the innocent. 19 For <sup>j</sup> your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I PAUL, <sup>a</sup> called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ <sup>b</sup> through the will of God, and <sup>c</sup> Sosthenes <sup>d</sup> our brother, <sup>e</sup> unto the church of God which is at Corinth, even them that are <sup>f</sup> sanctified in Christ Jesus, <sup>g</sup> called to be saints, with all that <sup>h</sup> call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ in every place, their Lord and ours: <sup>i</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no <sup>x</sup> divisions among you; but that ye be perfected together <sup>y</sup> in the same mind and in the same judgement. <sup>z</sup> 11 For it hath been signified unto me concerning you, my brethren, by them which are of the household of Chloe, that there are <sup>aa</sup> contentions among you. <sup>ab</sup> 12 Now this I mean, that <sup>ac</sup> each one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of <sup>ad</sup> Apollos; and I of <sup>ae</sup> Cephas; and I of Christ. <sup>af</sup> 13 <sup>ag</sup> <sup>ah</sup> Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye <sup>ai</sup> baptized into the name of Paul? <sup>aj</sup> 14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, save <sup>ak</sup> Crispus and <sup>al</sup> Gaius; <sup>am</sup> 15 lest any man should say that ye were baptized in my name. <sup>an</sup> 16 And I baptized also <sup>ao</sup> the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other. <sup>ap</sup> 17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: <sup>aq</sup> <sup>ar</sup> not in wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18 For the word of the cross is to <sup>as</sup> them that are perishing <sup>at</sup> foolishness; but unto us <sup>au</sup> which are being saved it is <sup>av</sup> the power of God. <sup>aw</sup> 19 For it is written,

I will destroy the wisdom of the wise,
And the prudence of the prudent will I reject.

should glory before God. 30 But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who was made unto us "wisdom from God, 1 and "righteousness and "sanctification, and "redemption: 31 that, according as it is written, "He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

1 And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with excellency of "speech or of wisdom, proclaiming to you "the "mystery of God. 2 For I determined not to know anything among you, save "Jesus Christ, and him crucified. 3 And "I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling. 4 And my "speech and my "preaching were not in persuasive words of wisdom, but in demonstration of "the Spirit and of power: 5 that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but "in the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among "the "perfect: yet "a wisdom not of this "world, nor of the rulers of this "world, "which are coming to nought: 7 but we speak God's wisdom in a mystery, even the wisdom that hath been hidden,
 "which God foreordained before the worlds unto our glory: 8 which none of "the rulers of this world knoweth: for "we had they known it, they would not have crucified "the Lord of glory: 9 but as it is written,

"Things which eye saw not, and ear heard not,
 And which entered not into the heart of man,

Whatsoever things God "prepared "for them that love him.
 10 But unto us "God revealed "them through the Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, "the deep things of God. 11 "For who among men knoweth the things of a man, "save the spirit of the man, which is in him? even so the things of God none knoweth, save the Spirit of God. 12 But "we received, not "the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us by God. 13 Which things also we speak, not "in words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Spirit teacheth, 10 11 comparing spiritual things with spiritual. 14 Now the "natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are "foolishness unto him; and "he cannot know them, because they are spiritually 15 judged. 15 But he that is "spiritual 15 judgeth all things, and he himself is 15 judged of no man.

 16 "For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he should instruct him? But "we have the mind of Christ.

1 And I, brethren, could not 3 speak unto you as unto "spiritual, but as unto "carnal, as unto "babes in Christ. 2 "I fed you with milk, not with meat; for ye were not yet able to bear it: nay, not even now are ye able; 3 for ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you "jealousy and strife, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men? 4 For "when one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos: "are ye not men? 5 What then is Apollos? and what is Paul?
 "Ministers through whom ye believed; and "each as the Lord gave to him. 6 "I planted, "Apollos watered; "but God gave the increase. 7 So then "neither is he that planteth anything, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. 8 Now he that plant-eth and he that watereth are one:
 but each "shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.
 9 For we are "God's fellow-workers: ye are God's "husbandry, "God's building.

10 According to the grace of God which was given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder I laid a "foundation; and "another buildeth thereon. But let each man take heed how he buildeth thereon. 11 For "other foundation can no man lay
 "than that which is laid, "which is Jesus Christ. 12 But if any man buildeth on the foundation gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay, stubble; 13 "each man's work shall be made manifest: for "the day shall declare it, because it is revealed "in fire; 16 and "the fire itself shall

 15 Or, and each man's work, of what sort it is, the fire shall prove it.

prove each man's work of what sort it is. <sup>14</sup> If any man's work shall abide which he built thereon, <sup>15</sup> he shall receive a reward. <sup>16</sup> If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; <sup>17</sup> yet so as through fire.

<sup>18</sup> Know ye not that ye are a temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? <sup>17</sup> If any man destroyeth the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

<sup>18</sup> Let no man deceive himself. If any man thinketh that he is wise among you in this world, let him become a fool, that he may become wise. <sup>19</sup> For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He that taketh the wise in their craftiness: and again, The Lord knoweth the reasonings of the wise, that they are vain. <sup>21</sup> Wherefore let no one glory in men. For all things are yours; <sup>22</sup> whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours; <sup>23</sup> and ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

Let a man so account of us, as of ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God. <sup>2</sup> Here, moreover, it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful. <sup>3</sup> But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgement: yea, I judge not mine own self. <sup>4</sup> For I know nothing against myself; yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord. <sup>5</sup> Wherefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who will both bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and make manifest the counsels of the hearts; and then shall each man have his praise of God.

Now these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and Apollos for your sakes; that in us ye might learn not to go beyond the things which are written; that no one of you be puffed up for the one against the other. <sup>7</sup> For who maketh thee to differ?

and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? but if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it? <sup>8</sup> Already are ye filled, already ye are become rich, ye have reigned without us: yea and I would that ye did reign, that we also might reign with you. <sup>9</sup> For, I think, God hath set forth us the apostles last of all, as men doomed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men. <sup>10</sup> We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; we are weak, but ye are strong; ye have glory, but we have dishonour. <sup>11</sup> Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace; <sup>12</sup> and we toil, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we endure; <sup>13</sup> being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the filth of the world, the offscouring of all things, even until now.

I write not these things to shame you, but to admonish you as my beloved children. <sup>15</sup> For though ye should have ten thousand tutors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I begat you through the gospel. <sup>16</sup> I beseech you therefore, be ye imitators of me. <sup>17</sup> For this cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, who shall put you in remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, even as I teach everywhere in every church. <sup>18</sup> Now some are puffed up, as though I were not coming to you. <sup>19</sup> But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will; and I will know, not the word of them which are puffed up, but the power. <sup>20</sup> For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power. <sup>21</sup> What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love and a spirit of meekness?

It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath his father's wife. <sup>2</sup> And ye are puffed up, and did not rather mourn, that he that had done this deed might be taken away from among you. <sup>3</sup> For I verily, <sup>4</sup> being absent in body but present in spirit, have already, as though I were present, judged him that hath so wrought this thing, <sup>4</sup> in the name of our Lord Jesus, ye being gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus, <sup>5</sup> to deliver such a one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, <sup>6</sup> that the spirit may be saved <sup>7</sup> in the day of the Lord <sup>1</sup> Jesus. <sup>6</sup> Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that <sup>8</sup> a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? <sup>7</sup> Purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, even as ye are unleavened. For our passover also hath been sacrificed, even Christ: <sup>8</sup> wherefore let us <sup>2</sup> keep the feast, <sup>9</sup> not with old leaven, neither with <sup>10</sup> the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

them to judge who are of no account in the church? <sup>5</sup> I say this to move you to shame. Is it so, that there cannot be found among you one wise man, who shall be able to decide between his brethren, <sup>6</sup> but brother goeth to law with brother, and that before unbelievers? <sup>7</sup> Nay, already it is altogether <sup>8</sup> a defect in you, that ye have lawsuits one with another. <sup>9</sup> Why not rather take wrong? why not rather be defrauded? <sup>8</sup> Nay, but ye yourselves do wrong, and defraud, and that <sup>10</sup> your brethren. <sup>9</sup> Or know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: <sup>11</sup> neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with men, <sup>10</sup> nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God. <sup>11</sup> And <sup>12</sup> such were some of you: but <sup>13</sup> ye <sup>14</sup> were washed, but <sup>15</sup> ye were sanctified, but <sup>16</sup> ye were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Spirit of our God.

<sup>12</sup> All things are lawful for me; but not all things are expedient. All things are lawful for me; but I will not be brought under the power of any. <sup>13</sup> Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall bring to nought both it <sup>14</sup> and them. But the body is not for fornication, but <sup>15</sup> for the Lord; and <sup>16</sup> the Lord for the body: <sup>14</sup> and <sup>17</sup> God both raised the Lord, and <sup>18</sup> will raise up us <sup>19</sup> through his power. <sup>15</sup> Know ye not that <sup>20</sup> your bodies are members of Christ? shall I then take away the members of Christ, and make them members of a harlot? God forbid. <sup>16</sup> Or know ye not that he that is joined to a harlot is one body? for, <sup>21</sup> The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh. <sup>17</sup> But he that is joined unto the Lord <sup>18</sup> is one spirit. <sup>18</sup> Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication <sup>19</sup> sinneth against his own body. <sup>19</sup> Or <sup>20</sup> know ye not that your body is <sup>21</sup> temple of the <sup>22</sup> Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have from God? and <sup>23</sup> ye are not your own; <sup>20</sup> for ye were bought with a price: * glory God therefore in your body.

1 Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote: "It is good for a man not to touch a woman. 2 But, because of fornications, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. 3<sup>b</sup> Let the husband render unto the wife her due: and likewise also the wife unto the husband. 4 The wife hath not power over her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power over his own body, but the wife. 5<sup>c</sup> Defraud ye not one the other, except it be by consent for a season, that ye may give yourselves unto prayer, and may be together again, <sup>d</sup>that Satan tempt you not because of your incontinency. 6 But this I say by way of permission, <sup>e</sup>not of commandment. 7<sup>f</sup> Yet <sup>g</sup>I would that all men were <sup>h</sup>even as I myself. Howbeit <sup>i</sup>each man hath his own gift from God, <sup>j</sup>one after this manner, and another after that.

8 But I say to the unmarried and to widows, <sup>k</sup>It is good for them if they abide <sup>l</sup>even as I. 9 But if they have not continency, <sup>m</sup>let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn. 10 But unto the married <sup>n</sup>I give charge, <sup>o</sup>yea not I, but the Lord, <sup>p</sup>That the wife depart not from her husband <sup>q</sup>11 (but and if she depart, <sup>r</sup>let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and <sup>s</sup>that the husband leave not his wife. 12 But to the rest say I, not the Lord: If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. 13 And the woman which hath an unbelieving husband, and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. 14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: <sup>t</sup>else were your children unclean; but now are they holy. 15 Yet if the unbelieving departeth, let him depart: the brother or the sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called <sup>u</sup>us <sup>v</sup>in peace. 16 For how knowest thou, O wife, <sup>w</sup>whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O husband, whether thou shalt save thy wife? 17 Only, <sup>x</sup>as the Lord hath distributed to each man, as God hath called each, so let him walk. 18 And so ordain I in <sup>y</sup>all the churches. 19 Was any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Hath any been called in uncircumcision? <sup>z</sup>let him not be circumcised. 20<sup>a</sup> Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing; but <sup>b</sup>the keeping of the commandments of God. 20<sup>b</sup> Let each man abide in that calling wherein he was called. 21 Wast thou called being a bondservant? care not for it: <sup>c</sup>but if thou canst become free, use <sup>d</sup>it rather. 22 For he that was called in the Lord, being a bondservant, is <sup>e</sup>the Lord's freedman: likewise he that was called, being free, is <sup>f</sup>Christ's bondservant. 23<sup>g</sup> Ye were bought with a price; <sup>h</sup>become not bondservants of men. 24 Brethren, <sup>i</sup>let each man, wherein he was called, therein abide with God.

please his <sup>1</sup>wife. 34 And there is a difference also between the wife and the virgin. She that is unmarried is careful for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married is careful for the things of the world, how she may please her husband. 35 And this I say for your own profit; not that I may <sup>p</sup>cast a <sup>2</sup>snare upon you, but for that which is seemly, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction. 36 But if any man thinketh that he behaveth himself unseemly toward his <sup>3</sup>virgin daughter, if she be <sup>4</sup>past the flower of her age, and if need so requireth, let him do what he will; he sinneth not; let them marry. 37 But he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power as touching his own will, and hath determined this in his own heart, to keep his own <sup>5</sup>virgin daughter, shall do well. 38 So then both he that giveth his own <sup>6</sup>virgin daughter in marriage <sup>7</sup>doeth well; and he that giveth her not in marriage shall do better. 39 <sup>8</sup>A wife is bound for so long time as her husband liveth; but if the husband be <sup>9</sup>dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only <sup>10</sup>in the Lord. 40 But she is happier if she abide as she is, <sup>11</sup>after my judgement: and I think <sup>12</sup>that I also have the Spirit of God.

through whom are all things, and we <sup>32</sup>through him. <sup>33</sup>7 Howbeit in all men there is not that knowledge: but some, <sup>34</sup>being used until now to the idol, eat as <sup>35</sup>of a thing sacrificed to an idol; and <sup>36</sup>their conscience being weak is defiled. <sup>37</sup>8 But <sup>38</sup>meat will not commend us to God: neither, if we eat not, <sup>39</sup>are we the worse; nor, if we eat, <sup>40</sup>are we the better. <sup>41</sup>9 But take heed <sup>42</sup>lest by any means this <sup>43</sup>liberty of yours become a stumblingblock <sup>44</sup>to the weak. <sup>45</sup>10 For if a man see thee which hast knowledge sitting at meat in <sup>46</sup>an idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, <sup>47</sup>be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols? <sup>48</sup>11 For <sup>49</sup>through thy knowledge he that is weak <sup>50</sup>perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died. <sup>51</sup>12 And thus, sinning against the brethren, and <sup>52</sup>wounding their conscience when it is weak, <sup>53</sup>ye sin against Christ. <sup>54</sup>13 Wherefore, <sup>55</sup>if meat maketh my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I make not my brother to stumble.

9 Am I not free? <sup>1</sup>Am I not an apostle? <sup>2</sup>Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? <sup>3</sup>Are not ye my work in the Lord? <sup>4</sup>2 If to others I am not an apostle, yet at least I am to you: for <sup>5</sup>the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord. <sup>6</sup>3 My defence to them that examine me is this. <sup>7</sup>4 Have we no right to eat and to drink? <sup>8</sup>5 Have we no right to lead about a wife that is a <sup>9</sup>believer, even as the rest of the apostles, and <sup>10</sup>the brethren of the Lord, and <sup>11</sup>Cephas? <sup>12</sup>6 Or I only and Barnabas, have we not a right to forbear working? <sup>13</sup>7 What soldier ever serveth at his own charges? <sup>14</sup>Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock? <sup>15</sup>8 Do I speak these things after the manner of men? or saith not the law also the same? <sup>16</sup>9 For it is written in the law of Moses, <sup>17</sup>Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. Is it for the oxen that God careth, or for <sup>18</sup>saith he it altogether for our sake? Yea, <sup>19</sup>for our sake it was written: because <sup>20</sup>he that ploweth ought to plow in

1 Or, wife, and is divided. 2 So also the wife and the virgin: she that is unmarried is careful for. Many ancient authorities read wife, and is divided. 3 So also the woman that is unmarried and the virgin is careful for. 4 Or, constraining. 5 Gr. no one. 6 Or, virgin (omitting daughter). 7 Gr. fallen asleep. 8 Gr. buildeth up. 9 Gr. do we lack. 10 Gr. do we abound. 11 Gr. power. 12 Gr. be builded up. 13 Gr. in. 14 Gr. sister. 15 Or, saith he it, as he doubtless doth, for our sake?

hope, and he that thresheth, to thresh in hope of partaking. <sup>11</sup> If we sowed unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we shall reap your carnal things? <sup>12</sup> If others partake of this right over you, do not we yet more? Nevertheless <sup>13</sup> we did not use this right; but we bear all things, that we may cause no hindrance to the gospel of Christ. <sup>13</sup> Know ye not that <sup>14</sup> they which minister about sacred things eat of the things of the temple, and they which wait upon the altar have their portion with the altar? <sup>14</sup> Even so did the Lord ordain that <sup>15</sup> they which proclaim the gospel should live of the gospel. <sup>15</sup> But <sup>16</sup> I have used none of these things: and I write not these things that it may be so done in my case: for it were good for me rather to die, than that any man should make <sup>17</sup> my glorying void. <sup>16</sup> For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of; for necessity is laid upon me; for woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel. <sup>17</sup> For if I do this of mine own will, I have a reward: but if not of mine own will, I have <sup>18</sup> a stewardship intrusted to me. <sup>18</sup> What then is my reward? That, when I preach the gospel, <sup>19</sup> I may make the gospel without charge, so as not to use to the full my right in the gospel. <sup>19</sup> For <sup>20</sup> though I was free from all men, <sup>20</sup> I brought myself under bondage to all, that I might gain the more. <sup>20</sup> And <sup>21</sup> to the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, not being myself under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law; <sup>21</sup> to <sup>22</sup> them that are without law, as without law, not being without law to God, but <sup>23</sup> under law to Christ, that I might gain them that are without law. <sup>22</sup> To the weak I became weak, that I might gain the weak: <sup>23</sup> I am become all things to all men, that <sup>24</sup> I may by all means save some. <sup>23</sup> And I do all things for the gospel's sake, <sup>24</sup> that I may be a joint partaker thereof. <sup>24</sup> Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? Even so <sup>25</sup> run, that ye may attain. <sup>25</sup> And every man that <sup>26</sup> striveth in the games is temperate in all things. Now they do it to receive a corruptible crown; but we <sup>26</sup> an incorruptible. <sup>26</sup> I therefore so run, as not uncertainly; so <sup>27</sup> fight I, as not <sup>28</sup> beating the air: <sup>27</sup> but I <sup>29</sup> buffet my body, and <sup>30</sup> bring it into bondage: lest by any means, after that I have preached to others, <sup>31</sup> I myself should be <sup>32</sup> rejected.

II of me, even as I also am of Christ.

but <sup>o</sup>'the same God, who worketh all things in all. <sup>7</sup>But <sup>p</sup>'to each one is given the manifestation of the Spirit to profit withal. <sup>8</sup>For to one is given through the Spirit the word of <sup>q</sup>'wisdom; and to another the word of <sup>r</sup>'knowledge, according to the same Spirit: <sup>9</sup>to another <sup>s</sup>'faith, in the same Spirit; and to another <sup>t</sup>'gifts of healings, in the one Spirit; <sup>10</sup>and to another <sup>u</sup>'workings of <sup>v</sup>'miracles; and to another <sup>w</sup>'prophecy; and to another <sup>x</sup>'discernings of spirits: to another <sup>y</sup>'divers kinds of tongues; and to another <sup>z</sup>'the interpretation of tongues: <sup>11</sup>but all these worketh the one and the same Spirit, <sup>a</sup>'dividing to each one severally <sup>b</sup>'even as he will.

I If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging cymbal. <sup>2</sup> And if I have the gift of <sup>v</sup>'prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, <sup>w</sup>so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. <sup>3</sup> And <sup>x</sup>'if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and <sup>y</sup>'if I give my body <sup>z</sup>'to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. <sup>4</sup> <sup>a</sup>'Love suffereth long, and <sup>b</sup>'is kind; love <sup>c</sup>'envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, <sup>d</sup>'is not puffed up, <sup>e</sup>doth not behave itself unseemly, <sup>f</sup>seeketh not its own, is not provoked, <sup>g</sup>taketh not account of evil; <sup>h</sup>'rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but <sup>i</sup>'rejoiceth with the truth; <sup>j</sup>'beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, <sup>k</sup>'endureth all things. <sup>8</sup> Love never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away. <sup>9</sup> For <sup>l</sup>'we know in part, and we prophesy in part: <sup>m</sup>but <sup>n</sup>'when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. <sup>11</sup> When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I

I <sup>1</sup>'Follow after love; yet <sup>2</sup>'I <sup>3</sup>'desire earnestly <sup>4</sup>'spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may <sup>5</sup>'prophesy. <sup>2</sup> For <sup>6</sup>'he that speaketh in a tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God; for no man <sup>7</sup>'understandeth; but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries. <sup>3</sup> But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men edification, and comfort, and consolation. <sup>4</sup> He that speaketh in a tongue <sup>5</sup>'edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth <sup>6</sup>'edifieth the church. <sup>5</sup> Now I would have you all speak with tongues, but <sup>7</sup>'rather that ye should prophesy: and greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying. <sup>6</sup> But now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either by way of <sup>7</sup>'revelation, or of knowledge, or of prophesying, or of <sup>8</sup>'teaching? <sup>7</sup> Even things without life, giving a voice, whether pipe or harp, if they give not a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped? <sup>8</sup> For <sup>9</sup>'if the trumpet give an uncertain voice, who shall prepare himself for war? <sup>9</sup> So also ye, unless ye utter by the tongue speech easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye will be <sup>10</sup>'speaking into the air. <sup>10</sup> There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and <sup>11</sup>'no kind is without signification. <sup>11</sup> If then I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh <sup>12</sup>'a barbarian, and he that speaketh will be a barbarian <sup>13</sup>unto me. <sup>12</sup> So also ye, since ye are zealous of <sup>14</sup>'spiritual gifts, seek that ye may abound unto the edifying of the church. <sup>13</sup> Wherefore let him that speaketh in a tongue pray that he may interpret. <sup>14</sup> For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful. <sup>15</sup> What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: <sup>16</sup> I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing <sup>17</sup> with the understanding also. <sup>18</sup> Else if thou bless with the spirit, how shall he that filleth the place of <sup>19</sup> the unlearned say <sup>20</sup> the Amen at <sup>21</sup> thy giving of thanks, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest? <sup>22</sup> For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not <sup>23</sup> edified. <sup>24</sup> I thank God, I speak with tongues more than you all: <sup>25</sup> howbeit in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, than I might instruct others also, than ten thousand words in a tongue.

a revelation be made to another sitting by, <sup>57</sup> let the first keep silence. <sup>58</sup> For ye all can prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be <sup>59</sup> comforted; <sup>60</sup> and the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets; <sup>61</sup> for God is not a God of confusion, but of peace; as in <sup>62</sup> all the churches of the saints.

because <sup>9</sup>I persecuted the church of God. <sup>10</sup>But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not found <sup>1</sup>vain; but <sup>2</sup>I laboured more abundantly than they all: <sup>3</sup>'yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me. <sup>11</sup>Whether then it be I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

him, then shall the Son also himself be subjected to him that did subject all things unto him, that <sup>2</sup>'God may be all in all.

1 Or, void. 2 Some ancient authorities read our. 3 Or, the Christ. 4 Or, If we have only hoped in Christ in this life. 5 Or, presence. 6 Or, the God and Father. 7 Or, But when he shall have said. All things are put in subjection (evidently excepting him that did subject all things unto him), when, I say, all things &c. 8 Or, your glorying. 9 Or, what doth it profit me, if the dead are not raised? became a living soul. <sup>6</sup>The last Adam became a <sup>7</sup>life-giving spirit. <sup>46</sup>Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual; but that which is natural; then that which is spiritual. <sup>47</sup><sup>7</sup>The first man is of the earth, <sup>48</sup>earthy: 'the second man is of heaven. <sup>48</sup>As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, <sup>49</sup>such are they also that are heavenly. <sup>49</sup>And <sup>2</sup>as we have borne the image of the earthy, <sup>1</sup>we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

I shall have passed through <sup>8</sup>Macedonia; for <sup>9</sup>I do pass through Macedonia; <sup>6</sup>but with you it may be that I shall abide, or even winter, that ye may <sup>7</sup>set me forward on my journey whithersoever I go. <sup>7</sup>For I do not wish to see you now <sup>8</sup>by the way; for I hope to tarry a while with you, <sup>9</sup>if the Lord permit. <sup>8</sup>But I will tarry at Ephesus until <sup>10</sup>Pentecost; <sup>9</sup>for <sup>11</sup>a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and <sup>12</sup>there are many adversaries.

I Jesus <sup>b</sup> through the will of God, and <sup>c</sup> Timothy <sup>1</sup> our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, <sup>d</sup> with all the saints which are in the whole of Achaia: <sup>2</sup> <sup>e</sup> Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

ther of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and <sup>g</sup> God of all comfort; <sup>4</sup> <sup>h</sup> who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. <sup>5</sup> For <sup>i</sup> as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ. <sup>6</sup> But <sup>j</sup> whether we be afflicted, it is for your comfort and salvation; or whether we be comforted, it is for your comfort, which worketh in the patient enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: <sup>7</sup> and our hope for you is stedfast; knowing that, <sup>8</sup> as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so also are ye of the comfort. <sup>9</sup> For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning <sup>10</sup> our affliction which befell <sup>us</sup> in Asia, that we were weighed down exceedingly, beyond our power, insomuch that we despaired even of life: <sup>11</sup> <sup>g</sup> yea, we ourselves have had the <sup>h</sup> answer of death within ourselves, that we <sup>i</sup> should not trust in ourselves, <sup>j</sup> but in God <sup>k</sup> which
ered us out of so great a death, and will deliver: <sup>13</sup> on whom we have <sup>14</sup> set our hope that he will also still deliver us; <sup>15</sup> <sup>m</sup> ye also helping together on our behalf by your supplication; that, <sup>16</sup> for the gift bestowed upon us by means of many, thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf.

<sup>17</sup> For our glorying is this, <sup>n</sup> the testimony of our conscience, that in holiness and <sup>o</sup> sincerity of God,

<sup>p</sup> not in fleshly wisdom but in the grace of God, we behaved ourselves in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward. <sup>18</sup> For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or even acknowledge, and I hope ye will acknowledge unto the end: <sup>19</sup> as also ye did acknowledge us <sup>q</sup> in part, that <sup>r</sup> we are your glorying, even as <sup>s</sup> ye also are ours, <sup>t</sup> in the day of our Lord Jesus.

<sup>20</sup> And in this confidence <sup>u</sup> I was minded to come before unto you, that ye might have <sup>v</sup> a second <sup>w</sup> benefit; <sup>21</sup> and by you <sup>x</sup> to pass into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come unto you, and of you to be set forward on my journey unto Judaea. <sup>22</sup> When I therefore was thus minded, did I shew fickleness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose <sup>y</sup> according to the flesh, that with me there should be the yea yea and the nay nay? <sup>23</sup> But as <sup>z</sup> God is faithful, <sup>aa</sup> our word toward you is not yea and nay. <sup>24</sup> For <sup>ab</sup> the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you <sup>ac</sup> by us, even <sup>ad</sup> by me and <sup>ae</sup> Silvanus and Timothy, was not yea and nay, but <sup>af</sup> in him is yea. <sup>25</sup> For <sup>ag</sup> how many soever be the promises of God, in him is the yea: wherefore also through him is <sup>ah</sup> the Amen, unto the glory of God through us. <sup>26</sup> Now he that stablisheth us with you <sup>ai</sup> in Christ, and <sup>aj</sup> anointed us, is God; <sup>27</sup> <sup>ak</sup> who also <sup>al</sup> sealed us, and <sup>am</sup> gave <sup>an</sup> us the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

ness upon my soul, that <sup>ap</sup> to spare you I forbore to come unto Corinth. <sup>29</sup> Not that we <sup>aq</sup> have lordship over your faith, but are help-
stand. <sup>30</sup> But I determined this 2 for myself, <sup>at</sup> that I would not come again to you with sorrow.
then is he that maketh me glad,

but he that is made sorry by me? 3 And I wrote this very thing, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; <sup>w</sup>having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all. 4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart <sup>z</sup>I wrote unto you with many tears; not that ye should be made sorry, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But <sup>v</sup>if any hath caused sorrow, <sup>u</sup>he hath caused sorrow, not to me, but <sup>u</sup>in part (that I press not too heavily) to you all. 6 Sufficient to such a one is <sup>b</sup>this punishment which was inflicted by <sup>1</sup>the many; 7 so that contrariwise <sup>c</sup>ye should <sup>2</sup>rather forgive him and comfort him, lest by any means such a one should be swallowed up with his overmuch sorrow. 8 Wherefore I beseech you to confirm your love toward him. 9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know <sup>d</sup>the proof of you, <sup>e</sup>whether ye are obedient in all things. 10 But to whom ye forgive anything, I forgive also: for what I also have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, for your sakes have I forgiven it in the <sup>4</sup>person of Christ; 11 that no advantage may be gained over us by Satan: for <sup>f</sup>we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Now when <sup>g</sup>I came to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and when <sup>a</sup>a door was opened unto me in the Lord, 13 <sup>i</sup>I had no relief for my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother; but taking my leave of them, I went forth into Macedonia. 14 But <sup>j</sup>I thank be unto God, which always <sup>k</sup>leadeth us in triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest through us <sup>l</sup>the savour of his knowledge in every place. 15 For we are a sweet savour of Christ unto God, in <sup>m</sup>them that are being saved, and in <sup>n</sup>them that are perishing; 16 <sup>o</sup>to the one a savour from death unto death; <sup>o</sup>to the other a savour from life unto life. And <sup>p</sup>who is sufficient for these things? 17 For we are not as the many, <sup>q</sup>corrupting the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God, speak we in Christ.

1 <sup>r</sup>Are we beginning again to commend ourselves? or need we, <sup>s</sup>as do some, <sup>t</sup>epistles of commendation to you or from you? 2 <sup>u</sup>Ye are our epistle, written in our hearts, known and read of all men; 3 being made manifest that ye are an epistle of Christ, ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of <sup>v</sup>the living God; not in <sup>w</sup>tables of stone, but in <sup>x</sup>tables that are <sup>y</sup>hearts of flesh. 4 And <sup>z</sup>such confidence have we through Christ to God-ward: 5 <sup>a</sup>not that we are sufficient of ourselves, to account anything as from ourselves; but <sup>b</sup>our sufficiency is from God; 6 who also made us sufficient as <sup>c</sup>ministers of <sup>d</sup>a new <sup>e</sup>covenant; not of <sup>f</sup>the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but <sup>g</sup>the spirit giveth life. 7 But if <sup>h</sup>the ministration of death, <sup>i</sup>written, and engraven on stones, came <sup>j</sup>with glory, <sup>k</sup>so that the children of Israel could not look stedfastly upon the face of Moses for the glory of his face; which <sup>l</sup>glory <sup>m</sup>was passing away: 8 how shall not rather the ministration of the spirit be with glory? 9 <sup>n</sup>For if <sup>o</sup>the ministration of condemnation is glory, much rather doth <sup>p</sup>the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory. 10 For verily that which hath been made glorious hath not been made glorious in this respect, by reason of the glory that surpasseth. 11 For if that which <sup>q</sup>passeth away <sup>r</sup>was <sup>s</sup>with glory, much more that which remaineth <sup>t</sup>is in glory.

Lord, 'the veil is taken away. 17 Now the Lord is the Spirit: and where 'the Spirit of the Lord is, there is 'liberty. 18 But we all, with unveiled face <sup>1</sup> reflecting as a mirror 'the glory of the Lord, 'are transformed into the same image 'from glory to glory, even as from 'the Lord the Spirit.

Therefore seeing we have 4 'this ministry, even as <sup>a</sup> we ob- tained mercy, we faint not: 2 but we have renounced <sup>b</sup> the hidden things of shame, not walking in craftiness, nor <sup>c</sup> handling the word of God deceitfully; but <sup>d</sup> by the manifestation of the truth <sup>e</sup> com- mending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. 3 But and <sup>f</sup> if our gospel is veiled, <sup>g</sup> it is veiled in <sup>h</sup> them that are perishing: 4 in whom <sup>i</sup> the god of this <sup>j</sup> world <sup>k</sup> hath blinded the <sup>l</sup> minds of the un- believing, <sup>m</sup> that <sup>n</sup> the <sup>o</sup> light of <sup>p</sup> the gospel of the glory of Christ, <sup>q</sup> who is the image of God, should not dawn upon them. 5 For <sup>r</sup> we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus as Lord, and <sup>s</sup> ourselves as your <sup>t</sup> servants <sup>u</sup> for Jesus' sake. 6 Seeing it is God, that said, <sup>v</sup> Light shall shine out of darkness, <sup>w</sup> who shined in our hearts, to give <sup>x</sup> the <sup>y</sup> light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in <sup>z</sup> earthen vessels, <sup>a</sup> that the exceed- ing greatness of the power may be of God, and not from ourselves; 8 we are <sup>b</sup> pressed on every side, yet not straitened; perplexed, yet not unto despair; 9 pursued, yet <sup>c</sup> not forsaken; <sup>d</sup> smitten down, yet not destroyed; 10 <sup>e</sup> always bearing about in the body the <sup>f</sup> dying of Jesus, <sup>g</sup> that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our body. 11 For we which live are always de- livered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. 12 So then <sup>h</sup> death worketh in us, but life in you. 13 But having <sup>i</sup> the same spirit of faith, according to that which is written, <sup>j</sup> I believed, and therefore did I speak; we also be- lieve, and therefore also we speak;

For we know that if <sup>x</sup> the earthly house of our <sup>y</sup> taber- nacle be dissolved, we have a building from God, <sup>z</sup> a house not made with hands, eternal, in the heavens. 2 For verily in this <sup>a</sup> we groan, longing to be <sup>b</sup> clothed upon with our habitation which is from heaven: 3 if so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked. 4 For indeed we that are in this <sup>c</sup> taber- nacle do groan, <sup>d</sup> being burdened; not for that <sup>e</sup> we would be un- clothed, but that we would be clothed upon, that what is mortal <sup>f</sup> may be swallowed up of life. 5 Now he that wrought us for this very thing is God, <sup>g</sup> who gave unto us the earnest of the Spirit. 6 Be- ing therefore always of good cour- age, and knowing that, <sup>h</sup> whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord 7 (for <sup>i</sup> we walk by faith, not <sup>j</sup> by <sup>k</sup> sight); 8 we are of good courage, I say, and <sup>l</sup> are willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be at home with the Lord. 9 Wherefore also we <sup>m</sup> make it our aim, whether at home or ab- sent, to be <sup>n</sup> well-pleasing unto him. 10 For <sup>o</sup> we must all be made mani- fest before the judgement-seat of Christ; <sup>p</sup> that each one may receive the things <sup>q</sup> done <sup>r</sup> in the body, accord- ing to what he hath done, whether <sup>s</sup> it be good or bad.

e 9. 12.

11 Knowing therefore <sup>b</sup>the fear of the Lord, we persuade men, but <sup>c</sup>we are made manifest unto God; and I hope that we are made manifest also in your consciences. 12 <sup>d</sup>We are not again commending ourselves unto you, but <sup>e</sup>“speak as giving you occasion of glorying on our behalf, that ye may have wherewith to answer them that glory in appearance, and not in heart. 13 For whether we <sup>f</sup>are beside ourselves, it is unto God; or whether we are of sober mind, it is unto you. 14 For the love of Christ <sup>g</sup>constraineth us; because we thus judge, that <sup>h</sup>one died for all, therefore all died; 15 and he died for all, <sup>i</sup>“that they which live should no longer live unto themselves, but <sup>j</sup>unto him who for their sakes died and rose again. 16 Wherefore we henceforth <sup>k</sup>know no man after the flesh: even though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know <sup>l</sup>him so no more. 17 Wherefore if any man is <sup>m</sup>“in Christ, <sup>n</sup>“he is <sup>o</sup>“a new creature: <sup>p</sup>“the old things are passed away; behold, they are become new. 18 But all things are of God, <sup>q</sup>“who reconciled us to himself through Christ, and gave unto us <sup>r</sup>“the ministry of reconciliation; 19 to wit, that God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself, <sup>s</sup>“not reckoning unto them their trespasses, and having <sup>t</sup>committed unto us <sup>u</sup>“the word of reconciliation.

20 <sup>v</sup>“We are ambassadors therefore on behalf of Christ, <sup>w</sup>“as though God were intreating by us: we beseech <sup>x</sup>you on behalf of Christ, be ye reconciled to God. 21 <sup>y</sup>“Him who knew no sin <sup>z</sup>“he made to be sin on our behalf; that we might become <sup>a</sup>“the righteousness of God in him.

1 And <sup>b</sup>“working together <sup>c</sup>with him <sup>d</sup>“we intreat also <sup>e</sup>“that ye receive not the grace of God in vain a (for he saith,

And in a day of salvation did I succour thee:

behold, <sup>g</sup>“now is the <sup>h</sup>acceptable time; behold, now is the day of salvation): 3 <sup>i</sup>“giving no occasion of stumbling in anything, that our ministration be not blamed; 4 but in everything commending ourselves, <sup>a</sup>as ministers of God, <sup>b</sup>in much patience, <sup>c</sup>in afflictions, <sup>d</sup>in necessities, in distresses, 5 <sup>e</sup>in stripes, in imprisonments, <sup>f</sup>in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings; 6 <sup>g</sup>in pureness, <sup>h</sup>in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, <sup>i</sup>in the <sup>j</sup>“Holy Ghost, in <sup>k</sup>“love unfeigned, 7 in <sup>l</sup>“the word of truth, <sup>m</sup>in the power of God; <sup>n</sup>by <sup>o</sup>“the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left, 8 by glory and dishonour, <sup>p</sup>by evil report and good report; as deceivers, and yet true; 9 as unknown, and yet well known; <sup>q</sup>as dying, and behold, we live; <sup>r</sup>as chastened, and not killed; 10 <sup>s</sup>as sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing; <sup>t</sup>as poor, yet making many rich; <sup>u</sup>as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 Our mouth is open unto you, O Corinthians, <sup>v</sup>our heart is enlarged. 12 Ye are not straitened in us, but <sup>w</sup>ye are straitened in your own affections. 13 Now <sup>x</sup>“for a recompense in like kind (I speak <sup>y</sup>as unto <sup>z</sup>my children), be ye also enlarged.

14 <sup>a</sup>“Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for <sup>b</sup>what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or <sup>c</sup>what communion hath light with darkness? 15 And <sup>d</sup>what concord hath Christ with <sup>e</sup>Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an unbeliever? 16 And what agreement hath a <sup>f</sup>temple of God with idols? for <sup>g</sup>we are a <sup>h</sup>temple of the living God; even as God said, <sup>i</sup>“I will dwell in them, and <sup>j</sup>“walk in them; and <sup>k</sup>“I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17 Wherefore <sup>l</sup>“Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, And touch no unclean thing; And I will receive you, 18 <sup>a</sup>And will be to you a Father, And ye shall be to me sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty. 1 Having therefore these promises, beloved, <sup>a</sup>let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2<sup>1</sup> "Open your hearts to us: <sup>o</sup> we wronged no man, we corrupted no man, we took advantage of no man.

3 I say it not to condemn you: for I have said before, that <sup>p</sup>ye are in our hearts to die together and live together. 4 <sup>q</sup>Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is <sup>r</sup>my glorying on your behalf: <sup>s</sup>"I am filled with comfort, I overflow with joy in all our affliction.

5 For even <sup>t</sup>"when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no relief, but we were afflicted on every side; <sup>u</sup>"without were fightings, within were fears. 6 Nevertheless <sup>v</sup>"he that comforteth the lowly, even God, <sup>w</sup>"comforted us by the <sup>x</sup>coming of Titus; 7 and not by his <sup>y</sup>coming only, but also by the comfort wherewith he was comforted in you, while he told us your longing, your mourning, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced yet more. 8 For <sup>z</sup>"though
 I made you sorry with my epistle,
 I do not regret it, though <sup>a</sup>"I did regret; <sup>b</sup>"for I see that that epistle made you sorry, though but for a season. 9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but <sup>c</sup>"that ye were made sorry unto repentance:
 for ye were made sorry after a godly sort, that ye might suffer loss by us in nothing. 10 For <sup>d</sup>"a godly sorrow worketh repentance <sup>e</sup>"unto salvation, a repentance which bringeth no regret: but <sup>f</sup>"the sorrow of the world worketh death. 11 For behold, this selfsame thing, that ye were made sorry after a godly sort, what earnest care it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea,
 what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what longing, yea, <sup>g</sup>"what zeal, yea, what avenging! In everything ye approved yourselves to be pure in the matter. 12 So although I wrote unto you, <sup>h</sup>"I wrote not for his cause <sup>i</sup>"that did the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered the wrong, but that your earnest care for us might be made manifest unto you in the sight of God. 13 Therefore <sup>j</sup>"we have been comforted: and in our comfort we joyed the more exceedingly for the joy of Titus, because his spirit <sup>k</sup>"hath been refreshed by you all. 14 For <sup>l</sup>"if in anything I have gloried to him on your behalf, I was not put to shame; but as we spake all things to you <sup>m</sup>"in truth, so our glorying also, which I made before Titus, was found to be truth.

 15 And his inward affection is more abundantly toward you, whilst he remembereth <sup>n</sup>"the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him. 16 I rejoice that in everything <sup>o</sup>"I am of good courage concerning you.

8 Moreover, brethren, we make known to you the grace of God which hath been <sup>p</sup>"given in the churches of Macedonia; <sup>q</sup>"a how that in much proof of affliction the abundance of their joy and <sup>r</sup>"their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their <sup>s</sup>"liberality. 3 For <sup>t</sup>"according to their power, I bear witness, yea and beyond their power, <sup>u</sup>"they gave of their own accord, 4 beseeching us with much intreaty <sup>v</sup>"in regard of this grace and the fellowship in <sup>w</sup>"the ministering to the saints: 5 and <sup>x</sup>"this, not as we had hoped, but first they <sup>y</sup>"gave their own selves to the Lord, and to us by the will of God. 6 Inasmuch that <sup>z</sup>"we exhorted Titus, that as he had made a beginning before, so he would also complete in you <sup>a</sup>"this grace also. 7 But as <sup>b</sup>"ye abound in everything, <sup>c</sup>"in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and <sup>d</sup>"in all earnestness, and <sup>e</sup>"in your love to us, <sup>f</sup>"see that ye abound in this grace also.
 8 <sup>g</sup>"I speak not by way of commandment, but as proving through the earnestness of others the sincerity also of your love. 9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, <sup>h</sup>"though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might become rich. 10 And herein <sup>i</sup>"I give my judgement: for <sup>j</sup>"this is expedient for you, who were the first to make a beginning <sup>k</sup>"a year ago, not only to do, but also to will. 11 But now complete the doing also; that as <sup>l</sup>"there was the readiness to will, so <sup>m</sup>"there may be the completion also out of your ability. 12 For if the readiness is there, <sup>n</sup>"it is acceptable <sup>o</sup>"according as <sup>p</sup>"a man hath, not according as <sup>q</sup>"he hath not. 13 For <sup>r</sup>"I say not <sup>s</sup>"this, that others may be eased, and ye distressed: 14 but by equality; your abundance <sup>t</sup>"being a supply at this present time for <sup>u</sup>"their want, that their abundance also may become a supply for your want; that there may be equality: 15 as it is written, <sup>b</sup>He that gathered much had nothing over; and he that gathered little had no lack.

16 But <sup>c</sup>thanks be to God, <sup>d</sup>which putteth the same earnest care for you into the heart of Titus. 17 For indeed <sup>e</sup>he accepted our exhortation; but being himself very earnest, he went forth unto you of his own accord. 18 And we have sent together with him <sup>f</sup>the brother whose praise in the gospel is spread through <sup>g</sup>all the churches; 19 and not only so, but who was also <sup>h</sup>appointed by the churches to travel with us in the matter of <sup>i</sup>this grace, which is ministered by us <sup>j</sup>to the glory of the Lord, and to shew our readiness: 20 avoiding this, that any man should blame us in the matter of this bounty which is ministered by us: 21 for <sup>k</sup>we take thought for things honourable, <sup>l</sup>not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men. 22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have many times proved earnest in many things, but now much more earnest, by reason of the great confidence which <sup>m</sup>he hath in you. 23 Whether <sup>n</sup>any inquire about Titus, <sup>o</sup>he is <sup>p</sup>my partner and <sup>q</sup>my fellow-worker to you-ward; or our brethren, <sup>r</sup>they are <sup>s</sup>the <sup>t</sup>1 messengers of the churches, <sup>u</sup>they are the glory of Christ. 24 <sup>v</sup>Shew ye therefore unto them in the face of the churches the proof of your love, and of <sup>w</sup>our glorying on your behalf.

1 For as touching <sup>x</sup>the ministering to the saints, <sup>y</sup>it is superfluous for me to write to you: 2 for I know your readiness, <sup>z</sup>of which I glory on your behalf to them of Macedonia, that Achaia hath been prepared <sup>a</sup>for a year past; and <sup>b</sup>your zeal hath stirred up <sup>c</sup>very many of them. 3 But <sup>d</sup>I have sent the brethren, that our glorying on your behalf may not be made void in this respect; that, <sup>e</sup>even as I said, ye may be prepared: 4 lest by any means, if <sup>f</sup>there come with me any of Macedonia, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be put to shame in this confidence.

1 Gr. apostles. 2 Or, Shew ye therefore in the face . . . on your behalf unto them. 3 Or, emulation of you. 4 Gr. the more part. 5 Gr. blessing. 6 Or, covetousness 7 Gr. with blessings. 8 Gr. of sorrow. 9 Gr. singleness.

5 I thought it necessary therefore to intreat the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your afore-promised <sup>a</sup>bounty, that the same might be ready, <sup>b</sup>as a matter of bounty, and <sup>c</sup>not of <sup>d</sup>extortion.

His righteousness abideth for ever.

10 And he that supplieth <sup>a</sup>seed to the sower and bread for food, shall supply and multiply your seed for sowing, and <sup>b</sup>increase the fruits of your righteousness: 11 <sup>c</sup>ye being enriched in everything unto all <sup>d</sup>liberality, which worketh <sup>e</sup>through us thanksgiving to God. 12 For the ministration of this service not only filleth up the measure of <sup>f</sup>the wants of the saints, but aboundeth also through many thanksgivings unto God; 13 seeing that through the proving of you by this ministration <sup>g</sup>they glorify God for the obedience of your <sup>h</sup>confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the <sup>i</sup>liberality of your contribution unto them and unto all; 14 while they themselves also, with supplication on your behalf, long after you by reason of the exceeding grace of God in you. 15 <sup>j</sup>Thanks be to God for his unspeakable gift.

1 Now <sup>a</sup>I Paul myself intreat you by the <sup>b</sup>meekness and <sup>c</sup>gentleness of Christ, I who in your presence am lowly among you, but being absent am of good courage toward you: 2 yea, I beseech you, <sup>d</sup>that I may not when present shew courage with the confidence wherewith I count to be bold against <sup>e</sup>some, which count of us as if we walked according to the flesh. 3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh 4 (for 'the weapons of 'our warfare are not of the flesh, but 'mighty 'before God

 'to the casting down of strong holds); 5 casting down 'imaginations, and 'every high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bringing every thought into captivity to 'the obedience of Christ; 6 and 'being in readiness to avenge all disobedience, 'when your obedience shall be fulfilled.
 7 'Ye look at the things that are before your face. 'If any man trust-eth in himself that he is Christ's, let him consider this again with himself, that, even as 'he is Christ's,
 'so also are we. 8 For though I should glory somewhat abundantly concerning 'our authority (which the Lord gave for building you up, and not for casting you down), I shall not be put to shame: 9 that I may not seem as if I would terrify you by my letters. 10 For, His letters, they say, are weighty and strong; but 'his bodily presence is weak, and 'his speech of no account. 11 Let such a one reckon this, that, what we are in word by letters when we are absent, such are we also in deed when we are present. 12 For we are not bold
 'to number or 'compare ourselves with certain of them that 'commend themselves: but they themselves, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves with themselves, are 'without understanding. 13 But we will not glory 'beyond our measure, but 'according to the measure of the 'province which God apportioned to us as a measure, 'to reach even unto you. 14 For we stretch not ourselves overmuch, as though we reached not unto you: for 'we 'came even as far as unto you in the gospel of Christ: 15 not glorying beyond our measure, that is, in other men's labours; but having hope that, 'as your faith groweth, we shall be 'magnified in you according to our 'province unto further abundance, 16 so as to preach the gospel even unto the parts beyond you, and not to glory in another's 'province in regard of things ready to our hand. 17 But 'he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. 18 For 'not he that com-mendeth himself is approved, but 'whom the Lord commendeth.

I Would that ye could bear with me in a little foolishness:
 'nay indeed bear with me.
 2 For I am jealous over you with 'a godly jealousy: for 'I espoused you to one husband, 'that I might present you 'as a pure virgin to Christ. 3 But I fear, lest by any means, 'as the serpent beguiled
 Eve in his craftiness, your 'minds 'should be corrupted from the 'simplicity and the 'purity that is toward Christ. 4 For if he that cometh 'preacheth another Jesus, whom we did not preach, or if ye receive a different spirit, which ye did not receive, or 'a different gospel, which ye did not accept, ye do well to bear with him. 5 For I reckon that 'I am not a whit behind 'the very chiefest apostles. 6 But 'though I be rude in speech, 'yet am I not in knowledge; nay, in everything
 'we have made it manifest among all men to you-ward. 7 Or 'did I commit a sin in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because 'I preached to you the gospel of God for nought? 8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them that I might minister unto you; 9 and when I was present with you and was 'in want, 'I was not a burden on any man; for the brethren, when they came from Macedonia, 'supplied the measure of my want; and in everything I kept myself 'from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself. 10 'As the truth of Christ is in me, 'no man shall stop me of this glorying in the regions of Achaia. 11 Wherefore?
 'because I love you not? 'God knoweth. 12 But what I do, that I will do, 'that I may cut off 'occasion from them which desire an occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.
 13 For such men are 'false apostles, 'deceitful workers, 'fashioning themselves into apostles of Christ.
 14 And no marvel; for even Satan fashioneth himself into 'an angel of light. 15 It is no great thing

therefore if his ministers also fashion themselves as <sup>v</sup>ministers of righteousness; <sup>w</sup>whose end shall be according to their works.

Damascenes, in order to take me: <sup>33</sup>and through a window was I let down in a basket by the wall, and escaped his hands.

<sup>1</sup>I must needs glory, though 12 it is not expedient; but I will come to visions and <sup>a</sup>revelations of the Lord. <sup>2</sup>I know a man <sup>b</sup>in Christ, fourteen years ago (whether in the body, I know not; or whether out of the body, I know not; <sup>c</sup>God knoweth), such a one <sup>d</sup>caught up even to <sup>e</sup>the third heaven. <sup>3</sup>And I know such a man (whether in the body, or apart from the body, I know not; <sup>f</sup>God knoweth), <sup>4</sup>how that he was caught up into <sup>g</sup>Paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter. <sup>5</sup>On behalf of such a one will I glory: but on mine own behalf I will not glory, <sup>h</sup>save in <sup>i</sup>my weaknesses. <sup>6</sup>For if I should desire to glory, <sup>j</sup>I shall not be foolish; for I shall speak the truth: but I forbear, lest any man should account of me above that which he seeth me to be, or heareth from me. <sup>7</sup>And by reason of the exceeding greatness of the revelations—wherefore, <sup>z</sup>that I should not be exalted overmuch, there was given to me <sup>a</sup>a <sup>b</sup>thorn in the flesh, <sup>c</sup>a messenger of Satan to buffet me, that I should not be exalted overmuch. <sup>8</sup>Concerning this thing I besought the Lord <sup>d</sup>thrice, that it might depart from me. <sup>9</sup>And he hath said unto me, <sup>e</sup>My grace is sufficient for thee: for <sup>f</sup>my power is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my weaknesses, that <sup>g</sup>the strength of Christ may <sup>h</sup>rest upon me. <sup>10</sup>Wherefore <sup>i</sup>I take pleasure in weaknesses, in injuries, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses, <sup>z</sup>for Christ's sake: for <sup>a</sup>when I am weak, then am I strong.

except it be that <sup>b</sup> I myself was not a burden to you? forgive me this wrong.

<sup>14</sup> Behold, <sup>c</sup> this is the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be a burden to you: for <sup>d</sup> I seek not yours, but you: for <sup>e</sup> the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but <sup>f</sup> the parents for the children. <sup>15</sup> And <sup>g</sup> I will most gladly spend and be <sup>h</sup> spent for your souls. If <sup>i</sup> I love you more abundantly, am I loved the less? <sup>16</sup> But be it so, <sup>j</sup> I did not myself burden you; but, being crafty, I caught you with guile. <sup>17</sup> Did I take advantage of you <sup>k</sup> by any one of them whom I have sent unto you? <sup>18</sup> <sup>l</sup> I exhorted Titus, and I sent <sup>m</sup> the brother with him. Did Titus take any advantage of you? walked we not by the same Spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

and I do say <sup>x</sup> beforehand, <sup>y</sup> as when I was present the second time, so now, being absent, to <sup>z</sup> them that have sinned heretofore, and to all the rest, that, <sup>aa</sup> if I come again, I will not spare; <sup>3</sup> seeing that ye seek a proof of Christ <sup>ab</sup> that speaketh in me; who to you-ward is not weak, but <sup>ac</sup> is powerful in you: <sup>4</sup> for <sup>ad</sup> he was crucified through weakness, yet he <sup>ae</sup> liveth through the power of God. For <sup>af</sup> we also are weak <sup>ag</sup> in him, but <sup>ah</sup> we shall live with him through the power of God toward you. <sup>5</sup> Try your own selves, whether ye be in the faith; <sup>ai</sup> prove your own selves. Or know ye not as to your own selves, that <sup>aj</sup> Jesus Christ is in you? unless indeed ye be reprobate. <sup>6</sup> But I hope that ye shall know that we are not reprobate. <sup>7</sup> Now we pray to God that ye do no evil; not that ye may appear approved, but that ye may do that which is honourable, <sup>7</sup> though we be as reprobate. <sup>8</sup> For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth. <sup>9</sup> For we rejoice, when <sup>ak</sup> we are weak, and ye are strong: this we also pray for, even <sup>al</sup> your perfecting. <sup>10</sup> For this cause I write these things while absent, <sup>am</sup> that I may not when present deal <sup>an</sup> sharply, according to <sup>ao</sup> the authority which the Lord gave me for building up, and not for casting down.

maketh no matter to me: <sup>a</sup> God accepteth not man's person) — they, I say, who were of repute <sup>b</sup> imparted nothing to me: <sup>c</sup> 7 but contrariwise, when they saw that I had been <sup>d</sup> intrusted with <sup>e</sup> the gospel of the uncircumcision, even as Peter with the gospel of the circumcision <sup>f</sup> 8 (for he that wrought for Peter unto the apostleship of the circumcision wrought for me also unto the Gentiles); <sup>g</sup> 9 and when they perceived <sup>h</sup> the grace that was given unto me, James and Cephas and John, they <sup>i</sup> who <sup>j</sup> were reputed to be <sup>k</sup> pillars, <sup>l</sup> gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship, that we should go unto the Gentiles, and they unto the circumcision; <sup>m</sup> 10 only they would that we should remember the poor; <sup>n</sup> which very thing I was also zealous to do.

1 Or, are 2 Or, works of law 3 Or, but only 4 Or, law 5 Or, and it is no longer I that live, but Christ liveth. 6 Or, message 7 Or, do ye now make an end in the flesh? 8 Or, powers. 9 Or, in 10 Or, ye perceive 11 Gr. justifieth. 12 Gr. nations. 13 Gr. in.

manner of men : <sup>d</sup> Though it be but a man's <sup>1</sup> covenant, yet when it hath been confirmed, no one maketh it void, or addeth thereto. <sup>16</sup> Now <sup>e</sup> to Abraham were <sup>f</sup> the promises spoken, and to his seed. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many ; but as of one, <sup>g</sup> And to thy seed, which is Christ. <sup>17</sup> Now this I say ; A <sup>1</sup> covenant confirmed beforehand by God, the law, which came <sup>h</sup> four hundred and thirty years after, doth not disannul, so as <sup>i</sup> to make the promise of none effect. <sup>18</sup> For if the inheritance is of the law, it is no more of promise : but <sup>j</sup> God hath granted it to Abraham by promise. <sup>19</sup> What then is the law ? <sup>k</sup> It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise hath been made ; and <sup>l</sup> it was <sup>m</sup> ordained through angels <sup>n</sup> by the hand of a mediator. <sup>20</sup> Now <sup>o</sup> a mediator is not a mediator of one ; but <sup>p</sup> God is one. <sup>21</sup> Is the law then against the promises of God ? God forbid : for <sup>q</sup> if there had been a law given which could make alive, verily righteousness would have been of the law. <sup>22</sup> Howbeit the scripture <sup>r</sup> hath shut up all things under sin, that <sup>s</sup> the promise by faith in Jesus Christ might be given <sup>t</sup> to them that believe.

1 Or, testament      2 Or, the faith of yours      3 Or, elements      4 Gr. former.      5 Gr. spat out.      6 Or,

Gen. 16. 5. ham had two sons, <sup>2</sup>one by the handmaid, and <sup>1</sup>one by the freewoman. 23 Howbeit <sup>2</sup>the son by the handmaid is born after the flesh; but <sup>1</sup>the son by the freewoman is born through promise. 24 Which things contain an allegory: for these women are two covenants; <sup>2</sup>one from mount Sinai, bearing children unto bondage, which is Hagar. 25 <sup>1</sup>Now this Hagar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to the Jerusalem that now is: for she is in bondage with her children. 26 But <sup>2</sup>the Jerusalem that is above is free, which is our mother. 27 For it is written,

Break forth and cry, thou that travailest not:

For more are the children of the desolate than of her which hath the husband.

28 Now <sup>2</sup>we, brethren, <sup>1</sup>as Isaac was, are children of promise. 29 But as then he that was born after the flesh <sup>2</sup>persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, <sup>1</sup>even so it is now. 30 Howbeit what saith the scripture? <sup>2</sup>Cast out the handmaid and her son: for the son of the handmaid shall not inherit with the son of the freewoman. 31 Wherefore, brethren, we are not children of a handmaid, but <sup>2</sup>of the freewoman. 32 With <sup>1</sup>freedom did Christ <sup>2</sup>set us free: <sup>2</sup>stand fast therefore, lump. 10 <sup>1</sup>I have confidence to you-ward in the Lord, that ye will be <sup>2</sup>none otherwise minded: but <sup>1</sup>he that troubleth you shall bear his judgement, whosoever he be. 11 But I, brethren, if I still preach circumcision, <sup>2</sup>why am I still persecuted? then hath <sup>1</sup>the stumbling-block of the cross been done away. 12 I would that <sup>2</sup>they which unsettle you would even <sup>1</sup>cut themselves off.

25 If we live by the Spirit, <sup>1</sup>by the Spirit let us also walk. 26 <sup>2</sup>Let us not be vainglorious, provoking one another, envying one another.

burdens, and <sup>a</sup>so fulfil <sup>a</sup>the law of Christ. 3 For <sup>b</sup>if a man thinketh himself to be something, <sup>c</sup>when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 4 But let each man <sup>d</sup>prove his own work, and then shall he have his glorying in regard of himself alone, and not of <sup>e</sup>his neighbour. 5 For <sup>e</sup>each man shall bear his own <sup>f</sup>burden.

6 But <sup>g</sup>let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. 7 <sup>h</sup>Be not deceived; <sup>i</sup>God is not mocked: for <sup>j</sup>whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. 8 For <sup>k</sup>he that soweth unto his own flesh <sup>l</sup>shall of the flesh reap corruption; but <sup>m</sup>he that soweth unto the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap eternal life. 9 And <sup>n</sup>let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, <sup>o</sup>if we faint not. 10 So then, <sup>p</sup>as we have opportunity, let us <sup>q</sup>work that which is good toward all men, and especially toward them that are <sup>r</sup>of the household of the faith.

11 See with how large letters I <sup>s</sup>have written unto you <sup>t</sup>with mine own hand. 12 <sup>u</sup>As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, <sup>v</sup>they compel you to be circumcised; only <sup>w</sup>that they may not be persecuted <sup>x</sup>for the cross of Christ. 13 For not even they who <sup>y</sup>receive circumcision do themselves keep <sup>z</sup>the law; but they desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh. 14 But far be it from me to glory, <sup>a</sup>save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through <sup>b</sup>which the world <sup>c</sup>hath been crucified unto me, and I unto the world. 15 For <sup>d</sup>neither is circumcision anything, nor uncircumcision, but <sup>e</sup>a new <sup>f</sup>creature. 16 And as many as shall walk by this rule, <sup>g</sup>peace <sup>h</sup>be upon them, and mercy, and upon <sup>i</sup>the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for <sup>j</sup>I bear branded on my body the marks of Jesus.

18 <sup>k</sup>The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be <sup>l</sup>with your spirit, brethren. Amen.

I PAUL, <sup>a</sup>an apostle of Christ Jesus <sup>b</sup>through the will of God, to the saints which are <sup>c</sup>at Ephesus, and <sup>d</sup>the faithful in Christ Jesus: 2 <sup>e</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

that we should be <sup>d</sup>unto the praise of his glory, we who <sup>1</sup>had before hoped in Christ: <sup>13</sup>in whom ye also, having heard <sup>e</sup>the word of the truth, the gospel of your salvation, — in whom, having also believed, <sup>f</sup>ye were sealed with the Holy Spirit <sup>g</sup>of promise, <sup>14</sup>which is <sup>h</sup>an earnest of our <sup>i</sup>inheritance, unto <sup>j</sup>the redemption of <sup>k</sup>God's own possession, <sup>l</sup>unto the praise of his glory.

3 For this cause I Paul, <sup>a</sup>the prisoner of Christ Jesus <sup>a</sup>in behalf of you Gentiles,—2 if so be that ye have heard of <sup>a</sup>the <sup>a</sup>dispensation of <sup>a</sup>that grace of God which was given me to you-ward; 3 how that <sup>a</sup>by revelation was made known unto me the mystery, <sup>a</sup>as I wrote afore in few words, 4 whereby, when ye read, ye can perceive my understanding in <sup>a</sup>the mystery of Christ; 5 which in other generations was not made known unto the sons of men, as it hath now been revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets in the Spirit; 6 to wit, that the Gentiles are <sup>a</sup>fellow-heirs, and <sup>a</sup>fellow-members of the body, and <sup>a</sup>fellow-partakers of the promise in Christ Jesus through the gospel, 7 <sup>a</sup>whereof I was made <sup>a</sup>a minister, according to the gift of <sup>a</sup>that grace of God which was given me <sup>a</sup>according to the working of his power. 8 Unto me, <sup>a</sup>who am less than the least of all saints, was this grace given, <sup>a</sup>to preach unto the Gentiles the <sup>a</sup>unsearchable <sup>a</sup>riches of Christ; 9 and <sup>a</sup>to make all men see what is the <sup>a</sup>dispensation of the mystery <sup>a</sup>which from all ages hath been hid in God <sup>a</sup>who created all things; 10 to the intent that now unto <sup>a</sup>the principalities and the powers <sup>a</sup>in the heavenly places <sup>a</sup>might be made known through the church the manifold <sup>a</sup>wisdom of God, 11 <sup>a</sup>according to the <sup>a</sup>eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord: 12 in whom we have <sup>a</sup>boldness and <sup>a</sup>access in <sup>a</sup>confidence through <sup>a</sup>our <sup>a</sup>faith in him. 13 Wherefore I ask that <sup>a</sup>ye faint not at my tribulations <sup>a</sup>for you, <sup>a</sup>which <sup>a</sup>are your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father, 15 from whom <sup>a</sup>every <sup>a</sup>family in heaven and on earth is named, 16 that he would grant you, according to <sup>a</sup>the riches of his glory, <sup>a</sup>that ye may be strengthened with power through his Spirit in <sup>a</sup>the inward man; 17 <sup>a</sup>that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; to the end that ye, being <sup>a</sup>rooted and <sup>a</sup>grounded in love, 18 may be strong to <sup>a</sup>apprehend with all the saints what is the breadth and length and <sup>a</sup>height and depth, 19 and to know the love of Christ <sup>a</sup>which passeth knowledge, that <sup>a</sup>ye may be filled unto all <sup>a</sup>the fulness of God.

20 Now unto <sup>a</sup>him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, <sup>a</sup>according to the power that worketh in us, 21 unto him <sup>a</sup>be the glory in the church and in Christ Jesus unto <sup>a</sup>all generations for ever and ever. Amen.

9 (Now this, He ascended, what is it but that he also descended <sup>a</sup>into the lower parts of the earth? 10 He that descended is the same also that <sup>a</sup>ascended <sup>a</sup>far above all the heavens, that he might <sup>a</sup>fill all things.) 11 And <sup>a</sup>he gave some to be <sup>a</sup>apostles; and some, prophets; and some, <sup>a</sup>evangelists; and some, <sup>a</sup>pastors and teachers; 12 <sup>a</sup>for the perfecting of the saints, unto the work of ministering, unto <sup>a</sup>the building up of <sup>a</sup>the body of Christ: 13 till we all attain unto <sup>a</sup>the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the

'the will of the Lord is. 18 And 'be not drunken with wine, wherein is 'riot, but 'be filled<sup>1</sup> with the Spirit; 19 speaking<sup>2</sup> one to another in 'psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody with your heart to the Lord; 20 'giving thanks always for all things 'in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to 'God, even the Father; 21 'subjecting yourselves one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 'Wives, <sup>b</sup>be in subjection unto your own husbands, 'as unto the Lord. 23 For 'the husband is the head of the wife, as 'Christ also is the head of the church, <sup>c</sup>being<sup>3</sup> himself the saviour of the body. 24 But as the church is subject to Christ, 'so let the wives also be to their husbands 'in everything. 25 'Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and 'gave himself up for it; 26 that he might sanctify it, having cleansed it by 'the washing of water<sup>4</sup> with the word, 27 'that he might present the church to himself a glorious church, 'not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. 28 Even so ought 'husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself: 29 for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as Christ also the church; 30 because 'we are members of his body. 31 'For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and 'the twain shall become one flesh. 32 This mystery is great: but I speak in regard of Christ and of the church. 33 Nevertheless do ye also severally 'love each one his own wife even as himself; and let the wife see that she 'fear her husband.

6 'Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 'Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise), 3 that it may be well with thee, and thou 'mayest live long on the 'earth. 4 And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: 'but nurture them in the chastening and admonition of the Lord.

5 'Servants, be obedient unto them that according to the flesh are your 'masters, with fear and trembling, 'in singleness of your heart, 'as unto Christ; 6 not in the way of eyeservice, as 'men-pleasers; but as 'servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the 'heart; 7 with good will doing service, as unto the Lord, and not unto men: 8 'knowing that whatsoever good thing each one doeth, the same shall he receive again from the Lord, 'whether he be bond or free. 9 And, ye 'masters, do the same things unto them, 'and forbear threatening: knowing that 'both their Master and yours is in heaven, and 'there is no respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, 'be strong in the Lord, and in 'the strength of his might. 11 'Put on 'the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against 'the wiles of the devil. 12 For 'our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against 'the principalities, against the powers, against 'the world-rulers of 'this darkness, against 'the spiritual hosts of wickedness<sup>5</sup> in the heavenly places. 13 Wherefore 'take up the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in 'the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. 14 Stand therefore, 'having girded your loins with truth, and 'having put on the breastplate of righteousness, 15 and 'having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; 16 withal taking up 'the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all 'the fiery darts of 'the evil one. 17 And take 'the helmet of salvation, and 'the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God: 18 'with all prayer and supplication praying 'at all seasons 'in the Spirit, and 'watching thereunto in all perseverance and 'supplication for all the saints, 19 and 'on my behalf, that utterance may be given unto me 'in opening my mouth, to make known 'with boldness 'the mystery of the gospel, 20 for which I 'am

I <sup>1</sup>PAUL and Timothy, <sup>2</sup>servants of Christ Jesus, to all the <sup>3</sup>saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the <sup>4</sup>bishops and <sup>5</sup>deacons: <sup>2</sup>Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 <sup>1</sup>I thank my God <sup>2</sup>upon all my remembrance of you, <sup>4</sup>always in every supplication of mine on behalf of you all making my supplication with joy, <sup>5</sup>for your fellowship in furtherance of the gospel from the first day until now; <sup>6</sup>being confident of this very thing, that he which began <sup>7</sup>a good work in you <sup>1</sup>will perfect it until <sup>2</sup>the day of Jesus Christ: <sup>7</sup>even as it is right for me to be thus minded on behalf of you all, because <sup>1</sup>I have you <sup>2</sup>in my heart, inasmuch as, both <sup>1</sup>in my bonds and in <sup>2</sup>the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are <sup>3</sup>partakers with me of grace. <sup>8</sup>For <sup>1</sup>God is my witness, <sup>2</sup>how I long after you all in the tender mercies of Christ Jesus. <sup>9</sup>And this I pray, that <sup>1</sup>your love may abound yet more and more <sup>2</sup>in knowledge and all discernment; <sup>10</sup>so that ye may <sup>3</sup>approve the things that are excellent; <sup>1</sup>that ye may be sincere and void of offence unto <sup>2</sup>the day of Christ; <sup>11</sup>being filled with <sup>3</sup>the <sup>4</sup>fruits of righteousness, which are <sup>5</sup>through Jesus Christ, <sup>6</sup>unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now I would have you know, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto <sup>1</sup>the progress of the gospel; <sup>13</sup>so that <sup>2</sup>my bonds became manifest in Christ <sup>3</sup>throughout the whole prætorian guard, and <sup>4</sup>to all the rest; <sup>14</sup>and that most of the brethren in the Lord, <sup>5</sup>being confident through my bonds, are more abundantly bold <sup>6</sup>to speak the word of God without fear. <sup>15</sup>Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will: <sup>16</sup>the one do it of love, <sup>2</sup>knowing that I am set for <sup>3</sup>the defence of the gospel: <sup>17</sup>but the other proclaim Christ <sup>4</sup>of faction, not sincerely, thinking to raise up affliction for me in my bonds. <sup>18</sup>What then? only that in every way, whether in pretence or in truth, Christ is proclaimed; and therein I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice. <sup>19</sup>For I know that this shall turn to my salvation, <sup>5</sup>through your supplication and <sup>6</sup>the supply of <sup>7</sup>the Spirit of Jesus Christ, <sup>20</sup>according to my earnest expectation and hope, <sup>1</sup>that in nothing shall I be put to shame, but that with all <sup>2</sup>boldness, as always, <sup>30</sup>now also Christ <sup>1</sup>shall be magnified in my body, <sup>2</sup>whether by life, or by death. <sup>21</sup>For to me <sup>3</sup>to live is Christ, and to die is gain. <sup>22</sup><sup>9</sup>But if to live in the flesh, — if this is the fruit of my work, then <sup>10</sup>what I shall choose <sup>11</sup>I wot not. <sup>23</sup><sup>10</sup>But I am in a strait betwixt the two, having the desire <sup>2</sup>to depart and <sup>3</sup>be with Christ; for it is very far better: <sup>24</sup>yet to abide in the flesh is more needful for your sake. <sup>25</sup>And <sup>1</sup>having this confidence, I know that I shall abide, yea, and abide with you all, for your 'progress and joy<sup>1</sup> in the faith; 26 that 'your glorying may abound in Christ Jesus in me through my presence with you again. 27 Only<sup>2</sup> let your manner of life be 'worthy of the gospel of Christ: that, whether I come and see you or be absent, I may hear of your state, 'that ye stand fast in one spirit, with 'one soul 'striving<sup>3</sup> for the faith of the gospel; 28 and in nothing affrighted by the adversaries: which is for them 'an evident token of perdition, but 'of your salvation, and that from God; 29 because to you 'it hath been granted in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also 'to suffer in his behalf: 30 having the same 'conflict which 'ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

2 If there is therefore any comfort in Christ, if any consolation of 'love, if any 'fellowship of the Spirit, if any 'tender mercies and compassions, 2' fulfil ye my joy, that ye be 'of the same mind, having the same love, being of one accord, 'of one mind; 3 doing nothing through 'faction or through 'vainglory, but 'in lowliness of mind each counting other better than himself; 4 'not looking each of you to his own things, but each of you also to the things of others. 5 Have this mind in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: 6 'who, 'being in 'the form of God, counted it not 'a prize to be on an equality with God, 7 but 'emptied himself, taking the form of a 'servant, 8 'being made in the likeness of men; 8 and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, 'becoming obedient even unto death, 'yea, the death of the cross. 9 Wherefore also 'God 'highly exalted him, and gave unto him 'the name which is above every name; 10 that in the name of Jesus 'every knee should bow, 'of things in heaven and things on earth and 'things under the earth, 11 and that 'every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is 'Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 So then, my beloved, 'even as ye have always 'obeyed, not<sup>10</sup> as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; 13 for 'it is God which worketh in you both to will and to work, for 'his good pleasure. 14 Do all things 'without murmurings and 'disputings; 15 that ye may be blameless and harmless, 'children of God 'without blemish 'in the midst of 'a crooked and perverse generation, among whom ye are seen 'as 'lights in the world, 16 holding forth 'the word of life; that 'I may have whereof to glory in 'the day of Christ, that 'I did not run in vain neither labour in vain. 17 Yea, and if I am<sup>12</sup> offered upon the sacrifice and 'service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all: 18 and in the same manner do ye also joy, and rejoice with me.

19 But I hope in the Lord Jesus 'to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state. 20 For I have no man 'likeminded, who will care<sup>13</sup> truly for your state. 21 For they all 'seek their own, not the things of Jesus Christ. 22 But ye know 'the proof of him, that, 'as a child serveth a father, so 'he served with me in furtherance of the gospel. 23 Him therefore I hope to send forthwith, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me: 24 but 'I trust in the Lord that I myself also shall come shortly. 25 But I counted it necessary to send to you 'Epaphroditus, my brother and fellow-worker and 'fellow-soldier, and your 'messenger and 'minister to my need; 26 since he longed<sup>14</sup> after you all, and was sore troubled, because ye had heard that he was sick: 27 for indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, that I might not have sorrow upon sorrow. 28 I have sent him therefore the more diligently, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful. 29 Receive him

<sup>2</sup>I exhort Euodia, and I exhort Syntyche, to be <sup>3</sup>of the same mind in the Lord. <sup>3</sup>Yea, I beseech thee also, true yokefellow, help these women, for they laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and the rest of my fellow-workers, <sup>4</sup>whose names are in the book of life.

whatsoever things are <sup>1</sup> of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, <sup>2</sup> think on these things. <sup>3</sup> The things which ye both learned and <sup>4</sup> received and heard and saw <sup>5</sup> in me, these things do: and <sup>6</sup> the God of peace shall be with you.

that <sup>1</sup> in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, <sup>2</sup> no church had fellowship with me in the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only; <sup>16</sup> for even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my need. <sup>17</sup> <sup>2</sup> Not that I seek for the gift; but I seek for <sup>1</sup> the fruit that increaseth to your account. <sup>18</sup> But I have all things, and abound: I am filled, <sup>20</sup> having received from Epaphroditus the things that came from you, <sup>21</sup> an odour of a sweet smell, <sup>22</sup> a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God. <sup>19</sup> And my God <sup>23</sup> shall fulfil every need of yours <sup>24</sup> according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus. <sup>20</sup> Now unto <sup>25</sup> our God and Father <sup>26</sup> be <sup>27</sup> the glory <sup>28</sup> for ever and ever. ## THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

of Christ on <sup>8</sup> our behalf, <sup>8</sup> who also declared unto us your <sup>9</sup> love in the Spirit.

redemption, the forgiveness of our sins: 15<sup>j</sup> who is the image of <sup>k</sup> the invisible God, <sup>l</sup> the firstborn of all creation; 16 for in him were all things created, <sup>m</sup> in the heavens and upon the earth, things visible and things invisible, whether <sup>n</sup> thrones or <sup>o</sup> dominions or principalities or powers; all things have been created <sup>p</sup> through him, and unto him; 17 and <sup>q</sup> he is before all things, and <sup>r</sup> in him all things <sup>s</sup> consist. 18 And <sup>t</sup> he is the head of the body, the church: who is <sup>u</sup> the beginning, <sup>v</sup> the first-born from the dead; <sup>w</sup> that in all things he might have the preeminence. 19 <sup>x</sup> For it was the good pleasure of <sup>y</sup> the Father that <sup>z</sup> in him should all the <sup>aa</sup> fulness dwell; 20 and <sup>ab</sup> through him to reconcile all things <sup>ac</sup> unto <sup>ad</sup> himself, <sup>ae</sup> having made peace <sup>af</sup> through the blood of his cross; through him, <sup>ag</sup> I say, whether things upon the earth, or things in the heavens. 21 <sup>ah</sup> And you, being in time past alienated and enemies in your mind <sup>ai</sup> in your evil works, yet now <sup>aj</sup> hath he reconciled 22 <sup>ak</sup> in the body of his flesh through death, <sup>al</sup> to present you holy and without blemish and <sup>am</sup> unproveable before him: 23 <sup>an</sup> if so be that ye continue in the faith, <sup>ao</sup> grounded and stedfast, and not moved away from <sup>ap</sup> the hope of the gospel which ye heard, which was preached <sup>aq</sup> in all creation under heaven; <sup>ar</sup> whereof I Paul was made a minister.

24 Now <sup>as</sup> I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and <sup>at</sup> fill up on my part <sup>au</sup> that which is lacking of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh <sup>av</sup> for his body's sake, which is the church; 25 <sup>aw</sup> whereof I was made a minister, according to <sup>ax</sup> the <sup>ay</sup> dispensation of God which was given me to you-ward, <sup>az</sup> to fulfil the word of God, 26 <sup>ba</sup> even <sup>bb</sup> the mystery which hath been hid <sup>bc</sup> from all ages and generations: but now hath it been manifested to his saints, 27 <sup>bd</sup> to whom God was pleased to make known what is <sup>be</sup> the riches of the glory of <sup>bf</sup> this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, <sup>bg</sup> the hope of glory: 28 whom we proclaim, admonishing every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that

13 And for this cause <sup>15</sup> we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye received from us <sup>15</sup> the word of the message, even the word of God, ye accepted <sup>16</sup> it <sup>16</sup> not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, <sup>17</sup> which also worketh in you that believe. 14 For ye, brethren, <sup>17</sup> became imitators of <sup>17</sup> the churches of God which are in Judaea in Christ Jesus: for <sup>18</sup> ye also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, <sup>18</sup> even as they did of the Jews; 15 <sup>19</sup> who both killed the Lord Jesus and <sup>19</sup> the prophets, and drave out us, and please not God, and <sup>20</sup> are contrary to all men; 16 <sup>20</sup> forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they may be saved; <sup>21</sup> to fill up their sins alway: but <sup>21</sup> the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being bereaved of you for <sup>22</sup> a short season, <sup>22</sup> in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more exceedingly <sup>23</sup> to see your face with great desire: 18 because we would fain have come unto you, I Paul once and again; and Satan <sup>24</sup> hindered us. 19 For what is our hope, or <sup>25</sup> joy, or crown of glorying? <sup>25</sup> Are not even ye, before our Lord Jesus at his <sup>26</sup> coming? 20 For ye are our glory and our joy.

1 Or, claimed honour read called.

2 Most of the ancient authorities read babes.
 4 Gr. the word of hearing, ancient authorities read fellow-worker with God.

thanksgiving can we render again unto God for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God; 10 "night and day praying exceedingly "that we may see your face, and "may perfect that which is lacking in your faith? 11 Now may "our God and Father himself, and our Lord Jesus, "direct our way unto you: 12 and the Lord "make you to increase and abound in love "one toward another, and toward all men, even as we also do toward you; 13 to the end he may "establish your hearts unblameable in holiness before "our God and Father, at "the "coming of our Lord Jesus "with all his saints."

1 Finally then, brethren, we

4 beseech and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that, as ye "received of us "how ye ought to walk and "to please God, even as ye do walk,—that ye "abound more and more. 2 For "ye know what "charge we gave you through the Lord Jesus. 3 For this is the will of God, even "your sanctification, "that ye abstain from fornication; 4 that each one of you know how to possess himself of his own "vessel in sanctification and "honour, 5 not in "the passion of lust, "even as the Gentiles "which know not God; 6 that no man "transgress, and "wrong his brother in the matter: because the Lord is "an avenger in all these things, as also we "forewarned you and testified. 7 For "God called us not for "unclean-ness, but in sanctification. 8 Therefore "he that rejecteth, rejecteth not man, but God, "who giveth his Holy Spirit unto you.

9 But concerning "love of the brethren "ye have no need that one write unto you: for ye yourselves are "taught of God "to love one another; 10 for indeed "ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye "abound more and more; 11 and that ye "study "to be quiet, and "to do your own business, and "to work with your hands, even as we charged you; 12 that ye may "walk honestly toward them "that are without, and may have need of nothing.

13 But we would not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that fall asleep; "that ye sorrow not, even as the rest, "which have no hope. 14 For "if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so "them also that are fallen asleep "in Jesus will God bring with him. 15 For this we say unto you "by the word of the Lord, that "we that are alive, that are left unto "the "coming of the Lord, shall in no wise precede them that are fallen asleep. 16 For "the Lord himself shall descend "from heaven, "with a shout, with the voice of "the archangel, and "with the trump of God: and "the dead in Christ shall rise first: 17 then we that are alive, that are left, shall together with them be "caught up "in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so "shall we ever be with the Lord. 18 Wherefore "comfort one another with these words.

1 But concerning "the times 5 and the seasons, brethren, "ye have no need that aught be written unto you. 2 For yourselves know perfectly that "the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. 3 When they are saying, Peace and safety, then "sudden destruction cometh upon them, "as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall in no wise escape. 4 But ye, brethren, "are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you "as a thief: 5 for ye are all "sons of light, and sons of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness; 6 so then "let us not sleep, as do the rest, but let us "watch and "be sober. 7 For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken "are drunken in the night. 8 But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, "putting on the breastplate of "faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation. 9 For God appointed us not unto "wrath, but "unto the obtaining of salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10 "who died for us, that, whether we "wake or

<sup>1</sup> PAUL, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ; <sup>2</sup> Grace to you and peace from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

<sup>3</sup> We are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren, even as it is meet, for that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of each one of you all toward one another aboundeth; <sup>4</sup> so that <sup>5</sup> we ourselves glory in you <sup>6</sup> in the churches of God for your patience and faith <sup>7</sup> in all your persecutions and in the afflictions which ye endure; <sup>8</sup> which is <sup>9</sup> a manifest token of the righteous judgement of God; to the end that ye may be <sup>10</sup> counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer: <sup>11</sup> if so be that it is <sup>12</sup> a righteous thing with God <sup>13</sup> to recompense affliction to them that afflict you, <sup>14</sup> and to you that are afflicted <sup>15</sup> rest with us, <sup>16</sup> at the revelation of the Lord Jesus from heaven <sup>17</sup> with the angels of his power <sup>18</sup> in flaming fire, rendering vengeance to them <sup>19</sup> that know not in any wise: for it will not be, except the falling away come first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition, he that opposeth and exalteth himself against all that is called God or that is worshipped; so that he sitteth in the temple of God, setting himself forth as God. 5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things? 6 And now ye know that which restraineth, to the end that he may be revealed in his own season. 7 For the mystery of lawlessness doth already work: only there is one that restraineth now, until he be taken out of the way. 8 And then shall be revealed the lawless one, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the breath of his mouth, and bring to nought by the manifestation of his coming; even he, whose coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all deceit of unrighteousness for them that are perishing; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. 11 And for this cause God sendeth them a working of error, that they should believe a lie: 12 that they all might be judged who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But we are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, for that God chose you from the beginning unto salvation in sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth: 14 whereunto he called you through our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. 15 So then, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye were taught, whether by word, or by epistle of ours.

16 Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father which loved us and gave us eternal comfort and good hope through grace, 17 comfort your hearts and stablish them in every good work and word.

18 Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be glorified, even as also it is with you; and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all have not faith. 3 But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and guard you from the evil one. 4 And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command. 5 And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patience of Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which ye received of us. 7 For yourselves know how ye ought to imitate us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you; 8 neither did we eat bread for nought at any man's hand, but in labour and travail, working night and day, that we might not burden any of you: 9 not because we have not the right, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you, that ye should imitate us. 10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, If any will not work, neither let him eat. 11 For we hear of some that walk among you disorderly, that work not at all, but are busybodies. 12 Now them that are such we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread. 13 But ye, brethren, be not weary in well-doing. 14 And if any man obeyeth not our word by this epistle, note that man, that ye have no company with him, to the end that he may be ashamed. 15 And yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times in all ways. The Lord be with you all.

17 The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write. 18 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

I PAUL, "an apostle of Christ Jesus <sup>b</sup>according to the commandment of <sup>c</sup>God our Saviour, and Christ Jesus <sup>d</sup>our hope; <sup>e</sup>unto Timothy, <sup>f</sup>my true child in faith: <sup>g</sup>Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

tation, that Christ Jesus <sup>ba</sup>came into the world to save sinners; <sup>bb</sup>of whom I am chief: <sup>bc</sup>howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me as chief might Jesus Christ shew forth all his longsuffering, for an ensample of them which should hereafter believe on him unto eternal life. <sup>bd</sup>Now unto <sup>be</sup>'the King <sup>bf</sup>eternal, <sup>bg</sup>incorruptible, <sup>bh</sup>invisible, <sup>bi</sup>the only God, <sup>bj</sup>be honour and glory <sup>bk</sup>for ever and ever. Amen.

all. 16<sup>c</sup> Take heed to thyself, and to thy teaching. Continue in these things; for in doing this thou shalt save<sup>d</sup> both thyself and<sup>e</sup> them that hear thee.

1<sup>f</sup> Rebuke not an elder, but exhort him as a father; <sup>g</sup> the younger men as brethren; <sup>h</sup> the elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, in all purity. 3 Honour widows<sup>i</sup> that are widows indeed. 4 But if any widow hath children or grandchildren, let them learn first<sup>j</sup> to shew piety towards their own family, and to requite their parents: for<sup>k</sup> this is acceptable in the sight of God. 5 Now she<sup>l</sup> that is a widow indeed, and desolate, hath her hope set on God, and<sup>m</sup> continueth in supplications and prayers night and day. 6 But<sup>n</sup> she that giveth herself to pleasure is<sup>o</sup> dead while she liveth. 7<sup>p</sup> These things also command, that they may be without reproach. 8 But if any provideth not for his own, and specially<sup>q</sup> his own household, he hath<sup>r</sup> denied the faith, and is worse than an unbeliever. 9 Let none be enrolled as a widow under threescore years old, having been<sup>s</sup> the wife of one man, 10 well reported of for good works; if she hath brought up children, if she hath<sup>t</sup> used hospitality to strangers, if she<sup>u</sup> hath washed the saints' feet, if she hath<sup>v</sup> relieved the afflicted, if she hath<sup>w</sup> diligently followed every good work. 11 But younger widows refuse: for when they<sup>x</sup> have waxed wanton against Christ, they desire to marry; 12 having condemnation, because they have rejected their first faith. 13 And withal they learn also to be idle, going about from house to house; and not only idle, but<sup>y</sup> tattlers also and<sup>z</sup> busybodies, speaking things which they ought not. 14 I desire therefore that<sup>a</sup> the younger<sup>b</sup> widows marry, bear children, <sup>c</sup> rule the household, <sup>d</sup> give none occasion to the adversary for reviling: 15<sup>e</sup> for already some are turned aside after Satan. 16 If any woman that believeth hath widows, let her relieve them, and let not the church be burdened; that it may relieve them<sup>f</sup> that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders<sup>g</sup> that rule well be counted worthy of<sup>h</sup> double honour, especially those who labour in the word and in teaching. 18 For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox when he treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his hire. 19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, except<sup>i</sup> at the mouth of two or three witnesses. 20 Them that sin<sup>j</sup> reprove in the sight of all, that the rest also may be in fear. 21<sup>k</sup> I charge thee in the sight of God, and Christ Jesus, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without<sup>l</sup> prejudice, <sup>m</sup> doing nothing by partiality. 22<sup>n</sup> Lay hands<sup>o</sup> hastily on no man, neither<sup>p</sup> be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure. 23 Be no longer a drinker of water, but<sup>q</sup> use a little wine<sup>r</sup> for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities. 24 Some men's sins are evident, going before unto judgement; and some men also they follow after. 25 In like manner also<sup>s</sup> there are good works that are evident; and<sup>t</sup> such as are otherwise cannot be hid.

6<sup>u</sup> Let as many as are<sup>v</sup> servants under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and the doctrine be not blasphemed. 2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are<sup>w</sup> brethren; but let them serve them the rather, because they that<sup>x</sup> partake of the benefit are believing and beloved. 3 These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man<sup>y</sup> teacheth a different doctrine, and consenteth not to<sup>z</sup> sound words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine<sup>a</sup> which is according to godliness; 4<sup>b</sup> he is puffed up, <sup>c</sup> knowing nothing, but<sup>d</sup> doting about<sup>e</sup> questionings and<sup>f</sup> disputes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings, 5 wranglings of men<sup>g</sup> corrupted in mind and bereft of the truth, <sup>h</sup> supposing that godliness is a way of gain. 6 But<sup>i</sup> godliness<sup>j</sup> with contentment is great gain: 7 for<sup>k</sup> we brought nothing into the world, for neither can we carry anything out; 8 but<sup>l</sup> having food and covering<sup>m</sup> we shall be therewith content. 9 But they that desire to be rich fall into a temptation and a snare and many foolish and hurtful lusts, such as drown men in destruction and perdition. 10 For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil: which some reaching after have been led astray from the faith, and have pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness. 12 Fight the good fight of the faith, lay hold on the life eternal, whereunto thou wast called, and didst confess the good confession in the sight of many witnesses. 13 I charge thee in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and of Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed the good confession; 14 that thou keep the commandment, without spot, without reproach, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ: 15 which in its own times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords; 16 who only hath immortality, dwelling in light unapproachable; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power eternal. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this present world, that they be not highminded, nor have their hope set on the uncertainty of riches, but on God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy; 18 that they do good, that they be rich in good works, that they be ready to distribute, willing to communicate; 19 laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on the life which is life indeed.

20 O Timothy, guard that which is committed unto thee, turning away from the profane babblings and oppositions of the knowledge which is falsely so called; 21 which some professing have erred concerning the faith.

Grace be with you.

1 PAUL, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, according to the promise of the life which is in Christ Jesus, 2 to Timothy, my beloved child: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers in a pure conscience, how unceasing is my remembrance of thee in my supplications, night and day 4 longing to see thee, remembering thy tears, that I may be filled with joy; 5 having been reminded of the unfeigned faith that is in thee; which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and, I am persuaded, in thee also. 6 For the which cause I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee through the laying on of my hands. 7 For God gave us not a spirit of fearfulness; but of power and love and discipline. 8 Be not ashamed therefore of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but suffer hardship with the gospel according to the power of God; 9 who saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before times eternal, 10 but hath now been manifested by the appearing of our Saviour Christ Jesus, who abolished death, and brought life and incorruption to light through the gospel, 11<sup>d</sup> whereunto I was appointed a <sup>1</sup> preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher. 12<sup>e</sup> For the which cause I suffer also these things: yet <sup>1</sup> I am not ashamed; for <sup>1</sup> I know him whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to guard <sup>2a</sup> that which I have committed unto him against <sup>1</sup> that day. 13<sup>f</sup> Hold <sup>2</sup> the pattern of <sup>2</sup> sound words <sup>m</sup> which thou hast heard from me, in <sup>1</sup> faith and love which is in Christ Jesus. 14<sup>g</sup> That good thing which was committed unto thee guard through the <sup>6</sup> Holy Ghost <sup>o</sup> which dwelleth in us.

flesh and in the Lord. <sup>17</sup> If then thou countest me <sup>18</sup> a partner, receive him as myself. <sup>18</sup> But if he hath wronged thee at all, or oweth thee aught, put that to mine account; <sup>19</sup> <sup>19</sup> I Paul write it with mine own hand, I will repay it: that I say not unto thee how that thou owest to me even thine own self besides. <sup>20</sup> Yea, brother, let me have <sup>21</sup> joy of thee in the Lord: <sup>21</sup> refresh my heart in Christ. <sup>21</sup> <sup>21</sup> Having confidence in thine obedience I write unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do even beyond what I say. <sup>22</sup> But withal prepare me also a lodging: for <sup>23</sup> I hope that <sup>24</sup> through your prayers <sup>25</sup> I shall be granted unto you.

hast laid the foundation of the earth,

And the heavens are the works of thy hands:

11 They shall perish; but thou continuest:

And they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a mantle shalt thou roll them up,

As a garment, and they shall be changed:

But thou art the same, And thy years shall not fail.

13 But of which of the angels hath he said at any time,

"Sit thou on my right hand,

"Till I make thine enemies the footstool of thy feet?"

14 Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to do service for the sake of them that shall inherit salvation?

Therefore we ought to give

2 the more earnest heed to the things that were heard, lest haply we drift away from them.

2 For if the word spoken through angels proved steadfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

3 how shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?

which having at the first been spoken through the Lord, was confirmed unto us by them that heard;

4 God also bearing witness with them, both by signs and wonders, and by manifold powers, and by

1 gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will.

5 For not unto angels did he subject the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one hath somewhere testified, saying,

What is man, that thou art mindful of him?

Or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him a little lower than the angels;

Thou crownedst him with glory and honour,

8 And didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 Thou didst put all things in subjection under his feet.

For in that he subjected all things unto him, he left nothing that is not subject to him.

But now we see not yet all things subjected to him.

9 But we behold him who hath been made a little lower than the angels, even Jesus, because of the suffering of death crowned with glory and honour, that by the grace of God he should taste death for every man.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and through whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the author of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

11 For both he that sanctifieth and they that are sanctified are all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12 saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren,

In the midst of the congregation will I sing thy praise.

13 And again, I will put my trust in him.

And again, Behold, I and the children which God hath given me.

14 Since then the children are sharers in flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner partook of the same; that through death he might bring to nought him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

15 and might deliver all them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily not of angels doth he take hold, but he taketh hold of the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

1 Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of a heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our confession, even Jesus;

2 who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also was Moses in all his house.

3 For he hath been counted worthy of more glory than Moses, by so much as he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

4 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

5 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

6 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

7 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

8 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

9 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

10 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

11 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

12 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

13 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

14 For he was found worthy of more glory than Moses, in that he endured greater things, both for himself and for the people.

he that <sup>1</sup>built the house hath more honour than the house. <sup>4</sup>For every house is <sup>1</sup>built by some one; but <sup>2</sup>he that <sup>1</sup>built all things is God. <sup>5</sup>And Moses indeed was faithful in all <sup>2</sup>his house <sup>2</sup>as a servant, <sup>6</sup>for a testimony of those things which were afterward to be spoken; <sup>6</sup>but Christ <sup>6</sup>as a son, over <sup>2</sup>his house; <sup>7</sup>whose house are we, if we hold fast our boldness and the glorying of our hope firm <sup>4</sup>unto the end. <sup>7</sup>Wherefore, even as the Holy Ghost saith,

<sup>8</sup>To-day if ye shall hear his voice, <sup>8</sup>Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, Like as in the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

<sup>9</sup>Wherewith your fathers tempted me by proving me, And saw my works forty years. <sup>10</sup>Wherefore I was displeased with this generation, And said, They do alway err in their heart:

But they did not know my ways; <sup>11</sup>As I swear in my wrath, <sup>4</sup>They shall not enter into my rest.

of you should seem <sup>6</sup>to have come short of it. <sup>2</sup>For indeed we have had <sup>7</sup>good tidings preached unto us, even as also they: but <sup>7</sup>the word of hearing did not profit them, because <sup>8</sup>they were not united by faith with them that heard. <sup>3</sup>For we which have believed do enter into that rest; even as he hath said,

although the works were finished from the foundation of the world. <sup>4</sup>For he hath said somewhere of the seventh day on this wise, <sup>2</sup>And God rested on the seventh day from all his works; <sup>5</sup>and in this place again,

<sup>8</sup>For if <sup>12</sup>Joshua had given them rest, he would not have spoken afterward of another day. <sup>9</sup>There remaineth therefore a sabbath rest for the people of God. <sup>10</sup>For he that is entered into his rest hath himself also <sup>2</sup>rested from his works, as God did from his. <sup>11</sup>Let us therefore give diligence to enter into that rest, <sup>2</sup>that no man fall <sup>12</sup>after the same example of disobedience. <sup>12</sup>For <sup>6</sup>the word of God is living, and <sup>2</sup>active, and <sup>2</sup>sharper than any <sup>6</sup>two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and <sup>7</sup>quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. <sup>13</sup>And <sup>6</sup>there is no creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are <sup>2</sup>naked and laid open before the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

1 Cor. 3. 2.

15 For we have not a high priest that cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but one that hath been in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.
16 Let us therefore draw near with boldness unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and may find grace to help us in time of need.

5 For every high priest, being taken from among men, is appointed for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:
2 who can bear gently with the ignorant and erring, for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity; 3 and by reason thereof is bound, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins. 4 And no man taketh the honour unto himself, but when he is called of God, even as was Aaron. 5 So Christ also glorified not himself to be made a high priest, but he that spake unto him,

Thou art my Son,
This day have I begotten thee:
6 as he saith also in another place,
Thou art a priest for ever

After the order of Melchizedek.
7 Who in the days of his flesh, having offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and having been heard for his godly fear, 8 though he was a Son, yet learned obedience by the things which he suffered; 9 and having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the author of eternal salvation; 10 named of God a high priest after the order of Mel-chizedek.

11 Of whom we have many things to say, and hard of interpretation, seeing ye are become dull of hearing. 12 For when by reason of the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need again that some one teach you the rudiments of the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of solid food. 13 For every one that partaketh of milk is without experience of the word of righteousness; for he is a babe. 14 But solid food is for fullgrown men, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern good and evil.

6 Wherefore let us cease to speak of the first principles of Christ, and press on unto perfection; not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God, 2 of the teaching of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgement. 3 And this will we do, if God permit. 4 For as touching those who were once enlightened and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made parta-kers of the Holy Ghost, 5 and tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the age to come, 6 and then fell away, it is impossible to renew them again unto repentance; 7 seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame. 7 For the land which hath drunk the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them for whose sake it is also tilled, receiveth blessing from God: 8 but if it beareth thorns and thistles, it is rejected and nigh unto a curse; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak: 10 for God is not unrighteous to forget your work and the love which ye shewed toward his name, in that ye ministered unto the saints, and still do minister. 11 And we desire that each one of you may shew the same diligence unto the fulness of hope even to the end: 12 that ye be not sluggish, but imitators of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, since he could swear by none greater, he swore by himself, 14 saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee. 15 And thus,

'having patiently endured, he obtained the promise. 16 For men swear by the greater: and in every dispute of theirs <sup>m</sup> the oath is final for confirmation. 17 Wherein God, being minded to shew more abundantly unto <sup>n</sup> the heirs of the promise <sup>o</sup> the immutability of his counsel, 1<sup>p</sup> interposed with an oath: 18 that by two immutable things, in which <sup>q</sup> it is impossible for God to lie, we may have a strong encouragement, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope <sup>r</sup> set before us; 19 which we have as an anchor of the soul, a hope both sure and steadfast and entering into that which is <sup>s</sup> within the veil; 20 <sup>t</sup> whither as a forerunner Jesus entered for us, <sup>u</sup> having become a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

4 Now consider how great this man was, unto whom Abraham, <sup>b</sup> the patriarch, gave a tenth out of the chief spoils. 5 And <sup>c</sup> they indeed of the sons of Levi that receive the priest's office have commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though these have come out of the loins of Abraham: 6 but he <sup>d</sup> whose genealogy is not counted from them hath taken tithes of Abraham, and hath blessed <sup>e</sup> him that hath the promises. 7 But without any dispute the less is blessed of the better. 8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there one, <sup>f</sup> of whom it is witnessed that <sup>g</sup> he liveth. 9 And, so to say, through Abraham even Levi, who receiveth tithes, hath paid tithes; 10 for he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.

11 Now if there was perfection through the Levitical priesthood (for under it hath the people received the law), what further need was <sup>h</sup> there that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not be reckoned after the order of Aaron? 12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also <sup>i</sup> of the law. 13 For he of whom these things are said <sup>j</sup> belongeth to another tribe, from which no man hath given attendance at the altar. 14 For it is evident that our Lord hath sprung <sup>k</sup> out of Judah; as to which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priests. 15 And what we say is yet more abundantly evident, if after the likeness of Melchizedek there ariseth another priest, 16 who hath been made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an <sup>l</sup> endless life: 17 for it is witnessed of him,

After the order of Melchizedek. 18 For there is a disannulling of a foregoing commandment <sup>n</sup> because of its weakness and unprofitableness 19 (for <sup>o</sup> the law made nothing perfect), and a bringing in thereupon of <sup>p</sup> a better hope, through which <sup>q</sup> we draw nigh unto God. 20 And inasmuch as <sup>r</sup> it is not without the taking of an oath 21 (for they indeed have been made priests without an oath; but he with an oath <sup>s</sup> by him that saith <sup>t</sup> of him,

Thou art a priest for ever);

22 by so much also hath Jesus become the surety of <sup>v</sup> a better <sup>w</sup> covenant. 23 And they indeed have been made priests many in number, because that by death they are hindered from continuing: 24 but he, because he abideth <sup>x</sup> for ever, <sup>y</sup> hath his priesthood <sup>z</sup> unchangeable. 25 Wherefore also he is able to save <sup>a</sup> to the uttermost <sup>b</sup> them that draw near unto God <sup>c</sup> through him, seeing he ever liveth <sup>d</sup> to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, <sup>e</sup> separated from sinners, and <sup>f</sup> made higher than the heavens; 27 who needeth not daily, like those high perfect, 10 being only (with <sup>j</sup> meats and drinks and <sup>k</sup> divers washings) carnal ordinances, imposed until a time of reformation.

11 But Christ having come a high priest <sup>l</sup> of <sup>1</sup> the good things to come, through <sup>m</sup> the greater and more perfect tabernacle, <sup>n</sup> not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, 12 nor yet through <sup>o</sup> the blood of goats and calves, but <sup>p</sup> through his own blood, <sup>q</sup> entered in <sup>r</sup> once for all into the holy place, <sup>s</sup> having obtained eternal redemption. 13 For if <sup>t</sup> the blood of goats and bulls, and <sup>u</sup> the ashes of a heifer sprinkling them that have been defiled, sanctify unto the cleanness of the flesh: 14 how much more shall <sup>v</sup> the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit <sup>w</sup> offered himself without blemish unto God, <sup>x</sup> cleanse <sup>y</sup> your conscience <sup>z</sup> from dead works <sup>aa</sup> to serve the living God? 15 And for this cause he is <sup>ab</sup> the mediator of a new <sup>ac</sup> covenant, <sup>ad</sup> that a death having taken place for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first <sup>ae</sup> covenant, <sup>af</sup> they that have been called may <sup>ag</sup> receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. 16 For where a <sup>ah</sup> testament is, there must of necessity <sup>ai</sup> be the death of him that made it. 17 For <sup>aj</sup> a <sup>ak</sup> testament is of force <sup>al</sup> where there hath been death: <sup>am</sup> for doth it ever avail while he that made it liveth? 18 Wherefore even the first <sup>an</sup> covenant bath not been dedicated <sup>ao</sup> without blood. 19 For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses unto all the people according to the law, he took <sup>ap</sup> the blood of the calves and the goats, <sup>aq</sup> with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself, and all the people, <sup>ar</sup> saying, 'This is the blood of the <sup>as</sup> covenant which God commanded to you-ward. 21 Moreover <sup>at</sup> the tabernacle and all the vessels of the ministry he sprinkled in like manner with the blood. 22 And according to the law, I may almost say, all things are cleansed with blood, and <sup>au</sup> apart from shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It was necessary therefore that <sup>av</sup> the copies of the things in the heavens should be cleansed with these;

but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For Christ entered not into a holy place <sup>aw</sup> made with hands, like in pattern to the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God <sup>ax</sup> for us: 25 nor yet that he should offer himself often; as <sup>ay</sup> the high priest entereth into <sup>az</sup> the holy place year by year with blood not his own; 26 else must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now <sup>ba</sup> once <sup>bb</sup> at the <sup>bc</sup> end of the ages <sup>bd</sup> hath he been manifested to put away sin <sup>be</sup> by the sacrifice of himself. 27 And inasmuch as <sup>bf</sup> it is <sup>bg</sup> appointed unto men once to die, and <sup>bh</sup> after this cometh judgement; 28 so Christ also, having been once offered <sup>bi</sup> to bear the sins of <sup>bj</sup> many, shall appear <sup>bk</sup> a second time, <sup>bl</sup> apart from sin, to them that <sup>bm</sup> wait for him, unto salvation.

1 For the law having <sup>bn</sup> a <sup>bo</sup> shadow <sup>bp</sup> of the good things to come, not the very image of the things, <sup>bq</sup> they can never with the same sacrifices year by year, which they offer continually, make perfect them that draw nigh. 2 Else would they not have ceased to be offered, because the worshippers, having been once cleansed, would have had no more conscience of sins? 3 But <sup>br</sup> in those sacrifices <sup>bs</sup> there is a remembrance made of sins year by year. 4 For <sup>bt</sup> it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins. 5 Wherefore <sup>bu</sup> when he cometh into the world, he saith,

But a body didst thou prepare for me;

6 In whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hadst no pleasure:

7 Then said I, Lo, I am come (In the roll of the book it is written of me)

To do thy will, O God.
8 Saying above, <sup>bw</sup> Sacrifices and offerings and whole burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein (the which are offered according to the law), 9 then hath he said, <sup>bx</sup> Lo, I am come to do thy will. He tak-

1 Some ancient authorities read the good things that are come.
3 The Greek word here used signifies both covenant and testament.
4 Or, for it doth never. 5 Or, by his sacrifice. 6 Or, by his sacrifice. 7 Or, by his sacrifice. 8 Or, by his sacrifice. 9 Or, by his sacrifice.

eth away the first, that he may establish the second. <sup>10</sup> By which will <sup>11</sup> we have been sanctified through the offering of <sup>12</sup> the body of Jesus Christ <sup>13</sup> once for all. <sup>14</sup> And every <sup>15</sup> priest intendeth standeth <sup>16</sup> day by day ministering and <sup>17</sup> offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, the <sup>18</sup> which can never take away sins: <sup>19</sup> but he, when he had offered one sacrifice for <sup>20</sup> sins for ever, <sup>21</sup> sat down on the right hand of God; <sup>22</sup> from henceforth expecting <sup>23</sup> till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet. <sup>24</sup> For by one offering <sup>25</sup> he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified. <sup>26</sup> And the Holy Ghost also beareth witness to us: for after he hath said,

After those days, saith the Lord;
I will put my laws on their heart,
And upon their mind also will I write them;

then saith he,

<sup>31</sup> Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

of judgement, and <sup>58</sup> a <sup>59</sup> fierceness of fire which shall devour the adversaries. <sup>60</sup> A man that hath set at nought Moses' law dieth without compassion <sup>61</sup> on the word of two or three witnesses: <sup>62</sup> of how much sorer punishment, think ye, shall he be judged worthy, <sup>63</sup> who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted <sup>64</sup> the blood of the covenant, <sup>65</sup> wherewith he was sanctified, <sup>66</sup> an unholy thing, and <sup>67</sup> hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace? <sup>68</sup> For we know him that said, <sup>69</sup> 'Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense. And again, <sup>70</sup> 'The Lord shall judge his people. <sup>71</sup> It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

And if he shrink back, my soul hath no pleasure in him.

appear. 4 By faith <sup>a</sup>Abel offered unto God <sup>a</sup>a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, through which he had witness borne to him that he was righteous, <sup>1</sup>God bearing witness <sup>2</sup>in respect of his gifts; and <sup>3</sup>through it he being dead yet <sup>a</sup>speaketh. 5 By faith <sup>a</sup>Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and he was not found, because God translated him: for before his translation he hath had witness borne to him that he had been well-pleasing unto God: 6 and without faith it is impossible to be well-pleasing unto him: for he that cometh to God <sup>a</sup>must believe that he is, <sup>a</sup>and that he is a rewarder of them that seek after him. 7 By faith <sup>a</sup>Noah, being warned of <sup>a</sup>God concerning <sup>a</sup>things not seen as yet, moved with godly fear, <sup>a</sup>prepared an ark to the saving of his house; through which he condemned the world, and became heir of <sup>a</sup>the righteousness which is according to faith. 8 By faith <sup>a</sup>Abraham, when he was called, obeyed to go out unto a place <sup>a</sup>which he was to receive for an inheritance; and he went out, not knowing whither he went. 9 By faith he became a sojourner in <sup>a</sup>the land of promise, as in <sup>a</sup>land not his own, <sup>a</sup>dwelling in tents, <sup>a</sup>with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise: 10 for he looked for <sup>a</sup>the city which hath <sup>a</sup>the foundations, <sup>a</sup>whose <sup>a</sup>builder and maker is God. 11 By faith even <sup>a</sup>Sarah herself received power to conceive seed when she was past age, since she counted <sup>a</sup>him faithful who had promised: 12 wherefore also there sprang of one, and <sup>a</sup>him as good as dead, <sup>a</sup>so many as the stars of heaven in multitude, and as the sand, which is by the sea shore, innumerable.

tunity to return. 16 But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them, <sup>a</sup>to be called their God: for <sup>a</sup>he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith <sup>a</sup>Abraham, being tried, <sup>a</sup>offered up Isaac: yea, he that had gladly received the promises was offering up his only begotten son; 18 even <sup>a</sup>he to whom it was said, <sup>a</sup>In Isaac shall thy seed be called: 19 <sup>a</sup>accounting that God <sup>a</sup>is able to raise up, even from the dead; from whence he did also in a parable receive him back. 20 By faith <sup>a</sup>Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau, even concerning things to come. 21 By faith <sup>a</sup>Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed each of the sons of Joseph; and <sup>a</sup>worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff. 22 By faith <sup>a</sup>Joseph, when his end was nigh, made mention of the departure of the children of Israel; and gave commandment concerning his bones. 23 By faith <sup>a</sup>Moses, when he was born, was hid three months by his parents, because they saw he was a goodly child; and they were not afraid of <sup>a</sup>the king's commandment. 24 By faith Moses, when he was grown up, <sup>a</sup>refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; 25 <sup>a</sup>choosing rather to be evil entreated with the people of God, than to enjoy <sup>a</sup>the pleasures of sin for a season; 26 <sup>a</sup>accounting the reproach of <sup>a</sup>Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked unto <sup>a</sup>the recompense of reward. 27 By faith he <sup>a</sup>forsook Egypt, <sup>a</sup>not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, <sup>a</sup>as seeing him who is invisible. 28 By faith <sup>a</sup>he <sup>a</sup>kept the passover, and the sprinkling of the blood, that the destroyer of the firstborn should not touch them. 29 By faith <sup>a</sup>they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were swallowed up. 30 By faith <sup>a</sup>the walls of Jericho fell down, after they had been compassed about for seven days. 31 By faith <sup>a</sup>Rahab the harlot perished not with them that were disobedient, <sup>a</sup>having received the spies with peace. 32 And what shall I more say? for the time

unto them: <sup>20</sup>for they could not endure that which was enjoined, <sup>21</sup>If even a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned; <sup>22</sup>and <sup>23</sup>so fearful was the appearance, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake: <sup>24</sup>but ye are come unto <sup>25</sup>'mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, <sup>26</sup>the heavenly Jerusalem, <sup>27</sup>and to <sup>28</sup>'innumerable hosts of angels, <sup>29</sup>to the general assembly and <sup>30</sup>'church of the first-born who are <sup>31</sup>'enrolled in heaven, and to <sup>32</sup>'God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, <sup>33</sup>and to Jesus <sup>34</sup>'the mediator of a new <sup>35</sup>covenant, and to <sup>36</sup>'the blood of sprinkling <sup>37</sup>that speaketh better <sup>38</sup>'than that of Abel. <sup>39</sup>See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For <sup>40</sup>'if they escaped not, when they refused him that warned them on earth, much more <sup>41</sup>shall not we escape, who turn away from him <sup>42</sup>that warneth from heaven: <sup>43</sup>'whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, <sup>44</sup>'Yet once more will I make to tremble not the earth only, but also the heaven. <sup>45</sup>And this word, Yet once more, signifieth <sup>46</sup>'the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain. <sup>47</sup>Wherefore, receiving <sup>48</sup>'a kingdom that cannot be shaken, <sup>49</sup>'let us have <sup>50</sup>'grace, whereby we may offer service well-pleasing to God with <sup>51</sup>'reverence and awe: <sup>52</sup>for our <sup>53</sup>'God is a consuming fire.

I Let <sup>54</sup>'love of the brethren continue. <sup>55</sup>'Forget not to shew love unto strangers: for thereby <sup>56</sup>'some have entertained angels unawares. <sup>57</sup>'Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; that they are evil entreated, as being yourselves also in the body. <sup>58</sup>'Let marriage be had in honour among all, and let the bed be undefiled: <sup>59</sup>'for fornicators and adulterers God will judge. <sup>60</sup>'Be ye <sup>61</sup>'free from the love of money; <sup>62</sup>'content with such things as ye have: for himself hath said, <sup>63</sup>'I will in no wise fail thee, neither will I in any wise forsake thee. <sup>64</sup>So that with good courage we say,

'The Lord is my helper; <sup>65</sup>'I will not fear:

What shall man do unto me?

<sup>107</sup>Pray for us: for we are persuaded that we have a good conscience, desiring to live honestly in all things. <sup>108</sup>And I exhort you the more exceedingly to do this, <sup>109</sup>'that I may be restored to you the sooner.

this man's religion is vain. 27 Pure religion and undefiled before our God and Father is this, 'to visit 'the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and 'to keep himself 'unspotted from the world.

1 My brethren, 1 hold not the 2 faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, 'the Lord of glory, with 'respect of persons. 2 For if there come into your 2 synagogue a man with a gold ring, in fine clothing, and there come in also a poor man in vile clothing; 3 and ye have regard to him that weareth the fine clothing, and say, Sit thou here in a good place; and 'ye say to the poor man, Stand thou there, or sit under my footstool; 4 'are ye not divided 'in your own mind, and become 'judges with evil thoughts? 5 Harken, my beloved brethren; 6 did not God choose them that are poor as to the world to be 'rich in faith, and heirs of 'the kingdom 'which he promised to them that love him? 6 But ye 'have dishonoured the poor man. Do not the rich 'oppress you, and themselves 'drag you 'before the judgement-seats? 7 Do not they blaspheme the honourable 'name 'by the which ye are called? 8 Howbeit if ye fulfil the royal law, according to the scripture, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well: 9 but if ye have 'respect of persons, ye commit sin, being convicted by the law as transgressors. 10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet stumble in one point, 'he is become guilty of all. 11 For he that said, 'Do not commit adultery, said also, 'Do not kill. Now if thou dost not commit adultery, but killest, thou art become a transgressor of the law. 12 So speak ye, and so do, as men that are to be judged by 'a law of liberty. 13 For 'judgement is without mercy to him that hath shewed no mercy: mercy glorieth against judgement.

14 What doth it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, 'but have not works? can that faith save him? 15 'If a brother or sister be naked, and in lack of daily food,

16 'and one of you say unto them, Go in peace, be ye warmed and filled; and yet ye give them not the things needful to the body; what doth it profit? 17 Even so faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself. 18 'Yea, a man will say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith 'apart from thy works, and I 'by my works will shew thee my faith. 19 'Thou believest that 'God is one; thou doest well: 'the 'devils also believe, and shudder. 20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith apart from works is barren? 21 'Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? 22 'Thou seest that 'faith wrought with his works, and 'by works was faith made perfect; 23 and the scripture was fulfilled which saith, 'And Abraham believed God, and it was reckoned unto him for righteousness; and he was called the 'friend of God. 24 Ye see that by works a man is justified, and not only by faith. 25 And in like manner was not also 'Rahab the harlot justified by works, 'in that she received the messengers, and sent them out another way? 26 For as the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

1 'Be not many teachers, my 3 brethren, knowing that we shall receive 10 heavier judgement. 2 For 'in many things we all stumble. If any stumbleth not in word, 'the same is a perfect man, 'able to bridle the whole body also. 3 Now if we put 'the horses' bridles into their mouths, that they may obey us, we turn about their whole body also. 4 Behold, the ships also, though they are so great, and are driven by rough winds, are yet turned about by a very small rudder, whither the impulse of the steersman willet. 5 So the tongue also is a little member, and 'boasteth great things. Behold, 11 how much wood is kindled by how small a fire! 6 And 'the tongue is 12 a fire: 13 the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue, 'which defleth the whole body, and setteth

1 Or, do ye, in accepting persons, hold the faith . . . glory? 2 Or, assembly 3 Or, do ye not make distinctions
 4 Or, among yourselves 5 Gr, which was called upon you. 6 Or, But some one will say
 7 Some ancient authorities read there is one God. 8 Gr, demons. 9 Or, Sent thou . . . perfect?
 10 Or, greater. 11 Or, how great a forest. 12 Or, a fire, that world of iniquity: the tongue is among our members that which is. 13 Or, that world of iniquity, the tongue, is among our members that which is.

to dwell in us long unto envying? <sup>6</sup> But <sup>8</sup> he giveth <sup>13</sup> more grace. Wherefore the scripture saith, <sup>9</sup> God resisteth the proud, but <sup>10</sup> giveth grace to the humble. <sup>7</sup> Be subject therefore unto God; but <sup>11</sup> resist the devil, and he will flee from you. <sup>8</sup> Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. <sup>10</sup> Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and <sup>11</sup> purify your hearts, <sup>9</sup> ye doubleminded. <sup>9</sup> Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. <sup>10</sup> Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall exalt you.

<sup>13</sup> Go to now, ye that say, <sup>14</sup> To-day or to-morrow we will go into this city, and spend a year there, and trade, and get gain: <sup>14</sup> whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. What is your life? For <sup>15</sup> ye are a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then <sup>16</sup> vanisheth away. <sup>15</sup> For that ye ought to say, <sup>16</sup> If the Lord will, we shall both live, and do this or that. <sup>16</sup> But now ye glory in your vauntings: <sup>17</sup> all such glorying is evil. <sup>17</sup> To him therefore that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

Or, partially. 8 Or, by. 9 Or, are jealous. 10 Or, pass in view. 11 Or, The spirit which he made to dwell in us he yearneth for even unto jealous envy. 12 Some ancient authorities read dwell in us. 13 Gr. a greater grace. 14 Or, instead of your saying. 15 Or, unto that reaped have entered into the ears of <sup>k</sup>the Lord of Sabaoth. 5<sup>l</sup> Ye have lived delicately on the earth, and <sup>m</sup>taken your pleasure; ye have nourished your hearts in <sup>n</sup>a day of slaughter. 6 Ye have condemned, <sup>o</sup>ye have killed <sup>p</sup>the righteous one; he doth not resist you.

12 But above all things, my brethren, <sup>14</sup>swear not, neither by the heaven, nor by the earth, nor by any other oath: but <sup>15</sup>let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay; that ye fall not under judgement.

13 Is any among you suffering? let him pray. Is any cheerful? let him <sup>16</sup>sing praise. 14 Is any among you sick? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, <sup>17</sup>anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord: 15 and the prayer of faith shall save him that is sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and <sup>18</sup>if he have committed sins, it shall be forgiven him. 16 <sup>19</sup>Confess therefore your sins one to another, and pray one for another, <sup>20</sup>that ye may be healed. <sup>21</sup>The supplication of a righteous man availeth much in its working. 17 Elijah was a man <sup>22</sup>of like <sup>23</sup>passions with us, and <sup>24</sup>he prayed <sup>25</sup> fervently that it might not rain; and it rained not on the earth for <sup>26</sup>three years and six months. 18 <sup>27</sup>And he prayed again; and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

tion the prophets sought and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you: 11 searching what time or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did point unto, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glories that should follow them. 12 To whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto you, did they minister these things, which now have been announced unto you through them that preached the gospel unto you by the Holy Ghost sent forth from heaven; which things angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore girding up the loins of your mind, be sober and set your hope perfectly on the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ; 14 as children of obedience, not fashioning yourselves according to your former lusts in the time of your ignorance: 15 but like as he which called you is holy, be ye yourselves also holy in all manner of living; 16 because it is written, Ye shall be holy; for I am holy. 17 And if ye call on him as Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to each man's work, pass the time of your sojourning in fear: 18 knowing that ye were redeemed, not with corruptible things, with silver or gold, from your vain manner of life handed down from your fathers; 19 but with precious blood, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot, even the blood of Christ: 20 who was foreknown indeed before the foundation of the world, but was manifested at the end of the times for your sake, 21 who through him are believers in God, which raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; so that your faith and hope might be in God. 22 Seeing ye have purified your souls in your obedience to the truth unto unfeigned love of the brethren, love one another from the heart fervently: 23 having been begotten again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, through the word of God, which liveth and abideth. 24 For, All flesh is as grass, And all the glory thereof as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower falleth:

25 But the word of the Lord abideth for ever. And this is the word of good tidings which was preached unto you.

1 Putting away therefore all wickedness, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, long for the spiritual milk which is without guile, that ye may grow thereby unto salvation; 3 if ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious: 4 unto whom coming, a living stone, rejected indeed of men, but with God elect, precious, ye also, as living stones, are built up in a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 6 Because it is contained in scripture,

Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: And he that believeth on him shall not be put to shame.

16 For you therefore which believe in the preciousness: but for such as disbelieve,

The stone which the builders rejected, The same was made the head of the corner;

8 and,

A stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence;

17 for they stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed. 9 But ye are an elect race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people for God's own possession, that ye may shew forth the excellencies of him who called you out of darkness into his marvellous light: 10 which in time past were no people, but now are the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

13 <sup>Be</sup> subject to every <sup>ordinance</sup> of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme; <sup>or</sup> unto governors, as sent <sup>by</sup> him <sup>for</sup> vengeance on evil-doers and <sup>for</sup> praise to them that do well. 15 For so is the will of God, <sup>that</sup> by well-doing ye should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men: <sup>as</sup> free, and not <sup>using</sup> your freedom for a cloke of <sup>wickedness</sup>, but <sup>as</sup> bondservants of God. 17 <sup>Honour</sup> all men. <sup>Love</sup> the brotherhood. <sup>Fear</sup> God. Honour the king.

18 <sup>Servants</sup>, be in subjection to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward. 19 For this is <sup>acceptable</sup>, <sup>if</sup> for conscience <sup>toward</sup> God a man endureth griefs, suffering wrongfully. 20 For what glory is it, if, when ye sin, and are buffeted <sup>for</sup> it, ye shall take it patiently? but <sup>if</sup>, when ye do well, and suffer <sup>for</sup> it, ye shall take it patiently, this is <sup>acceptable</sup> with God. 21 For <sup>hereunto</sup> were ye called: <sup>because</sup> Christ also suffered for you, <sup>leaving</sup> you an example, that ye should follow his steps: 22 <sup>who</sup> did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth: 23 <sup>who</sup>, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, threatened not; but <sup>committed</sup> <sup>himself</sup> to him that judgeth righteously: 24 <sup>who</sup> his own self <sup>bare</sup> our sins in his body upon the tree, that we, <sup>having</sup> died unto sins, <sup>might</sup> live unto righteousness; <sup>by</sup> whose <sup>stripes</sup> ye were healed. 25 For <sup>ye</sup> were going astray like sheep; but are now returned unto <sup>the</sup> Shepherd and <sup>Bishop</sup> of your souls.

without the word <sup>be</sup> gained by the <sup>behaviour</sup> of their wives; <sup>a</sup> beholding your <sup>chaste</sup> <sup>behaviour</sup> <sup>coupled</sup> with fear. 3 Whose <sup>adorning</sup> <sup>let</sup> it not be the outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing jewels of gold, or of putting on apparel; <sup>but</sup> <sup>let</sup> it be <sup>the</sup> hidden man of the heart, in the incorruptible <sup>apparel</sup> of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. 5 For after this manner aforetime the holy women also, who hoped in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection to their own <sup>husbands</sup>: <sup>as</sup> Sarah obeyed Abraham, <sup>calling</sup> him lord: whose children ye now are, if ye do well, and <sup>are</sup> not <sup>put</sup> in fear by any terror.

<sup>He</sup> that would love life,

And see good days,

Let him refrain his tongue from evil,

And his lips that they speak no guile:

11 And let him turn away from evil, and do good;

Let him seek peace, and pursue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, And his ears unto their supplication:

But the face of the Lord is upon them that do evil.

13 And <sup>who</sup> is he that will harm you, if ye be zealous of that which is good? 14 <sup>But</sup> and if ye should suffer for righteousness' sake, blessed <sup>are</sup> ye: and <sup>fear</sup> not their fear, <sup>neither</sup> be troubled; 15 but <sup>sanctify</sup> in your hearts Christ as Lord: <sup>being</sup> <sup>ready</sup> always to give answer to every man that asketh

you a reason concerning the hope that is in you, yet <sup>a</sup>with meekness and <sup>b</sup>fear: <sup>16</sup>having a good conscience; that, <sup>c</sup>wherein ye are spoken against, they may be put to shame who revile your good manner of life in Christ. <sup>17</sup>For <sup>d</sup>it is better, if the will of God should so will, that ye suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing. <sup>18</sup>Because Christ also <sup>e</sup>suffered for sins <sup>f</sup>once, the righteous for the unrighteous, <sup>g</sup>that he might bring us to God; being put to death <sup>h</sup>in the flesh, but quickened <sup>i</sup>in the spirit; <sup>j</sup>in which also he went and <sup>k</sup>preached unto the spirits in prison, <sup>20</sup>which aforetime were disobedient, <sup>21</sup>when the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, <sup>22</sup>while the ark was a preparing, <sup>23</sup>wherein few, that is, <sup>24</sup>eight souls, were saved through water: <sup>25</sup>which also <sup>26</sup>after a true likeness <sup>27</sup>doth now save you, even baptism, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but <sup>28</sup>the <sup>29</sup>interrogation of a good conscience toward God, <sup>30</sup>through the resurrection of Jesus Christ; <sup>31</sup>who is on the right hand of God, having gone into heaven; <sup>32</sup>angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

brance; 14<sup>a</sup> knowing that the putting off of my tabernacle cometh swiftly, <sup>b</sup>even as our Lord Jesus Christ signified unto me. 15 Yea, I will give diligence that at every time ye may be able after my <sup>c</sup>decease to call these things to remembrance. 16 For we did not follow cunningly devised <sup>d</sup>fables, when we made known unto you <sup>e</sup>the power and <sup>f</sup>coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but <sup>g</sup>we were eye-witnesses of his majesty. 17 For he <sup>h</sup>received from God the Father honour and glory, when there <sup>i</sup>came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, <sup>j</sup>This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: 18 and this voice we <sup>k</sup>ourselves heard <sup>l</sup>come out of heaven, when we were with him in <sup>m</sup>the holy mount. 19 And <sup>n</sup>we have the word of prophecy <sup>o</sup>made more sure; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, <sup>p</sup>as unto a lamp shining in a <sup>q</sup>dark place, until the day dawn, and <sup>r</sup>the day-star <sup>s</sup>arise in your hearts: 20 knowing this first, that no prophecy of scripture is of <sup>t</sup>private interpretation. 21 For <sup>u</sup>no prophecy ever <sup>v</sup>came by the will of man: but men spake from God, <sup>w</sup>being moved by the <sup>x</sup>Holy Ghost.

2 But <sup>y</sup>there arose false prophets also among the people, as <sup>z</sup>among you also there shall be false teachers, who shall <sup>a</sup>privily bring in <sup>b</sup>destructive heresies, <sup>c</sup>denying even the Master <sup>d</sup>that bought them, bringing upon themselves swift destruction. 3 And many shall follow their lascivious doings; by reason of whom the way of the truth <sup>e</sup>shall be evil spoken of. 3 And <sup>f</sup>in covetousness shall they <sup>g</sup>with feigned words <sup>h</sup>make merchandise of you: <sup>i</sup>whose sentence now from of old lingereth not, and their destruction slumbereth not. 4 For if God spared not <sup>j</sup>angels when they sinned, but <sup>k</sup>cast them down to <sup>l</sup>hell, and <sup>m</sup>committed them to <sup>n</sup>pits of darkness, <sup>o</sup>to be reserved unto judgement; 5 and spared not the ancient world, but <sup>p</sup>preserved Noah with seven others, <sup>q</sup>a preacher of righteousness, when he brought <sup>r</sup>a flood upon the world of the

ungodly; 6 and <sup>s</sup>turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, <sup>t</sup>having made them an example unto those that should <sup>u</sup>live ungodly; 7 and <sup>v</sup>delivered righteous Lot, sore distressed by the lascivious life of the wicked 8 (for <sup>w</sup>that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, <sup>x</sup>was vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their lawless deeds): 9 <sup>y</sup>the Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to keep the unrighteous under punishment unto the day of judgement; 10 but chiefly <sup>z</sup>them that walk after the flesh in the lust of defilement, and <sup>a</sup>despise dominion. Daring, selfwilled, they tremble not <sup>b</sup>to rail at <sup>c</sup>10 dignities: 11 <sup>d</sup>whereas angels, though greater in might and power, bring not a railing judgement against them before the Lord. 12 <sup>e</sup>But these, as creatures without reason, <sup>f</sup>born <sup>g</sup>mere animals <sup>h</sup>to be taken and destroyed, railing in matters whereof they are ignorant, shall in their <sup>i</sup>destroying surely be destroyed, 13 suffering wrong as <sup>j</sup>the hire of wrong-doing; <sup>k</sup>men that count it pleasure <sup>l</sup>to revel in the day-time, <sup>m</sup>spots and blemishes, revelling <sup>n</sup>in their <sup>o</sup>love-feasts while <sup>p</sup>they feast with you; 14 having eyes full of <sup>q</sup>adultery, and <sup>r</sup>that cannot cease from sin; enticing unstedfast souls; having a heart <sup>s</sup>exercised in covetousness; <sup>t</sup>children of cursing; 15 forsaking the right way, <sup>u</sup>they went astray, having followed <sup>v</sup>the way of Balaam the son of <sup>w</sup>22 Beor, who loved <sup>x</sup>the hire of wrong-doing; 16 but he was rebuked for his own transgression: <sup>y</sup>a dumb ass spake with man's voice and stayed the madness of the prophet. 17 <sup>z</sup>These are springs without water, and mists driven by a storm; <sup>a</sup>for whom the blackness of darkness hath been reserved. 18 For, <sup>b</sup>uttering great swelling words of vanity, they entice in the lusts of the flesh, by lasciviousness, those who are just <sup>c</sup>escaping from them that live in error; 19 promising them <sup>d</sup>liberty, <sup>e</sup>while they themselves are bondservants of corruption; for of <sup>1</sup>whom a man is overcome, of the same is he also brought into bondage. <sup>20</sup>For if, 'after they have escaped the defilements of the world <sup>1</sup>through the knowledge of <sup>2</sup>the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein and overcome, <sup>2</sup>the last state is become worse with them than the first. <sup>21</sup>For 'it were better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after knowing it, to turn back from <sup>2</sup>the holy commandment delivered unto them. <sup>22</sup>It has happened unto them according to the true proverb, The "dog turning to his own vomit again, and the sow that had washed to wallowing in the mire.

Lord as a thousand years, and <sup>8</sup>a thousand years as one day. <sup>9</sup>"The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, <sup>9</sup>"as some count slackness; but <sup>9</sup>"is longsuffering to you-ward, <sup>9</sup>not wishing that any should perish, but <sup>9</sup>"that all should come to repentance. <sup>10</sup>But <sup>10</sup>"the day of the Lord will come as a thief; in the which <sup>10</sup>"the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and <sup>10</sup>"the <sup>10</sup>"elements shall be dissolved with fervent heat, and the earth and the works that are therein shall be <sup>10</sup>"burned up. <sup>11</sup>Seeing that these things are thus all to be dissolved, <sup>11</sup>"what manner of persons ought ye to be in <sup>11</sup>all holy living and godliness, <sup>12</sup>"<sup>1</sup>looking for and <sup>12</sup>"earnestly desiring the <sup>12</sup>"coming of the day of God, by reason of which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and <sup>12</sup>"the <sup>12</sup>"elements shall melt with fervent heat? <sup>13</sup>But, according to his promise, we look for <sup>13</sup>"new heavens and a new earth, <sup>13</sup>"wherein dwell eth righteousness.

<sup>5</sup> And this is the message which we have heard from him, and announce unto you, that <sup>m</sup> God is light, and in him is no darkness at all. <sup>6</sup> If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in the darkness, we lie, and <sup>o</sup> do not the truth: <sup>7</sup> but <sup>p</sup> if we walk in the light, <sup>q</sup> as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and <sup>r</sup> the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. <sup>8</sup> If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and <sup>t</sup> the truth is not in us. <sup>9</sup> If we confess our sins, he is <sup>u</sup> faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and <sup>v</sup> to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. <sup>10</sup> If we say that we have not sinned, <sup>w</sup> we make him a liar, and <sup>x</sup> his word is not in us.

hath <sup>f</sup> the love of God been perfected. <sup>9</sup> Hereby know we that we are in him: <sup>6</sup> he that saith he <sup>a</sup> abideth in him <sup>6</sup> ought himself also to walk even as he walked.

18 Little children, <sup>a</sup>it is the last hour: and as ye heard that <sup>d</sup>antichrist cometh, even now have there arisen <sup>e</sup>many antichrists; <sup>f</sup>whereby we know that it is the last hour. 19 <sup>g</sup>They went out from us, but they were not of us; for <sup>h</sup>if they had been of us, they would have continued with us: but <sup>i</sup>they went out, <sup>j</sup>that they might be made manifest <sup>k</sup>how that they all are not of us. 20 And ye have <sup>l</sup>an anointing from <sup>m</sup>the Holy One, <sup>n</sup>and <sup>o</sup>ye know all things. 21 I have not written unto you because <sup>p</sup>ye know not the truth, but because <sup>q</sup>ye know it, and <sup>r</sup>because no lie is of the truth. 22 Who is the liar but <sup>s</sup>he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? This is <sup>t</sup>the antichrist, <sup>u</sup>even he that denieth the Father and the Son. 23 <sup>v</sup>Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that confesseth the Son hath the Father also. 24 As for you, let that abide in you <sup>w</sup>which ye heard from the beginning. If that which ye heard from the beginning abide in you, <sup>x</sup>ye also shall abide in the Son, and in the Father. 25 And this is the promise which he promised <sup>y</sup>us, <sup>z</sup>even <sup>aa</sup>the life eternal. 26 These things have I written unto you concerning <sup>ab</sup>them that would lead you astray. 27 And as for you, <sup>ac</sup>the anointing which ye received of him abideth in you, and <sup>ad</sup>ye need not that any one teach you; but as his anointing teacheth you concerning all things, <sup>ae</sup>and <sup>af</sup>is true, and is no lie, and even as it taught you, <sup>ag</sup>ye abide in him. 28 And now, <sup>ah</sup>my little children, abide in him; that, <sup>ai</sup>if he shall be manifested, <sup>aj</sup>we may have boldness, and not be ashamed <sup>ak</sup>before him at his <sup>al</sup>coming. 29 If ye know that <sup>am</sup>he is righteous, <sup>an</sup>ye know that <sup>ao</sup>every one also that doeth righteousness is begotten of him. 30 Behold <sup>ap</sup>what manner of <sup>aq</sup>love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called <sup>ar</sup>children of God: and <sup>as</sup>such we are. For this cause <sup>at</sup>the world knoweth us not, because <sup>au</sup>it knew him not. 31 Beloved, <sup>av</sup>now are we <sup>aw</sup>children of God, and <sup>ax</sup>it is not yet made manifest what we shall be.

We know that, <sup>ay</sup>if <sup>az</sup>he shall be manifested, <sup>ba</sup>we shall be like him; for <sup>bb</sup>we shall see him even as he is. 3 And every one that hath this hope <sup>bc</sup>set on him <sup>bd</sup>purifieth himself, even as he is pure. 4 Every one that doeth sin doeth also lawlessness: and <sup>be</sup>sin is lawlessness. 5 And ye know that <sup>bf</sup>he was manifested to <sup>bg</sup>take away sins; and <sup>bh</sup>in him is no sin. 6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: <sup>bi</sup>whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither <sup>bj</sup>knoweth him. 7 <sup>bk</sup>My little children, <sup>bl</sup>let no man lead you astray: <sup>bm</sup>he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous: <sup>bn</sup>he that doeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. To this end was the Son of God manifested, <sup>bo</sup>that he might destroy the works of the devil. 9 <sup>bp</sup>Whosoever is begotten of God doeth no sin, because his seed abideth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is begotten of God. 10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: <sup>bq</sup>whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, <sup>br</sup>neither he that <sup>bs</sup>loveth not his brother. 11 For <sup>bt</sup>this is the message which ye heard from the beginning, <sup>bu</sup>that we should love one another: 12 not as <sup>bv</sup>Cain was of the evil one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? <sup>bw</sup>Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous. 13 Marvel not, brethren, <sup>bx</sup>if the world hateth you. 14 We know that <sup>by</sup>we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not abideth in death. 15 <sup>bz</sup>Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that <sup>ca</sup>no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. 16 Hereby know we love, because <sup>cb</sup>he laid down his life for us: and <sup>cc</sup>we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. 17 But <sup>cd</sup>whoso hath the world's goods, and beholdeth his brother in need, and <sup>ce</sup>shutteth up his compassion from him, <sup>cf</sup>how doth the love of God abide in him? 18 <sup>cg</sup>My little children, let us not <sup>ch</sup>love in word, neither with the tongue; but in deed and <sup>ci</sup>truth. 19 Hereby shall we know that we are of the truth, and shall

1 Or, that not all are of us. 2 Some very ancient authorities read and ye all know. 3 Or, that some ancient authorities read you. 4 Or, so it is true, and is no lie; and even as he is. 5 Or, from him. 6 Or, presence. 7 Or, know ye. 8 Or, if. 9 Or, bear sins. 10 Or, that

1 I assure our heart before him, 20 whereinssoever our heart condemn us; because God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things. 21 Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have boldness toward God; 22 and whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do the things that are pleasing in his sight. 23 And this is his commandment, that we should believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, even as he gave us commandment. 24 And he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he gave us.

1 Beloved, believe not every spirit, but prove the spirits, whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world. 2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: every spirit which confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God: 3 and every spirit which confesseth not Jesus is not of God: and this is the spirit of the antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it cometh; and now it is in the world already. 4 Ye are of God, my little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you than he that is in the world. 5 They are of the world: therefore speak they as of the world, and the world heareth them. 6 We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he who is not of God heareth us not. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God, and knoweth God. 8 He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. 9 Herein was the love of God manifested in us, that God hath sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him. 10 Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins. 11 Beloved, if God so loved us, we also ought to love one another.

12 No man hath beheld God at any time: if we love one another, God abideth in us, and his love is perfected in us: 13 hereby know we that we abide in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit. 14 And we have beheld and bear witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world. 15 Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God abideth in him, and he in God. 16 And we know and have believed the love which God hath in us. God is love; and he that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him. 17 Herein is love made perfect with us, that we may have boldness in the day of judgement; because as he is, even so are we in this world. 18 There is no fear in love: but perfect love casteth out fear, because fear hath punishment; and he that feareth is not made perfect in love. 19 We love, because he first loved us. 20 If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, cannot love God whom he hath not seen. 21 And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

1 Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is begotten of God: and whosoever loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him. 2 Hereby we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments. 3 For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous. 4 For whatsoever is begotten of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, even our faith. 5 And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God? 6 This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not with the water only, but with the water and with the blood. 7 And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is the truth. 8 For there are three who bear witness, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood:

and the three agree in one. 9<sup>a</sup> If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for the witness of God is this, <sup>b</sup> that he hath borne witness concerning his Son. 10 He that believeth on the Son of God <sup>c</sup> hath the witness in him: he that believeth not God <sup>d</sup> hath made him a liar; <sup>e</sup> because he hath not believed in the witness that God hath borne concerning his Son. 11 And the witness is this, that God gave unto us <sup>f</sup> eternal life, and <sup>g</sup> this life is in his Son. 12 <sup>h</sup> He that hath the Son hath the life; he that hath not the Son of God hath not the life.

13 <sup>i</sup> These things have I written unto you, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, <sup>j</sup> even unto you that <sup>k</sup> believe on the name of the Son of God. 14 And this is <sup>l</sup> the boldness which we have toward him, that, <sup>m</sup> if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us: 15 and if we know that he heareth us whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we have asked of him. 16 If any man see his brother sinning a sin not unto death, <sup>n</sup> he shall ask, and <sup>o</sup> God will give him life for them that sin not unto death. <sup>p</sup> There is <sup>q</sup> a sin unto death: <sup>r</sup> not concerning this do I say that he should make request. 17 <sup>s</sup> All unrighteousness is sin: and there is <sup>t</sup> a sin not unto death.

18 We know that <sup>u</sup> whosoever is begotten of God sinneth not; but <sup>v</sup> he that was begotten of God <sup>w</sup> keepeth <sup>x</sup> him, and the evil one toucheth him not. 19 We know that we are of God, and <sup>y</sup> the whole world lieth in the evil one. 20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and <sup>z</sup> hath given us an understanding, that we know <sup>aa</sup> him that is true, and we are in him that is true, <sup>ab</sup> even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and <sup>ac</sup> eternal life. 21 <sup>ad</sup> My little children, <sup>ae</sup> guard yourselves from idols.

4 <sup>g</sup> I rejoice greatly that I have found <sup>h</sup> certain of thy children walking in truth, even as we received commandment from the Father. 5 And now I beseech thee, lady, <sup>i</sup> not as though I wrote to thee a new commandment, but that which we had from the beginning, <sup>j</sup> that we love one another. 6 And <sup>k</sup> this is love, that we should walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, <sup>l</sup> even as ye heard from the beginning, that ye should walk in it. 7 For <sup>m</sup> many deceivers

12 <sup>z</sup> Having many things to write unto you, I would not <sup>aa</sup> write them with paper and ink: <sup>ab</sup> but I hope to come unto you, and to speak face to face, <sup>ac</sup> that your joy may be fulfilled. 13 The children of thine elect sister salute thee.

THE THIRD EPISTLE OF JOHN.

1<sup>a</sup> THE elder unto Galus the beloved, <sup>b</sup> whom I love in truth.
2 Beloved, I pray that in all things thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.
3 For <sup>c</sup> I <sup>1</sup> rejoiced greatly, when brethren came and bare witness unto thy truth, even as thou walkest in truth. 4 Greater <sup>2</sup> joy have I none than <sup>3</sup> this, to hear of <sup>d</sup> my children walking in the truth.
5 Beloved, thou doest a faithful work in whatsoever thou doest toward <sup>e</sup> them that are brethren and <sup>f</sup> strangers withal; 6 who bare witness to thy love before the church: whom thou wilt do well to set forward on their journey <sup>g</sup> worthily of God: 7 because that for the sake of <sup>h</sup> the Name they went forth, 'taking nothing of the Gentiles. 8 We therefore ought to welcome such, that we may be fellow-workers with the truth.
9 I wrote somewhat unto the church: but Diotrephes, <sup>i</sup> who lov-

eth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not. 10 Therefore, if I come, I will bring to remembrance his works which he doeth, prating against us with wicked words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and them that would he forbiddeth, and casteth <sup>j</sup> them out of the church. 11 Beloved, <sup>k</sup> imitate not that which is evil, but that which is good. <sup>l</sup> He that doeth good is of God: <sup>m</sup> he that doeth evil hath not seen God. 12 Demetrius <sup>n</sup> hath the witness of all <sup>o</sup> men, and of the truth itself: yea, we also bear witness; and <sup>p</sup> thou knowest that our witness is true.

13 <sup>q</sup> I had many things to write unto thee, but I am unwilling to write <sup>r</sup> them to thee with ink and pen: 14 but I hope shortly to see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace <sup>s</sup> be unto thee. The friends salute thee. Salute the friends <sup>t</sup> by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JUDE.

1<sup>a</sup> JUDAS, a <sup>b</sup> servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, <sup>c</sup> to them that are called, <sup>d</sup> beloved in God the Father, and <sup>e</sup> kept for Jesus Christ: 2 <sup>f</sup> Mercy unto you and <sup>g</sup> peace and love be multiplied.
3 Beloved, while I was giving all diligence to write unto you of our <sup>h</sup> common salvation, I was constrained to write unto you exhorting you <sup>i</sup> to contend earnestly for the faith which was once for all delivered unto the saints. 4 For <sup>j</sup> there are certain men <sup>k</sup> crept in privily, <sup>l</sup> even <sup>m</sup> they who were of old set forth unto this condemnation, ungodly men, turning <sup>n</sup> the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and <sup>o</sup> denying <sup>p</sup> our only Master and Lord, Jesus Christ.

and <sup>o</sup> the ruler of the kings of the earth. Unto <sup>p</sup> him that loveth us, and <sup>q</sup> loosed us from our sins <sup>r</sup> by his blood; <sup>s</sup> and he made us <sup>t</sup> to be <sup>u</sup> a kingdom, <sup>v</sup> to be <sup>w</sup> priests unto <sup>x</sup> his God and Father; to him <sup>y</sup> be <sup>z</sup> the glory and <sup>a</sup> the dominion <sup>b</sup> for ever and ever. Amen. <sup>c</sup> Behold, <sup>d</sup> he cometh with the clouds; and <sup>e</sup> every eye shall see him, and they which pierced him; and all the tribes of the earth shall mourn over him. Even so, Amen.

These things saith <sup>h</sup> the first and the last, <sup>i</sup> which <sup>j</sup> was dead, and lived <sup>k</sup> again: <sup>9</sup> I know thy tribulation, and <sup>l</sup> thy poverty <sup>m</sup> (but thou art rich), and the <sup>n</sup> blasphemy of

will give thee <sup>b</sup>the crown of life. 11 <sup>c</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. <sup>c</sup>He that overcometh shall not be hurt of <sup>d</sup>the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamum write ;

These things saith he that hath <sup>e</sup>the sharp two-edged sword : 13 I know where thou dwellest, <sup>e</sup>even <sup>f</sup>where Satan's throne is : and thou holdest fast my name, and didst not <sup>g</sup>deny my faith, even in the days <sup>g</sup>of Antipas <sup>g</sup>my witness, my faithful one, who was killed among you, where Satan dwelleth. 14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there some that hold the teaching of <sup>h</sup>Balaam, who taught Balak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, <sup>h</sup>to eat things sacrificed to idols, and <sup>h</sup>to commit fornication. 15 So hast thou also some that hold the teaching of <sup>i</sup>the Nicolaitans in like manner. 16 Repent therefore ; or else <sup>i</sup>I come to thee quickly, and <sup>i</sup>I will make war against them with <sup>i</sup>the sword of my mouth. 17 <sup>j</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches. <sup>j</sup>To him that overcometh, to him will I give of <sup>j</sup>the hidden manna, and I will give him a white stone, and upon the stone <sup>k</sup>a new name written, <sup>k</sup>which no one knoweth but he that receiveth it.

18 And to the angel of the church in Thyatira write ;

These things saith the Son of God, <sup>r</sup>who hath his eyes like a flame of fire, and his feet are like unto burnished brass : 19 <sup>s</sup>I know thy works, and thy love and faith and ministry and patience, and that thy last works are more than the first. 20 But I have <sup>s</sup>this against thee, that thou sufferest <sup>s</sup>the woman <sup>s</sup>Jezabel, which calleth herself a prophetess ; and she teacheth and seduceth my servants <sup>s</sup>to commit fornication, and <sup>s</sup>to eat things sacrificed to idols. 21 And I gave her time that she should repent ; and <sup>s</sup>she willet not to repent of her fornication. 22 Behold, I do cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of <sup>t</sup>her works. 23 And I will kill her children with <sup>t</sup>death ; and all the churches shall know that I am he <sup>t</sup>which searcheth the reins and hearts : and <sup>t</sup>I will give unto each one of you according to your works. 24 But to you I say, to the rest that are in Thyatira, as many as have not this teaching, which know not <sup>u</sup>the deep things of Satan, as they say ; I <sup>u</sup>cast upon you none other burden. 25 Howbeit <sup>u</sup>that which ye have, hold fast till I come. 26 And <sup>v</sup>he that overcometh, and he that keepeth my works <sup>v</sup>unto the end, <sup>v</sup>to him will I give authority over the nations : 27 and <sup>v</sup>he shall <sup>v</sup>rule them with a rod of <sup>v</sup>iron, <sup>v</sup>as the vessels of the potter are broken to shivers ; as I also have received of my Father : 28 and I will give him <sup>w</sup>the morning star. 29 <sup>w</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

1 And to the angel of the 3 church in Sardis write ;

These things saith he <sup>x</sup>that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars : I know thy works, that thou hast a name <sup>x</sup>that thou livest, <sup>x</sup>and thou art dead. 2 Be thou watchful, and stablish the things that remain, which were ready to die : for I have <sup>y</sup>found no works of thine <sup>y</sup>fulfilled before my God. 3 <sup>y</sup>Remember therefore how thou hast received and didst hear ; and keep <sup>y</sup>it, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, <sup>z</sup>I will come <sup>z</sup>as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. 4 But thou hast a few <sup>z</sup>names in Sardis which did not <sup>z</sup>defile their garments : and they shall walk with me <sup>z</sup>in white ; for they are <sup>z</sup>worthy. 5 <sup>z</sup>He that overcometh shall thus be arrayed in white garments ; and I will in no wise <sup>z</sup>blot his name out of <sup>z</sup>the book of life, and <sup>z</sup>I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. 6 <sup>z</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write ;

These things saith <sup>aa</sup>he that is holy, <sup>aa</sup>he that is true, <sup>aa</sup>he that bath the key of David, <sup>a</sup>he that openeth, and none shall shut, and that shutteth, and none openeth: <sup>3</sup>I know thy works (behold, I have <sup>1</sup>set before thee <sup>b</sup>a door opened, which none can shut), that thou hast a little power, and didst keep my word, and didst not deny my name. <sup>9</sup>Behold, I give of <sup>c</sup>the synagogue of Satan, of them which say they are Jews, and they are not, but do lie; behold, <sup>d</sup>I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that <sup>e</sup>I have loved thee. <sup>10</sup>Because thou didst keep the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of <sup>2</sup>trial, that hour which is to come upon the whole <sup>3</sup>world, to <sup>4</sup>try <sup>f</sup>them that dwell upon the earth. <sup>11</sup><sup>1</sup>I come quickly: <sup>1</sup>hold fast that which thou hast, that no one take <sup>2</sup>thy crown. <sup>12</sup><sup>2</sup>He that overcometh, I will make him <sup>a</sup>a pillar in the <sup>6</sup>temple of my God, and he shall go out thence no more: and I will write upon him <sup>m</sup>the name of my God, and <sup>n</sup>the name of the city of my God, <sup>o</sup>the new Jerusalem, <sup>o</sup>which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and mine own <sup>p</sup>new name. <sup>13</sup><sup>2</sup>He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith to the churches.

These things saith the <sup>r</sup>Amen, <sup>r</sup>the faithful and true witness, <sup>r</sup>the beginning of the creation of God: <sup>15</sup>I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: <sup>1</sup>I would thou wert cold or hot. <sup>16</sup>So because thou art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spew thee out of my mouth. <sup>17</sup>Because thou sayest, I am rich, and have gotten riches, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art the wretched one and miserable and poor and <sup>2</sup>blind and naked: <sup>18</sup>I counsel thee <sup>w</sup>to buy of me gold refined by fire, that thou mayest become rich; and <sup>x</sup>white garments, that thou mayest clothe thyself, and <sup>y</sup>that the shame of thy nakedness be not made manifest; and eyesalve to anoint thine eyes, <sup>z</sup>that thou mayest see. <sup>19</sup><sup>3</sup>As many as I love, I reprove and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. <sup>20</sup>Be-

down before him that sitteth on the throne, and shall worship him that liveth <sup>1</sup>for ever and ever, and shall cast <sup>2</sup>their crowns before the throne, saying, <sup>11</sup>Worthy art thou, our Lord and our God, to receive the glory and the honour and the power: for <sup>9</sup>thou didst create all things, and <sup>10</sup>because of thy will they were, and were created.

thousands of thousands; <sup>12</sup>saying with a great voice, <sup>13</sup>Worthy is the Lamb that hath been slain to receive the power, and riches, and wisdom, and might, and honour, and glory, and blessing. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>14</sup>every created thing which is in the heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and on the sea, and all things that are in them, heard I saying, Unto him that sitteth on the throne, and unto the Lamb, <sup>15</sup>be the blessing, and the honour, and the glory, and the dominion, <sup>16</sup>for ever and ever. <sup>14</sup> And the four living creatures <sup>15</sup>said, Amen. And the elders <sup>16</sup>fell down and worshipped.

<sup>5</sup> And when he opened the third seal, I heard <sup>6</sup>the third living creature saying, Come <sup>7</sup>. And I saw, and behold, <sup>8</sup>a black horse; and he that sat thereon had a balance in his hand. <sup>6</sup> And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures saying, <sup>7</sup>A <sup>8</sup>measure of wheat for a <sup>9</sup>penny, and three measures of barley for a <sup>10</sup>penny; and the oil and the wine <sup>11</sup>hurt thou not.

9 And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw underneath <sup>3</sup>the altar <sup>4</sup>the souls of them that had been slain <sup>5</sup>for the word of God, and for <sup>6</sup>the testimony which they held: 10 and they cried with a great voice, saying, <sup>7</sup>How long, O Master, <sup>8</sup>the holy and true, <sup>9</sup>dost thou not judge and <sup>10</sup>avenge our blood on <sup>11</sup>them that dwell on the earth? 11 And there was given them to each one <sup>12</sup>a white robe; and it was said unto them, <sup>13</sup>that they should rest yet for a little time, <sup>14</sup>until their fellow-servants also and their brethren, which should be killed even as they were, <sup>15</sup>should <sup>16</sup>be fulfilled.

12 And I saw when he opened the sixth seal, and <sup>1</sup>there was a great earthquake; and <sup>2</sup>the sun became black as <sup>3</sup>sackcloth of hair, and the whole moon became as blood; 13 and <sup>14</sup>the stars of the heaven fell unto the earth, <sup>15</sup>as a fig tree casteth her unripe figs, when she is shaken of a great wind. 14 And <sup>16</sup>the heaven was removed <sup>17</sup>as a scroll when it is rolled up; and <sup>18</sup>every mountain and island were moved out of their places. 15 And the kings of the earth, and the princes, and the <sup>16</sup>chief captains, and the rich, and the strong, and every bondman and freeman, <sup>17</sup>hid themselves in the caves and in the rocks of the mountains; 16 and they say to the mountains and to the rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of <sup>18</sup>him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: 17 for <sup>19</sup>the great day of their wrath is come; and <sup>20</sup>who is able to stand?

7 After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding <sup>1</sup>the four winds of the earth, <sup>2</sup>that no wind should blow on the earth, or on the sea, or upon any tree. 2 And I saw another angel ascend <sup>3</sup>from the sunrising, having <sup>4</sup>the seal of the living God: and he cried with a great voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, 3 saying, <sup>5</sup>Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we shall have sealed the servants of our God <sup>6</sup>on their foreheads. 4 And <sup>7</sup>I heard the number of them which were sealed, a hundred and forty and four thousand, sealed out of every tribe of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Judah ~~were~~ sealed twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Reuben twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Gad twelve thousand:

6 Of the tribe of Asher twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Naphtali twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Manasseh twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Levi twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Issachar twelve thousand:

8 Of the tribe of Zebulun twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Joseph twelve thousand:

Of the tribe of Benjamin ~~were~~ sealed twelve thousand.

God; and <sup>o</sup>they serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne <sup>p</sup>shall spread his tabernacle over them. 16 <sup>e</sup>They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither <sup>r</sup>shall the sun strike upon them, nor any heat: 17 for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne <sup>s</sup>shall be their shepherd, and shall guide them unto fountains of <sup>t</sup>'waters of life: and <sup>v</sup>God shall wipe away every tear from their eyes.

8 And when he opened <sup>v</sup>the seventh seal, there followed a silence in heaven about the space of half an hour. 2 And I saw <sup>w</sup>the seven angels <sup>x</sup>which stand before God; and there were given unto them seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood <sup>y</sup>over the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should <sup>z</sup>add it unto <sup>a</sup>the prayers of all the saints upon <sup>b</sup>the golden altar which was before the throne. 4 And <sup>c</sup>the smoke of the incense, <sup>d</sup>with the prayers of the saints, went up before God out of the angel's hand. 5 And the angel <sup>e</sup>taketh the censer; and <sup>f</sup>he filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it <sup>g</sup>upon the earth: and <sup>h</sup>there followed <sup>i</sup>thunders, and voices, and lightnings, and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 And the first sounded, and there followed <sup>j</sup>hail and <sup>k</sup>fire, mingled with blood, and they were cast <sup>l</sup>upon the earth: and <sup>m</sup>the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of <sup>n</sup>the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, and as it were <sup>o</sup>a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea <sup>p</sup>became blood; 9 and there died the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, <sup>q</sup>even they that had life; and the third part of <sup>r</sup>the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, and <sup>s</sup>there fell from heaven a great star, burning as a torch, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon <sup>t</sup>the fountains of the waters; 11 and the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters <sup>u</sup>became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, <sup>v</sup>because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of <sup>w</sup>the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; that the third part of them should be darkened, and the day should not shine for the third part of it, and the night in like manner.

13 And I saw, and I heard <sup>x</sup>an eagle, flying in mid heaven, saying with a great voice, <sup>y</sup>'Woe, woe, woe, for them that dwell on the earth, by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, who are yet to sound.

14 And the fifth angel sounded, 9 and <sup>z</sup>I saw a star from heaven fallen unto the earth: and there was given to him <sup>a</sup>the key of the pit of <sup>b</sup>'the abyss. 2 And he opened the pit of the abyss; and there went up <sup>c</sup>a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and <sup>d</sup>the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. 3 And out of the smoke came forth <sup>e</sup>locusts upon the earth; and power was given them, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was said unto them <sup>f</sup>that they should not hurt <sup>g</sup>the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only such men as have not <sup>h</sup>the seal of God on their foreheads. 5 And it was given them that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented <sup>i</sup>five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it striketh a man. 6 And in those days <sup>j</sup>men shall seek death, and shall in no wise find it; and they shall desire to die, and death fleeth from them. 7 And <sup>k</sup>the <sup>l</sup>'shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared for war; and <sup>m</sup>upon their heads as it were crowns like unto gold, and their faces were <sup>n</sup>as men's faces. 8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and <sup>o</sup>their teeth were as <sup>p</sup>the teeth of lions. 9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and holy city shall they tread under foot <sup>1</sup> forty and two months. <sup>3</sup> And I will give unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy <sup>4</sup> a thousand two hundred and threescore days, <sup>5</sup> clothed in sackcloth. <sup>6</sup> These are <sup>7</sup> the two olive trees and the two <sup>8</sup> candlesticks, standing before the Lord of the earth. <sup>9</sup> And if any man desireth to hurt them, <sup>10</sup> fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man shall desire to hurt them, <sup>11</sup> in this manner must he be killed. <sup>12</sup> These have the power <sup>13</sup> to shut the heaven, that it rain not during the days of their prophecy: and they have power over the waters <sup>14</sup> to turn them into blood, and <sup>15</sup> to smite the earth with every plague, as often as they shall desire. <sup>16</sup> And when they shall have finished their testimony, <sup>17</sup> the beast that cometh up out of <sup>18</sup> the abyss <sup>19</sup> shall make war with them, and overcome them, and kill them. <sup>20</sup> And their <sup>21</sup> dead bodies <sup>22</sup> lie in the street of <sup>23</sup> the great city, which spiritually is called <sup>24</sup> Sodom and <sup>25</sup> Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. <sup>26</sup> And from among the peoples and tribes and tongues and nations do <sup>27</sup> men look upon their <sup>28</sup> dead bodies three days and a half, and <sup>29</sup> suffer not their dead bodies to be laid in a tomb. <sup>30</sup> And <sup>31</sup> they that dwell on the earth rejoice over them, and make merry; and <sup>32</sup> they shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets <sup>33</sup> tormented them that dwell on the earth. <sup>34</sup> And after the three days and a half <sup>35</sup> the breath of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which beheld them. <sup>36</sup> And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, <sup>37</sup> Come up hither. And <sup>38</sup> they went up into heaven <sup>39</sup> in the cloud; and their enemies beheld them. <sup>40</sup> And in that hour there was <sup>41</sup> a great earthquake, and <sup>42</sup> the tenth part of the city fell; and there were killed in the earthquake <sup>43</sup> seven thousand persons: and the rest were affrighted, and <sup>44</sup> gave glory to <sup>45</sup> the God of heaven.

ed; and <sup>17</sup> there followed great voices in heaven, and they said, <sup>18</sup> The kingdom of the world is become <sup>19</sup> the kingdom of our Lord, and of <sup>20</sup> his Christ: and <sup>21</sup> he shall reign <sup>22</sup> for ever and ever. <sup>23</sup> And the four and twenty elders, <sup>24</sup> which sit before God on their thrones, <sup>25</sup> fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, <sup>26</sup> saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God, the Almighty, <sup>27</sup> which art and which wast; because thou hast taken thy great power, and <sup>28</sup> didst reign. <sup>29</sup> And the nations were wroth, and <sup>30</sup> thy wrath came, and <sup>31</sup> the time of the dead to be judged, and <sup>32</sup> the time to give their reward to thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to <sup>33</sup> them that fear thy name, the small and the great; and <sup>34</sup> to destroy them that destroy the earth.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted <sup>1</sup>the woman which brought forth the man child. 14 And there were given to the woman the two <sup>1</sup>wings of the great eagle, that she might fly <sup>2</sup>into the wilderness unto her place, where she is nourished <sup>3</sup>for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. 15 And the serpent cast out of his mouth after the woman water <sup>4</sup>as a river, that he might cause her to be carried away by the stream. 16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth. 17 And the dragon waxed wroth with the woman, and went away <sup>1</sup>to make war with the rest of <sup>2</sup>her seed, <sup>3</sup>which keep the commandments of God, and hold <sup>4</sup>the testimony of Jesus: <sup>1</sup>and he stood upon the sand of the sea.

unto a leopard, and his feet were as <sup>5</sup>the feet of <sup>6</sup>a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of <sup>7</sup>a lion: and <sup>8</sup>the dragon gave him his power, and <sup>9</sup>his throne, and great authority. 3 And I <sup>1</sup>saw one of his heads as though it had been <sup>2</sup>smitten unto death; and his death-stroke was healed: and <sup>3</sup>the whole earth wondered after the beast; 4 and they worshipped the dragon, because he gave his authority unto the beast; and they worshipped the beast, saying, <sup>5</sup>Who is like unto the beast? and who is able to war with him? 5 and there was given to him <sup>6</sup>a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and there was given to him authority <sup>7</sup>to continue <sup>8</sup>forty and two months. 6 And he opened his mouth for blasphemies against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, <sup>9</sup>even them that <sup>10</sup>dwell in the heaven. 7 <sup>6</sup>And it was given unto him <sup>7</sup>to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and there was given to him authority over every tribe and people and tongue and nation. 8 And all <sup>9</sup>that dwell on the earth shall worship him, <sup>10</sup>every one whose name hath not been <sup>11</sup>written in <sup>12</sup>the book of life of <sup>13</sup>the Lamb <sup>14</sup>that hath been slain from the foundation of the world. 9 <sup>1</sup>If any man hath an ear, let him hear. 10 <sup>2</sup>If any man <sup>3</sup>be for captivity, into captivity he goeth: <sup>4</sup>if any man shall kill with the sword, with the sword must he be killed. <sup>5</sup>Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And <sup>1</sup>I saw another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like unto a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. 12 And he exerciseth all the authority of the first beast in his sight. And he maketh the earth and them that dwell therein to worship the first beast, <sup>2</sup>whose death-stroke was healed. 13 And <sup>3</sup>he doeth great signs, that he should even <sup>4</sup>make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men. 14 And <sup>5</sup>he deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by reason of the signs which it was given him to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, <sup>1</sup>who hath the stroke of the sword, and lived.

<sup>17</sup> And another angel came out from the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. <sup>18</sup> And another angel came out from the altar, <sup>19</sup>he that hath power over fire; and he called with a great voice to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Send forth thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe. 19 And the angel cast his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vintage of the earth, and cast it into the winepress, the great winepress, of the wrath of God. 20 And the winepress was trodden without the city, and there came out blood from the winepress, even unto the brides of the horses, as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

1 And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having seven plagues, which are the last, for in them is finished the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassy sea mingled with fire; and them that come victorious from the beast, and from his image, and from the number of his name, standing by the glassy sea, having harps of God. 3 And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, O Lord God, the Almighty; righteous and true are thy ways, thou King of the ages. 4 Who shall not fear, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy; for all the nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy righteous acts have been made manifest.

5 And after these things I saw, and the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: 6 and there came out from the temple the seven angels that had the seven plagues, arrayed with precious stone, pure and bright, and girt about their breasts with golden girdles. 7 And one of the four living creatures gave unto the seven angels seven golden bowls full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever. 8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and none was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels should be finished.

1 And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying to the seven angels, Go ye, and pour out the seven bowls of the wrath of God into the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his bowl into the earth; and it became a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and which worshipped his image.

3 And the second poured out his bowl into the sea; and it became blood as of a dead man; and every living soul died, even the things that were in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his bowl into the rivers and the fountains of the waters; and it became blood. 5 And I heard the angel of the waters saying, Righteous art thou, which art and which wast, thou Holy One, because thou didst thus judge: 6 for they poured out the blood of saints and prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: they are worthy. 7 And I heard the altar saying, Yea, O Lord God, the Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgements.

8 And the fourth poured out his bowl upon the sun; and it was given unto it to scorch men with fire. 9 And men were scorched with great heat: and they blasphemed the name of the God which hath the power over these plagues; and they repented not to give him glory.

10 And the fifth poured out his bowl upon the throne of the beast; and his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, and they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores; and they repented not of their works.

12 And the sixth poured out his bowl upon the great river, the river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way might be made ready for the kings that come from the sunrising. 13 And I saw coming out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits, as it were frogs: 14 for they are <sup>o</sup>spirits of devils, <sup>a</sup>working signs; which go forth <sup>2</sup>unto the kings of the whole <sup>3</sup>world, <sup>4</sup>to gather them together unto the war of <sup>5</sup>the great day of God, the Almighty. 15 (Behold, <sup>6</sup>I come as a thief. <sup>7</sup>Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, <sup>8</sup>lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.) 16 And <sup>9</sup>they gathered them together into the place which is called in Hebrew Har-<sup>o</sup>Magedon.

17 And the seventh poured out his bowl upon <sup>p</sup>the air; and there came forth a great voice out of the temple, from the throne, saying, <sup>q</sup>It is done: 18 and there were <sup>r</sup>lightnings, and voices, and thunders; and <sup>s</sup>there was a great earthquake, <sup>t</sup>such as was not since <sup>u</sup>there were men upon the earth, so great an earthquake, so mighty. 19 And <sup>v</sup>the great city <sup>w</sup>was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and <sup>x</sup>Babylon the great <sup>y</sup>was remembered in the sight of God, <sup>z</sup>to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. 20 And <sup>a</sup>every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. 21 And <sup>b</sup>a great hail, <sup>c</sup>every stone about the weight of a talent, cometh down out of heaven upon men: and <sup>d</sup>men blasphemed God because of <sup>e</sup>the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof is exceeding great.

unclean things of her fornication, 5 and upon her forehead a name written, <sup>6</sup>MYSTERY, <sup>7</sup>BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF THE HARLOTS AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH. 6 And I saw the woman drunken <sup>8</sup>with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of <sup>9</sup>the <sup>10</sup>martyrs of Jesus. And when I saw her, I wondered with a great wonder. 7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou wonder? I will tell thee <sup>11</sup>the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and the ten horns. 8 The beast that thou sawest <sup>9</sup>was, and is not; and <sup>10</sup>is about to come up out of <sup>11</sup>the abyss, <sup>12</sup>and <sup>13</sup>to go into perdition. And <sup>14</sup>they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, <sup>15</sup>they whose name hath not been written <sup>16</sup>in <sup>17</sup>the book of life <sup>18</sup>from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, how that <sup>19</sup>he was, and is not, and <sup>20</sup>shall come. 9 <sup>10</sup>Here is the <sup>11</sup>mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth: 10 and <sup>11</sup>they are seven kings; the five are fallen, the one is, the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a little while. 11 And the beast <sup>12</sup>that was, and is not, is himself also an eighth, and is of the seven; and he goeth into perdition. 12 And <sup>13</sup>the ten horns that thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but they receive authority as kings, with the beast, <sup>14</sup>for one hour. 13 These have one mind, and they give their power and authority unto the beast. 14 These <sup>15</sup>shall war against the Lamb, and <sup>16</sup>the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is <sup>17</sup>Lord of lords, and <sup>18</sup>King of kings; and they <sup>19</sup>also shall overcome that are with him, <sup>20</sup>called and chosen and faithful. 15 And he saith unto me, <sup>16</sup>The waters which thou sawest, where the harlot sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. 16 And <sup>17</sup>the ten horns which thou sawest, and the beast, <sup>18</sup>these shall hate the harlot, and shall make her <sup>19</sup>desolate and <sup>20</sup>naked; and <sup>21</sup>shall eat her flesh, and <sup>22</sup>shall burn her utterly with fire.

17 For <sup>u</sup>God did put in their hearts to do his mind, and to come to one mind, and <sup>v</sup>to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be accomplished. 18 And the woman whom thou sawest is <sup>w</sup>the great city, which <sup>x</sup>reigneth over the kings of the earth.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, <sup>n</sup>Come forth, my people, out of her, that ye have no fellowship with her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues: 5 for <sup>o</sup>her sins <sup>p</sup>have reached even unto heaven, and <sup>q</sup>God hath remembered her iniquities. 6 <sup>r</sup>Render unto her even as she rendered, and double <sup>s</sup>unto her <sup>t</sup>the double according to her works: <sup>u</sup>in the cup which she mingled, mingle unto her double. 7 <sup>v</sup>How much soever she glorified herself, and waxed <sup>w</sup>wanton, so much give her of torment and mourning: for she saith in her heart, <sup>x</sup>I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall in no wise see mourning. 8 Therefore <sup>y</sup>in one day shall her plagues come, death, and mourning, and famine; and <sup>z</sup>she shall be utterly burned with fire; for <sup>a</sup>strong is <sup>b</sup>the Lord God which judged her. 9 And <sup>c</sup>the kings of the earth, who committed fornication and lived <sup>d</sup>wantonly with her, <sup>e</sup>shall weep and wail over her, <sup>f</sup>when they look upon the smoke of her burning, <sup>g</sup>standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Woe, woe, <sup>h</sup>the great city, Babylon, the strong city! for <sup>i</sup>in one hour is thy judgement come. 11 And <sup>j</sup>the merchants of the earth weep and mourn over her, for no man buyeth their <sup>k</sup>merchandise any more; <sup>l</sup>merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stone, and pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet; and all thyne wood, and every vessel of ivory, and every vessel made of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble; <sup>m</sup>and cinnamon, and <sup>n</sup>spice, and incense, and ointment, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep; and <sup>o</sup>merchandise of horses and chariots and <sup>p</sup>slaves; and <sup>q</sup>souls of men. 14 And the fruits which thy soul lusted after are gone from thee, and all things that were dainty and sumptuous are perished from thee, and <sup>r</sup>men shall find them no more at all. 15 <sup>s</sup>The merchants of these things, who were made rich by her, <sup>t</sup>shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and mourning; 16 saying, Woe, woe, the great city, <sup>u</sup>she that was arrayed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and <sup>v</sup>decked with gold and precious stone and pearl! 17 for <sup>w</sup>in one hour so great riches <sup>x</sup>is made desolate. And <sup>y</sup>every shipmaster, and every one that saileth any whither, and mariners, and as many as <sup>z</sup>gain their living by sea, stood afar off, 18 and <sup>a</sup>cried out <sup>b</sup>as they looked upon the smoke of her burning, saying, <sup>c</sup>What <sup>d</sup>city is like the great city? 19 And they cast <sup>e</sup>dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and mourning, saying, Woe, woe, the great city, <sup>f</sup>wherein were made rich all that had their ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for <sup>g</sup>in one hour is she made desolate. 20 <sup>h</sup>Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye saints, and <sup>i</sup>ye apostles, and ye prophets; for <sup>j</sup>God hath judged your judgement on her.

thou do it not: I am a fellow-servant with thee and with thy brethren that hold <sup>the</sup> testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw <sup>a</sup> the heaven opened ; and behold, <sup>a</sup> a white horse, and he that sat thereon, <sup>a</sup> called <sup>a</sup> Faithful and True ; and <sup>a</sup> in righteousness he doth judge and make war. 12 And <sup>a</sup> his eyes are a flame of fire, and <sup>a</sup> upon his head are <sup>a</sup> many diadems, and he hath <sup>a</sup> a name written, which no one knoweth but he himself.
13 And he is arrayed in <sup>a</sup> a garment is called <sup>a</sup> The Word of God. 14 And the armies which are in heaven <sup>b</sup> followed him upon white horses, <sup>c</sup> clothed in fine linen, white and pure. 15 And <sup>c</sup> out of his mouth proceedeth a sharp sword, <sup>a</sup> that with it he should smite the nations :

and <sup>c</sup> he shall rule them with a rod of iron : and <sup>c</sup> he treadeth the <sup>b</sup> wineof Almighty God. 16 And he hath on his garment and on his thigh <sup>a</sup> a name written, <sup>a</sup> KING OF KINGS, AND

20 And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key of the abyss and a great chain in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, the old serpent, which is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years, and cast him into the abyss, and shut it, and sealed it over him, that he should deceive the nations no more, until the thousand years should be finished: after this he must be loosed for a little time.

And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgement was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that had been beheaded for the testimony of Jesus, and for the word of God, and such as worshipped not the beast, neither his image, and received not the mark upon their forehead and upon their hand; and they lived, and reigned with Christ a thousand years. The rest of the dead lived not until the thousand years should be finished. This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: over these the second death hath no power; but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

And when the thousand years are finished, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall come forth to deceive the nations which are in the four corners of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to the war: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. And they went up over the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where are also the beast and the false prophet; and they shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat upon it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was found no place for them. And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne; and books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of the things which were written in the books, according to their works. And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and Hades gave up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. And death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death, even the lake of fire. And if any was not found written in the book of life, he was cast into the lake of fire.

21 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth are passed away; and the sea is no more. And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of the throne saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them, and they shall be his peoples, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God: and he shall wipe away every tear from their eyes; and death shall be no more; neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain, any more: the first things are passed away. And he that sitteth on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith, Write: for these words are faithful and true. And he said unto me, They are come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. He that overcometh shall inherit these things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. But for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake that

9 And there came <sup>10</sup>one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls, who were laden with <sup>11</sup>the seven last plagues; and he spake with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee <sup>12</sup>the bride, the wife of the Lamb. 10 And <sup>11</sup>he carried me away in the Spirit to <sup>12</sup>a mountain great and high, and shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, <sup>13</sup>having the glory of God: <sup>14</sup>her light was <sup>15</sup>like unto a stone most precious, as it were a jasper stone, clear as crystal: <sup>16</sup>having a wall great and high; <sup>17</sup>having twelve <sup>18</sup>gates, and at the <sup>19</sup>gates twelve angels; and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: <sup>20</sup>on the east were three <sup>21</sup>gates; and on the north three <sup>22</sup>gates; and on the south three <sup>23</sup>gates; and on the west three <sup>24</sup>gates. 14 And the wall of the city had twelve <sup>25</sup>foundations, and <sup>26</sup>on them twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. 15 And he that spake with me <sup>27</sup>had for a measure a golden reed to measure the city, and the <sup>28</sup>gates thereof, and the wall thereof. 16 And the city lieth four-square, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs: the length and the breadth and the height thereof are equal. 17 And he measured the wall thereof, a hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure <sup>29</sup>of a man, that is, <sup>30</sup>of an angel. 18 And the building of the wall thereof was <sup>31</sup>jasper: and the city was pure gold, <sup>32</sup>like unto pure glass. 19 <sup>33</sup>The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, <sup>34</sup>sapphire; the third, chalcidony; the fourth, emerald; <sup>35</sup>the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, topaz; the tenth, chrysoprase; the eleventh, <sup>36</sup>jacinth; the twelfth, amethyst. 21 And the twelve <sup>37</sup>gates were twelve pearls; each one of the several <sup>38</sup>gates was

of one pearl: and <sup>39</sup>the street of the city was pure gold, <sup>40</sup>as it were transparent glass. 22 And <sup>41</sup>I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God the Almighty, and the Lamb, are the temple thereof. 23 And the city <sup>42</sup>hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine upon it: for <sup>43</sup>the glory of God did lighten it, <sup>44</sup>and the lamp thereof <sup>45</sup>is the Lamb. 24 And <sup>46</sup>the nations shall walk <sup>47</sup>amidst the light thereof: and the kings of the earth <sup>48</sup>do bring their glory into it. 25 And <sup>49</sup>the <sup>50</sup>gates thereof shall in no wise be shut by day (for <sup>51</sup>there shall be no night there): <sup>52</sup>and they shall bring the glory and the honour of the nations into it: <sup>53</sup>and <sup>54</sup>there shall in no wise enter into it anything <sup>55</sup>unclean, or he that <sup>56</sup>maketh an abomination and a lie: but only they which are written in the Lamb's <sup>57</sup>book of life. 1 And he <sup>58</sup>shewed me <sup>59</sup>a river of <sup>60</sup>water of life, bright as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of <sup>61</sup>the Lamb, <sup>62</sup>in the midst of <sup>63</sup>the street thereof. <sup>64</sup>And on this side of the river and on that was <sup>65</sup>the tree of life, bearing twelve <sup>66</sup>manner of fruits, yielding its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were <sup>67</sup>for the healing of the nations. 3 And <sup>68</sup>there shall be <sup>69</sup>no curse any more: and <sup>70</sup>the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be therein: and <sup>71</sup>his servants shall do him service; and <sup>72</sup>they shall see his face; and <sup>73</sup>his name shall be on their foreheads. 5 And <sup>74</sup>there shall be night no more; and they need no light of lamp, <sup>75</sup>neither light of sun; for <sup>76</sup>the Lord God shall give them light: and <sup>77</sup>they shall reign <sup>78</sup>for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, <sup>79</sup>These words are faithful and true: and the Lord, the God of <sup>80</sup>the spirits of the prophets, <sup>81</sup>sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly come to pass. 7 And behold, <sup>82</sup>I come quickly. <sup>83</sup>Blessed is he that keepeth the words of the prophecy of this book.

10 And he saith unto me, ° Seal not up the words of the prophecy of this book; for the time is at hand. 11 ° He that is unrighteous, let him do unrighteousness 1 still: and he that is filthy, let him be made filthy 1 still: and he that is righteous, let him do righteousness 1 still: and he that is holy, let him be made holy 1 still. 12 Behold, ° I come quickly; and ° my 2 reward is with me, ° to render to each man according as his work is. 13 I am the Alpha and the Omega, ° the first and the last, ° the beginning and the end. 14 Blessed are they that ° wash their robes, that they may have ° the right to come to ° the tree of life, and ° may enter in by the ° gates into the city. 15 ° With-out are ° the dogs, ° and the sorcerers, and the fornicators, and the murderers, and the idolaters, and every one that loveth and ° maketh a lie.

16 ° I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things ° for the churches. I am ° the root and ° the offspring of David, the bright, ° the morning star.

17 ° And the Spirit and ° the bride say, Come. And he that heareth, let him say, Come. And ° he that is athirst, let him come: he that will, let him take the ° water of life freely.

18 I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, ° If any man shall add ° unto them, God shall add ° unto him the plagues which are written in this book: 19 and if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from ° the tree of life, and out of ° the holy city, ° which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, Yea: ° I come quickly. Amen: ° come, Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of the Lord Jesus 10 be 11 with the saints. Amen.

PREFACE.

THE Version of the Apocrypha which is here presented to the Reader forms the last portion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of 1611.

The present work, owing to various circumstances, has been somewhat long delayed. It will be found, however, to have been executed carefully and faithfully, though it was of necessity intrusted to small Committees formed out of the two Companies of Revisers.

The Revision of the Authorised Version of the Apocrypha was included in the arrangement between the Companies and the Representatives of the Presses of Oxford and Cambridge, and was to be proceeded with as soon as the other and greater portions of the work were concluded. No division of labour in regard to the Apocrypha was formally made between the two Companies, but as it appeared clearly desirable that there should be no unnecessary delay in the revision, there was an understanding between the Companies that the New Testament Company should commence the work as soon as the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament was completed and published. For this, preparation was made by the New Testament Company as their work was drawing to its close, and in the following manner.

It was resolved (March 21, 1879) that, after the conclusion of the Revision of the Authorised Version of the New Testament, the Company should be divided into three Committees, to be called the London, Westminster, and Cambridge Committees, for the purpose of beginning the Revision of the Apocrypha.

The London Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol (Dr. Ellicott), the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of St. Andrews (Dr. Wordsworth), the Dean of Rochester (Dr. Scott), the Dean of Lichfield (Dr. Bickersteth), the Master of the Temple (Dr. Vaughan), Rev. Principal Angus, and Rev. Prebendary Humphry. This Committee was to take the Book of Ecclesiasticus.

The Westminster Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Archbishop of Dublin (Dr. Trench), the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Stanley), the Archdeacon of Dublin (Dr. Lee), the Archdeacon of Oxford (Dr. Palmer), Rev. Dr. Scrivener, Rev. Principal Brown, Rev. Principal Newth, and Rev. Dr. Vance Smith. This Committee was to take the First Book of Maccabees. The Books of Tobit and Judith were afterwards, by special arrangement with the Old Testament Company, undertaken by this Committee.

The Cambridge Committee was to consist of the following members:—The Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), Rev. Professor Hort, Rev. Professor Kennedy, Rev. Professor Westcott, Rev. Dr. Milligan,

PREFACE.

Rev. Dr. Moulton, and Rev. Dr. Roberts. This Committee was to take the Book of Wisdom and the Second Book of Maccabees.

In connexion with the foregoing resolution it was resolved at the final meeting of the Company, on Thursday, November 11, 1880:—(1) that the decisions be arrived at by simple majorities; (2) that the successive portions of the work when printed be forwarded to the members of the other two Committees. A third resolution was passed constituting the Rev. Dr. Troutbeck the General Secretary of the three Committees, and, as such, responsible for the printing of the portions of the work as they were finished; but the latter part of this resolution was modified, and the whole of the printing was carried on at the University Press, Oxford.

The London Committee, to which the Revision of the Authorised Version of the Book of Ecclesiasticus was intrusted, commenced their labours on May 11, 1881, and completed their first revision of the Version on July 20, 1882, and their second and final revision on May 25, 1883. The breaking up of the text of the Version into parallelisms was undertaken at a later period. Of the members of the Committee, two, the Bishops of Salisbury and St. Andrews, found themselves unable through age and distance from London to attend the meetings. The attendance of the remainder was such that there were rarely less than four present. Whenever the number fell below this, all debateable points were reserved for fuller meetings. Considerable attention was paid to the text; but the materials available for correcting it were but scanty. In regard to the revision of the Version, especial care was taken to preserve the general tone of the Authorised Version, and to maintain the somewhat greater freedom of rendering which characterizes the translation of the Apocrypha when compared with the translation of the Old or of the New Testament.

The Westminster Committee completed their first revision of the First Book of Maccabees on July 5, their second revision on November 3, 1881. Their first revision of the Books of Judith and Tobit was completed on July 6, their second revision on October 11, 1882. With regard to the Greek text they derived great assistance from Dr. Scrivener, but the number of places in which it was thought right to abandon readings that seemed to be represented in the Authorised Version was not large. The English Version was found to require much care. In the First Book of Maccabees, for example, a well-known peculiarity of the writer had been obliterated by the repeated introduction, with or without the use of italics, of the words 'God' and 'the Lord,' which never occur in the best Greek text. Archbishop Trench worked with the Committee until they were close to the end of the First Book of Maccabees. Dean Stanley also attended up to about the same time: Principal Brown did not take any part in the work.

Of the members of the Cambridge Committee the Bishop of Durham (Dr. Lightfoot), the Dean of Lincoln (Mr. Blakesley), and Professor Kennedy were compelled for various reasons to withdraw from the work of revision. Dr. Roberts supplied notes on various parts of the two books. Dr. Hort, Dr. Moulton and Dr. Westcott conducted the revision with this assistance at weekly meetings during term time from March 3, 1881 to the spring of 1890, when Dr. Westcott was removed to Durham. In the remainder of the work Dr. Westcott took part by correspondence. The first revision of 2 Maccabees was completed on May 20, 1885, and the final revision December 7, 1889. The first revision of Wisdom was completed between May 20, 1885 and June 20, 1888; and the second revision between November 23, 1889 and November 21, 1891. The singular difficulty and importance of the Book of Wisdom led the revisers to review the version a third time. The whole revision of the two books was substantially completed before the summer of 1892. A few questions were reserved for later decision. These were considered by Dr. Hort in the summer of that year, and, with the help of his notes, finally determined by Dr. Westcott and Dr. Moulton.

After the revision of the Old Testament had been completed the Old Testament Company (July 9, 1884) passed the following resolution:—

PREFACE.

'That the Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), Professor Lumby, Professor Robertson Smith, Mr. Bensly, Mr. Cheyne, and the Secretary (Mr. Aldis Wright) be a Committee to translate the remaining books of the Apocrypha, and

That Dr. Field be invited to assist in the formation of the text.'

The Dean of Peterborough (Dr. Perowne), now Bishop of Worcester, and Mr. (now Professor) Cheyne, found themselves unable to take part in the work, and the Committee were deprived of the assistance of Dr. Field by his death in April, 1885.

The Books of the Apocrypha which were left for them to revise were 1 and 2 Esdras, the additions to Esther, Baruch, the Song of the Three Holy Children, the History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, and the Prayer of Manasses.

For the text of these portions, with the exception of 2 Esdras, they were entirely dependent upon the inadequate materials already existing, and did not therefore attempt any complete revision. But as the late Professor Bensly had reconstructed the text of the Latin version of 2 Esdras from a full collation of all the independent MSS. at present known, the Committee fully availed themselves of the results which he generously placed at their disposal. They were thus able to incorporate the missing fragment, vii. 36-105, which was edited by Professor Bensly with elaborate care, and published by the Cambridge University Press (1875), and to make use of many improved readings which he proposed to adopt in his critical edition. It is satisfactory to know that this work has been left in a sufficiently forward state to admit of its being easily completed.

In regard to the language of the Revised Version the Committee followed the general principles which were observed by the Old Testament Revision Company.

In the case of Proper Names it has not been found possible to secure uniformity of plan in the work of the four Committees. In some Books these names appear in their familiar Old Testament forms, after the Hebrew; whilst in others, the forms of the Authorised Version are usually retained, or are but slightly altered, in accordance with the Greek. Lists of the Greek readings—or, in 2 Esdras, the Latin readings—adopted by the Committees will shortly be published*.

Such is a brief account of the circumstances under which the present work was executed. The Revisers conclude with the hope and the belief that it will be found helpful to the student, and acceptable to the general reader of the Apocrypha.

* The preparation of these lists was undertaken by Dr. Moulton. As however the work was still far from complete at the time of his death in February 1898, the publication of the readings has now been abandoned.

priests offered the fat until night: and the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests their brethren, the sons of Aaron. <sup>15</sup>The holy singers also, the sons of Asaph, were in their order, according to the appointment of David, to wit, Asaph, Zacharias, <sup>1</sup>and Eddinus, who <sup>2</sup>was of the king's retinue. <sup>16</sup>Moreover <sup>17</sup>the porters were at every gate; none had need to depart from his <sup>c</sup>daily course: for their brethren the Levites prepared for them. <sup>17</sup>Thus were the things that belonged to the sacrifices of the Lord accomplished in that day, in holding the passover, <sup>18</sup>and offering sacrifices upon the altar of the Lord, <sup>19</sup>according to the commandment of king Josias. <sup>19</sup>So the children of Israel which were present at that time held the passover, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days. <sup>20</sup>And <sup>c</sup>such a passover was not held in Israel since the time of the prophet Samuel. <sup>21</sup>Yea, all the kings of Israel held not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and the Jews, held with all Israel that were present in their dwelling place at Jerusalem. <sup>22</sup>In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this passover held. <sup>23</sup>And the works of Josias were upright before his Lord with a heart full of godliness. <sup>24</sup>Moreover the things that came to pass in his days have been written in times past, concerning those that sinned, and did wickedly against the Lord above every people and kingdom, and how they grieved him <sup>4</sup>exceedingly, so that the words of the Lord were confirmed against Israel.

said the king unto his servants, Carry me away out of the battle; for I am very weak. And immediately his servants carried him away out of the host. <sup>31</sup>Then gat he up upon his second chariot; and being brought back to Jerusalem he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers. <sup>32</sup>And in all Jewry they mourned for Josias; and Jeremy the prophet lamented for Josias, and the chief men with the women made lamentation for him, unto this day: and this was given out for an ordinance to be done continually in all the nation of Israel. <sup>33</sup>These things are written in the book of the histories of the kings of Judæa, and every one of the acts that Josias did, and his glory, and his understanding in the law of the Lord, and the things that he had done before, and the things now recited, are reported in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

<sup>34</sup>And the people took <sup>1</sup>Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of Josias his father, when he was twenty and three years old. <sup>35</sup>And he reigned in <sup>2</sup>Judah and in Jerusalem three months: and then the king of Egypt deposed him from reigning in Jerusalem. <sup>36</sup>And he set a tax upon the people of a hundred talents of silver and one talent of gold. <sup>37</sup>The king of Egypt also made king Joakim his brother king of Judæa and Jerusalem. <sup>38</sup>And Joakim bound the nobles: but Zarakes his brother he apprehended, and brought him up out of Egypt.

<sup>39</sup>Five and twenty years old was Joakim when he began to reign in Judæa and Jerusalem; and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. <sup>40</sup>And against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came up, and bound him with a chain of brass, and carried him unto Babylon. <sup>41</sup>Nabuchodonosor also took of the holy vessels of the Lord, and carried them away, and set them up in his own temple at Babylon. <sup>42</sup>But those things that are reported of him, and of his uncleanness and impiety, are written in the chronicles of the kings.

<sup>43</sup>And Joakim his son reigned in his stead: <sup>44</sup>for when he was made king he was <sup>45</sup>eighteen years old; <sup>46</sup>and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem; and did that which was evil before the Lord.

<sup>45</sup>So after a year Nabuchodonosor sent and caused him to be brought unto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord; <sup>46</sup>and made Sedekias king of Judæa and Jerusalem, <sup>47</sup>when he was one and twenty years old; and he reigned eleven years: <sup>48</sup>and he also did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord, and <sup>49</sup>cared not for the words that were spoken by Jeremy the prophet from the mouth of the Lord. <sup>48</sup>And after that king Nabuchodonosor had made him to swear by the name of the Lord, he forswore himself, and rebelled; and hardening his neck, and his heart, he transgressed the laws of the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>49</sup>Moreover the governors of the people and of the priests did many things wickedly, <sup>50</sup>and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the temple of the Lord, which was sanctified in Jerusalem. <sup>51</sup>And the God of their fathers sent by his messenger to call them back, because he had compassion on them and on his dwelling place. <sup>52</sup>But they mocked his messengers; and in the day when the Lord spake unto them, they scoffed at his prophets: <sup>53</sup>so far forth, that he, being wroth with his people for their great ungodliness, commanded to bring up the kings of the Chaldeans against them; <sup>54</sup>who slew their young men with the sword, round about their holy temple, and spared neither young man nor maid, old man nor child; but he delivered all into their hands. <sup>55</sup>And they took all the holy vessels of the Lord, both great and small, with <sup>56</sup>the vessels of the ark of the Lord, and the king's treasures, and carried them away unto Babylon. <sup>57</sup>And they burnt the house of the Lord, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem, and burnt the towers thereof with fire: <sup>58</sup>and as for her glorious things, they never ceased till they had brought them all to nought: and the people that were not slain with the sword he carried unto Babylon: <sup>59</sup>and they were servants unto him and to his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfil <sup>60</sup>the word of the Lord by the month of Jeremy: <sup>61</sup>Until <sup>62</sup>the land hath enjoyed her sabbaths, the whole time of her desolation shall she keep sabbath, to fulfil threescore and ten years.

in his own place help each one with gold, and with silver, <sup>7</sup>with gifts, with horses also and cattle, beside the other things which have been added by vow for the temple of the Lord which is in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup>Then the chief of the families of Judah and of the tribe of Benjamin stood up; the priests also, and the Levites, and all they whose spirit the Lord had stirred to go up, to build the house for the Lord which is in Jerusalem. <sup>9</sup>And they that dwelt round about them helped them in all things with silver and gold, with horses and cattle, and with very many gifts that were vowed of a great number whose minds were stirred up thereto. <sup>10</sup>King Cyrus also brought forth the holy vessels of the Lord, which <sup>1</sup>Nabuchodonosor had carried away from Jerusalem, and had set up in his temple of idols.

<sup>19</sup>But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians Belemus, and Mithradates, and Tabellius, and <sup>20</sup>Rathumus, and Beelthumus, and <sup>21</sup>Samellius the scribe, with the others that were in commission with them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote unto him against them that dwelt in Judea and Jerusalem the letter following: <sup>22</sup>To king Artaxerxes our lord, Thy servants, Rathumus the <sup>23</sup>storywriter, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest of their council, and the judges that are in <sup>24</sup>Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>25</sup>Be it now known to our lord the king, that the Jews that are come up from you to us, being come unto Jerusalem, do build that rebellious and wicked city, and do repair the marketplaces and the walls of it, and do lay the foundation of a temple. <sup>26</sup>Now if this city be builded and the walls thereof be finished, they will not only refuse to give tribute, but will even stand up against kings. <sup>27</sup>And forasmuch as the things pertaining to the temple are now in hand, we think it meet not to neglect such a matter, <sup>28</sup>but to speak unto our lord the king, to the intent that, if it be thy pleasure, search may be made in the books of thy fathers: <sup>29</sup>and thou shalt find in the chronicles what is written concerning these things, and shalt understand that that city was rebellious, troubling both kings and cities: <sup>30</sup>and that the Jews were rebellious, and raised always wars therein of old time; for the which cause even this city was laid waste. <sup>31</sup>Wherefore now we do declare unto thee, O lord the king, that if this city be builded again, and the walls thereof set up anew, thou shalt from henceforth have no passage into <sup>32</sup>Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>33</sup>Then the king wrote back again to <sup>34</sup>Rathumus the storywriter, and Beelthumus, and <sup>35</sup>Samellius the scribe, and to the rest that were in commission, and dwelt in Samaria and Syria and Phoenicia, after this manner: <sup>36</sup>I have read the epistle which ye have sent unto me: therefore I commanded to make search, and it hath been found that that city of old time hath made insurrection against kings; <sup>37</sup>and the men were given to rebellion and war therein: and that mighty kings and fierce were in Jerusalem, who reigned and exacted tribute in <sup>38</sup>Coelesyria and Phoenicia. <sup>39</sup>Now therefore I have commanded to hinder those men from building the city, and heed to be taken that there be nothing done contrary to this order; <sup>40</sup>and that those wicked doings proceed no further to the annoyance of kings. <sup>41</sup>Then king Artaxerxes his letters being read, Rathumus, and Samellius the scribe, and the rest that were in commission with them, removing in haste unto Jerusalem with horsemen and a multitude of people in battle array, began to hinder the builders; and the building of the temple in Jerusalem ceased until the <sup>42</sup>second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

<sup>6</sup>Then the three young men of the body-guard, that kept the king's person, spake one to another: <sup>7</sup>Let every one of us say one thing which shall be strongest: and he whose sentence shall seem wiser than the others, unto him shall Darius the king give great gifts, and great honours in token of victory: <sup>8</sup>as, <sup>9</sup>to be clothed in purple, <sup>10</sup>to drink in gold, and <sup>1</sup>to sleep upon gold, and a chariot with bridles of gold, and a head-tire of fine linen, and <sup>2</sup>a chain about his neck: <sup>3</sup>and he shall sit next to Darius because of his wisdom, and shall be called Darius <sup>4</sup>his cousin. <sup>5</sup>And then they wrote every one his sentence, and set to their seals, and laid the writing under king Darius his pillow, <sup>6</sup>and said, When the king is risen, some shall give him the writing; and of whose side the king and the three princes of Persia shall judge that his sentence is the wisest, to him shall the victory be given, as it is written. <sup>7</sup>The first wrote, Wine is the strongest. <sup>8</sup>The second wrote, The king is strongest. <sup>9</sup>The third wrote, Women are strongest: but above all things Truth beareth away the victory.

<sup>10</sup>Now when the king was risen up, they took the writing, and gave it unto him, and so he read it: <sup>11</sup>and sending forth he called all the princes of Persia and of Media, <sup>12</sup>and the satraps, and the captains, and the governors, and the chief officers; <sup>13</sup>and sat him down in the royal seat of judgement; and the writing was read before them. <sup>14</sup>And he said, Call the young men, and they shall explain their own sentences. So they were called, and came in. <sup>15</sup>And they said unto them, Declare unto us your mind concerning the things ye have written.

Then began the first, who had spoken of the strength of wine, <sup>16</sup>and said thus, O sirs, how exceeding strong is wine! <sup>17</sup>it causeth all men to err that drink it: <sup>18</sup>it maketh the mind of the king and of the fatherless child to be all one; of the bondman and of the freeman, of the poor man and of the rich: <sup>19</sup>it turneth also every thought into jollity and mirth, so that a man remembereth neither sorrow nor debt: <sup>20</sup>and it maketh every heart rich, so that a man remembereth neither king nor satrap; and it maketh to speak all things by talents: <sup>21</sup>and when they are in their cups, they forget their love both to friends and brethren, and a little after draw their swords: <sup>22</sup>but when they awake from their wine, <sup>23</sup>they remember not what they have done. <sup>24</sup>O sirs, is not wine the strongest, seeing that it enforceth to do thus? And when he had so spoken, he held his peace.

and if he send them out against the enemies, they go, and overcome mountains, walls, and towers. <sup>5</sup>They play and are slain, and transgress not the king's commandment: if they get the victory, they bring all to the king, as well the spoil, as all things else. <sup>6</sup> Likewise for those that are no soldiers, and have not to do with wars, but use husbandry, when they have reaped again that which they had sown, they bring it to the king, and compel one another to pay tribute unto the king. <sup>7</sup>And he is <sup>1</sup>but one man: <sup>2</sup>if he command to kill, they kill; if he command to spare, they spare; <sup>3</sup>if he command to smite, they smite; if he command to make desolate, they make desolate; if he command to build, they build; <sup>4</sup>if he command to cut down, they cut down; if he command to plant, they plant. <sup>5</sup>So all his people and his armies obey him: furthermore he lieth down, he eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest: <sup>6</sup>and these keep watch round about him, neither may any one depart, and do his own business, neither disobey they him in anything. <sup>7</sup>O sirs, how should not the king be strongest, seeing that in such sort he is obeyed? And he held his peace.

<sup>1</sup>Then the third, who had spoken of women, and of truth, (this was Zorobabel) began to speak. <sup>2</sup>O sirs, is not the king great, and men are many, and wine is strong? who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship over them? are they not women? <sup>3</sup>Women have borne the king and all the people that bear rule by sea and land. <sup>4</sup>Even of them came they: and they nourished them up that planted the vineyards, from whence the wine cometh. <sup>5</sup>These also make garments for men; these bring glory unto men; and without women cannot men be. <sup>6</sup>Yea, and if men have gathered together gold and silver and every other goodly thing, <sup>7</sup>and see a woman which is comely in favour and beauty, <sup>8</sup>they let all those things go, and <sup>9</sup>gape after her, and even with open mouth fix their eyes fast on her; and <sup>10</sup>have all more desire unto her than unto gold or silver, or any goodly thing whatsoever. <sup>11</sup>A man leaveth his own father that brought him up, and his own country, and cleaveth unto his wife. <sup>12</sup>And with his wife he endeth his days, and remembereth neither father, nor mother, nor country. <sup>13</sup>By this also ye must know that women have dominion over you: do ye not labour and toil, and give and bring all to women? <sup>14</sup>Yea, a man taketh his sword, and goeth forth to make outroads, and to rob and to steal, and to sail upon the sea <sup>15</sup>and upon rivers; <sup>16</sup>and <sup>17</sup>looketh upon a lion, and <sup>18</sup>walketh in the darkness; and when he hath stolen, spoiled, and robbed, he bringeth it to his love. <sup>25</sup> Wherefore a man loveth his wife better than father or mother. <sup>26</sup> Yea, many there be that have run out of their wits for women, and become bondmen for their sakes. <sup>27</sup> Many also have perished, have stumbled, and sinned, for women. <sup>28</sup> And now do ye not believe me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions fear to touch him? <sup>29</sup> Yet did I see him and Apame the king's concubine, the daughter of the illustrious Bartacus, sitting <sup>30</sup> at the right hand of the king, <sup>31</sup> and taking the crown from the king's head, and setting it upon her own head; yea, she struck the king with her left hand: <sup>32</sup> and therewithal the kingaped and gazed upon her with open mouth: if she laughed upon him, he laughed also: but if she took any displeasure at him, he was fain to flatter, that she might be reconciled to him again. <sup>33</sup> O sirs, how can it be but women should be strong, seeing they do thus?

<sup>33</sup> Then the king and the nobles looked one upon another: so he began to speak concerning truth. <sup>34</sup> O sirs, are not women strong? great is the earth, high is the heaven, swift is the sun in his course, for he compasseth the heavens round about, and fetcheth his course again to his own place in one day. <sup>35</sup> Is he not great that maketh these things? therefore great is <sup>36</sup> truth, and stronger than all things. <sup>37</sup> All the earth calleth upon truth, and the heaven bleaseth her: all works shake and tremble, but with <sup>38</sup> her is no unrighteous thing. <sup>39</sup> Wine is unrighteous, the king is unrighteous, women are unrighteous, all the children of men are unrighteous, and unrighteous are all such their works; and <sup>40</sup> there is no truth in them; in their unrighteousness also they shall perish. <sup>41</sup> But truth abideth, and is strong for ever; she liveth and conquereth for evermore. <sup>42</sup> With her there is <sup>43</sup> no accepting of persons or rewards; but she doeth the things that are just, and refraineth from all unrighteous and wicked things; and all men do well like of her works. <sup>44</sup> Neither in her judgement is any unrighteousness; and she is <sup>45</sup> the strength, and the kingdom, and the power, and the majesty, of all ages. Blessed be the <sup>46</sup> God of truth. <sup>47</sup> And with that he held his tongue. And all the people then shouted, and said, Great is truth, and strong above all things.

thou didst vow to build Jerusalem, in the day when thou camest to thy kingdom, <sup>44</sup> and to send away all the vessels that were taken out of Jerusalem, which Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and vowed to send them again thither. <sup>45</sup> Thou didst also vow to build up the temple, which <sup>46</sup> the Edomites burned when Judea was made desolate by the Chaldeans. <sup>47</sup> And now, O lord the king, this is that which I require, and which I desire of thee, and this is the princely liberality <sup>48</sup> that shall proceed from thee: I pray therefore that thou make good the vow, the performance whereof thou hast vowed to <sup>49</sup> the King of heaven with thine own mouth.

<sup>47</sup> Then Darius the king stood up, and kissed him, and wrote letters for him unto all the treasurers and governors and captains and satraps, that they should safely bring on their way both him, and all those that should go up with him to build Jerusalem. <sup>48</sup> He wrote letters also unto all the governors that were in <sup>49</sup> Colesyria and Phenicia, and unto them in <sup>50</sup> Libanus, that they should bring <sup>51</sup> cedar wood from <sup>52</sup> Libanus unto Jerusalem, and that they should build the city with him. <sup>53</sup> Moreover he wrote for all the Jews that should go out of his realm up into Jewry, concerning their freedom, that no officer, no governor, no satrap, nor treasurer, should forcibly enter into their doors; <sup>54</sup> and that all the country which they occupied should be free to them without tribute; and that <sup>55</sup> the Edomites should give over the villages of the Jews which then they held: <sup>56</sup> and that there should be yearly given twenty talents to the building of the temple, until the time that it were built; <sup>57</sup> and other ten talents yearly, for burnt offerings to be presented upon the altar <sup>58</sup> every day, as they had a commandment to offer seventeen: <sup>59</sup> and that all they that should come from Babylonia to build the city should have their freedom, as well they as their posterity, and all the priests that came. <sup>60</sup> He wrote also to give them their charges, and the priests' vestments wherein they minister; <sup>61</sup> and for the Levites he wrote that their charges should be given them until the day that the house were finished, and Jerusalem builded up. <sup>62</sup> And he commanded to give to all that kept the city lands and wages. <sup>63</sup> He sent away also all the vessels from Babylon, <sup>64</sup> that Cyrus had set apart; and all that Cyrus had given in commandment, the same charged he also to be done, and sent unto Jerusalem.

heaven † toward Jerusalem, and praised † the King of heaven, <sup>59</sup> and said, From thee cometh † victory, from thee cometh † wisdom, and thine is the † glory, and I am thy servant. <sup>60</sup> Blessed art thou, † who hast given me wisdom: and to thee I give thanks, O Lord of our fathers. <sup>61</sup> And so he took the letters, and went out, and came unto Babylon, and told it all his brethren. <sup>62</sup> And they praised the God of their fathers, because he had given them freedom and liberty <sup>63</sup> to go up, and to build Jerusalem, and the temple † which is called by his name: and they feasted with † instruments of music and gladness seven days.

males, five thousand five hundred twenty and five beasts of burden. <sup>44</sup> And certain of the chief men of their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Jerusalem, vowed to set up the house again in its own place according to their ability, <sup>45</sup> and to give into the holy treasury of the works a thousand pounds of gold, five thousand of silver, and a hundred priestly vestments. <sup>45</sup> And the priests and the Levites and they that were of the people dwelt in Jerusalem and the country; the holy singers also and the porters and all Israel in their villages.

laid the foundation of the temple of God on the new moon of the second month, in the second year after they were come to Jewry and Jerusalem. <sup>58</sup> And they appointed the Levites from twenty years old over the works of the Lord. Then stood up <sup>a</sup>Jesus, and his sons and brethren, and Kadmiel his brother, and the sons of Jesus, Emadabun, and the sons of Joda the son of Iliadun, and their sons and brethren, all the Levites, with one accord setters forward of the business, labouring to advance the works in the house of God. So the builders builded the temple of the Lord. <sup>59</sup> And the priests stood arrayed in their vestments <sup>a</sup>with musical instruments and trumpets, and the Levites the sons of Asaph with their cymbals, <sup>60</sup> singing songs of thanksgiving, and praising the Lord, after the order of David king of Israel. <sup>61</sup> And they sang aloud, praising the Lord in songs of thanksgiving, because his goodness and his glory are for ever in all Israel. <sup>62</sup> And all the people sounded trumpets, and shouted with a loud voice, singing songs of thanksgiving unto the Lord for the rearing up of the house of the Lord. <sup>63</sup> Also of the priests the Levites, and of the heads of their families, the ancients who had seen the former house came to the building of this with lamentation and great weeping. <sup>64</sup> But many with trumpets and joy shouted with loud voice, <sup>65</sup> inasmuch that the people heard not the trumpets for the weeping of the people: for the multitude sounded marvellously, so that it was heard afar off.

<sup>66</sup> Wherefore when the enemies of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should mean. <sup>67</sup> And they perceived that they that were of the captivity did build the temple unto the Lord, the God of Israel. <sup>68</sup> So they went to Zorobabel and <sup>a</sup>Jesus, and to the chief men of the families, and said unto them, We will build together with you. <sup>69</sup> For we likewise, as ye, do obey your Lord, and do sacrifice unto him from the days of <sup>14</sup>Asbasareth the king of the Assyrians, who brought us hither. <sup>70</sup> Then Zorobabel and Jesus and the chief men of the families of Israel said unto them, It is not <sup>2</sup>for you to build the house unto the Lord our God. <sup>71</sup> We ourselves alone will build unto the Lord of Israel, according as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded us. <sup>72</sup> But the heathen of the land lying heavy upon the inhabitants of Judæa, and <sup>8</sup>holding them strait, hindered their building; <sup>73</sup> and <sup>4</sup>by their secret plots, and popular persuasions and commotions, they hindered the finishing of the building all the time that king Cyrus lived: so they were hindered from building for the space of two years, until the reign of Darius.

Chaldeans; <sup>16</sup>and they pulled down the house, and burned it, and carried away the people captives unto Babylon. <sup>17</sup>But in the first year that Cyrus reigned over the country of Babylon, king Cyrus wrote to build up this house. <sup>18</sup>And the holy vessels of gold and of silver, that Nabuchodonosor had carried away out of the house at Jerusalem, and had set up in his own temple, <sup>19</sup>those Cyrus the king brought forth again out of the temple in Babylonia, and they were delivered to Zorobabel and to <sup>20</sup>Sanabassar the governor, <sup>21</sup>with commandment that he should carry away <sup>22</sup>all these vessels, and put them in the temple at Jerusalem; and that the temple of the Lord should be built in its place. <sup>23</sup>Then <sup>24</sup>Sanabassar, being come hither, laid the foundations of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem; and from that time to this being still a building, it is not yet fully ended. <sup>25</sup>Now therefore, if it seem good, O king, let search be made among the royal archives of our lord the king that are in Babylon: <sup>26</sup>and if it be found that the building of the house of the Lord which is in Jerusalem hath been done with the consent of king Cyrus, and it seem good unto our lord the king, let him signify unto us thereof.

look diligently to help those that be of the captivity of Judaea, till the house of the Lord be finished: <sup>37</sup>and that out of the tribute of <sup>38</sup>Coelesyria and Phoenicia a portion be carefully given these men for the sacrifices of the Lord, that is, to Zorobabel the governor, for bullocks, and rams, and lambs; <sup>39</sup>and also corn, salt, wine, and oil, and that continually every year without further question, according as the priests that be in Jerusalem shall signify to be daily spent: <sup>40</sup>that drink offerings may be made to the <sup>41</sup>Most High God for the king and for his children, and that they may pray for their lives. <sup>42</sup>And that commandment be given that whosoever shall transgress, yea, or neglect anything <sup>43</sup>herein written, out of his own house shall a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seized for the king. <sup>44</sup>The Lord therefore, whose name is there called upon, utterly destroy every king and nation, that shall stretch out his hand to hinder or endamage that house of the Lord in Jerusalem. <sup>45</sup>I Darius the king have ordained that according unto these things it be done with diligence.

<sup>15</sup>And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity held the passover the fourteenth day of the first month, when the priests and the Levites were sanctified together, <sup>11</sup>and all they that were of the captivity; for they were sanctified. For the Levites were all sanctified together, <sup>12</sup>and they offered the passover for all them of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves. <sup>13</sup>And the children of Israel that came out of the captivity did eat, even all they that had separated themselves from the abominations of the heathen of the land, and sought the Lord. <sup>14</sup>And they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, making merry before the Lord, <sup>15</sup>for that he had turned the counsel of <sup>a</sup>the king of Assyria toward them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the Lord, <sup>b</sup>the God of Israel.

depart with thee, as it hath seemed good both to me and <sup>l</sup>my seven friends the counsellors; <sup>m</sup>that they may look unto the affairs of Judaea and Jerusalem, agreeably to that which is in the law of the Lord, <sup>n</sup>and carry the gifts unto the Lord of Israel to Jerusalem, which I and my friends have vowed; and that all the gold and silver that can be found in the country of Babylonia for the Lord in Jerusalem, <sup>14</sup>with that also which is given of the people for the temple of the Lord their God that is at Jerusalem, be collected: even the gold and silver for bullocks, rams, and lambs, and things thereunto appertaining; <sup>15</sup>to the end that they may offer sacrifices unto the Lord upon the altar of the Lord their God, which is in Jerusalem. <sup>16</sup>And whatsoever thou and thy brethren are minded to do with gold and silver, that perform, according to the will of thy God. <sup>17</sup>And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are given thee for the use of the temple of thy God, which is in Jerusalem: <sup>18</sup>and whatsoever thing else thou shalt remember for the use of the temple of thy God, thou shalt give it out of the king's treasury. <sup>19</sup>And I king Artaxerxes have also commanded the keepers of the treasures in <sup>o</sup>Syria and Phoenicia, that whatsoever Esdras the priest and <sup>p</sup>reader of the law of the <sup>q</sup>Most High God shall send for, they should give it him with all diligence, <sup>20</sup>to the sum of a hundred talents of silver, likewise also of wheat even to a hundred <sup>r</sup>measures, and a hundred <sup>s</sup>firkins of wine, and <sup>t</sup>salt in abundance. <sup>21</sup>Let all things be performed after the law of God diligently unto the <sup>u</sup>Most High God, that wrath come not upon the kingdom of the king and his sons. <sup>22</sup>I command you also, that no tax, nor any other imposition, be laid on any of the priests, or Levites, or holy singers, or porters, or <sup>v</sup>temple-servants, or any that have employment in this temple, and that no man have authority to impose anything upon them. <sup>23</sup>And thou, Esdras, according to the wisdom of God ordain judges and justices, that they may judge in all <sup>w</sup>Syria and Phoenicia all those that know the law of thy God; and those that know it not thou shalt teach. <sup>24</sup>And whosoever shall transgress the law of thy God, and of the king, shall be punished diligently, whether it be by death, or other punishment, by penalty of money, or by <sup>x</sup>imprisonment.

in Jerusalem: <sup>26</sup>and hath honoured me in the sight of the king, and his counsellors, and all his friends and nobles. <sup>27</sup>Therefore was I encouraged by the help of the Lord my God, and gathered together out of Israel men to go up with me. <sup>28</sup>And these are the chief according to their families and the several divisions thereof, that went up with me from Babylon in the reign of king Artaxerxes: <sup>29</sup>of the sons of Phinees, Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar, Gamael: of the sons of David, <sup>1</sup>Attus <sup>2</sup>the son of Sechenias: <sup>30</sup>of the sons of Phoros, Zacharias; and with him were counted a hundred and fifty men: <sup>31</sup>of the sons of Phaath Moab, Eliaonias the son of <sup>3</sup>Zaraisas, and with him two hundred men: <sup>32</sup><sup>4</sup>of the sons of Zathoes, Sechenias the son of Jezelus, and with him <sup>5</sup>three hundred men: of the sons of Adin, Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fifty men: <sup>33</sup>of the sons of Elam, Jesias son of <sup>6</sup>Gotholias, and with him seventy men: <sup>34</sup>of the sons of Saphatias, <sup>7</sup>Zaraisas son of Michael, and with him threescore and ten men: <sup>35</sup>of the sons of Joab, <sup>8</sup>Abadas son of <sup>9</sup>Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelve men: <sup>36</sup><sup>10</sup>of the sons of Baniass, Salimoth son of Josephias, and with him a hundred and threescore men: <sup>37</sup>of the sons of Babi, Zacharias son of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men: <sup>38</sup>of the sons of <sup>11</sup>Astath, Joannes son of <sup>12</sup>Akatan, and with him a hundred and ten men: <sup>39</sup>of the sons of Adonikam, the last, and these are the names of them, Eliphalat, Jeuel, and <sup>13</sup>Samaias, and with them seventy men: <sup>40</sup>of the sons of <sup>14</sup>Bago, Uthi the son of Istalcurus, and with him seventy men.

<sup>41</sup>And I gathered them together to the river called <sup>15</sup>Theras; and there we pitched our tents three days, and I surveyed them. <sup>42</sup>But when I had found there none of the priests and Levites, <sup>43</sup>then sent I unto Eleazar, and <sup>16</sup>Iduel, and <sup>17</sup>Maasmas, <sup>44</sup>and Elnathan, and Samaias, and <sup>18</sup>Joribus, Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharias, and Moellamus, principal men and men of understanding. <sup>45</sup>And I bade them that they should go unto <sup>19</sup>Loddeus the captain, who was in the place of <sup>20</sup>the treasury: <sup>46</sup>and commanded them that they should speak unto Loddeus, and to his brethren, and to the treasurers in that place, to send us such men as might execute the priests' office in the house of our Lord. <sup>47</sup>And by the mighty hand of our Lord they brought unto us <sup>21</sup>men of understanding of the sons of <sup>22</sup>Mooli the son of Levi, the son of Israel, <sup>23</sup>Asebebias, and his sons, and his brethren, who were eighteen, <sup>24</sup>and <sup>25</sup>Asebias, and Annuns, and Osaias his brother, of the sons of Chanuneus, and their sons were twenty men; <sup>48</sup>and of <sup>26</sup>the temple-servants whom David and the principal men had appointed for the service of the Levites, two hundred and twenty temple-servants, the catalogue of all their names was shewed. <sup>50</sup>And there I vowed a fast for the young men before our Lord, to desire of him a <sup>27</sup>prosperous journey both for us and for our children and cattle that were with us: <sup>51</sup>for I was ashamed to ask of the king footmen, and horsemen, and conduct for safeguard against our adversaries. <sup>52</sup>For we had said unto the king, that the power of our Lord would be with them that seek him, to support them in all ways. <sup>53</sup>And again we besought our Lord as touching these things, and found him favourable unto us. <sup>54</sup>Then I separated twelve men of the chiefs of the priests, <sup>28</sup>Esebebias, and Assamias, and ten men of their brethren with them: <sup>55</sup>and I <sup>29</sup>weighed them the silver, and the gold, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king, and his counsellors, and the nobles, and all Israel, had given. <sup>56</sup>And when I had weighed it, I delivered unto them six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and silver vessels of a hundred talents, and a hundred talents of gold, <sup>57</sup>and twenty golden vessels, and <sup>30</sup>twelve vessels of brass, even of fine brass, glittering like gold. <sup>58</sup>And I said unto them, Both ye are holy unto the Lord, <sup>31</sup>and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the silver are a vow unto the Lord, the Lord of our fathers. <sup>59</sup>Watch ye, and keep them till ye deliver them to the chiefs of the priests and Levites, and to the principal men of the families of Israel, in Jerusalem, in the chambers of the house of our Lord. <sup>60</sup>So the priests and the Levites, who received the silver and the gold and the vessels which were in Jerusalem, brought them into the temple of the Lord.

<sup>61</sup>And from the river <sup>32</sup>Theras we departed the twelfth day of the first month, until we came to Jerusalem, by the mighty hand of our Lord which was upon us: and the Lord delivered us from assault by the way, from every enemy, and so we came to Jerusalem. <sup>62</sup>And when we had been there three days, the silver and gold was <sup>33</sup>weighed and delivered in the house of our Lord on the fourth day unto <sup>34</sup>Marmoth the priest the son of <sup>35</sup>Urias. <sup>63</sup>And with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them were Josabbus the son of Jesus and <sup>1</sup>Moeth the son of Sallannus, the Levites: all was delivered them by number and weight. <sup>64</sup>And all the weight of them was written up the same hour. <sup>65</sup>Moreover they that were come out of the captivity offered sacrifices unto the Lord, <sup>66</sup>the God of Israel, even twelve bullocks for all Israel, four-score and sixteen rams, <sup>67</sup>threescore and twelve lambs, goats for a peace offering, twelve; all of them a sacrifice to the Lord. <sup>68</sup>And they delivered the king's commandments unto the king's stewards, and to the governors of <sup>69</sup>Coele-syria and Phenicia; and they honoured the people and the temple of the Lord.

<sup>68</sup>Now when these things were done, the principal men came unto me, and said, <sup>69</sup>The nation of Israel, and the princes, and the priests and the Levites, have not put away from them the strange people of the land, <sup>70</sup>nor the uncleanness of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Canaanites, Hittites, Perezites, Jebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and <sup>71</sup>Edomites. <sup>72</sup>For both they and their sons have married with their daughters, and the holy seed is mixed with the strange people of the land; and from the beginning of this matter the rulers and the nobles have been partakers of this iniquity. <sup>73</sup>And as soon as I had heard these things, I rent my clothes, and my holy garment, and plucked the hair from off my head and beard, and sat me down sad and full of heaviness. <sup>74</sup>So all they that were moved at the word of the Lord, <sup>75</sup>the God of Israel, assembled unto me, whilst I mourned for the iniquity: but I sat still full of heaviness until the evening sacrifice. <sup>76</sup>Then rising up from the fast with my clothes and my holy garment rent, and bowing my knees, and stretching forth my hands unto the Lord, <sup>77</sup>I said, O Lord, I am ashamed and confounded before thy face; <sup>78</sup>for our sins are multiplied above our heads, and our errors have reached up unto heaven, <sup>79</sup>ever since the time of our fathers; and we are in great sin, even unto this day. <sup>80</sup>And for our sins and our fathers' we with our brethren and our kings and our priests were given up unto the kings of the earth, to the sword, and to captivity, and <sup>81</sup>for a prey with shame, unto this day. <sup>82</sup>And now in some measure hath mercy been shewed unto us from thee, O Lord, that there should be left us <sup>83</sup>a root and a name in the place of thy sanctuary; <sup>84</sup>and to discover unto us a light in the house of the Lord our God, and to give us <sup>85</sup>food in the time of our servitude. <sup>86</sup>O Yea, when we were in bondage, we were not forsaken of our Lord; but he made us gracious before the kings of Persia, so that they gave us <sup>87</sup>food, <sup>88</sup>and glorified the temple of our Lord, and raised up the desolate Sion, to give us a sure abiding in Jewry and Jerusalem. <sup>89</sup>And now, O Lord, what shall we say, having these things? for we have transgressed thy commandments, which thou gavest by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, <sup>90</sup>That the land, which ye enter into to possess as a heritage, is a land polluted with the pollutions of the strangers of the land, and they have filled it with their uncleanness. <sup>91</sup>Therefore now shall ye not join your daughters unto their sons, neither shall ye take their daughters unto your sons. <sup>92</sup>Neither shall ye seek to have peace with them for ever, that ye may be strong, and eat the good things of the land, and that ye may leave it for an inheritance unto your children for evermore. <sup>93</sup>And all that is befallen is done unto us for our wicked works and great sins: for thou, O Lord, didst make our sins light, <sup>94</sup>and didst give unto us such <sup>95</sup>a root: but we have turned back again to transgress thy law, in mingling ourselves with the uncleanness of the heathen of the land. <sup>96</sup>Thou wast not angry with us to destroy us, till thou <sup>97</sup>hadst left us neither <sup>98</sup>root, seed, nor name. <sup>99</sup>O Lord of Israel, thou art true: for we are left <sup>100</sup>a root this day. <sup>101</sup>Behold, now are we before thee in our iniquities, for we cannot stand any longer before thee by reason of these things.

<sup>102</sup>And as Esdras in his prayer made his confession, weeping, and lying flat upon the ground before the temple, there gathered unto him from Jerusalem a very great throng of men and women and children: for there was great weeping among the multitude. <sup>103</sup>Then Jechonias the son of Jeelus, one of the sons of Israel, called out, and said, O Esdras, we have sinned against the Lord God, we have married strange women of the heathen of the land, and now is all Israel <sup>104</sup>aloft. <sup>105</sup>Let us make an oath unto the Lord herein, that we will put away all our wives, which <sup>106</sup>we have taken of the strangers, with their children, <sup>107</sup>like as seemeth good unto thee, and to as many as do obey the law of the Lord. <sup>108</sup>Arise, and put in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertain, and we will be with thee to do valiantly. <sup>109</sup>So Esdras arose, and took an oath of the chief of the priests and Levites of all Israel to do after these things; and so they sware.

<sup>110</sup>Then Esdras rising from the court of the temple went to the chamber of Jonas the son of Eliasib, and lodged there, and did eat no bread

nor drink water, mourning for the great iniquities of the multitude. <sup>3</sup> And there was made proclamation in all Jewry and Jerusalem to all them that were of the captivity, that they should be gathered together at Jerusalem: <sup>4</sup> and that whosoever met not there within two or three days, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattle should be seized to the use of the temple, and himself cast out from the multitude of them that were of the captivity.

<sup>5</sup> And in three days were all they of the tribe of Judah and Benjamin gathered together at Jerusalem: this was the ninth month, on the twentieth day of the month. <sup>6</sup> And all the multitude sat together trembling in the broad place before the temple because of the present foul weather. <sup>7</sup> So Esdras arose up, and said unto them, Ye have transgressed the law and married strange wives, thereby to increase the sins of Israel. <sup>8</sup> And now make confession and give glory unto the Lord, the God of our fathers, and do his will, and separate yourselves from the heathen of the land, and from the strange women. <sup>9</sup> Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we do. <sup>10</sup> But forasmuch as the multitude is great, and it is foul weather, so that we cannot stand without, and this is not a work of one day or two, seeing our sin in these things is spread far: <sup>11</sup> therefore let the rulers of the multitude stay, and let all them of our habitations that have strange wives come at the time appointed, <sup>12</sup> and with them the rulers and judges of every place, till we turn away the wrath of the Lord from us for this matter. <sup>13</sup> Then Jonathan the son of Azazel and <sup>14</sup> Ezekias the son of Thocanus accordingly took the matter upon them: and Mosollamus and Levis and Sabbateus were assessors to them. <sup>15</sup> And they that were of the captivity did according to all these things.

<sup>16</sup> And Esdras the priest chose unto him principal men of their families, all by name: and on the new moon of the tenth month they were shut in together to examine the matter. <sup>17</sup> So their cause that held strange wives was brought to an end by the new moon of the first month. <sup>18</sup> And of the priests that were come together, and had strange wives, there were found; <sup>19</sup> of the sons of <sup>20</sup> Jesus the son of Josedek, and his brethren; <sup>21</sup> Mathelas, and Eleazar, and <sup>22</sup> Joribus, and <sup>23</sup> Joadanus. <sup>24</sup> And they gave their hands to put away their wives, and to offer rams to make recon-

the temple from morning unto midday, before both men and women; and <sup>1</sup>all the multitude gave heed unto the law. <sup>42</sup>And Esdras the priest and <sup>2</sup>reader of the law stood up upon the pulpit of wood, which was made for that purpose. <sup>43</sup>And there stood up by him Mattathias, Sammus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, <sup>3</sup>Ezekias, <sup>4</sup>Baalsamun, upon the right hand: <sup>44</sup>and upon his left hand, <sup>5</sup>Phaldeus, Misael, Melchias, <sup>6</sup>Lothasubus, Nabarias, Zacharias. <sup>45</sup>Then took Esdras the book of the law before the multitude, and sat honourably in the first place before all. <sup>46</sup>And when he opened the law, they stood all straight up. ## II. ESDRAS.

<sup>1</sup>THE second book of the prophet I <sup>2</sup>Esdras, the son of Saraias, the son of Azaraias, the son of Helkias, the son of Salemas, the son of Sadoc, the son of Ahitob, <sup>3</sup>the son of Achias, the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, the son of Amarias, the son of Azie, the son of Marimoth, the son of Arna, the son of Ozias, the son of Borith, the son of Abissei, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, <sup>4</sup>the son of Aaron, of the tribe of Levi; which was captive in the land of the Medes, in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Persians.

with his servants and all his host have I smitten down. <sup>11</sup>All the nations have I destroyed before them, and in the east I have scattered the people of two provinces, even of <sup>12</sup>Tyre and <sup>13</sup>Sidon, and have slain all their adversaries. <sup>14</sup>Speak thou therefore unto them, saying,

Thus saith the Lord, <sup>15</sup>Of a truth I brought you through the sea, and <sup>16</sup>where there was no path I made for you highways; I gave you <sup>17</sup>Moses for a leader, and <sup>18</sup>Aaron for a priest. <sup>14</sup>I <sup>19</sup>gave you light in a pillar of fire, and great wonders have I done among you; <sup>20</sup>yet have ye forgotten me, saith the Lord.

were thirsty, did I not <sup>v</sup>cleave the rock, and waters flowed out to your fill? for the heat I covered you <sup>s</sup>with the leaves of the trees. <sup>21</sup>I divided among you fruitful lands; I cast out the <sup>a</sup>Canaanites, the Pherezites, <sup>b</sup>and the Philistines, before you: <sup>c</sup>what shall I yet do more for you? saith the Lord.

<sup>28</sup>Thus saith the Lord Almighty, Have I not prayed you as a father his sons, as a mother her daughters, and <sup>k</sup>a nurse her young babes, <sup>29</sup>that <sup>l</sup>ye would be my people, and I should be your God; that ye would be my children, and I should be your father? <sup>30</sup><sup>m</sup>I gathered you together, as a hen <sup>n</sup>gathereth her chickens under her wings: but now, what shall I do unto you? I will cast you out from my presence. <sup>31</sup><sup>o</sup>When ye offer oblations unto me, I will turn my face from you: for your solemn feast days, your new moons, and your circumcisions of the flesh, have I rejected. <sup>32</sup><sup>p</sup>I sent unto you my servants the prophets, whom ye have taken and slain, and torn their bodies in pieces, <sup>q</sup>whose blood I will require of your hands, saith the Lord.

mother of the children: for I have chosen thee, saith the Lord. <sup>28</sup>For thy help will I send my servants Esaias and <sup>29</sup>Jeremy, after whose counsel I have sanctified and prepared for thee <sup>30</sup>twelve trees laden with divers fruits, <sup>31</sup>and as many fountains flowing with milk and honey, and seven mighty mountains, whereupon there grow roses and lilies, whereby I will fill thy children with joy. <sup>32</sup>Do right to the widow, judge the fatherless, give to the poor, defend the orphan, <sup>33</sup>clothe the naked, <sup>34</sup>heal the broken and the weak, laugh not a lame man to scorn, defend the maimed, and let the blind man come unto the sight of my glory. <sup>35</sup>Keep the old and young within thy walls. <sup>36</sup>Whosoever thou findest the dead, set a sign upon them and commit them to the grave, and <sup>37</sup>I will give thee the first place in my resurrection. <sup>38</sup>Abide still, O my people, and take thy rest, for thy quietness shall come. <sup>39</sup>Nourish thy children, O thou good nurse, and / establish their feet. <sup>40</sup>As for the servants whom I have given thee, there shall not one of them perish; for I will require them from among thy number. <sup>41</sup>Be not careful overmuch: for when the day of tribulation and anguish cometh, <sup>42</sup>others shall weep and be sorrowful, but thou shalt be merry and have abundance. <sup>43</sup>The nations shall envy thee, but they shall be able to do nothing against thee, saith the Lord. <sup>44</sup>My hands shall cover thee, so that thy children see not <sup>45</sup>hell. <sup>46</sup>Be joyful, <sup>47</sup>O thou mother, with thy children; for I will deliver thee, saith the Lord. <sup>48</sup>Remember thy children that sleep, for I shall bring them out of the secret places of the earth, and shew mercy unto them: for I am merciful, saith the Lord Almighty. <sup>49</sup>Embrace thy children until I come, and proclaim mercy unto them: for my wells run over, and my grace shall not fail.

behold <sup>49</sup>the number of <sup>50</sup>those that be sealed <sup>51</sup>in the feast of the Lord; <sup>52</sup>they that withdrew them from <sup>53</sup>the shadow of the world have received <sup>54</sup>glorious garments of the Lord. <sup>40</sup>Look upon thy number, O Sion, and make up the reckoning of those of thine that are <sup>41</sup>clothed in white, which have fulfilled the law of the Lord. <sup>42</sup>The number of thy children, whom thou longest for, is fulfilled: beseech the power of the Lord, that thy people, which have been called from the beginning, may be hallowed.

are above the firmament? or which are the outgoings <sup>1</sup>of hell? or which are the paths of <sup>2</sup>paradise? <sup>3</sup>peradventure thou wouldest say unto me, <sup>4</sup>I never went down into the deep, nor as yet into hell, neither did I ever climb up unto heaven. <sup>5</sup>Nevertheless now have I asked thee but only of the fire and wind, and of the day, things where-through thou hast passed, and <sup>6</sup>without which thou canst not be, and yet hast thou given me no answer of them.

<sup>12</sup>And when I heard these things / I fell upon my face, and said unto him, <sup>13</sup>It were better that we were not here at all, than that we should come hither and live in the midst of ungodliness, and suffer, and not know wherefore.

<sup>14</sup>He answered me, and said, <sup>15</sup>The woods of the trees of the field went forth, and took counsel together, <sup>16</sup>and said, Come, let us go and make war against the sea, that it may depart away before us, and that we may make us more woods. <sup>17</sup>The waves of the sea also in like manner took counsel together, and said, Come, let us go up and subdue the wood of the plain, that there also we may make us another country. <sup>18</sup>The counsel of the wood was in vain, for <sup>19</sup>the fire came and consumed it: <sup>20</sup>likewise also the counsel of the waves of the sea, for <sup>21</sup>the sand stood up and stopped them. <sup>22</sup>If thou wert judge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou justify, or whom condemn?

<sup>23</sup>I answered and said, It is a foolish counsel that they both have taken, for the ground is given unto the wood, and <sup>24</sup>the place of the sea is given to bear his waves.

<sup>25</sup>Then answered he me, and said, Thou hast given a right judgement, and why judgest thou not in thine own case? <sup>26</sup>For like as the ground is given unto the wood, and the sea to his waves, <sup>27</sup>even so they that dwell upon the earth may understand nothing but that which is upon the earth: and he only that dwelleth above the heavens may understand the things that are above the height of the heavens.

<sup>28</sup>Then answered I and said, I beseech thee, O Lord, <sup>29</sup>wherefore is the power of understanding given unto me? <sup>30</sup>For it was not my mind to be curious of the ways above, but of such things as pass by us daily; <sup>31</sup>because Israel is given up as a reproach to the heathen, and the people whom thou hast loved <sup>32</sup>is given over unto ungodly nations, and the law of our forefathers is made of none effect, and the written covenants are nowhere regarded, <sup>33</sup>and we pass away out of the world <sup>34</sup>as grasshoppers, and <sup>35</sup>our life is as a <sup>36</sup>vapour, neither are we worthy to obtain mercy. <sup>37</sup>What will he then do for his name <sup>38</sup>whereby we are called? Of these things have I asked.

<sup>39</sup>Then answered he me, and said, If thou be alive, thou shalt see, and if thou livest <sup>40</sup>long, thou shalt marvel; for the world hasteth fast to pass away. <sup>41</sup>For it is not able to bear the things that are promised to the righteous in the times to come: <sup>42</sup>for this world is full of sadness and infirmities. <sup>43</sup>For the evil <sup>44</sup>whereof thou askest me is sown, but the gathering thereof is not yet come. <sup>45</sup>If therefore that which is sown be not reaped, and if the place where the evil is sown pass not away, there cannot come the field where the good is sown. <sup>46</sup>For a grain of evil seed was sown in the heart of Adam from the beginning, and how much wickedness hath it brought forth unto this time! and how much shall it yet bring forth <sup>47</sup>until the <sup>48</sup>time of threshing come! <sup>49</sup>Ponder now by thyself, how great fruit of wickedness a grain of evil seed hath brought forth. <sup>50</sup>When the ears which are without number shall be sown, how great a floor shall they fill!

peradventure it is that the <sup>1</sup>threshing time of the righteous is kept back, because of the sins of them that dwell upon the earth.

<sup>40</sup> So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with child, and ask of her when she hath fulfilled her nine months, if her womb may keep the birth any longer within her.

<sup>41</sup> Then said I, No, Lord, that can it not.

And he said unto me, In the grave <sup>2</sup>the chambers of souls are like the womb: <sup>42</sup> for like as a woman that travaileth maketh haste to escape the anguish of the travail: even so do these places haste to deliver those things that are committed unto them from the beginning. <sup>43</sup> Then shall it be shewed thee concerning those things which thou desirest to see.

<sup>44</sup> Then answered I and said, <sup>3</sup> If I have found favour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meet therefore, <sup>45</sup> shew me this also, whether there be more to come than is past, or whether the more part is gone over us. <sup>46</sup> For what is gone I know, but what is for to come I know not.

<sup>47</sup> And he said unto me, Stand up upon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude unto thee.

<sup>48</sup> So I stood, and saw, and, behold, a hot burning oven passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by I looked, and, behold, the smoke remained still. <sup>49</sup> After this there passed by before me a watery cloud, and sent down much rain with a storm; and when the stormy rain was past, the drops remained therein still.

<sup>50</sup> Then said he unto me, Consider with thyself; as the rain is more than the drops, and as the fire is greater than the smoke, <sup>51</sup> so the quantity which is past did more exceed; but the drops and the smoke remained still.

<sup>52</sup> Then I prayed, and said, May I live, thinkest thou, until that time? or who shall be in those days?

<sup>53</sup> He answered me, and said, <sup>4</sup> As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee; for I do not know it.

grant thee to live, thou shalt see <sup>14</sup> that which is after the third kingdom to be troubled; and the sun shall suddenly shine forth in the night, and the moon in the day: <sup>15</sup> and blood shall drop out of wood, and <sup>16</sup> the stone shall give his voice, and the peoples shall be troubled; and <sup>17</sup> their goings shall be changed: <sup>18</sup> and he shall rule, whom they that dwell upon the earth look not for, and the fowls shall take their flight away together: <sup>19</sup> and the Sodomitish sea shall cast out fish, and make a noise in the night, which many have not known: but all shall hear the voice thereof. <sup>20</sup> There shall be chaos also in many places, and the fire shall be oft sent out, and the wild beasts shall change their places, and women shall bring forth monsters: <sup>21</sup> and <sup>22</sup> salt waters shall be found in the sweet, and <sup>23</sup> all friends shall destroy one another; <sup>24</sup> then shall wit hide itself, and understanding withdraw itself into its chamber; <sup>25</sup> and it shall be sought of many, and shall not be found: and <sup>26</sup> unrighteousness and incontinency shall be multiplied upon earth. <sup>27</sup> One land also shall ask another, and say, Is righteousness, is a man that doeth righteousness, gone through thee? And it shall say, No. <sup>28</sup> And it shall come to pass at that time that men shall hope, but shall not obtain: they shall labour, but their ways shall not prosper. <sup>29</sup> To shew thee such tokens I have leave; and if thou wilt pray again, and weep as now, and <sup>30</sup> fast seven days, thou shalt hear yet greater things than these.

<sup>31</sup> Then I awaked, and an extreme trembling went through my body, and my mind was troubled, <sup>32</sup> so that it fainted. <sup>33</sup> So the angel that was come to talk with me held me, <sup>34</sup> comforted me, and set me up upon my feet. <sup>35</sup> And in the second night it came to pass, that <sup>36</sup> Phaltiel the captain of the people came unto me, saying, Where hast thou been? and <sup>37</sup> why is thy countenance sad? <sup>38</sup> or knowest thou not that Israel is committed unto thee in the land of their captivity? <sup>39</sup> Up then, and eat some bread, and forsake us not, <sup>40</sup> as the shepherd that leaveth his flock in the hands of cruel wolves. <sup>41</sup> Then said I unto him, Go thy ways from me, and come not nigh me for <sup>42</sup> seven days, and then shalt thou come unto me. And he heard what I said, and went from me.

<sup>20</sup>Now when I had spoken these words, <sup>21</sup>the angel that came to me the night afore was sent unto me, <sup>22</sup>and said unto me, Hear me, and I will instruct thee; hearken unto me, and I shall tell thee more.

<sup>23</sup>And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israel's sake: <sup>24</sup>lovest thou that people better than he that made them?

<sup>25</sup>And I said, No, Lord: but of very grief have I spoken: for my reins torment me every hour, while I labour <sup>26</sup>to comprehend the way of the Most High, and to seek out part of his judgement.

<sup>27</sup>And he said unto me, Thou canst not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord, or whereunto was I born? or <sup>28</sup>why was not my mother's womb then my grave, that I might not have seen the travail of Jacob, and the wearisome toil of the stock of Israel?

<sup>29</sup>And he said unto me, <sup>30</sup>Number me them that are not yet come, gather me together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowers green again that are withered, <sup>31</sup>open me <sup>32</sup>the chambers that are closed, and bring me forth the winds that in them are shut up, or shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the travail that thou askest to see.

<sup>33</sup>And I said, <sup>34</sup>O Lord that bearest rule, who may know these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men? <sup>35</sup>As for me, I am unwise: how may I then speak of these things whereof thou askest me?

<sup>40</sup>Then said he unto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I have spoken of, even so canst thou not find out my judgement, or <sup>41</sup>the end of the love that I have promised unto my people.

<sup>42</sup>And I said, But, lo, O Lord, thou hast made the promise unto them that be in the end: and what shall they do that have been before us, or we <sup>43</sup>that be now, or they that shall come after us?

<sup>44</sup>And he said unto me, I will liken my judgement unto a ring: <sup>45</sup>like as there is no slackness of them that be last, even so there is no swiftness of them that be first.

<sup>46</sup>So I answered and said, Couldst thou not make them to be at once that have been made, and that be now, and that are for to come; <sup>47</sup>that thou mightest shew thy judgement the sooner?

<sup>48</sup>Then answered he me, and said, <sup>49</sup>The creature may not haste above the creator; neither may the world hold them at once that shall be created therein.

<sup>50</sup>And I said, How hast thou said unto thy servant, that <sup>51</sup>thou wilt surely make alive at once the creature that thou hast created? <sup>52</sup>If therefore they shall be alive at once, and the creature shall sustain them: even so it might now also support them to be present at once.

<sup>53</sup>And he said unto me, Ask the womb of a woman, and say unto her, If thou bringest forth ten children, why <sup>54</sup>doest thou it at several times? pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

<sup>55</sup>And I said, She cannot: but must do it by distance of time.

<sup>56</sup>Then said he unto me, Even so have I given <sup>57</sup>the womb of the earth to those that be sown therein in their several times. <sup>58</sup>For like as a young child may not bring forth, neither <sup>59</sup>she that is grown old bring forth any more, even so have I disposed the world which I created.

<sup>60</sup>And I asked, and said, Seeing thou hast now shewed me the way, I will speak before thee: Is our mother, <sup>61</sup>of whom thou hast told me, still young? or doth she now draw nigh unto age?

<sup>62</sup>He answered me, and said, Ask a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee. <sup>63</sup>Say unto her, Wherefore are not they whom thou hast now brought forth like those that were before, but less of stature? <sup>64</sup>And she also shall answer thee, They that be born in the strength of youth are of one fashion, and they that are born in the time of age, when the womb faileth, are otherwise. <sup>65</sup>Consider therefore thou also, how that <sup>66</sup>ye are less of stature than

6 And he said unto me, In the beginning, when the earth was made, before the outgoings of the world were fixed, or ever the gatherings of the winds blew, before the voices of the thunder sounded and before the flashes of the lightning shone, or ever the foundations of Paradise were laid, before the fair flowers were seen, or ever the powers of the earthquake were established, before the innumerable hosts of angels were gathered together, or ever the heights of the air were lifted up, before the measures of the firmament were named, or ever the footstool of Sion was established, and ere the present years were sought out, and or ever the imaginations of them that now sin were estranged, before they were sealed that have gathered faith for a treasure: then did I consider these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: as by me also they shall be ended, and by none other.

12 So he answered and said unto me, Stand up upon thy feet, and thou shalt hear a mighty sounding voice; and if the place whereon thou standest be greatly moved, when it speaketh be not thou afraid: for the word is of the end, and the foundations of the earth shall understand, that the speech is of them: they shall tremble and be moved: for they know that their end must be changed.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it I stood up upon my feet, and hearkened, and, behold, there was a voice that spake, and the sound of it was like the sound of many waters. 18 And it said, Behold, the days come, and it shall be that when I draw nigh to visit them that dwell upon the earth, and when I shall make inquisition of them that have done hurt unjustly with their unrighteousness, and when the affliction of Sion shall be fulfilled, and when the seal shall be set upon the world that is to pass away, then will I shew these tokens: the books shall be opened before the firmament, and all shall see together: and the children of a year old shall speak with their voices, the women with child shall bring forth untimely children at three or four months, and they shall live, and dance. 22 And suddenly shall the sown places appear unsown, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty: 23 and the trumpet shall give a sound, which when every man heareth, they shall be suddenly afraid. 24 At that time I shall friends make war one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in fear with those that dwell therein, the springs of the fountains shall stand still, so that for three hours they shall not run. 25 And it shall be that whosoever remaineth after all these things that I have told thee of, he shall be saved, and shall see my salvation, and the end of my world. 26 And they shall see the men that have been taken up, who have not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the inhabitants shall be changed, and turned into another meaning. 27 For evil shall be blotted out, and deceit shall be quenched; 28 and faith shall flourish, and corruption shall be overcome, and the truth, which hath been so long without fruit, shall be declared.

29 And when he talked with me, behold, by little and little the place whereon I stood rocked to and fro. 30 And he said unto me, These things came I to shew thee this night. 31 If therefore thou wilt pray yet again, and fast seven days more, I shall yet tell thee greater things than these. 32 For thy voice hath surely been heard before the Most High: for the Mighty hath seen thy righteous dealing, he hath seen aforetime also thy chastity, which thou hast had ever since thy youth. 33 And therefore hath he sent me to shew thee all these things, and to say unto thee, Be of good comfort, and fear not. 34 And be not hasty in regard of the former times, to think vain things, that thou mayest not hasten in the latter times.

"I wept again, and fasted seven days in like manner, that I might fulfil the three weeks which he told me. 36 And in the eighth night was my heart vexed within me again, and I began to speak before the Most High. 37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soul was in distress. 38 And I said, O Lord, of a truth thou spakest at the beginning of the creation, upon the first day, and saidst thus; "Let heaven and earth be made; and thy word perfected the work. 39 And then was the spirit hovering, and darkness and silence were on every side; the sound of man's voice was not yet. 40 Then commandedst thou a ray of light to be brought forth of thy treasures, that then thy works might appear. 41 Upon the second day again thou madest the spirit of the firmament and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a division betwixt the waters, that the one part might go up, and the other remain beneath. 42 Upon the third day thou didst command that the waters should be gathered together in the seventh part of the earth: six parts didst thou dry up, and keep them, to the intent that of these some being both planted and tilled might serve before thee. 43 For as soon as thy word went forth the work was done. 44 For immediately there came forth great and innumerable fruit, and manifold pleasures for the taste, and flowers of inimitable colour, and odours of most exquisite smell: and this was done the third day. 45 Upon the fourth day thou commandedst that the sun should shine, and the moon give her light, and the stars should be in their order: 46 and gavest them a charge to do service unto man, that was to be made. 47 Upon the fifth day thou saidst unto the seventh part, where the water was gathered together, that it should bring forth living creatures, fowls and fishes: and so it came to pass, 48 that the dumb water and without life brought forth living things as it was bidden, that the peoples might therefore praise thy wondrous works. 49 Then didst thou preserve two living creatures, the one thou calledst Behemoth, and the other thou calledst Leviathan: 50 and thou didst separate the one from the other: for the seventh part, namely, where the water was gathered together, might not hold them both. 51 Unto Behemoth thou gavest one part, which was dried up on the third day, that he should dwell in the same, wherein are a thousand hills: 52 but unto Leviathan thou gavest the seventh part, namely, the moist; and thou hast kept them to be devoured of whom thou wilt, and when. 53 But upon the sixth day thou gavest commandment unto the earth, that it should bring forth before these cattle, beasts, and creeping things: 54 and over these Adam, whom thou ordainedst lord over all the works that thou hast made: of him come we all, the people whom thou hast chosen. 55 All this have I spoken before thee, O Lord, because thou hast said that for our sakes thou madest this world. 56 As for the other nations, which also come of Adam, thou hast said that they are nothing, and are like unto spittle: and thou hast likened the abundance of them unto a drop that falleth from a vessel. 57 And now, O Lord, behold, these nations, which are reputed as nothing, be lords over us, and devour us. 58 But we thy people, whom thou hast called thy firstborn, thy only begotten, and thy fervent lover, are given into their hands. 59 If the world now be made for our sakes, why do we not possess for an inheritance our world? how long shall this endure?

7 And when I had made an end of speaking these words, there was sent unto me the angel which had been sent unto me the nights afore: and he said unto me, Up, Esdras, and hear the words that I am come to tell thee. 3 And I said, Speak on, my Lord. Then said he unto me, There is a sea set in a wide place, that it might be broad and vast. 4 But the entrance thereof shall be set in a narrow place so as to be like a river; 5 whose then should desire to go into the sea to look upon it, or to rule it, 6 if he went not through the narrow, how could he come into the broad? 6 Another thing also: There is a city builded and set in a plain country, and full of all good things; 7 but the entrance thereof is narrow, and is set in a dangerous place to fall, 8 having a fire on the right hand, and on the left a deep water: 9 and there is one only path between them both, even between the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once. 9 If this city now be given unto a man for an inheritance, if the heir pass not the danger set before him, how shall he receive his inheritance? 10 And I said, It is so, Lord. Then said he unto me, Even so also is Israel's portion. 11 Because for their sakes I made the world: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was decreed that now is done. 12 Then were the entrances of this world made narrow, and sorrowful and toilsome: they are but few and evil, full of perils, and charged with great toils. 13 For the entrances of the greater world are wide and sure, and bring forth fruit of immortality. 14 If then they that live enter not these strait and vain things, they can never receive those that are laid up for them. <sup>15</sup> Now therefore why disquietest thou thyself, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? and why art thou moved, whereas thou art but mortal? <sup>16</sup> and why hast thou not considered in thy mind that which is to come, rather than that which is present? <sup>17</sup> Then answered I and said, O Lord that bearest rule, lo, thou hast ordained in thy law, that the righteous should inherit these things, but that the ungodly should perish. <sup>18</sup> The righteous therefore shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: but they that have done wickedly have suffered the strait things, and yet shall not see the wide. <sup>19</sup> And he said unto me, <sup>20</sup> Thou art not a judge above God, neither hast thou understanding above the Most High. <sup>21</sup> Yea, rather let many that now be perish, than that the law of God which is set before them be despised. <sup>22</sup> For God straitly commanded such as came, even as they came, what they should do to live, and what they should observe to avoid punishment. <sup>23</sup> Nevertheless they were not obedient unto him; but spake against him, and imagined for themselves vain things; <sup>24</sup> and framed cunning devices of wickedness; and <sup>25</sup> said moreover of the Most High, that he is not; and knew not his ways: <sup>26</sup> but they despised his law, and denied his covenants; they have not been faithful to his statutes, and have not performed his works. <sup>27</sup> Therefore, Esdras, for the empty are empty things, and for the full are the full things. <sup>28</sup> For behold, the time shall come, and it shall be, when these tokens, of which I told thee before, shall come to pass, that the bride shall appear, even the city coming forth, and she shall be seen, that now is withdrawn from the earth. <sup>29</sup> And whosoever is delivered from the foresaid evils, the same shall see my wonders. <sup>30</sup> For my son Jesus shall be revealed with those that be with him, and shall rejoice them that remain four hundred years. <sup>31</sup> After these years shall my son Christ die, and all that have the breath of life. <sup>32</sup> And the world shall be turned into the old silence seven days, like as in the first beginning: so that no man shall remain. <sup>33</sup> And after seven days the world, that yet awaketh not, shall be raised up, and that shall die that is corruptible. <sup>34</sup> And the earth shall restore those that are asleep in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliver those souls that were committed unto them. <sup>35</sup> And the Most High shall be revealed upon the seat of judgement; and compassion shall pass away, and longsuffering shall be withdrawn: <sup>36</sup> but judgement only shall remain, truth shall stand, and faith shall wax strong: <sup>37</sup> and the work shall follow, and the reward shall be shewed, and good deeds shall awake, and wicked deeds shall not sleep. <sup>38</sup> And the pit of torment shall appear, and over against it shall be the place of rest: and the furnace of hell shall be shewed, and over against it the paradise of delight. <sup>39</sup> And then shall the Most High say to the nations that are raised from the dead, See ye and understand whom ye have denied, or whom ye have not served, or whose commandments ye have despised. <sup>40</sup> Look on this side and on that: here is delight and rest, and there fire and torments. Thus shall he speak unto them in the day of judgement: <sup>41</sup> This is a day that hath neither sun, nor moon, nor stars, neither cloud, nor thunder, nor lightning, neither wind, nor water, nor air, neither darkness, nor evening, nor morning, neither summer, nor spring, nor heat, nor winter, neither frost, nor cold, nor hail, nor rain, nor dew, neither noon, nor night, nor dawn, neither shining, nor brightness, nor light, save only the splendour of the glory of the Most High, whereby all shall see the things that are set before them: <sup>42</sup> for it shall endure as it were a week of years. <sup>43</sup> This is my judgement and the ordinance thereof; but to thee only have I shewed these things.

<sup>44</sup> And I answered, I said even then, O Lord, and I say now: Blessed are they that be now alive, and keep the statutes ordained of thee. <sup>45</sup> But as touching them for whom my prayer was made, what shall I say? for who is there of them that be alive that hath not sinned, and who of the sons of men that hath not transgressed thy covenant? <sup>46</sup> And now I see, that the world to come shall bring delight to few, but torments unto many. <sup>47</sup> For an evil heart hath grown up in us, which hath led us astray from these statutes, and hath brought us into corruption and into the ways of death, hath shewed us the paths of perdition and removed us far from life; and that, not a few only, but well nigh all that have been created.

<sup>48</sup> And he answered me, and said, Hearken unto me, and I will instruct thee; and I will admonish thee yet again: <sup>49</sup> for this cause the Most High hath not made one world, but two. <sup>50</sup> For whereas thou hast said that the just are not many, but few, and the ungodly abound, hear the answer thereunto. [54] If thou have choice stones exceeding few, <sup>1</sup> wilt thou set for thee over against them according to their number things of lead and clay?

[53] And I said, Lord, how shall this be?

[54] And he said unto me, Not only this, <sup>1</sup> but ask the earth, and she shall tell thee; intreat her, and she shall declare unto thee. [55] For thou shalt say unto her, <sup>m</sup>Thou bringest forth gold and silver and brass, and iron also and lead and clay: [56] but silver is more abundant than gold, and brass than silver, and iron than brass, lead than iron, and clay than lead. [57] Judge thou therefore which things are precious and to be desired, whatso is abundant or what is rare.

[59] And he answered me, and said, <sup>1</sup>Weigh within thyself the things that thou hast thought, for he that hath what is hard to get rejoiceth over him that hath what is plentiful. [60] So also is the <sup>1</sup>judgement which I have promised: <sup>o</sup>for I will rejoice over the few that shall be saved, inasmuch as <sup>p</sup>these are they that have made my glory now to prevail, and of whom my name is now named. [61] <sup>q</sup>And I will not grieve over the multitude of them that perish; for these are they that are now like unto vapour, and are become as flame and smoke; they are set on fire and burn hotly, and are quenched.

[62] And I answered and said, O thou earth, wherefore hast thou brought forth, if the mind is made out of dust, like as all other created things? [63] <sup>r</sup>For it were better that the dust itself had been unborn, so that the mind might not have been made therefrom. [64] But now the mind groweth with us, and by reason of this we are tormented, because we perish and know it. [65] Let the race of men lament and the beasts of the field be glad; let all that are born lament, but let the fourfooted beasts and the cattle rejoice. [66] For it is far better with them than with us; for they look not for judgement, neither do they know of torments or of salvation promised unto them after death. [67] For what doth it profit us, that we shall be preserved alive, but yet be afflicted with torment? [68] For all that are born are <sup>1</sup>defiled with iniquities, and are full of sins and laden with offences: [69] and <sup>1</sup>if after death we were not to come into judgement, peradventure it had been better for us.

[70] And he answered me, and said, When the Most High made the world, and Adam and all them that came of him, he first <sup>1</sup>prepared the judgement and the things that pertain unto the judgement. [71] And now understand from thine own words, <sup>1</sup>for thou hast said that the mind groweth with us. [72] They therefore that dwell upon the earth shall be tormented for this reason, <sup>o</sup>that having understanding they have wrought iniquity, and receiving commandments have not kept them, and having obtained a law they dealt unfaithfully with that which they received. [73] What then will they have to say in the judgement, or how will they answer in the last times? [74] <sup>u</sup>For how great a time hath the Most High been long-suffering with them that inhabit the world, and not for their sakes, but because of the times which he hath fore-ordained!

[75] And I answered and said, If I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, shew this also unto thy servant, whether after death, even now when every one of us giveth up his soul, we shall be kept in rest until those times come, <sup>2</sup>in which thou shalt renew the creation, or whether we shall be tormented forthwith.

[76] And he answered me, and said, I will shew thee this also; but join not thyself with them that are scornors, nor number thyself with them that are tormented. [77] For thou hast <sup>1</sup>a treasure of good works laid up with the Most High, but it shall not be shewed thee until the last times. [78] For concerning death the teaching is: When the determinate sentence hath gone forth from the Most High that a man should die, as the spirit leaveth the body <sup>2</sup>to return again to him who gave it, <sup>2</sup>it adareth the glory of the Most High first of all. [79] And if it be one of those that have been scornors and have not kept the way of the Most High, and that have despised his law, and that hate them that fear <sup>3</sup>God, [80] these spirits shall not enter <sup>1</sup>into habitations, but shall wander and be in torments forthwith, ever grieving and sad, in seven ways. [81] The first way, because they have despised the law of the Most High. [82] The second way, <sup>1</sup>because they cannot now make a good returning that they may live. [83] The third way, <sup>2</sup>they shall see the reward laid up for them that have believed the covenants of the Most High. [84] The fourth way, they shall consider the torment laid up for themselves in the last days. [85] The fifth way, they shall see <sup>1</sup>the dwelling places of the others guarded by angels, with great quietness. [86] The sixth way, they shall see <sup>2</sup>how forthwith some of them shall pass into torment. [87] The seventh way, which is <sup>4</sup>more grievous than all the aforesaid ways, because they shall pine away in confusion and be consumed with <sup>1</sup>shame, and shall be withered up by fears, seeing the glory of the Most High before whom they have sinned whilst living, and before whom they shall be judged in the last times. [88] Now this is the order of those who have kept the ways of the Most High, when they shall be separated from the corruptible vessel. [89] In the time <sup>1</sup>that they dwelt therein they painfully served the Most High, and <sup>2</sup>were in jeopardy every hour, that they might keep the law of <sup>3</sup>the lawgiver perfectly. [90] Wherefore this is the teaching concerning them: [91] <sup>1</sup>'First of all they shall see with great joy the glory of him who taketh them up, for they shall have rest in seven orders. [92] The first order, because they have striven with great labour to overcome <sup>1</sup>the evil thought which was fashioned together with them, that it might not lead them astray from life into death. [93] The second order, because they see the perplexity in which the souls of the ungodly wander, and <sup>2</sup>the punishment that awaiteth them. [94] The third order, they see <sup>1</sup>the witness which he that fashioned them beareth concerning them, that while they lived they kept the law <sup>2</sup>which was given them in trust. [95] The fourth order, they understand the rest which, being gathered <sup>3</sup>in their chambers, they now enjoy with great quietness, guarded by angels, and the glory that awaiteth them in the last days. [96] The fifth order, they rejoice, seeing how they have now escaped from <sup>4</sup>that which is corruptible, and how they shall inherit that which is to come, while they see moreover <sup>5</sup>the straitness and the <sup>1</sup>painfulness from which they have been delivered, and the large room which they shall receive with joy and immortality. [97] The sixth order, when it is shewed unto them <sup>2</sup>how their face shall shine as the sun, and how <sup>3</sup>they shall be made like unto the light of the stars, being henceforth incorruptible. [98] The seventh order, which is greater than all the aforesaid orders, because they shall rejoice with confidence, and because they shall be bold without confusion, and shall be glad without fear, for they hasten <sup>4</sup>to behold the face of him whom in their lifetime they served, and from whom <sup>5</sup>they shall receive their reward in glory. [99] This is the order of the souls of the just, as from henceforth <sup>1</sup>is announced unto them, and aforesaid are the ways of torture which they that would not give heed shall suffer from henceforth. [100] And I answered and said, Shall time therefore be given unto the souls after they are separated from the bodies, that they may see that whereof thou hast spoken unto me? [101] And he said, Their freedom shall be for seven days, that for seven days they may see the things whereof thou hast been told, and afterwards they shall be gathered together <sup>2</sup>in their habitations. [102] And I answered and said, <sup>3</sup>¶ If I have found favour in thy sight, shew further unto me thy servant whether in the day of judgement the just will be able to intercede for the ungodly or to intreat the Most High for them, [103] whether fathers for children, or children for parents, or brethren for brethren, or kindfolk for their next of kin, or <sup>4</sup>friends for them that are most dear. [104] And he answered me, and said, Since thou hast found favour in my sight, <sup>5</sup>¶ I will shew thee this also: The day of judgement is <sup>6</sup>a day of decision, and displayeth unto all the seal of truth; even as now a father sendeth not his son, or a son his father, or a master his slave, or a <sup>7</sup>friend him that is most dear, that in his stead he may <sup>8</sup>'be sick, or sleep, or eat, or be healed: [105] <sup>9</sup>¶ so never shall any one pray for another <sup>10</sup>in that day, neither shall one lay a burden on another, <sup>11</sup>¶ for then shall all bear every one his own righteousness or unrighteousness.

42 [112] He answered me, and said, This present world is not the end; the full glory abideth <sup>1</sup>'not therein: therefore have they who were able prayed for the weak. 43 [113] But the day of judgement shall be the end of this time, <sup>2</sup>and the beginning <sup>3</sup>'of the immortality for to come, <sup>4</sup>wherein corruption is passed away, 44 [114] intemperance is at an end, <sup>5</sup>infidelity is cut off, but righteousness is grown, and truth is sprung up. 45 [115] Then shall no man be able to have mercy on him that is cast in judgement, nor to thrust down <sup>6</sup>'him that hath gotten the victory.

46 [116] I answered then and said, This is my first and last saying, *that it had been better that the earth had not given thee Adam: or else, when it had given him, to have restrained him from sinning. 47<sup>[117]</sup> For what profit is it for all that are in this present time to live in heaviness, and after death to look for punishment? 48<sup>[118]</sup> O thou Adam, what hast thou done? for though it was thou that sinned, & the evil is not fallen on thee alone, but upon all of us that come of thee. 49<sup>[119]</sup> For what profit is it unto us, if there be promised us an immortal time, whereas *we have done the works that bring death? 50<sup>[120]</sup> And that there is promised us an everlasting hope, whereas ourselves most miserably are become vain? 51<sup>[121]</sup> And that there are reserved habitations of health and safety, whereas we have lived wickedly? 52<sup>[122]</sup> And that the glory of the Most High shall defend them which have led a pure life, whereas we have walked in the most wicked ways of all? 53<sup>[123]</sup> And that there shall be shewed *a paradise, whose fruit endureth without decay, wherein is abundance and healing, but we shall not enter into it, 54<sup>[124]</sup> for we have walked in unpleasant places? 55<sup>[125]</sup> And that the faces of them which have used abstinence *shall shine above the stars, whereas *our faces shall be blacker than darkness? 56<sup>[126]</sup> For while we lived and committed iniquity, we considered not what we should have to suffer after death.

57<sup>[127]</sup> Then he answered and said, This is the condition of *the battle, which man that is born upon the earth shall fight; 58<sup>[128]</sup> that, if he be overcome, he shall suffer as thou hast said: but if he get the victory, he shall receive the thing that I say. 59<sup>[129]</sup> For this is the way whereof Moses spake unto the people while he lived, saying, *Choose thee life, that thou mayest live. 60<sup>[130]</sup> Nevertheless they believed not him, nor yet the prophets after him, no, nor me which have spoken unto them; 61<sup>[131]</sup> so that there shall not be such heaviness in their destruction, as *there shall be joy over them that are persuaded to salvation.

62<sup>[132]</sup> I answered then and said, I know, Lord, that the Most High is now called merciful, in that he hath mercy upon them which are not yet come into the world; 63<sup>[133]</sup> and compassionate, in that he hath compassion upon those that turn to his law; 64<sup>[134]</sup> and long-suffering, for that he long suffereth those that have sinned, *as his creatures; 65<sup>[135]</sup> and bountiful, for that he is ready to give rather than to exact; 66<sup>[136]</sup> and of great mercy, for that he multiplieth more and more mercies to them that are present, and that are past, and also to them which are to come; 67<sup>[137]</sup> (for if he multiplied not his mercies, *the world would not continue with them that dwell therein); 68<sup>[138]</sup> and one that forgiveth, *for if he did not forgive of his goodness, that they which have committed iniquities might be eased of them, the ten thousandth part of men would not remain living; 69<sup>[139]</sup> and a judge, for if he did not pardon them that were created by his word, and blot out the multitude of *offences, 70<sup>[140]</sup> there would peradventure be very few left in an innumerable multitude.

8 *And he answered me, and said, The Most High hath made this world for many, *but the world to come for few. *I will tell thee now a similitude, Esdras; *As when thou askest the earth, it shall say unto thee, that it giveth very much mould whereof earthen vessels are made, and little dust that gold cometh of: even so is the course of the present world. 39 There be many created, but few shall be saved.

4 And I answered and said, Swallow down understanding then, O my soul, and let my heart devour wisdom. 5 For thou *art come hither without thy will, and departest when thou wouldest not: for there is given thee no longer space than only to live a short time. 6 O Lord, that art over us, suffer thy servant, that we may pray before thee, and give us seed unto our heart, and culture to our understanding, that there may come fruit of it, whereby every one shall live that is corrupt, who beareth the *likeness of a man. 7 For thou art alone, and *we all one workmanship of thine hands, like as thou hast said. 8 *Forasmuch as thou quickenest the body that is fashioned now in the womb, and givest it members, thy creature is preserved in fire and water, and nine months doth thy workmanship endure thy creature which is created in her. 9 But that which keepeth and that which is kept shall both be kept *by thy keeping: and when the womb giveth up again that which hath grown in it, *thou hast commanded that out of the parts of the body, that is to say, out of the breasts, be given milk, which is the fruit of the breasts, *that the thing which is fashioned may be nourished for a time, and afterwards thou shalt order it in thy mercy. 12 Yea, thou hast brought it up in thy righteousness, and nurtured it in thy law, and corrected it with thy judgement. 13 *And thou shalt mortify it as thy creature, and *quicken it as thy work. 14 *If therefore thou shalt lightly and suddenly destroy him which with so great labour was fashioned by thy commandment, *to what purpose was he made? 15 Now therefore I will speak; touching man in general, thou knowest best; but touching thy people will I speak, for whose sake I am sorry; <sup>16</sup> and for thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourn; and for Israel, for whom I am heavy; and-for the seed of Jacob, for whose sake I am troubled; <sup>17</sup> therefore will I begin to pray before thee for myself and for them: for I see the falls of us that dwell in the land; <sup>18</sup> but I have heard the swiftness of the judgement which is to come. <sup>19</sup> Therefore hear my voice, and understand my saying, and I will speak before thee.

The beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken up. And he said, <sup>20</sup> O Lord, thou that abidest for ever, whose eyes are exalted, and whose chambers are in the air; <sup>21</sup> whose throne is inestimable; whose glory may not be comprehended; before whom the hosts of angels stand with trembling; <sup>22</sup> at whose bidding they are changed to wind and fire; whose word is sure, and sayings constant; whose ordinance is strong, and commandment fearful; <sup>23</sup> whose look drieth up the depths, and whose indignation maketh the mountains to melt away, and whose truth beareth witness: <sup>24</sup> hear, O Lord, the prayer of thy servant, and give ear to the petition of thy handywork; <sup>25</sup> attend unto my words, for so long as I live I will speak, and so long as I have understanding I will answer. <sup>26</sup> O Lord, not upon the sins of thy people; but on them that have served thee in truth.

<sup>27</sup> Regard not the doings of them that deal wickedly, but of them that have kept thy covenants in affliction. <sup>28</sup> Think not upon those that have walked feignedly before thee; but remember them which have willingly known thy fear.

<sup>29</sup> Let it not be thy will to destroy them which have lived like cattle; but look upon them that have clearly taught thy law. <sup>30</sup> Take thou no indignation at them which are deemed worse than beasts; but love them that have always put their trust in thy glory. <sup>31</sup> For we and our fathers have passed our lives in ways that bring death: but thou because of us sinners art called merciful.

<sup>32</sup> For if thou hast a desire to have mercy upon us, then shalt thou be called merciful, to us, namely, that have no works of righteousness. <sup>33</sup> For the just, which have many good works laid up with thee, shall for their own deeds receive reward. <sup>34</sup> For what is man, that thou shouldst take displeasure at him? or what is a corruptible race, that thou shouldst be so bitter toward it?

<sup>35</sup> For in truth there is no man among them that be born, but he hath dealt wickedly; and among them that have lived there is none which hath not done amiss. <sup>36</sup> For in this, O Lord, thy righteousness and thy goodness shall be declared, if thou be merciful unto them which have no store of good works.

<sup>37</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according unto thy words so shall it come to pass. <sup>38</sup> For indeed I will not think on the fashioning of them which have sinned, or their death, their judgement, or their destruction: <sup>39</sup> but I will rejoice over the framing of the righteous, their pilgrimage also, and the salvation, and the reward, that they shall have. <sup>40</sup> Like therefore as I have spoken, so shall it be. <sup>41</sup> For as the husbandman soweth much seed upon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet not all that is sown shall come up in due season, neither shall all that is planted take root: even so they that are sown in the world shall not all be saved.

<sup>42</sup> I answered then and said, If I have found favour, let me speak before thee. <sup>43</sup> Forasmuch as the husbandman's seed, if it come not up, seeing that it hath not received thy rain in due season, or if it be corrupted through too much rain, so perisheth; <sup>44</sup> likewise man, which is formed with thy hands, and is called thine own image, because he is made like unto thee, for whose sake thou hast formed all things, even him hast thou made like unto the husbandman's seed. <sup>45</sup> Be not wroth with us, but spare thy people, and have mercy upon thine inheritance; for thou hast mercy upon thine own creation.

<sup>46</sup> Then answered he me, and said, Things present are for them that now be, and things to come for such as shall be hereafter. <sup>47</sup> For thou comest far short that thou shouldst be able to love my creature more than I. But thou hast brought thyself full high unto the unrighteous. Let this never be. <sup>48</sup> Yet in this shalt thou be admirable before the Most High; <sup>49</sup> in that thou hast humbled thyself, as it becometh thee, and hast not judged thyself worthy to be among the righteous, so as to be much glorified. <sup>50</sup> For many grievous miseries shall befall them that in the last times dwell in the world, because they have walked in great pride. <sup>51</sup> But understand thou for thyself, and of such as be like thee seek out the glory. <sup>52</sup> For unto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousness is made ready, a city is builded, and rest is allowed, goodness is perfected, wisdom being perfect aforehand. <sup>53</sup>The root of evil is sealed up from you, weakness is done away from you, and <sup>1</sup>[death] is hidden; <sup>2</sup>hell and corruption are fled into forgetfulness: <sup>54</sup>sorrows are passed away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortality. <sup>55</sup>Therefore ask thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish. <sup>56</sup>For when they had received liberty, they despised the Most High, thought scorn of his law, and forsook his ways. <sup>57</sup>Moreover they have trodden down his righteous, <sup>58</sup>and <sup>2</sup>said in their heart, that there is no God; yea, and that knowing they must die. <sup>59</sup>For as the things aforesaid shall receive you, <sup>60</sup>so thirst and pain which are prepared shall receive them: <sup>61</sup>for the Most High willed not that men should come to nought: <sup>62</sup>but they which be created have themselves defiled the name of him that made them, and were <sup>63</sup>unthankful unto him which prepared life for them. <sup>64</sup>And therefore is my judgement now at hand, <sup>65</sup>which I have not shewed unto all men, <sup>66</sup>but unto thee, <sup>67</sup>and a few like thee.

Then answered I and said, <sup>68</sup>Behold, O Lord, <sup>69</sup>now hast thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders, which thou wilt do in the last times: but at what time, thou hast not shewed me.

<sup>70</sup>And he answered me, and said, <sup>71</sup>Measure thou diligently within thyself: and when thou seest that a certain part of the signs are past, which have been told thee beforehand, <sup>72</sup>then shalt thou understand, that it is the very time, wherein the Most High <sup>73</sup>will visit the world which was made by him. <sup>74</sup>And when there shall be seen in the world <sup>75</sup>earthquakes, disquietude of peoples, devices of nations, wavering of leaders, disquietude of princes, <sup>76</sup>then shalt thou understand, that the Most High spake of these things from the days that were aforetime from the beginning. <sup>77</sup>For like as of all that is made in the world, the beginning <sup>78</sup>is evident, and the end manifest; <sup>79</sup>so also are the times of the Most High: the beginnings are manifest in wonders and mighty works, and the end in effects and signs. <sup>80</sup>And every one that shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his works, <sup>81</sup>or by faith, whereby he hath believed, <sup>82</sup>shall be preserved from the said perils, <sup>83</sup>and shall see my salvation in my land, and <sup>84</sup>within my borders, which I have sanctified for me from the beginning. <sup>85</sup>Then shall they be amazed, which now have abused my ways: and they that have cast them away desperately shall dwell in torments. <sup>86</sup>For as many as in their life have received benefits, and yet have not known me; <sup>87</sup>and as many as have scorned my law, while they had yet liberty, and, when as yet place of repentance was open unto them, understood not, but despised <sup>88</sup>it; <sup>89</sup>the same must know <sup>90</sup>it after death by torment. <sup>91</sup>And therefore be thou no longer curious how the ungodly shall be punished; but inquire how the righteous shall be saved, <sup>92</sup>they whose the world is, and <sup>93</sup>for whom the world was created.

<sup>98</sup>And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed; and as the flowers be, such are the colours also; and <sup>99</sup>such as the work is, such also is the <sup>100</sup>judgement thereon; and as is the husbandman, so is his threshing-floor also. For there was a time in the world, <sup>101</sup>even then when I was preparing for them that now live, before the world was made for them to dwell in; and then no man spake against me, <sup>102</sup>for <sup>103</sup>there was not any: but now they which are created in this world that is prepared, both <sup>104</sup>with <sup>105</sup>a table that faileth not, and a law which is <sup>106</sup>unsearchable, are corrupted in their manners. <sup>107</sup>So I considered my world, and, lo, it was destroyed, and my earth, and, lo, it was in peril, because of the devices that were come into it. <sup>108</sup>And I saw, and spared them, but not greatly, and saved me a grape out of a cluster, and <sup>109</sup>a plant out of <sup>110</sup>a great forest. <sup>111</sup>Let the multitude perish then, which was born in vain; and let my grape be saved, and my plant; for with great labour have I made them perfect. <sup>112</sup>Nevertheless if thou wilt cease yet <sup>113</sup>seven days more, (howbeit thou shalt not fast in them, <sup>114</sup>but shalt go into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and <sup>115</sup>eat only of the flowers of the field; and thou shalt taste no flesh, and shalt drink no wine, but shalt eat flowers only;) <sup>116</sup>and pray unto the Most High continually, then will I come and talk with thee.

<sup>117</sup>So I went my way, like as he commanded me, into the field which is called <sup>118</sup>Ardat; and there I sat among the flowers, and did eat of the herbs of the field, and the meat of the same satisfied me. <sup>119</sup>And it came to pass after seven days that I lay upon the grass, <sup>120</sup>and my heart was vexed again, <sup>121</sup>like as before: <sup>122</sup>and my mouth was opened, and I began to speak before the Most High, and said, <sup>123</sup>O Lord, <sup>124</sup>thou didst shew thyself among us, unto our fathers in the wilderness, when they went forth out of Egypt, and when they came into the wilderness, where no man treadeth and that beareth no fruit; and thou didst say, Hear me, thou Israel; and mark my words, O seed of Jacob. <sup>31</sup>For, behold, I sow my law in you, and it shall bring forth fruit in you, and ye shall be glorified in it for ever. <sup>32</sup>But our fathers, which received the law, kept it not, and observed not the statutes: and the fruit of the law did not perish, neither could it, for it was thine; <sup>33</sup>yet they that received it perished, because they kept not the thing that was sown in them. <sup>34</sup>And, lo, it is a custom, that when the ground hath received seed, or the sea a ship, or any vessel meat or drink, and when it cometh to pass that that which is sown, or that which is launched, <sup>35</sup>or the things which have been received, should come to an end, these come to an end, but the receptacles remain: yet with us it hath not happened so. <sup>36</sup>For we that have received the law shall perish by sin, and our heart also which received it. <sup>37</sup>Notwithstanding the law perisheth not, but remaineth in its honour.

<sup>38</sup>And when I spake these things in my heart, I looked about me with mine eyes, and upon the right side I saw a woman, and, behold, she mourned and wept with a loud voice, and was much grieved in mind, and her clothes were rent, and she had ashes upon her head. <sup>39</sup>Then let I my thoughts go wherein I was occupied, and turned me unto her, and said unto her, Wherefore weepest thou? and why art thou grieved in thy mind?

<sup>40</sup>And she said unto me, Let me alone, my lord, that I may bewail myself, and add unto my sorrow, for I am sore vexed in my mind, and brought very low.

<sup>41</sup>And I said unto her, What aileth thee? tell me. <sup>42</sup>She said unto me, I thy servant was barren, and had no child, though I had a husband thirty years. <sup>43</sup>And every hour and every day these thirty years did I make my prayer to the Most High day and night. <sup>44</sup>And it came to pass after thirty years that God heard me thine handmaid, and looked upon my low estate, and considered my trouble, and gave me a son: and I rejoiced in him greatly, I and my husband, and all my neighbours: and we gave great honour unto the Mighty. <sup>45</sup>And I nourished him with great travail. <sup>46</sup>So when he grew up, and I came to take him a wife, I made a feast day. <sup>47</sup>And it so came to pass, that when my son was entered into his wedding chamber, he fell down, and died. <sup>48</sup>Then we all overthrew the lights, and all my neighbours rose up to comfort me: and I remained quiet unto the second day at night. <sup>49</sup>And it came to pass, when they had all left off to comfort me, to the end I might be quiet, then rose I up by night, and fled, and came hither into this field, as thou seest. <sup>50</sup>And I do now purpose not to return into the city, but here to stay, and neither to eat nor drink, but continually to mourn and to fast until I die.

<sup>62</sup>For if thou shalt acknowledge the decree of God to be just, thou shalt both receive thy son in time, and shalt be praised among women. <sup>63</sup>Go thy way then into the city to thine husband. <sup>64</sup>And she said unto me, That will I not do: I will not go into the city, but here will I die. <sup>65</sup>So I proceeded to speak further unto her, and said, Do not so, but suffer thyself to be prevailed on by reason of the adversities of Sion; and be comforted by reason of the sorrow of Jerusalem. <sup>66</sup>For thou seest that our sanctuary is laid waste, our altar broken down, our temple destroyed; our psalttery is brought low, our song is put to silence, our rejoicing is at an end; the light of our candlestick is put out, the ark of our covenant is spoiled, our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called upon us is profaned; our freemen are despitely treated, our priests are burnt, our Levites are gone into captivity, our virgins are defiled, and our wives ravished; our righteous men carried away, our little ones betrayed, our young men are brought into bondage, and our strong men are become weak; and what is more than all, the seal of Sion—for she hath now lost the seal of her honour, and is delivered into the hands of them that hate us. Thou therefore shake off thy great heaviness, and put away from thee the multitude of sorrows, that the Mighty may be merciful unto thee again, and the Most High may give thee rest, even ease from thy travails.

And it came to pass, while I was talking with her, behold, her face upon a sudden shined exceedingly, and her countenance glistered like lightning, so that I was sore afraid of her, and mused what this might be; and behold, suddenly she made a great cry very fearful; so that the earth shook at the noise. And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared unto me no more, but there was a city builded, and a place shewed itself from large foundations: then was I afraid, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Where is Uriel the angel, who came unto me at the first? for he hath caused me to fall into this great trance, and mine end is turned into corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. And as I was speaking these words, behold, the angel who had come unto me at the first came unto me, and he looked upon me: and lo, I lay as one that had been dead, and mine understanding was taken from me; and he took me by the right hand, and comforted me, and set me upon my feet, and said unto me, What aileth thee? and why art thou so disquieted? and why is thine understanding troubled, and the thoughts of thine heart? And I said, Because thou hast forsaken me: yet I did according to thy words, and went into the field, and, lo, I have seen, and yet see, that which I am not able to express. And he said unto me, Stand up like a man, and I will advise thee. Then said I, Speak on, my Lord; only forsake me not, lest I die frustrate of my hope. For I have seen that I knew not, and hear that I do not know. Or is my sense deceived, or my soul in a dream? Now therefore I beseech thee to shew thy servant concerning this trance.

And he answered me, and said, Hear me, and I shall inform thee, and tell thee concerning the things whereof thou art afraid: for the Most High hath revealed many secret things unto thee. He hath seen that thy way is right: for that thou sorrowest continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion. This therefore is the meaning of the vision. The woman which appeared unto thee a little while ago, whom thou sawest mourning, and beganest to comfort her: but now seest thou the likeness of the woman no more, but there appeared unto thee a city in building: and whereas she told thee of the death of her son, this is the solution: This woman, whom thou sawest, is Sion, whom thou now seest as a city builded; and whereas she said unto thee, that she hath been thirty years barren, it is, because there were three thousand years in the world wherein there was no offering as yet offered in her. And it came to pass after three thousand years that Solomon builded the city, and offered offerings: then it was that the barren bare a son. And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with travail: that was the dwelling in Jerusalem. And whereas she said unto thee, My son coming into his marriage chamber died, and that misfortune befell her: this was the destruction that came to Jerusalem. And, behold, thou sawest her likeness, how she mourned for her son, and thou beganest to comfort her for what hath befallen her; these were the things to be opened unto thee. For now the Most High, seeing that thou art grieved unfeignedly, and sufferest from thy whole heart for her, hath shewed thee the brightness of her glory, and the comeliness of her beauty: and therefore I bade thee remain in the field where no house was builded: for I knew that the Most High would shew this unto thee. Therefore I commanded thee to come into the field, where no foundation of any building was. For in the place wherein the city of the Most High was to be shewed, the work of no man's building could stand. Therefore fear thou not, nor let thine heart be affrighted, but go thy way in, and see the beauty and greatness of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see: and then shalt thou hear as much as thine ears may comprehend. For thou art blessed above many, and with the Most High art called by name, like as but few. But to-morrow at night thou shalt remain here; and so shall the Most High shew thee those visions in dreams, of what the Most High will do unto them that dwell upon earth in the last days. So I slept that night and another, like as he commanded me.

And it came to pass the second night that I saw a dream, and, behold, there came up from the sea

an eagle, which had twelve feathered wings, and three heads. <sup>2</sup> And I saw, and, behold, she spread her wings over all the earth, and all the winds of heaven blew on her, <sup>1</sup> and the clouds were gathered together against her. <sup>3</sup> And I beheld, and out of her wings there grew other wings <sup>4</sup> over against them; <sup>5</sup> and they became little wings and small. <sup>4</sup> But her heads were at rest: the head in the midst was greater than the other heads, yet rested it with them. <sup>5</sup> Moreover I beheld, and, lo, the eagle flew with her wings, to reign over the earth, and over them that dwell therein. <sup>6</sup> And I beheld how that all things under heaven were subject unto her, and no man spake against her, no, not one creature upon earth. <sup>7</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, the eagle rose upon her talons, and uttered her voice to her wings, saying, <sup>8</sup> Watch not all at once: sleep every one in his own place, and watch by course: <sup>9</sup> but let the heads be preserved for the last. <sup>10</sup> And I beheld, <sup>11</sup> and, lo, the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her body. <sup>12</sup> And I numbered <sup>13</sup> her wings that were over against the other, and, behold, there were eight of them. <sup>14</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, <sup>15</sup> on the right side there arose one wing, and reigned over all the earth: <sup>16</sup> and so it was, that when it reigned, the end of it came, and it appeared not, so that the place thereof appeared no more: and the next following rose up, and reigned, and it bare rule a great time; <sup>17</sup> and it happened, that when it reigned, the end of it came also, so that it appeared no more, like as the first. <sup>18</sup> And, lo, there came a voice unto it, and said, <sup>19</sup> Hear thou that hast borne rule over the earth all this time: this I proclaim unto thee, before thou shalt appear no more, <sup>20</sup> There shall none after thee attain unto thy time, neither unto the half thereof. <sup>21</sup> Then arose the third, and had the rule as the others before, and it also appeared no more. <sup>22</sup> So went it with all the wings one after another, as that every one bare rule, and then appeared no more. <sup>23</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, in process of time the <sup>24</sup> wings that followed were set up <sup>25</sup> upon the <sup>26</sup> right side, that they might rule also; and some of them ruled, but within a while they appeared no more: <sup>27</sup> some also of them were set up, but ruled not. <sup>28</sup> After this I beheld, and, lo, <sup>29</sup> the twelve wings appeared no more, nor <sup>30</sup> two of the little wings: <sup>31</sup> and there was no more left upon the eagle's body, <sup>32</sup> but the three heads that rested, and <sup>33</sup> six little wings. <sup>34</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, <sup>35</sup> two little wings divided themselves from the six, and remained under the head that was upon the right side: but four remained in their place. <sup>36</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, these <sup>37</sup> under wings thought to set up themselves, and to have the rule. <sup>38</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, there was one set up, but within a while it appeared no more. <sup>39</sup> A second also, and it was sooner away than the first. <sup>40</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, the two that remained thought also in themselves to reign: <sup>41</sup> and while they so thought, behold, there awaked <sup>42</sup> one of the heads that were at rest, namely, <sup>43</sup> it that was in the midst; for that was greater than the two other heads. <sup>44</sup> And I beheld how that it joined <sup>45</sup> the two other heads with it. <sup>46</sup> And, behold, the head was turned with them that were with it, and did eat up the two <sup>47</sup> under wings that thought to have reigned. <sup>48</sup> But this head held the whole earth in possession, and bare rule over those that dwell therein <sup>49</sup> with much oppression; and it had the governance of the world more than all the wings that had been. <sup>50</sup> And after this I beheld, and, lo, the head also that was in the midst suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings. <sup>51</sup> But there remained the two heads, <sup>52</sup> which also in like sort reigned over the earth, and over those that dwell therein. <sup>53</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, the head upon the right side devoured it that was upon the left side.

<sup>54</sup> Then I heard a voice, which said unto me, Look before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest. <sup>55</sup> And I beheld, and, lo, as it were <sup>56</sup> a lion roused out of the wood roaring: and I heard how that he sent out a man's voice unto the eagle, and spake, saying, <sup>57</sup> Hear thou, I will talk with thee, and the Most High shall say unto thee, <sup>58</sup> Art not thou it that remainest of <sup>59</sup> the four beasts, whom I made to reign in my world, that the end of my times might come through them? <sup>60</sup> And <sup>61</sup> the fourth came, and overcame all the beasts that were past, and held the world in governance with great trembling, and the whole compass of the earth <sup>62</sup> with grievous oppression; and so long time dwelt he upon the earth with deceit. <sup>63</sup> And thou hast judged the earth, but not with truth. <sup>64</sup> For thou hast afflicted the meek, thou hast hurt the peaceable, thou hast hated them that speak truth, thou hast loved liars, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruit, and hast cast down the walls of such as did thee no harm. <sup>65</sup> Therefore is thy insolent dealing come up unto the Most High, and thy pride unto the Mighty. <sup>66</sup> The Most High also hath looked upon his times, and, behold, they are ended, and his ages are fulfilled. <sup>67</sup> And therefore appear no more, thou eagle, nor <sup>68</sup> thy horrible wings, nor <sup>69</sup> thy evil little wings, nor thy cruel heads, nor thy hurtful talons, nor all thy vain body: <sup>45</sup> that all the earth may be refreshed, and be eased, being delivered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the judgement and mercy of him that made her.

12 And it came to pass, whiles the lion spake these words unto the eagle, I beheld, and lo, <sup>1</sup> the head that remained appeared no more, and <sup>2</sup> the two wings which went over unto it arose and set themselves up to reign, and / their kingdom was small, and full of uproar. <sup>3</sup> And I beheld, and lo, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great fear: then awaked I by reason of great ecstasy of mind, and from great fear, and said unto my spirit, <sup>4</sup> Lo, this hast thou done unto me, in that thou searchest out the ways of the Most High. <sup>5</sup> Lo, I am yet weary in my mind, and very weak in my spirit; nor is there the least strength in me, <sup>6</sup> for the great fear wherewith I was affrighted this night. <sup>7</sup> Therefore will I now beseech the Most High, that he will strengthen me unto the end. <sup>8</sup> And I said, O Lord that bearest rule, if I have found favour in thy sight, <sup>9</sup> and if I am justified with thee above many others, and if my prayer indeed be come up before thy face; <sup>10</sup> strengthen me then, and shew me thy servant the interpretation and plain meaning of this fearful vision, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soul. <sup>9</sup> For thou hast judged me worthy to shew me the end of time and the last times.

<sup>10</sup> And he said unto me, This is the interpretation of this vision which thou sawest: <sup>11</sup> The eagle, whom thou sawest come up from the sea, is <sup>12</sup> the fourth kingdom which appeared in vision to thy brother Daniel. <sup>13</sup> But it was not expounded unto him, as I now expound it unto thee or have expounded it. <sup>14</sup> Behold, the days come, that there shall rise up a kingdom upon earth, and it shall be feared above all the kingdoms that were before it. <sup>15</sup> In the same shall twelve kings reign, one after another: <sup>16</sup> whereof the second shall begin to reign, and shall have a longer time than any of the twelve. <sup>17</sup> This is the interpretation of the two wings, which thou sawest. <sup>18</sup> And whereas thou hearest a voice which spake, not going out from the heads, but from the midst of the body thereof, this is the interpretation: <sup>19</sup> That <sup>20</sup> after the time of that kingdom there shall arise no small contentions, and it shall stand in peril of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored again to its first estate. <sup>21</sup> And whereas thou

sawest <sup>22</sup> the eight under wings sticking to her wings, this is the interpretation: <sup>23</sup> That in it there shall arise eight kings, whose times shall be but small, and their years swift. <sup>24</sup> And <sup>25</sup> two of them shall perish, when the middle time approacheth: four shall be kept for a while until the time of the ending thereof shall approach: <sup>26</sup> but two shall be kept unto the end. <sup>27</sup> And whereas thou sawest <sup>28</sup> three heads resting, this is the interpretation: <sup>29</sup> In the last days thereof shall the Most High raise up three <sup>30</sup> kingdoms, and renew many things therein, and they shall bear rule over the earth, <sup>31</sup> and over those that dwell therein, <sup>32</sup> with much oppression, above all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the eagle. <sup>33</sup> For these are they that shall accomplish her wickedness, and that shall finish her last end. <sup>34</sup> And whereas thou sawest that <sup>35</sup> the great head appeared no more, it <sup>36</sup> signifieth that one of them shall die upon his bed, and yet with pain. <sup>37</sup> But for the two that remained, the sword shall devour them. <sup>38</sup> For the sword of the one shall devour him that was with him: but he also shall fall by the sword in the last days. <sup>39</sup> And whereas thou sawest <sup>40</sup> two under wings passing <sup>41</sup> over unto the head that is on the right side, <sup>42</sup> this is the interpretation: These are they, whom the Most High hath kept unto his end: <sup>43</sup> this is the small kingdom and full of trouble, as thou sawest. <sup>44</sup> And the lion, whom thou sawest rising up out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the eagle, and rebuking her for her unrighteousness, and all her words which thou hast heard; <sup>45</sup> this is <sup>46</sup> the anointed one, whom the Most High hath kept unto the end <sup>47</sup> [of days, who shall spring up out of the seed of David, and he shall come and speak] unto them and <sup>48</sup> reprove them for their wickedness and their unrighteousness, and shall <sup>49</sup> heap up before them their contemptuous dealings. <sup>50</sup> For at the first he shall set them alive in his judgement, and when he hath reprov'd them, he shall destroy them. <sup>51</sup> For the rest of my people shall he deliver with mercy, those that have been preserved / throughout my borders, and he shall make them joyful until the coming of the end, even the day of judgement, <sup>52</sup> whereof I have spoken unto thee from the beginning. <sup>53</sup> This is the dream that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation thereof: <sup>54</sup> and thou only hast been meet to know this secret of the Most High. <sup>55</sup> Therefore <sup>56</sup> write all these things that thou hast seen in a book, and put them in a secret place: <sup>57</sup> and thou shalt teach them to the wise of thy people, whose hearts thou knowest are able to comprehend and keep these secrets. 39 But wait thou here thyself yet <sup>7</sup>seven days more, that there may be shewed unto thee whatsoever it pleaseth the Most High to shew thee. And he departed from me.

40 And it came to pass, when all the people <sup>1</sup>saw that the seven days were past, and I not come again into the city, they gathered them all together, from the least unto the greatest, and came unto me, and spake to me, saying, 41 What have we offended thee? and what evil have we done against thee, that thou hast utterly forsaken us, and sittest in this place? 42 For of all <sup>2</sup>the prophets thou only art left us, as <sup>3</sup>a cluster of the vintage, and <sup>4</sup>as a lamp in a dark place, and as <sup>5</sup>a haven for a ship saved from the tempest. 43 Are not the evils which are come to us sufficient? 44 If thou shalt forsake us, how much better had it been for us, if we also had been consumed <sup>6</sup>in the burning of Sion! 45 For we are not better than they that died there. And they wept with a loud voice. And I answered them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel; and be not sorrowful, thou house of Jacob: 47 for the Most High hath you in remembrance, and the Mighty hath not forgotten you <sup>7</sup>for ever. 48 As for me, I have not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place, to pray for <sup>8</sup>the desolation of Sion, and that I might seek mercy for <sup>9</sup>the low estate of your sanctuary. 49 And now go your way every man to his own house, and after these days will I come unto you. 50 So the people went their way into the city, like as I said unto them: <sup>51</sup>but I sat in the field seven days, <sup>52</sup>as the angel commanded me; and in those days <sup>53</sup>I did eat only of the flowers of the field, and had my meat of the herbs.

beheld, and, lo, he graved himself <sup>1</sup>as a great mountain, and flew up upon it. 7 But I sought to see the region or place whereout the mountain was graven, and I could not. 8 And after this I beheld, and, lo, all they which were gathered together to fight against him were sore afraid, and yet durst fight. 9 And, lo, as he saw the assault of the multitude that came, he neither lifted up his hand, nor held spear, nor any instrument of war: <sup>10</sup>but only I saw how that he sent out of his mouth as it had been a flood of fire, and out of his lips a flaming breath, and out of his tongue he cast forth sparks <sup>11</sup>of the storm. 12 And these were all mingled together; the flood of fire, the flaming breath, and the great storm; and fell upon the assault of the multitude which was prepared to fight, and burned them up every one, so that upon a sudden of an innumerable multitude nothing was to be perceived, but only <sup>13</sup>dust of ashes and smell of smoke: when I saw this I was amazed. 14 Afterward I beheld the same man come down from the mountain, and call unto him <sup>15</sup>another multitude which was peaceable. 16 And there came <sup>17</sup>much people unto him, whereof some were glad, some were sorry, some of them were bound, and other some <sup>18</sup>brought of them that were offered: then through great fear I awaked, and prayed unto the Most High, and said, 19 Thou hast shewed thy servant these wonders from the beginning, <sup>20</sup>and hast counted me worthy that thou shouldest receive my prayer: 21 and now shew me moreover the interpretation of this dream. 22 For as I conceive in mine understanding, woe unto <sup>23</sup>them that shall be left in those days! and much more woe unto them that are not left! 24 for they that were not left shall be in heaviness, <sup>25</sup>understanding the things that are laid up in the latter days, but not attaining unto them. 26 But woe unto <sup>27</sup>them also that are left, for this cause; for they shall see great perils and many necessities, like as these dreams declare. 28 Yet is it <sup>29</sup>better for one to be in peril and to come into <sup>30</sup>these things, than <sup>31</sup>to pass away as a cloud out of the world, and not to see the things that <sup>32</sup>shall happen in the last days.

And he answered unto me, and said, 33 The interpretation of the vision shall I tell thee, and I will also open unto thee the things whereof thou hast made mention. 34 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation: 35 He that shall <sup>36</sup>endure the peril in that time <sup>37</sup>shall keep them that be fallen into danger, even <sup>38</sup>such as have works, <sup>39</sup>and faith toward the Almighty. <sup>24</sup> Know therefore, that they which be left behind are more blessed than they that be dead. <sup>25</sup> These are the interpretations of the vision: Whereas <sup>26</sup> thou sawest a man coming up from the midst of the sea, <sup>26</sup> the same is he whom the Most High hath kept a great season, which by <sup>27</sup> his own self shall deliver his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind. <sup>27</sup> And <sup>28</sup> whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came wind, and fire, and storm; <sup>28</sup> and whereas he held neither spear, nor any instrument of war, but destroyed the assault of that multitude which came to fight against him; this is the interpretation: <sup>29</sup> Behold, the days come, when the Most High will begin <sup>30</sup> to deliver them that are upon the earth. <sup>30</sup> And there shall come astonishment of mind upon them that dwell on the earth. <sup>31</sup> And one shall think to war against another, city against city, place against place, people against people, and kingdom against kingdom. <sup>32</sup> And it shall be, when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen <sup>33</sup> which I shewed thee before, then shall <sup>34</sup> my Son be revealed, <sup>34</sup> whom thou sawest as a man ascending. <sup>33</sup> And it shall be, when all the nations hear his voice, every man shall leave his own land and the battle they have one against another. <sup>34</sup> And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest, desiring to come, and to fight against him. <sup>35</sup> But he shall stand upon the top of the mount Sion. <sup>36</sup> And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest <sup>37</sup> the mountain <sup>38</sup> graven without hands. <sup>37</sup> And this <sup>39</sup> my Son shall rebuke the nations which are come for their wickedness, with <sup>40</sup> plagues that are like unto <sup>41</sup> a tempest; <sup>38</sup> and shall taunt them to their face with their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall be tormented, <sup>42</sup> which are likened unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law, which is likened unto fire. <sup>39</sup> And whereas thou sawest that he gathered unto him <sup>43</sup> another multitude that was peaceable; <sup>40</sup> these are the ten tribes, which were led away out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, <sup>44</sup> whom Salmanassar the king of the Assyrians led away captive, and he carried them beyond the River, and they were carried into another land. <sup>41</sup> But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt, <sup>42</sup> that they might there keep their statutes, which they had not kept in their own land. <sup>43</sup> And they entered by the narrow passages of <sup>45</sup> the river Euphrates. <sup>44</sup> For the Most High then wrought signs for them, <sup>46</sup> and stayed the springs of the River, till they were passed over. <sup>45</sup> For through that country there was a great way to go, namely, of a year and a half: and the same region is called <sup>47</sup> Arzareth. <sup>46</sup> Then dwelt they there until the latter time; and now when they begin to come again, <sup>47</sup> the Most High <sup>48</sup> stayeth the springs of the River again, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude gathered together with peace. <sup>48</sup> But those that be left behind of thy people are they that are found <sup>49</sup> within my holy border. <sup>49</sup> It shall be therefore when he shall destroy the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend the people that remain. <sup>50</sup> And then shall he shew them very many wonders.

<sup>51</sup> Then said I, <sup>52</sup> O Lord that bearest rule, shew me this: wherefore I have seen <sup>53</sup> the man coming up from the midst of the sea. <sup>54</sup> And he said unto me, Like as one can neither seek out nor know what is in the deep of the sea, even so can no man upon earth see <sup>55</sup> my Son, or those that be with him, but <sup>56</sup> in the time of <sup>57</sup> his day. <sup>53</sup> This is the interpretation of the dream which thou sawest, and <sup>58</sup> for this thou only art enlightened herein. <sup>54</sup> For thou hast forsaken thine own ways, and applied thy diligence unto mine, and hast sought out my law. <sup>55</sup> Thy life hast thou ordered in wisdom, and <sup>56</sup> hast called understanding thy mother. <sup>56</sup> And therefore have I shewed thee this; <sup>57</sup> for there is a reward laid up with the Most High: and it shall be, <sup>58</sup> after other three days I will speak other things unto thee, and declare unto thee mighty and wondrous things. <sup>57</sup> Then went I forth and passed into the field, giving praise and thanks greatly unto the Most High because of his wonders, which he did from time to time; <sup>58</sup> and <sup>59</sup> because he governeth the time, and such things as fall in their seasons. And there I sat <sup>60</sup> three days.

I And it came to pass upon <sup>61</sup> the third day, I sat under an oak, and, behold, there came a voice out of a bush over against me, and said, Esdras, Esdras. <sup>62</sup> And I said, Here am I, Lord. <sup>63</sup> And I stood up upon my feet. <sup>64</sup> Then said he unto me, <sup>65</sup> In the bush I did manifestly reveal myself, and talked with Moses, when my people were in bondage in Egypt: <sup>66</sup> and I sent him, and <sup>67</sup> he led my people out of Egypt; and I brought him up to the mount of Sinai, <sup>68</sup> where I held him by me for many days; <sup>69</sup> and told him many wondrous things, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end of the seasons; and commanded him, saying, <sup>6</sup>These words shalt thou publish openly, and these shalt thou hide. <sup>7</sup>And now I say unto thee, <sup>8</sup>Lay up in thy heart the signs that I have shewed, and the dreams that thou hast seen, and the interpretations which thou hast heard: <sup>9</sup>for <sup>10</sup>thou shalt be taken away from men, and from henceforth thou shalt remain with <sup>11</sup>my Son, and with <sup>12</sup>such as be like thee, until the times be ended. <sup>13</sup>For the world hath lost its youth, and the times begin to wax old. <sup>14</sup>For the world is divided into twelve parts, <sup>15</sup>and ten parts of it are gone already, <sup>16</sup>even the half of the tenth part: <sup>17</sup>and there remain of it two parts after the middle of the tenth part. <sup>18</sup>Now therefore <sup>19</sup>set thine house in order, and <sup>20</sup>reprove thy people, comfort the lowly among them, <sup>21</sup>and instruct such of them as be wise, and now renounce the life that is corruptible, <sup>22</sup>and let go from thee mortal thoughts, <sup>23</sup>cast away from thee the burdens of man, put off now thy weak nature, <sup>24</sup>and lay aside the thoughts that are most grievous unto thee, and haste thee to remove from these times. <sup>25</sup>For yet worse evils than those which thou hast seen happen shall be done hereafter. <sup>26</sup>For look, how much the world shall be weaker through age, so much the more shall evils increase upon them that dwell therein. <sup>27</sup>For the truth shall withdraw itself further off, and leasing be hard at hand: for now hasteth <sup>28</sup>the eagle to come, <sup>29</sup>which thou sawest in vision. <sup>30</sup>Then answered I and said, <sup>31</sup>I will speak before thee, O Lord. <sup>32</sup>Behold, I will go, <sup>33</sup>as thou hast commanded me, and reprove the people that now be: but they that shall be born afterward, who shall admonish them? for the world is set in darkness, and they that dwell therein are without light. <sup>34</sup>For thy law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the works that shall be done. <sup>35</sup>But if I have found favour before thee, <sup>36</sup>send the Holy Spirit into me, and I shall write all that hath been done in the world since the beginning, even the things that were written in thy law, that men may be able to find the path, and that they which would live in the latter days may live. <sup>37</sup>And he answered me and said, Go thy way, gather the people together, and say unto them, <sup>38</sup>that they seek thee not for forty days. <sup>39</sup>But look thou prepare these many tablets, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ethanus, and Asiel, these five, which are <sup>40</sup>ready to write swiftly; <sup>41</sup>and come hither, and I shall light <sup>42</sup>a lamp of understanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be ended which thou shalt write. <sup>43</sup>And when thou hast done, some things shalt thou publish openly, and <sup>44</sup>some things shalt thou deliver in secret to the wise: to-morrow this hour shalt thou begin to write.

<sup>45</sup>Then went I forth, as he commanded me, and gathered all the people together, and said, <sup>46</sup>Hear these words, O Israel. <sup>47</sup>Our fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, and they were delivered from thence, <sup>48</sup>and received the law of life, which they kept not, which ye also have transgressed after them. <sup>49</sup>Then was <sup>50</sup>the land, even the land of Sion, given you for a possession: but ye yourselves, and your fathers, have done unrighteousness, and have not kept the ways which the Most High commanded you. <sup>51</sup>And forasmuch as <sup>52</sup>he is a righteous judge, he took from you for a while the thing that he had given you. <sup>53</sup>And now ye are here, and your brethren are among you. <sup>54</sup>Therefore if so be that ye will rule over your own understanding, and instruct your hearts, ye shall be kept alive, and after death ye shall obtain mercy. <sup>55</sup>For <sup>56</sup>after death shall the judgement come, <sup>57</sup>when we shall live again: and <sup>58</sup>then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and <sup>59</sup>the works of the ungodly shall be declared. <sup>60</sup>Let no man therefore come unto me now, nor seek after me <sup>61</sup>these forty days. <sup>62</sup>So I took the five men, as he commanded me, and we went forth into the field, and remained there. <sup>63</sup>And it came to pass on the morrow that, lo, a voice called me, saying, Esdras, <sup>64</sup>open thy mouth, and drink that I give thee to drink. <sup>65</sup>Then opened I my mouth, and, behold, there was reached unto me a full cup, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire. <sup>66</sup>And I took it, and drank: and when I had drunk of it, my heart uttered understanding, and wisdom grew in my breast, for my spirit retained its memory: <sup>67</sup>and my mouth was opened, and shut no more. <sup>68</sup>The Most High gave understanding unto <sup>69</sup>the five men, and they wrote by course the things that were told them, in <sup>70</sup>characters which they knew not, and they sat forty days: now they wrote in the day-time, and at night they ate bread. <sup>71</sup>As for me, I spake in the day, and by night I held not my tongue. <sup>72</sup>So in <sup>73</sup>forty days were written <sup>74</sup>four-score and fourteen books. <sup>75</sup>And it came to pass, when <sup>76</sup>the forty days were fulfilled, that the Most High spake unto me, saying, The first that thou hast written publish openly, and let the worthy and unworthy read it: <sup>46</sup>but keep the seventy last, that thou mayest deliver them to such as be wise among thy people: <sup>47</sup>for in them is the spring of understanding, <sup>48</sup>the fountain of wisdom, and <sup>49</sup>the stream of knowledge. <sup>48</sup>And I did so.

goods, because of the lack of bread, and for great tribulation.

<sup>20</sup>Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth, to stir up them that are from the rising of the sun, from the south, from the east, and Libanus; <sup>21</sup>to turn themselves one against another, and repay the things that they have done to them. <sup>21</sup>Like as they do yet this day unto my chosen, so will I do also, and <sup>22</sup>recompense in their bosom. Thus saith the Lord God: <sup>22</sup>My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and <sup>23</sup>my sword shall not cease over them that shed innocent blood upon the earth. <sup>23</sup>And a fire is gone forth from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners, like the straw that is kindled. <sup>24</sup>Woe to them that sin, and keep not my commandments! saith the Lord. <sup>25</sup>I will not spare them: go your way, ye rebellious children, defile not my sanctuary. <sup>26</sup>For the Lord knoweth all them that trespass against him, therefore hath he delivered them unto death and destruction. <sup>27</sup>For now are the evils come upon the whole earth, and ye shall remain in them: for God shall not deliver you, because ye have sinned against him.

<sup>28</sup>Behold, a vision horrible, and the appearance thereof from the east! <sup>29</sup>And the nations of the <sup>30</sup>dragons of Arabia shall come out with many chariots, and from the day that they set forth the hissing of them is carried over the earth, so that all they which shall hear them may fear also and tremble. <sup>30</sup>Also the Carmonians raging in wrath shall go forth <sup>31</sup>as the wild boars of the wood, and with great power shall they come, and join battle with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians with their teeth. <sup>32</sup>And then shall the dragons have the upper hand, remembering their <sup>33</sup>nature; and if they shall turn themselves, conspiring together in great power to persecute them, <sup>34</sup>then these shall be troubled, and keep silence through their power, and shall turn and flee. <sup>33</sup>And from the land of the Assyrians shall the lier in wait besiege them, and consume one of them, and upon their host shall be fear and trembling, and <sup>35</sup>sedition against their kings. <sup>34</sup>Behold, <sup>36</sup>clouds from the east and from the north unto the south, and they are very horrible to look upon, full of wrath and storm. <sup>35</sup>They shall dash one against another, and they shall pour out a plentiful <sup>37</sup>storm upon the earth, <sup>38</sup>even their own star; and <sup>39</sup>there shall be blood from the sword unto the horse's belly, <sup>40</sup>and to the thigh of man, and to the camel's hough. <sup>37</sup>And there shall be fearfulness and great trembling upon earth: and they that see that wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall take hold upon them.

 18 The beginning of sorrows, and there shall be great mournings; the beginning of famine, and many shall perish; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils, and all shall tremble! what shall they do in all this when the evils shall come? 19 Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish! they are sent as scourges for amendment.
 20 But for all these things they shall not turn them from their wickedness, nor be alway mindful of the scourges. 21 Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion. 22 For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the famine, shall the sword destroy. 23 And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be left desolate, and the cities thereof shall be cast down. 24 There shall be no husbandman left to till the earth, and to sow it. 25 The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them? 26 The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for in all places there shall be a great forsaking: 27 for one man shall desire to see another, or to hear his voice. 28 For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which have hidden themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.
 29 As in an orchard of olives upon every tree there be left three or four olives, 30 or as when a vineyard is gathered there be some clusters left by them that diligently seek through the vineyard; 31 even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword. 32 And the earth shall be left desolate, and the fields thereof shall be for briars, and her ways and all her paths shall bring forth thorns, because no sheep shall pass therethrough. 33 The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers. 34 In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.
 35 Hear now these things, and understand them, ye servants of the Lord. 36 Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it: disbelieve not the things whereof the Lord speaketh. 37 Behold, the evils draw nigh, and are not slack. 38 Like as a woman with child in the ninth month, when the hour of her delivery draweth near, within two or three hours doleful pains compass her womb, and when the child cometh forth from the womb, there shall be no tarrying for a moment: 39 even so shall not the evils be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall groan, and sorrows shall take hold of it on every side. 40 O my people, hear my word: make you ready to the battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth. 41 He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose: 42 he that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: 43 he that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that pruneth the vines, as he that shall not gather the grapes: 44 they that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowed. 45 Inasmuch as they that labour labour in vain; 46 for strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captive, for in captivity and famine shall they beget their children: 47 and they that traffick traffick to become a spoil: the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons, the more will I hate them for their sins, saith the Lord. 48 Like as a right honest and virtuous woman hateth a harlot, 49 so shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.

50 Therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof. 51 For yet a little while, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign over us. 52 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for he shall burn as coals of fire upon his head, which saith, I have not sinned before God and his glory. 53 Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts. 54 Who said, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was made. 55 And at his word were the stars established, and he knoweth the number of the stars. 56 Who searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth. 57 Who hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon the waters. 58 Who spreadeth out the heaven like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it. 59 Who hath made the desert springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, to send forth rivers from the height to water the earth. 60 Who framed man, and put a heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding. 61 yea, the spirit of God Almighty. He who made all things, and searcheth out hidden things in hidden

TOBIT.

I THE book of the words of Tobit, the son of Tobiel, the son of Ananias, the son of Adiel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asiel, of the tribe of Naphtali; <sup>2</sup>who in the days of <sup>3</sup>Enemessar king of the Assyrians was carried away captive out of <sup>4</sup>Kishe, which is on the right hand of <sup>5</sup>Kedesh Naphtali in Galilee above Asher.

<sup>6</sup>I Tobit walked in the ways of truth and righteousness all the days of my life, and I did <sup>7</sup>many almsdeeds to my brethren and my nation, who went with me into the land of the Assyrians, to Nineveh. <sup>8</sup>And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel, while I was yet young, <sup>9</sup>all the tribe of Naphtali my father fell away from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice <sup>10</sup>there, and the temple of the habitation of the Most High was hallowed and built <sup>11</sup>therein for all ages. <sup>12</sup>And all the tribes which fell away together <sup>13</sup>sacrificed to <sup>14</sup>the heifer Baal, and so did the house of Naphtali my father. <sup>15</sup>And I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, <sup>16</sup>as it hath been ordained unto all Israel by an everlasting decree, <sup>17</sup>having the firstfruits and the tenths of mine increase, and <sup>18</sup>that which was first shorn; and I gave them at the altar to the priests the sons of Aaron. <sup>19</sup>The tenth part of all mine increase I gave to the sons of Levi, who ministered at Jerusalem: and <sup>20</sup>the second tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it each year at Jerusalem: <sup>21</sup>and <sup>22</sup>the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Deborah my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father. <sup>23</sup>And when I became a man, I took to wife <sup>24</sup>Anna of the seed <sup>25</sup>of our own family, and of her I begat Tobias. <sup>26</sup>And when I was carried away captive to Nineveh, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of <sup>27</sup>the bread of the Gentiles: <sup>28</sup>but I kept myself from eating, <sup>29</sup>because I remembered God with all my soul. <sup>30</sup>And the Most High gave me grace and <sup>31</sup>favour in the sight of <sup>32</sup>Enemessar, and I was his purveyor. <sup>33</sup>And I went into Media, and left in trust with <sup>34</sup>Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at <sup>35</sup>Rages of Media, ten talents of silver.

¶ Enemessar I did many almsdeeds to my brethren: ¶ I gave my bread to the hungry, ¶ and my garments to the naked: and if I saw any of my race dead, and cast forth on the wall of Nineveh, ¶ I buried him. ¶ And if ¶ Sennacherib the king slew any, when he came fleeing from Judea, ¶ I buried them privily; for in his wrath he slew many; and the bodies were sought for by the king, and were not found. ¶ But one of the Ninevites went and shewed to the king concerning me, how that I buried them, and hid myself; and when I knew that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear. ¶ And all my goods were forcibly taken away, and there was nothing left unto me, save my wife ¶ Anna and my son Tobias. ¶ And there passed not five and fifty days, before ¶ two of his sons slew him, and they fled into the mountains of ¶ Ararat. And ¶ Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; and he appointed over all the accounts of his kingdom, and over all his affairs, ¶ Achiacharus my brother Anael's son. ¶ And ¶ Achiacharus made request for me, and I came to Nineveh. Now ¶ Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him next unto himself: but he was my brother's son.

¶ Now when I was come home again, and my wife ¶ Anna was restored unto me, and my son Tobias, in the feast of ¶ Pentecost, which is ¶ the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, and I sat down to eat. ¶ And I saw abundance of meat, and I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and, lo, I tarry for thee. ¶ And he came, and said, Father, one of our race is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace. ¶ And before I had tasted aught, I sprang up, and took him up into a chamber until the sun was set. ¶ And I returned, and washed myself, and ate my bread in heaviness, ¶ and remembered the prophecy of Amos, as he said,

And all your mirth into lamentation.

¶ And I wept: and when the sun was set, I went and made a grave, ¶ and buried him. ¶ And my neighbours mocked me, and said, He is no longer afraid to be put to death for this matter: and yet ¶ he fled away: and, lo, ¶ he burieth the dead again. ¶ And the same night I returned from burying him, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, ¶ being polluted; and my face was uncovered: ¶ and I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall; and, mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and white films came in mine eyes; and I went to the physicians, and they helped me not: but ¶ Achiacharus did nourish me, ¶ until I went into ¶ Elymais.

¶ And my wife ¶ Anna did spin in the women's chambers, ¶ and did send the work back to the owners. And they on their part paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid. ¶ But when it came to my house, it began to cry, and I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it stolen? render it to the owners; ¶ for it is not lawful to eat anything that is stolen. ¶ But she said, It hath been given me for a gift more than the wages. And I did not believe her, and I bade her render it to the owners; and I was ashamed at her. But ¶ she answered and said unto me, Where are ¶ thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, ¶ thou and all thy works are known.

¶ And I was grieved and wept, and prayed in sorrow, saying,

¶ O Lord, ¶ thou art righteous, and all thy works and ¶ all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest true and righteous judgement for ever. ¶ Remember me, and look on me; take not vengeance on me for ¶ my sins and mine ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, which sinned before thee: ¶ for they disobeyed thy commandments; and thou gavest us for a spoil, and for captivity, and for death, and for ¶ a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed. ¶ And now many are thy judgements, true are they; that thou shouldst deal with me according to my sins and the sins of my fathers: because we did not keep thy commandments, for we walked not in truth before thee. ¶ And now deal with me according to that which is pleasing in thy sight, ¶ command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be released, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I ¶ have heard false reproaches, and there is much sorrow in me: command that I be now released from my distress, and go to the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.

¶ The same day it happened unto ¶ Sarah the daughter of Raguel in ¶ Ecabata of Media, that she also was reproached by her father's maid-servants; ¶ because that she had been given to seven husbands, and ¶ Asmodeus ¶ the evil spirit slew them, before they had lain with her. And they said unto her, Dost thou not know that thou strangest thy husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, and thou hast had no profit of any one of them. ¶ Wherefore

doest thou scourge us? if they be dead, go thy ways with them; let us never see of thee either son or daughter. <sup>10</sup> When she heard these things, she was grieved exceedingly, so that she thought to have hanged herself: and she said, I am the only daughter of my father; if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and <sup>b</sup> I shall bring down his old age with sorrow to <sup>1</sup> the grave. <sup>11</sup> And she prayed <sup>c</sup> by the window, and said, <sup>d</sup> Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and blessed is thy holy and honourable name for ever: <sup>e</sup> let all thy works praise thee for ever. <sup>12</sup> And now, Lord, <sup>f</sup> I have set mine eyes and my face toward thee: <sup>13</sup> command that I be released from the earth, and that I no more hear reproach. <sup>14</sup> Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man, <sup>15</sup> and that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, and he hath no child that shall be his heir, nor brother near him, nor son belonging to him, that I should keep myself for a wife unto him: seven husbands of mine are dead already; why should I live? And if it pleaseth thee not to slay me, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, and that I hear no more reproach.

<sup>15</sup> And the prayer of both was heard before the glory of the great God. <sup>17</sup> Raphael also was sent to heal them both, <sup>18</sup> to scale away the white films from Tobit's eyes, and to give Sarah the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind <sup>19</sup> Asmodeus the evil <sup>20</sup> spirit; <sup>21</sup> because it belonged to Tobias that he should inherit her. The selfsame time did Tobit return and enter into his house, and Sarah the daughter of Raguel came down from her upper chamber.

<sup>22</sup> In that day Tobit remembered <sup>23</sup> concerning the money which he had left in trust with Gabael in <sup>24</sup> Rages of Media, <sup>25</sup> and he said in himself, I have asked for death; why do I not call my son Tobias, that I may shew to him of the money before I die? <sup>26</sup> And he called him, and said,

My child, <sup>27</sup> when I die, bury me: and <sup>28</sup> despise not thy mother; <sup>29</sup> honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which is pleasing unto her, and grieve her not. <sup>30</sup> Remember, my child, that she hath seen many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb. When she is dead, bury her by me in one grave. <sup>31</sup> My child, <sup>32</sup> be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin and to transgress his commandments: do righteousness all the days of thy life, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness. <sup>33</sup> For if thou doest the truth, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that do righteousness. <sup>34</sup> Give alms of thy substance; and <sup>35</sup> when thou givest alms, <sup>36</sup> let not thine eye be envious: <sup>37</sup> turn not away thy face from any poor man, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee. <sup>38</sup> As thy substance is, give alms of it according to thine abundance: if thou have little, be not afraid to give alms according to that little: <sup>39</sup> for thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity: <sup>40</sup> because alms delivereth from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness. <sup>41</sup> Alms is a good gift in the sight of the Most High for all that give it. <sup>42</sup> Beware, my child, of all whoredom, and take first a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and <sup>43</sup> take not a strange wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the sons of the prophets. Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, our fathers of old time, remember, my child, that they all took wives of their brethren, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land. <sup>44</sup> And now, my child, love thy brethren, and scorn not in thy heart thy brethren, and the sons and the daughters of thy people, to take a wife of them: for in scornfulness is destruction and much trouble, and in naughtiness is decay and great want: for naughtiness is the mother of famine. <sup>45</sup> Let not the wages of any man, which shall work for thee, tarry with thee, but render it unto him out of hand: and if thou serve God, recompense shall be made unto thee. Take heed to thyself, my child, in all thy works, and be discreet in all thy behaviour. <sup>46</sup> And what thou thyself hatest, do to no man. <sup>47</sup> Drink not wine unto drunkenness, and let not drunkenness go with thee on thy way. <sup>48</sup> Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked: <sup>49</sup> of all thine abundance give alms; <sup>50</sup> and let not thine eye be envious when thou givest alms. <sup>51</sup> Pour out thy bread on the <sup>52</sup> burial of the just, <sup>53</sup> and give nothing to sinners. <sup>54</sup> Ask counsel of every man that is wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable. <sup>55</sup> And bless the Lord thy God at all times, and ask of him that thy ways may be made straight, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but <sup>56</sup> the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbly whom he will, as he will. And now, my child, remember my commandments, and let them not be blotted out of thy mind. <sup>57</sup> And now I shew thee of the ten talents of silver, which I left in trust with <sup>58</sup> Gabael the son of Gabrias at <sup>59</sup> Rages of Media. <sup>60</sup> And fear not, my child, because <sup>61</sup> we are made poor: <sup>62</sup> thou hast much wealth, if thou fear

God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

5 And Tobias answered and said unto him, Father, I will do all things, whatsoever thou hast commanded me: <sup>a</sup>but how shall I be able to receive the money, seeing I know him not? 3 And he gave him <sup>a</sup>the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which shall go with thee, and I will give him wages, whiles I yet live: and go and receive the money. 4 And he went to seek a man, and found <sup>a</sup>Raphael which was an angel; <sup>a</sup>and he knew it not; and he said unto him, Can I go with thee to <sup>a</sup>Rages of Media? and knowest thou the places well? 6 And the angel said unto him, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: and I have lodged with our brother Gabael. 7 And Tobias said unto him, Wait for me, and I will tell my father. 8 And he said unto him, Go, and tarry not. And he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. But he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.

9 And he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another. 10 And Tobit said unto him, Brother, of what tribe and of what family art thou? Shew me. 11 And he said unto him, Seekest thou a tribe and a family, or a hired man which shall go with thy son? And Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and thy name. 12 And he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, of thy brethren. 13 And he said unto him, <sup>a</sup>Welcome, brother; and be not angry with me, because I sought to know thy tribe and family: and thou art my brother, <sup>a</sup>of an honest and good lineage: for I knew Ananias and Jathan, the sons of Shemaiah the great, <sup>a</sup>when we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of our increase; and they went not astray <sup>a</sup>in the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a great stock. 14 But tell me, <sup>a</sup>what wages shall I give thee? a drachma a day, and those things that be necessary for thee, as unto my son? 15 And moreover, if ye return safe and sound, I will add something to thy wages. 16 And so they consented. And he said to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God prosper you. And his son prepared what was needful for the journey, and his father said unto him, Go thou with this man; but God, which dwelleth in heaven, shall prosper your journey; and <sup>a</sup>may his angel go with you. And they both went forth to depart, and the young man's <sup>a</sup>dog with them.

17 But <sup>a</sup>Anna his mother <sup>a</sup>wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our child? is he not the staff of our hand, <sup>a</sup>in going in and out before us? 18 Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child. 19 For as the Lord hath given us to live, so doth it suffice us. 20 And Tobit said to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return safe and sound, and thine eyes shall see him. 21 For <sup>a</sup>a good angel shall go with him, and his journey shall be prospered, and he shall return safe and sound. 22 And she made an end of weeping.

6 <sup>a</sup>Now as they went on their journey, they came at eventide to the river <sup>a</sup>Tigris, and they lodged there. <sup>a</sup>But the young man went down to wash himself, and a fish leaped out of the river, and would have swallowed up the young man. 3 But the angel said unto him, Take hold on the fish. And the young man caught hold of the fish, and cast it up on the land. 4 And the angel said unto him, Cut the fish open, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely. 5 And the young man did as the angel commanded him; but they roasted the fish, and ate it. And they both went on their way, till they drew near to <sup>a</sup>Ecbatana. 6 And the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish? 7 And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a <sup>a</sup>devil or an evil spirit trouble any, <sup>a</sup>we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed. 8 But as for the gall, <sup>a</sup>it is good to anoint a man that hath white films in his eyes, and he shall be healed.

9 But when they drew nigh unto <sup>a</sup>Rages, <sup>a</sup>the angel said to the young man, Brother, to-day we shall lodge with <sup>a</sup>Raguel, and he is thy kinsman; and he hath an only daughter, <sup>a</sup>named Sarah. I will speak for her, that she should be given thee for a wife. 11 For to thee doth the inheritance of her appertain, and thou only art of her kindred: 12 and the maid is fair and wise. And now hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from <sup>a</sup>Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that <sup>a</sup>Raguel may in no wise marry her to another <sup>a</sup>according to the law of Moses, or else <sup>a</sup>he shall be liable to death, <sup>a</sup>because it appertaineth unto thee to take the inheritance, rather than any other. 13 Then the young man said unto the angel, Brother Azarias, I have heard that this maid hath been given to seven men, <sup>a</sup>and that they all perished in the bride-chamber. <sup>14</sup>And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest I go in and die, even as those before me: for a <sup>15</sup>devil loveth her, which hurteth no man, but those which come unto her: and now I fear lest I die, and <sup>16</sup>bring my father's and my mother's life to the grave with sorrow because of me: and they have no other son to bury them. <sup>15</sup>But the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the words which thy father commanded thee, <sup>17</sup>that thou shouldest take a wife of thine own kindred? and now hear me, brother; for she shall be thy wife; and make thou no reckoning of the devil; for this night shall she be given thee to wife. <sup>16</sup>And <sup>17</sup>when thou shalt come into the bride-chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of incense, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, <sup>18</sup>and shalt make a smoke therewith: <sup>17</sup>and the devil <sup>19</sup>shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more. But when thou goest nigh unto her, rise up both of you, and cry to God which is merciful, and he shall save you, and have mercy on you. Fear not, for she was prepared for thee from the beginning; and thou shalt save her, and she shall go with thee. And I suppose that thou shalt have children of her. And when Tobias heard these things, he loved her, and his soul clave to her exceedingly.

But Tobias said to <sup>9</sup>Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let the matter be finished. <sup>9</sup>And he communicated the thing to <sup>10</sup>Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry: <sup>10</sup>for it appertaineth unto thee to take my child. Howbeit I will shew thee the truth. <sup>11</sup>I have given my child to seven men, and whosoever they came in unto her, they died in the night. But for the present be merry. And Tobias said, <sup>11</sup>I will taste nothing here, until ye make covenant and enter into covenant with me. <sup>12</sup>And Raguel said, Take her to thyself from henceforth according to the manner: thou art her brother, and she is thine: but the merciful God shall give all good success to you. <sup>13</sup>And he called his daughter Sarah, and took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, and said, Behold, take her to thyself <sup>14</sup>after the law of Moses, and <sup>15</sup>lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them; <sup>14</sup>and he called Edna his wife, and took a book, and wrote an instrument, and sealed it. <sup>15</sup>And they began to eat.

<sup>16</sup>And Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare the other chamber, and bring her in thither. <sup>17</sup>And she did as he bade her, and brought her in thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her, <sup>18</sup>Be of good comfort, my child; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee <sup>19</sup>favour for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

8 <sup>1</sup>And when they had finished their supper, they brought Tobias in unto her. <sup>2</sup>But as he went, he remembered <sup>3</sup>the words of <sup>4</sup>Raphael, and took the ashes of the incense, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith. <sup>3</sup>But when <sup>4</sup>the devil smelled the smell, he fled into the uppermost parts of Egypt, and the angel <sup>5</sup>bound him. <sup>4</sup>But after they were both shut in together, Tobias rose up from the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that the Lord may have mercy on us. <sup>5</sup>And Tobias began to say, <sup>6</sup>Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures. <sup>6</sup>Thou madest Adam, <sup>7</sup>and gavest him Eve his wife <sup>8</sup>for a helper and a stay: of them came the seed of men: thou didst say, It is not good that the man should be alone; let us make him a helper like unto him. <sup>7</sup>And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lust, but in truth: command that I may find mercy and grow old with her. <sup>8</sup>And she said with him, Amen. <sup>9</sup>And they slept both that night.

And <sup>10</sup>Raguel arose, and went and digged a grave, <sup>10</sup>saying, Lest he also should die. <sup>11</sup>And Raguel came into his house, <sup>12</sup>and said to Edna his wife,

Send one of the maidservants, and let them see whether he be alive: but if not, <sup>1</sup>that we may bury him, and no man know it. <sup>2</sup>So the maidservant opened the door, and went in, and found them both sleeping, <sup>3</sup>and came forth, and told them that he was alive. <sup>4</sup>And Raguel blessed God, saying,

out every day into the way by which they went, and did eat no bread in the day-time, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until <sup>44</sup>the fourteen days of the wedding feast were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there.

But Tobias said unto Raguel, Send me away, for my father and my mother look no more to see me. <sup>45</sup>But his father in law said unto him, Abide with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee. <sup>46</sup>And Tobias saith, No; but send me away to my father. <sup>47</sup>But Raguel arose, and gave him Sarah his wife, and <sup>48</sup>half his goods, servants and cattle and money; <sup>49</sup>and he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, <sup>50</sup>The God of heaven shall prosper you, my children, before I die. <sup>51</sup>And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law; they are now thy parents; let me hear a good report of thee. And he kissed her. And Edna said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, dear brother, and grant to me that I may see thy children of my daughter Sarah, that I may rejoice before the Lord: and, behold, I commit my daughter unto thee in special trust: vex her not.

II <sup>1</sup>After these things Tobias also went his way, blessing God because he had prospered his journey; and he blessed Raguel and Edna his wife. And he went on his way till they drew near unto Nineveh. <sup>2</sup>And <sup>3</sup>Raphael said to Tobias, Knowest thou not, brother, how thou didst leave thy father? <sup>4</sup>Let us run forward before thy wife, and prepare the house. <sup>5</sup>But take in thy hand <sup>6</sup>the gall of the fish. And they went their way, and <sup>7</sup>the dog went after them. <sup>8</sup>And Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son. <sup>9</sup>And she espied him coming, and said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him. <sup>10</sup>And <sup>11</sup>Raphael said, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes. <sup>12</sup>Do thou therefore anoint his eyes with <sup>13</sup>the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and shall make the white films to fall away, and he shall see thee.

upon his neck. <sup>24</sup> And he wept, and said, <sup>25</sup> Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever, and blessed are all thy holy angels; <sup>26</sup> for thou didst scourge, and didst have mercy on me: behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.

<sup>27</sup> And Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineveh, rejoicing, and blessing God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight. <sup>28</sup> And Tobit gave thanks before them, because God had shewed mercy on him. And when Tobit came near to Sarah his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, <sup>29</sup> Welcome, daughter: blessed is God which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed are thy father and thy mother. And there was joy to all his brethren which were at Nineveh. <sup>30</sup> And <sup>31</sup> Achiasarus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came: <sup>32</sup> and Tobias' wedding feast was kept <sup>33</sup> seven days with great gladness.

I2 And Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, See, my child, that the man which went with thee have <sup>1</sup> his wages, and thou must give him more. <sup>2</sup> And he said unto him, Father, it is no harm to me to give him the half of <sup>3</sup> those things which I have brought: <sup>4</sup> for he hath led me for thee in safety, and he cured my wife, and brought my money, and likewise cured thee. <sup>5</sup> And the old man said, It is due unto him. <sup>6</sup> And he called the angel, and said unto him, Take the half of all that ye have brought. <sup>7</sup> Then he called them both privily, and said unto them,

Bless God, and give him thanks, and magnify him, and give him thanks in the sight of all that live, for the things which he hath done with you. <sup>8</sup> It is good to bless God and exalt his name, shewing forth with honour the works of God; and be not slack to give him thanks. <sup>9</sup> It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. <sup>10</sup> Do good, and evil shall not find you. <sup>11</sup> God is prayer with fasting and alms and righteousness. <sup>12</sup> A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. <sup>13</sup> It is better to give alms than to lay up gold: <sup>14</sup> for alms doth deliver from death, and it shall purge away all sin. They that do alms and righteousness shall be filled with life; <sup>15</sup> but <sup>16</sup> they that sin are enemies to their own life. <sup>17</sup> Surely I will keep close nothing from you. I have said, <sup>18</sup> It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but to reveal gloriously the works of God. <sup>19</sup> And now, <sup>20</sup> when thou didst pray, and <sup>21</sup> Sarah thy daughter in law, I did bring <sup>22</sup> the memorial of your prayer before the Holy One: and <sup>23</sup> when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise. <sup>24</sup> And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, that thou mightest go <sup>25</sup> and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee. <sup>26</sup> And now God did send me to heal thee and Sarah thy daughter in law. <sup>27</sup> I am <sup>28</sup> Raphael, one of the <sup>29</sup> seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and go in before the glory of the Holy One.

<sup>30</sup> And they were both troubled, and <sup>31</sup> fell upon their faces; for they were afraid. <sup>32</sup> And he said unto them, Be not afraid, ye shall have peace; but bless God for ever. <sup>33</sup> For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of your God I came; wherefore bless him for ever. <sup>34</sup> All these days did I appear unto you; and I did neither eat nor drink, but ye saw a vision. <sup>35</sup> And now give God thanks: because <sup>36</sup> I ascend to him that sent me: and write in a book all the things which have been done. <sup>37</sup> And they rose up, and saw him no more. <sup>38</sup> And they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

I3 And Tobit wrote a prayer for rejoicing, and said,

Blessed is God that liveth for ever,

And blessed is his kingdom.

He leadeth down to <sup>2</sup> the grave, and bringeth up again:

And there is none that shall escape his hand.

Because he is our Lord, And God is our Father for ever.

<sup>6</sup> And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will again shew mercy,

<sup>7</sup> And will gather us out of all the nations among whom ye are scattered.

<sup>8</sup> If ye turn to him with your whole heart and with your whole soul,

To do truth before him, Then will he turn unto you,

And will not hide his face from you. And see what he will do with you,

And give him thanks with your whole mouth,

And bless the Lord of righteousness, And exalt <sup>9</sup> the everlasting King.

I <sup>10</sup> in the land of my captivity give him thanks,

And shew his strength and majesty to a nation of sinners.

Turn, ye sinners, and do righteousness before him:

* Who can tell if he will accept you and have mercy on you?

7 I exalt my God,
And my soul doth exalt 'the King of heaven,

8 Let all men speak, and let them give him thanks 'in Jerusalem.

9 O Jerusalem, 'the holy city,
He will scourge thee for the works of thy sons,

And will again have mercy 'on the sons of the righteous.

10 Give thanks to the Lord with goodness,

And bless 'the everlasting King,
That his tabernacle may be builded

in thee again with joy,
And that he may make glad in thee

those that are captives,
And love in thee for ever those that are miserable.

11 * Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God

* With gifts in their hands, even gifts to 'the King of heaven;
Generations of generations shall praise thee,

And sing songs of rejoicing.

12 * Cursed are all they that hate thee;

* Blessed shall be all they that love thee for ever.

13 Rejoice and be exceeding glad for 'the sons of the righteous:

For they shall be gathered together and shall bless the Lord of the righteous.

14 O * blessed are they that love thee;
They shall rejoice for thy peace:

* Blessed are all they that sorrowed for all thy scourges:

Because they shall rejoice for thee,
When they have seen all thy glory;
And they shall be made glad for ever.

15 Let my soul bless God *the great King.

16 * For Jerusalem shall be builded with sapphires and emeralds and precious stones;

Thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.

17 And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of *Ophir.

18 * And all her streets shall say, Hallelujah, and give praise, Saying, Blessed is God, which hath exalted thee for ever.

* And Tobit made an end of giving thanks. * And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight; and after eight years he received it again: and he gave alms, and he feared the Lord God more and more, and gave thanks unto him.

3 Now he grew very old; and he called his son, and the six sons of his son, and said unto him,

My child, take thy sons: behold, I am grown old, and am ready to depart out of this life. 4 * Go into Media, my child, for I surely believe all the things which * Jonah the prophet spake of Nineveh, that it shall be overthrown, but in Media there shall rather be peace for a season;

and * that our brethren shall be scattered in the earth from the good land; and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned up, and shall be desolate for a time; and God shall again have mercy on them, and bring them back into the land, * and they shall build the house, but * not like to the former house, until the times of that age be fulfilled; and * afterward

they shall return from the places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem with honour, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, even as the prophets spake concerning it. 6 And * all the nations shall turn to fear the Lord God truly, * and shall bury their idols. 7 And all the nations shall bless the Lord, and his people shall give thanks unto God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all they that love the Lord God in truth and righteousness shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren. 8 And now, my child, depart from Nineveh, because those things which * the prophet Jonah spake shall surely come to pass. 9 But keep thou the law and the ordinances, and shew thyself merciful and righteous,

* that it may be well with thee. 10 And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; and dwell ye no longer at Nineveh.

See, my child, what Aman did to * Achicharus that nourished him, how * out of light he brought him into darkness, and all the recompense that he made him:

and * Achicharus was saved, but the other had his recompense, and he went down into darkness. 11 Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snare of death which he set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished. 12 And now, my children, * consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver.

And while he was saying these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed; but he was a hundred and eight and fifty years old; and * he buried him magnificently.

13 And when Anna died, * he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and his sons to * Ecbatana unto Raguel his father in law, * and he grew old in honour, and he buried his father and mother in law magnificently, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's. 14 And he died at * Ecbatana of Media, being a hundred and seven and twenty years old. 15 And before he died he heard of * the destruction of Nineveh, * which Nebuchadnezzar and Ahasuerus took captive; and before his death he rejoiced over Nineveh.

JUDITH.

Syria, that he would slay with his sword all the inhabitants of the land of <sup>15</sup>Moab, and the children of <sup>16</sup>Ammon, and all Judaea, and all that were in Egypt, until thou comest to the borders of <sup>17</sup>the two seas. <sup>18</sup>And he set the battle in array with his host against king <sup>19</sup>Arphaxad in the seventeenth year; and he prevailed in his battle, and turned to flight all the host of <sup>20</sup>Arphaxad, and all his horse, and all his chariots; <sup>21</sup>and he became master of his cities, and he came even unto <sup>22</sup>Ecbatana, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and <sup>23</sup>turned the beauty thereof into shame. <sup>24</sup>And he took <sup>25</sup>Arphaxad in the mountains of <sup>26</sup>Ragan, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly, unto this day. <sup>27</sup>And he returned with them to Nineveh, he and <sup>28</sup>all his company of sundry nations, an exceeding great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease and banqueted, he and his host, a hundred and twenty days.

them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth. <sup>10</sup> But thou shalt go forth, and take beforehand for me all their coats; and <sup>11</sup> if they shall yield themselves unto thee, then shalt thou reserve them for me till the day of their reproof. <sup>12</sup> But as for them that are disobedient, <sup>13</sup> I thine eye shall not spare; but thou shalt give them up to be slain and to be spoiled in all thy land. <sup>14</sup> For <sup>15</sup> as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, I have spoken, and I will do this with my hand. <sup>16</sup> And thou, moreover, shalt not transgress aught of the commandments of thy lord, but thou shalt surely accomplish them, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt not defer to do them. <sup>17</sup> And Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called all the governors and the captains and officers of the host of Asshur; <sup>18</sup> and he numbered chosen men for the battle, <sup>19</sup> as his lord had commanded him, unto a hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback; <sup>20</sup> and he ranged them, as a great multitude is ordered for the war. <sup>21</sup> And he took camels and asses and mules for their baggage, an exceeding great multitude; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision; <sup>22</sup> and great store of victual for every man, and exceeding much gold and silver out of the king's house. <sup>23</sup> And he went forth, he and all his host, on their journey, to go before king Nebuchadnezzar, and <sup>24</sup> to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots and horsemen and chosen footmen. <sup>25</sup> And a great company of sundry nations went forth with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for they could not be numbered by reason of their multitude. <sup>26</sup> And they departed out of Nineveh three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and encamped from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia. <sup>27</sup> And he took all his host, his footmen and horsemen and chariots, and went away from thence into the hill country, <sup>28</sup> and destroyed Put and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Ishmael, which were over against the wilderness to the south of the land of the Chellians. <sup>29</sup> And he went over Euphrates, and brake down all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, until thou comest to the sea. <sup>30</sup> And he took possession of the borders of Cilicia, and slew all that resisted him, and came unto the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia. <sup>31</sup> And he compassed about all the children of Midian, and set on fire their tents, and spoiled their sheepcotes. <sup>32</sup> And he went down into the plain of Damascus in the days of wheat harvest, and set on fire all their fields, and utterly destroyed their flocks and herds, and spoiled their cities, and laid their plains waste, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.

<sup>33</sup> And the fear and the dread of him fell upon them that dwell on the sea coast, upon them that were in Sidon and Tyre, and them that dwell in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwell in Jemnaan; and they that dwell in Azotus and Ascalon feared him exceedingly.

<sup>34</sup> And they sent unto him messengers with words of peace, saying, Behold, we the servants of Nebuchadnezzar the great king lie before thee: use us as it is pleasing in thy sight. <sup>35</sup> Behold, our dwellings, and all our country, and all our fields of wheat, and our flocks and herds, and all the sheepcotes of our tents, lie before thy face: use them as it may please thee. <sup>36</sup> Behold, even our cities and they that dwell in them are thy servants: come and deal with them as it is good in thine eyes. <sup>37</sup> And the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him according to these words.

<sup>38</sup> And he came down toward the sea coast, he and his host, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for allies. <sup>39</sup> And they received him, they and all the country round about them, with garlands and dances and timbrels. <sup>40</sup> And he cast down all their borders, and cut down their groves: and it had been given unto him to destroy all the gods of the land, that all the nations should worship Nebuchadnezzar only, and that all their tongues and their tribes should call upon him as god. <sup>41</sup> And he came towards Esdraelon nigh unto Dotæa, which is over against the great ridge of Judæa. <sup>42</sup> And he encamped between Geba and Scythopolis, and he was there a whole month, that he might gather together all the baggage of his host.

<sup>43</sup> And the children of Israel that dwell in Judæa heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nebuchadnezzar king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and destroyed them utterly. <sup>44</sup> And they were exceedingly afraid before him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God: <sup>45</sup> because they were newly come up from the captivity, and all the people of Judæa were lately gathered together; and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.

and Belmair, and Jericho, and to *Choba, and *Esora, and to the valley of Salem; 5th and they possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victual for the provision of war: 6th for their fields were newly reaped. 6th And *Joakim the high priest, which was in those days at Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in *Bethulia, and *Betomes-thaim, which is over against *Esdrælon toward the plain that is nigh unto *Do-thaim, 7 charging them to seize upon the ascents of the hill country; because by them was the entrance into Judæa, and it was easy to stop them from approaching, inasmuch as the approach was narrow, with space for two men at the most. 8th And the children of Israel did as *Joakim the high priest had commanded them, and the senate of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.

9th And every man of Israel cried to God with great earnestness, and with great earnestness did they humble their souls. 10th They, and their wives, and their babes, and their cattle, and every sojourner and hireling and servant bought with their money, put sackcloth upon their loins. 11th And every man and woman of Israel, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the Lord; and they put sackcloth about the altar: 12th and they cried to the God of Israel earnestly with one consent, that he would not give their babes for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, for the nations to rejoice at. 13th And the Lord heard their voice, and looked upon their affliction: and the people continued fasting many days in all Judæa and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty. 14th And *Joakim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they that ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt about with sackcloth, and offered the continual burnt offering, and the vows and the free gifts of the people; 15th and they had ashes on their mitres: and they cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel for good.

5th And it was told Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills, and had laid impediments in the plains: and he was exceeding wroth, and he called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of *Ammon, and all the governors of the sea coast, and he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Canaan, who is this people, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their host, and wherein is their power and their strength, and what king is set over them, to be the leader of their army; 4th and why have they turned their backs, that they should not come and meet me, more than all that dwell in the west.

5th And *Achior, the leader of all the children of Ammon, said unto him,

Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will tell thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth in this hill country, nigh unto the place where thou dwellest: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant. 6th This people are descended of the Chaldeans: 7th and they sojourned heretofore in *Mesopotamia, because they were not minded to follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of the Chaldeans. 8th And they departed from the way of their parents, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: and they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into *Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days. 9th And their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Canaan: and they dwelt there, and were increased with gold and silver, and with exceeding much cattle. 10th And they went down into Egypt, for a famine covered all the land of Canaan; and there they sojourned, until they were grown up; 11th and they became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation. 12th And the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low, making them to labour in brick, and made them slaves. 13th And they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: and the Egyptians cast them out of their sight. 14th And God dried up the Red sea before them, and brought them into the way of Sinai, and *Kadesh-Barnea, and they cast out all that dwelt in the wilderness. 15th And they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Heshbon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country. 16th And they cast out before them the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Jebusite, and the Shechemite, and all the Gergashites, and they dwelt in that country many days. 17th And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because God that hateth iniquity was with them. <sup>18</sup> But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and <sup>19</sup> were led captives into a land that was not theirs, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by their adversaries. <sup>20</sup> And now they are returned to their God, and are <sup>21</sup> come up from <sup>22</sup> the dispersion where they were dispersed, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country: for it was desolate. <sup>23</sup> And now, my lord and master, if there is any error in this people, and they sin against their God, we will consider what this thing is wherein they stumble, and we will go up and overcome them. <sup>24</sup> But if there is no lawlessness in their nation, let my lord now pass by, <sup>25</sup> lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we shall be a reproach before all the earth.

<sup>26</sup> And it came to pass, when <sup>27</sup> Achior had finished speaking these words, all the people that compassed the tent and stood round about it murmured; and the great men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt <sup>28</sup> by the sea side, and in <sup>29</sup> Moab, spake that he should kill him. <sup>30</sup> For, <sup>31</sup> said they, we will not be afraid of the children of Israel: <sup>32</sup> for, lo, it is a people that hath no power nor might to make the battle strong. <sup>33</sup> Wherefore now we will go up, and <sup>34</sup> they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army, lord Holofernes.

6 <sup>1</sup> And when the tumult of the men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the host of Asshur said unto <sup>2</sup> Achior and to all the children of <sup>3</sup> Moab before all the people of the aliens,

<sup>4</sup> And who art thou, <sup>5</sup> Achior, and <sup>6</sup> the hirelings of <sup>7</sup> Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied among us as to-day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the race of Israel. <sup>8</sup> because their God will defend them? <sup>9</sup> And who is God but Nebuchadnezzar? <sup>10</sup> He shall send forth his might, and shall destroy them from the face of the earth, and <sup>11</sup> their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants shall smite them <sup>12</sup> as one man; and they shall not sustain <sup>13</sup> the might of our horses. <sup>14</sup> For with them we shall burn them up, and their mountains <sup>15</sup> shall be drunken with their blood, and their plains <sup>16</sup> shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not stand before us, but they shall surely perish, saith king Nebuchadnezzar, <sup>17</sup> lord of all the earth: for he said, The words that <sup>18</sup> I have spoken shall not be in vain. <sup>19</sup> But thou, <sup>20</sup> Achior, <sup>21</sup> hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I shall be avenged of the race of those that came out of Egypt. <sup>6</sup> And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, <sup>7</sup> when I shall return. <sup>8</sup> And my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities <sup>9</sup> of the ascents: <sup>10</sup> and thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them. <sup>11</sup> And if thou hopest in thy heart that they shall not be taken, let not <sup>12</sup> thy countenance fall. I have spoken it, and none of my words <sup>13</sup> shall fall to the ground.

<sup>14</sup> And Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take <sup>15</sup> Achior, and bring him back to <sup>16</sup> Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel. <sup>17</sup> And his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they removed from the midst of the plain country into the hill country, and came unto <sup>18</sup> the fountains that were under <sup>19</sup> Bethulia. <sup>20</sup> And when the men of the city saw them on the top of the hill, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city against them to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up, and cast stones against them. <sup>21</sup> And they gat them privily under the hill, and bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and went away unto their lord. <sup>22</sup> But the children of Israel descended from their city, and came upon him, and loosed him, and led him away into <sup>23</sup> Bethulia, and presented him to the rulers of their city; <sup>24</sup> which were in those days <sup>25</sup> Ozias the son of Micah, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel. <sup>26</sup> And they called together all <sup>27</sup> the elders of the city; and all their young men ran together, and their women, to the assembly; and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. <sup>28</sup> And Ozias asked him of that which had happened: <sup>29</sup> and he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of the children of Asshur, <sup>30</sup> and all the great words that Holofernes had spoken against the house of Israel. <sup>31</sup> And the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried, saying, <sup>32</sup> O Lord <sup>33</sup> God of heaven, behold their arrogance, and pity the low estate of our race, and look upon the face of those <sup>34</sup> that are sanctified unto thee this day. <sup>35</sup> And they comforted Achior, and praised him exceedingly. <sup>36</sup> And Ozias took him out of the assembly into his house, and made a feast to the elders;

and they called on the God of Israel for help all that night.

7 But the next day Holofernes gave command to all his army, and to all his people which were come to be his allies, <sup>a</sup>that they should remove their camp toward <sup>r</sup>Bethulia, and take beforehand <sup>b</sup>the ascents of the hill country, and make war against the children of Israel. <sup>c</sup>And every mighty man of them removed that day, and the host of their men of war was <sup>e</sup>a hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and the men that were afoot among them, an exceeding great multitude. <sup>3</sup>And they encamped in the valley near unto <sup>r</sup>Bethulia, <sup>d</sup>by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over <sup>d</sup>Dothaim even to Belmain, and in length from <sup>r</sup>Bethulia unto Cyamon, which is over against <sup>r</sup>Esdraelon.

<sup>11</sup>And now, my lord, fight not against them as men fight who join battle, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish. <sup>12</sup>Remain in thy camp, and keep safe every man of thy host, and let thy servants get possession of <sup>d</sup>the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain: <sup>13</sup>because all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; and thirst shall kill them, and they shall give up their city: and we and our people will go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will encamp upon them, to watch that not one man go out of the city. <sup>14</sup>And they shall be consumed with famine, they and their wives and their children, and before the sword come against them they shall be laid low in the streets where they dwell. <sup>15</sup>And thou shalt render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy face in peace.

<sup>19</sup>And the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, for their spirit fainted; for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them. <sup>20</sup>And all the army of Asshur remained about them, their footmen and their chariots and their horsemen, four and thirty days; and all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of <sup>r</sup>Bethulia. <sup>21</sup>And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day: <sup>22</sup>for they gave them drink by measure. <sup>23</sup>And <sup>r</sup>their young children were out of heart, <sup>24</sup>and the women and the young men fainted for thirst, and they fell down in the streets of the city, and in the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them. <sup>25</sup>And all the people were gathered together against <sup>o</sup>Ozias, and against the rulers of the city, the young men and the women and the children, and they cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,

<sup>26</sup>God be judge between you and us: because ye have done us great wrong, in that ye have not spoken words of peace with the children of Asshur. <sup>27</sup>And now we have no helper: but God <sup>h</sup>hath sold us into their hands, that we should be laid low before them with thirst and great destruction. <sup>28</sup>And now call them unto you, and deliver up the whole city <sup>o</sup>for a prey to the people of Holofernes, and to all his host. <sup>29</sup>For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them: for we shall be servants, and <sup>o</sup>our souls shall live, and we shall not see the death of our babes before our eyes, and our wives and our children fainting in death.

8 ¶ And in those days Judith heard thereof, the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of Elkiah, the son of Ananias, the son of Gideon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Ahitub, the son of Elihu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Salamei, the son of Salasadaï, the son of Israel. 2 And her husband was Manasses, of her tribe and of her family, and he died in the days of barley harvest. 3 For he stood over them that bound sheaves in the field, and the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in his city Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field which is between Bethaim and Balamon. 4 And Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months. 5 And she made her a tent upon the roof of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins; and the garments of her widowhood were upon her. 6 And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons, and the feasts and joyful days of the house of Israel. 7 And she was of a goodly countenance, and exceeding beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants, and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them. 8 And there was none that gave her an evil word; for she feared God exceedingly.

9 And she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, because they fainted for lack of water; and Judith heard all the words that Ozias spake unto them, how he sware to them that he would deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days. 10 And she sent her maid, that was over all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the elders of her city.

11 And they came unto her, and she said unto them,

Hear me now, O ye rulers of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your word that ye have spoken before the people this day is not right, and ye have set the oath which ye have pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you. 2 And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men? 3 And now try the Lord Almighty, and ye shall never know anything. 4 ¶ For ye shall not find the depth of the heart of man, and ye shall not perceive the things that he thinketh: and how shall ye search out God, which hath made all these things, and know his mind, and comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger. 5 For if he be not minded to help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us in such time as he will, or to destroy us before the face of our enemies. 6 But do not ye pledge the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he should be threatened; neither as the son of man, that he should be turned by intreaty. 7 ¶ Wherefore let us wait for the salvation that cometh from him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him. 8 For there arose none in our age, neither is there any of us to-day, tribe, or kindred, or family, or city, which worship gods made with hands, as it was in the former days; 9 for the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and fell with a great fall before our enemies. 10 But we know none other god beside him, wherefore we hope that he will not despise us, nor any of our race. 11 For if we be taken so, all Judaea shall sit upon the ground, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and of our blood shall he require the profanation thereof. 12 And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the land, and the desolation of our inheritance, shall he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, whosoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach before them that take us for a possession. 13 For our bondage shall not be ordered to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour. 14 And now, brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their soul hangeth upon us, and the sanctuary and the house and the altar rest upon us. 15 Besides all this let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers also. 16 Remember all the things which he did to Abraham, and all the things in which he tried Isaac, and all the things which happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother. <sup>27</sup> For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, to search out their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us; <sup>1</sup> but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.

<sup>28</sup> And <sup>29</sup> Ozias said to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that shall gainsay thy words. <sup>29</sup> For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thine understanding, because the disposition of thy heart is good. <sup>30</sup> But the people were exceeding thirsty, and compelled us to do as we spake to them, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break. <sup>31</sup> And now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord shall send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more. <sup>32</sup> And Judith said unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go down to all generations among the children of our race. <sup>33</sup> Ye shall stand at the gate this night, and I will go forth with my maid: and, within the days after which ye said that ye would deliver the city to our enemies, the Lord shall visit Israel by my hand. <sup>34</sup> But ye shall not inquire of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do. <sup>35</sup> And <sup>36</sup> Ozias and the rulers said unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies. <sup>36</sup> And they returned from the tent, and went to their stations.

O Lord God of my father Simeon, vnto whose hand thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a virgin to defile her, and uncovered the thigh to her shame, and profaned the womb to her reproach; <sup>2</sup> for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and they did so: <sup>3</sup> wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, and their bed, <sup>4</sup> which was ashamed for her that was deceived, to be dyed in blood, and smoted the servants with their lorde, and the lords upon their thrones; <sup>4</sup> and gavest their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with zeal for thee, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also that am a widow. <sup>5</sup> For thou wroughtest the things that were before those things, and those things, and such as ensued after; and thou didst devise the things which are now, and the things which are to come: and the things which thou didst devise came to pass; <sup>6</sup> yea, the things which thou didst determine stood before thee, and said, Lo, we are here: <sup>6</sup> for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgement is with foreknowledge. <sup>7</sup> For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; <sup>8</sup> they are exalted with horse and rider; they have gloried in the <sup>9</sup> strength of their footmen; <sup>9</sup> they have trusted in shield and spear and bow and sling; and they know not that thou art <sup>10</sup> the Lord that breaketh the battles: the Lord is thy name. <sup>11</sup> Dash thou down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to profane thy sanctuary, and to defile the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth, and to cast down with the sword <sup>12</sup> the horn of thine altar. <sup>13</sup> Look upon their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into my hand, which am a widow, the might that I have conceived. <sup>14</sup> Smithe by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with his servant: break down their stateliness <sup>15</sup> by the hand of a woman. <sup>16</sup> For thy power standeth not in multitude, nor thy might in strong men: but thou art a God of the afflicted, thou art a helper of the <sup>17</sup> oppressed, an upholder of the weak, <sup>18</sup> a protector of the forlorn, <sup>19</sup> a saviour of them that are without hope. <sup>20</sup> Yea, yea, God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and of the earth, Creator of the waters, King <sup>21</sup> of every creature, hear thou my prayer: <sup>22</sup> and make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, <sup>23</sup> who have purposed hard things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and the top of Sion, and the house of the possession of thy children. <sup>24</sup> And make every nation and tribe of thine to know that thou art God, <sup>25</sup> the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the race of Israel but thou.

IO And it came to pass, when she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and had made an end of all these words, <sup>2</sup> that she rose up <sup>3</sup> where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house, <sup>4</sup> in the which she was wont to abide on the sabbath days and on her feast days, and pulled off the sackcloth which she had put on, and put off <sup>5</sup> the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body

And Judith went out, she, and her handmaid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, until she had passed the valley, and they could see her no more. <sup>14</sup>And they went straight onward in the valley: and <sup>15</sup>the watch of the Assyrians met her; <sup>16</sup>and they took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a daughter of the Hebrews, and I flee away from their presence; <sup>17</sup>because they are about to be given you to be consumed: <sup>18</sup>and I am coming into the presence of Holofernes the chief captain of your host, to declare words of truth; and I will shew before him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, and there shall not be lacking of his men one person, nor one life. <sup>19</sup>Now when the men heard her words, and considered her countenance, <sup>20</sup>the beauty thereof was exceeding marvellous in their eyes, and they said unto her, <sup>21</sup>Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hastened to come down to the presence of our lord: and now come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they shall deliver thee into his hands. <sup>22</sup>But <sup>23</sup>when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but declare unto him according to thy words; and he shall entreat thee well. <sup>27</sup>And they chose out of them a hundred men, and appointed them to accompany her and her maid; and they brought them to the tent of Holofernes.

<sup>28</sup>And there was a concourse throughout all the camp, for her coming was noised among the tents; and they came and compassed her about, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, until they told him of her. <sup>29</sup><sup>30</sup>And they marvelled at her beauty, and marvelled at the children of Israel because of her, and each one said to his neighbour, Who shall despise this people, that have among them such women? for it is not good that one man of them be left, seeing that, if they are let go, they shall be able to deceive the whole earth. <sup>31</sup>And they that lay near Holofernes, and all his servants, went forth <sup>32</sup>and brought her into the tent. <sup>33</sup>And Holofernes was resting upon his bed <sup>34</sup>under the canopy, <sup>35</sup>which was woven with purple and gold and emeralds and precious stones. <sup>36</sup>And they told him of her; and he came forth into the space before his tent, with silver lamps going before him. <sup>37</sup>But when Judith was come before him and his servants, they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and <sup>38</sup>she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants raised her up.

II Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thy heart: for I never hurt any that hath chosen to serve Nebuchadnezzar, <sup>2</sup>the king of all the earth. <sup>3</sup>And now, if thy people that dwelleth in the hill country <sup>4</sup>had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves. <sup>5</sup>And now tell me wherefore thou didst flee from them, and camest unto us: for thou art come to save thyself; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter: <sup>6</sup>for there is none that shall wrong thee, but all shall entreat thee well, as is done unto the servants of king Nebuchadnezzar my lord. <sup>7</sup>And Judith said unto him,

Receive the words of thy servant, and let thy handmaid speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie unto my lord this night. <sup>8</sup>And if thou shalt follow the words of thy handmaid, God shall bring the thing to pass perfectly with thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes. <sup>9</sup><sup>10</sup>As Nebuchadnezzar <sup>11</sup>king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the preservation of every living thing, not only do men serve him by thee, <sup>12</sup>but also the beasts of the field and the cattle and the birds of the heaven shall live through thy strength, in the time of Nebuchadnezzar and of all his house. <sup>8</sup>For we have heard of thy wisdom and the subtil devices of thy soul, and it hath been reported in all the earth, that thou only art brave in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war. <sup>9</sup>And now as concerning the matter, which <sup>a</sup>Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words: for the men of <sup>b</sup>Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken before thee. <sup>10</sup>Wherefore, O lord and master, neglect not <sup>c</sup>his word; but lay it up in thy heart, for it is true: for our race shall not be punished, neither shall the sword prevail against them, except they sin against thy God. <sup>11</sup>And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, and that death may fall upon them, their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they shall <sup>d</sup>provoke their God to anger, whensoever they shall do wickedness. <sup>12</sup>Since their victuals failed them, <sup>e</sup>and all their water was scant, <sup>f</sup>they took counsel to lay hands upon their cattle, and determined to consume all those things, which God charged them by his laws that they should not eat: <sup>13</sup>and they are resolved to spend <sup>g</sup>the firstfruits of the corn, and the tenths of the wine and the oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that stand before the face of our God in Jerusalem; the which things it is not fitting for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands. <sup>14</sup>And they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done this thing, to bring them a licence from <sup>h</sup>the senate. <sup>15</sup>And it shall be, when one shall bring them word, and they shall do it, they shall be given thee to be destroyed the same day. <sup>16</sup>Wherefore I thy servant, knowing all this, fled away from their presence; and God sent me to work things with thee, wherat all the earth shall be astonished, even as many as shall hear it. <sup>17</sup>For thy servant is religious, and serveth <sup>i</sup>the God of heaven <sup>j</sup>day and night: and now, my lord, I will abide with thee, and thy servant will go forth by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he shall tell me when they have committed their sins: <sup>18</sup>and I will come and shew it also unto thee; and thou shalt go forth with all thy host, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee. <sup>19</sup>And I will lead thee through the midst of Judaea, until thou comest over against Jerusalem; and I will set thy seat in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them <sup>k</sup>as sheep that have no shepherd, and <sup>l</sup>a dog shall not so much as open his mouth before thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and were declared unto me, and I was sent to tell thee.

I2 <sup>24</sup>And he commanded to bring her in where <sup>o</sup>his silver vessels were set, and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine. <sup>25</sup>And Judith said, <sup>p</sup>I will not eat thereof, lest there be an occasion of stumbling: but provision shall be made for me <sup>q</sup>of the things that are come with me. <sup>26</sup>And Holofernes said unto her, But if the things that be with thee should fail, whence shall we be able to give thee the like? for there is none of thy race with us. <sup>27</sup>And Judith said unto him, <sup>r</sup>As thy soul liveth, my lord, thy servant shall not spend those things that be with me, <sup>s</sup>until the Lord work by my hand the things that he hath determined. <sup>28</sup>And the servants of Holofernes <sup>t</sup>brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she rose up toward the morning watch, <sup>29</sup>and sent to Holofernes, saying, Let my lord now command that they suffer thy servant to go forth <sup>u</sup>unto prayer. <sup>30</sup>And Holofernes commanded his guards that they should not stay her: and she abode in the camp three days, and went out every night into the valley of <sup>v</sup>Bethulia, and washed herself <sup>w</sup>at the fountain of water in the camp. <sup>31</sup>And when she came up, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way <sup>x</sup>to the raising up of the children of his people. <sup>32</sup>And she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she took her meat toward evening.

<sup>33</sup>And it came to pass <sup>y</sup>on the fourth day, Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet. <sup>34</sup>And he said to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us. <sup>35</sup>For, lo, it is a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she shall laugh us to scorn. <sup>36</sup>And Bagoas went from the presence of Holofernes, and came in to her, and said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and to drink wine and be merry with us, and to be made this day as one of the daughters of the children of Asshur, which wait in the house of Nebuchadnezzar. <sup>14</sup>And Judith said unto him, And who am I, that I should gainsay my lord? for whatsoever shall be pleasing in his eyes I will do speedily, and this shall be my joy unto the day of my death. <sup>15</sup>And she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire; and her servant went and laid fleeces on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them. <sup>16</sup>And Judith came in and sat down, and <sup>17</sup>Holofernes' heart was ravished with her, and his soul was moved, and he desired exceedingly her company: and he was watching for a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her. <sup>17</sup>And Holofernes said unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us. <sup>18</sup>And Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born. <sup>19</sup>And she took and ate and drank before him <sup>20</sup>what her servant had prepared. <sup>20</sup>And Holofernes took great delight in her, <sup>21</sup>and drank exceedingly much wine, more than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

13 <sup>1</sup>But when the evening was come, <sup>2</sup>his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut the tent without, and dismissed them that waited from the presence of his lord; <sup>3</sup>and they went away to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long. <sup>4</sup>But Judith was left alone in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: <sup>5</sup>for he was overflown with wine. <sup>6</sup>And Judith had said to her servant that she should stand without her bedchamber, and wait for her coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth <sup>7</sup>to her prayer; and she spake to Bagoas according to the same words. <sup>8</sup>And all went away from her presence, and none was left in the bedchamber, neither small nor great. And Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord God <sup>9</sup>of all power, look in this hour upon the works of my hands <sup>10</sup>for the exaltation of Jerusalem. <sup>11</sup>For now is the time to help thee inheritance, and to do <sup>12</sup>the thing that I have purposed to the destruction of the enemies which are risen up against us. <sup>13</sup>And she came to the rail of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down <sup>14</sup>his scimitar from thence; <sup>15</sup>and she drew near unto the bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day. <sup>16</sup>And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and <sup>17</sup>took away his head from him, <sup>18</sup>and tumbled his body down from the bed, and took down <sup>19</sup>the canopy from the pillars; and after a little while she went forth, and gave Holofernes' head to her maid; <sup>20</sup>and she put it in <sup>21</sup>her bag of victuals: and they twain went forth together unto prayer, according to their custom: and they passed through the camp, and compassed that valley, and went up to the mountain of <sup>22</sup>Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.

<sup>23</sup>And Judith said afar off to the watchmen at the gates, Open, open now the gate: God is with us, even our God, to shew his power yet in Israel, and his might against the enemy, as he hath done even this day. <sup>24</sup>And it came to pass, when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called together <sup>25</sup>the elders of the city. <sup>26</sup>And they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: and they opened the gate, and received them, making a fire to give light, and compassed them round about. <sup>27</sup>And she said to them with a loud voice, Praise God, praise him: praise God, <sup>28</sup>who hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by my hand this night. <sup>29</sup>And she took forth the head out of <sup>30</sup>the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, Behold, the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the host of Asshur, and behold, <sup>31</sup>the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord smote him <sup>32</sup>by the hand of a woman. <sup>33</sup>And <sup>34</sup>as the Lord liveth, who preserved me in my way that I went, my countenance deceived him to his destruction, and he did not commit sin with me, to defile and shame me. <sup>35</sup>And all the people were exceedingly amazed, and <sup>36</sup>bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed art thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people. <sup>37</sup>And Ozias said unto her, <sup>38</sup>Blessed art thou, daughter, in the sight of the Most High God, above all the women upon the earth; and blessed is the Lord God, who created the heavens and the earth, who directed thee to the smiting of the head of the prince of our enemies. <sup>39</sup>For thy hope shall not depart from the heart of men that remember the strength of God for ever. <sup>40</sup>And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee with good things, because thou didst not spare thy life by reason of the affliction of our race, but didst avenge our fall, walking a straight way before our God. <sup>41</sup>And all the people said, So be it, so be it.

shall be, so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, ye shall take up every one his weapons of war, and go forth every valiant man of you out of the city, and ye shall set a captain over them, as though ye would go down to the plain toward <sup>1</sup>the watch of the children of Asshur; and ye shall not go down. <sup>3</sup>And these shall take up their panoplies, and shall go into their camp, and rouse up the captains of the host of Asshur, and they shall run together to the tent of Holofernes, and they shall not find him: <sup>4</sup>and fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face. <sup>4</sup>And ye, and all that inhabit every coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go. <sup>5</sup>But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and <sup>6</sup>that sent him to us, as it were to death.

it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the threshold dead, and his head had been taken from him. <sup>20</sup>And he cried with a loud voice, with weeping and groaning and a mighty cry, and <sup>21</sup>rent his garments. <sup>22</sup>And he entered into the tent where Judith lodged: and he found her not, and he leaped out to the people, and cried aloud, <sup>23</sup>The slaves have dealt treacherously: one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nebuchadnezzar; for, behold, Holofernes <sup>24</sup>lieth upon the ground, and his head is not on him. <sup>25</sup>But when the rulers of the host of Asshur heard the words, <sup>26</sup>they rent their coats, and their soul was troubled exceedingly, and there was a cry and an exceeding great noise in the midst of the camp.

15 <sup>1</sup>And when they that were in the tents heard, they were amazed at the thing that was come to pass. <sup>2</sup>And trembling and fear fell upon them, and no man durst abide any more in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out with one accord, they fled into every way of the plain and of the hill country. <sup>3</sup>And they that had encamped in the hill country round about <sup>4</sup>Bethulia fled away. And then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them. <sup>5</sup>And Ozias sent to <sup>6</sup>Betomasthaim, and Bebai, and <sup>7</sup>Chobai, and Chola, and to every coast of Israel, such as should tell concerning the things that had been accomplished, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them. <sup>8</sup>But when the children of Israel heard, they all fell upon them with one accord, and smote them unto <sup>9</sup>Chobai: <sup>10</sup>yea, and in like manner also they of Jerusalem and of all the hill country came (for men had told them what things were come to pass in the camp of their enemies), and they that were in <sup>11</sup>Gilead and in <sup>12</sup>Galilee fell upon their flank with a great slaughter, until they were past <sup>13</sup>Damascus and the borders thereof. <sup>14</sup>But the residue, that dwelt at <sup>15</sup>Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Asshur, and spoiled them, and were enriched exceedingly. <sup>16</sup>But the children of Israel returned from the slaughter, and gat possession of that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the hill country and in the plain country, took many spoils: for there was an exceeding great store.

<sup>17</sup>And <sup>18</sup>Joakim the high priest, and <sup>19</sup>the senate of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things which the Lord had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her. <sup>20</sup>But when they came unto her, they all blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art <sup>21</sup>the

and they blessed her, and <sup>15</sup>made a dance among them for her; and she took <sup>16</sup>branches in her hand, and gave to the women that were with her. <sup>17</sup>And they made themselves garlands of olive, she and they that were with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, <sup>18</sup>leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour <sup>19</sup>with garlands, and with songs in their mouths. 16 <sup>1</sup>And Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang with loud voices this song of praise. <sup>2</sup>And Judith said, <sup>3</sup>Begin unto my God with <sup>4</sup>timbrels, Sing unto my Lord with cymbals: Tune unto him psalm and praise: Exalt him, and call upon his name. <sup>5</sup>For the Lord is the God that breaketh the battles: <sup>6</sup>For in his armies in the midst of the people He delivered me out of the hand of them that persecuted me. <sup>7</sup>Asshur came out of the mountains from the north, <sup>8</sup>He came with ten thousands of his host, The multitude whereof stopped the torrents, And their horsemen covered the hills. <sup>9</sup>He said that he would burn up my borders, And kill my young men with the sword, <sup>10</sup>And throw my sucking children to the ground, And give mine infants for a prey, And make my virgins a spoil. <sup>11</sup>The Almighty Lord brought them to nought <sup>12</sup>by the hand of a woman. <sup>13</sup>For their mighty one did not fall by young men, Neither did sons of <sup>14</sup>the Titans smite him, Nor did <sup>15</sup>high giants set upon him: But Judith <sup>16</sup>the daughter of Merari made him weak with the beauty of her countenance. <sup>17</sup>For she put off the apparel of her widowhood <sup>18</sup>For the exaltation of those that were distressed in Israel,	She anointed her face with ointment, And bound her hair in a tire, And took a linen garment to deceive him. <sup>9</sup>Her sandal ravished his eye, And her beauty took his soul prisoner: <sup>10</sup>The scimitar passed through his neck. <sup>11</sup>The Persians quaked at her daring, And <sup>12</sup>the Medes were daunted at her boldness. <sup>13</sup>Then my lowly ones shouted aloud, And my weak ones were terrified and crouched for fear: They lifted up their voice, and they were turned to flight. <sup>14</sup>The sons of damsels pierced them through, And wounded them as runagates' children; They perished <sup>15</sup>by the battle of my Lord. <sup>16</sup>I will sing unto my God a new song: <sup>17</sup>O Lord, thou art great and glorious, Marvellous in strength, invincible. <sup>18</sup>Let all thy creation serve thee: <sup>19</sup>For thou spakest, and they were made, Thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it builded them, And there is none that shall resist thy voice. <sup>20</sup>For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, And the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: <sup>21</sup>But thou art yet merciful to them that fear thee. <sup>22</sup>For all sacrifice is little for <sup>23</sup>a sweet savour, And all the fat is very little for a whole burnt offering to thee: But he that feareth the Lord is <sup>24</sup>great continually. <sup>25</sup>Woe to the nations that rise up against my race: <sup>26</sup>The Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgement, <sup>27</sup>To put fire and worms in their flesh; And they shall weep and feel their pain for ever. <sup>28</sup>Now when they came to Jerusalem, they worshipped God; and when the people were purified, they offered their whole burnt offerings, and their freewill offerings, and their gifts. <sup>29</sup>And Judith dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave <sup>30</sup>the canopy, which she had taken for herself out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord. <sup>31</sup>And the people continued feasting in Jerusalem <sup>32</sup>before the sanctuary for the space of three months, and Judith remained with them. <sup>33</sup>But after these days every one departed to his own inheritance, and Judith	<sup>10</sup> ch. 14. 4 8. of 8. 7. 1 <sup>12</sup> ch. 12. 6 <sup>17</sup> ch. 1. 7 <sup>18</sup> ch. 1. 1 <sup>16</sup> Cp. 1 Sam. 17. 47 2 Chr. 20. 18 <sup>17</sup> Ps. 96. 1 98. 1 <sup>18</sup> Cp. PART OF THE TENTH CHAPTER
AFTER THE GREEK.

IO <sup>4</sup>Then Mardocheus said, These things are of God. <sup>5</sup>For I remember the dream <sup>6</sup>which I saw concerning these matters, and nothing thereof hath failed. <sup>6</sup>As for the little fountain that became a river, and there was light, and the sun, and much water, the river is Esther, whom the king married, and made queen: <sup>7</sup>and the two dragons are I and Aman: <sup>8</sup>and the nations are those that were assembled <sup>9</sup>to destroy the name of the Jews: <sup>9</sup>and my nation, this is Israel, which cried to God, and were saved: for the Lord hath saved his people, and the Lord hath delivered us from all these evils, and <sup>10</sup>God hath wrought signs and great wonders, which have not been done among the nations. <sup>10</sup><sup>d</sup>Therefore hath he made two lots, one for the people of God, and another for all the nations. <sup>11</sup>And these two lots came at the hour, and time, and day of judgement, before God among all the nations. <sup>12</sup>So God remembered his people, and justified his inheritance. <sup>13</sup>Therefore these days shall be unto them in the month Adar, the fourteenth and fifteenth day of the month, with an assembly, and joy, and with gladness before God, throughout the generations for ever among his people Israel.

II <sup>1</sup>In the fourth year of the reign of <sup>2</sup>Ptolemy and Cleopatra, Dositheus, who said he was a priest and Levite, and Ptolemy his son, brought <sup>3</sup>the epistle of Phrurai <sup>4</sup>here set forth, which they said was the same, and that Lysimachus the son of Ptolemy, that was in Jerusalem, had interpreted it.

were about to lay hands upon Artaxerxes the king; *and he certified the king of them. 3<sup>d</sup> Then the king examined the two eunuchs, and after that they had confessed it, they were led to execution. 4<sup>d</sup> And the king wrote these things for a memorial; *Mardocheus also wrote concerning these things. 5 So the king commanded Mardocheus to serve in the court, and for this he gave him gifts. 6 Howbeit Aman the son of Amadathus, *a Bugean, who was in great honour with the king, *sought to molest Mardocheus and his people because of the two eunuchs of the king.

13<sup>d</sup> Now this is the copy of the letter: *The great king Artaxerxes writeth these things to the princes of *a hundred and seven and twenty provinces from India unto Ethiopia, and to the governors that are set under them. *After that I became lord over many nations, and *had dominion over the whole world, not lifted up with presumption of my authority, but carrying myself always with equity and mildness. *I purposed to settle my subjects continually in a quiet life, and making my kingdom peaceable, and open for passage to the utmost coasts, to renew peace, which is desired of all men. 3 Now when I asked my counsellors how this might be brought to pass, Aman, that excelled in wisdom among us, and was approved for his constant good will and steadfast fidelity, and *had the honour of the second place in the kingdom, 4 declared unto us, that in all nations throughout the world <sup>b</sup>there was scattered a certain malignant people, that had laws contrary to all nations, and continually set aside the commandments of kings, so as the uniting of our kingdoms, honourably intended by us, cannot go forward. 5 Seeing then we understand that this nation is alone continually in opposition unto all men, following perversely a life which is strange to our laws, and evil affected to our state, working all the mischief they can, that our kingdom may not be firmly established: 6 therefore have we commanded, that they that are signified in writing unto you by Aman, who is ordained over the affairs, *and is a second father unto us, shall all, with their wives and children, be utterly destroyed by the sword of their enemies, without all mercy and pity, 7 the fourteenth day of the twelfth month Adar of this present year: 7 that they, who of old and now also are malicious, may in one day with violence go down to 8 the grave, and so ever hereafter cause our affairs to be well settled, and without trouble.

8<sup>d</sup> Then Mardocheus made his prayer unto the Lord, calling to remembrance all the works of the Lord, 9 and said, O Lord, thou King Almighty: *for the whole world is in thy power, and if it be thy will to save Israel, there is no man that can gainsay thee: 10 for thou hast made heaven and earth, and all the wondrous things that are beneath the heaven; 11 and thou art Lord of all, and there is no man that can resist thee, which art the Lord. 12 Thou knowest all things, and thou knowest, Lord, that it was neither in contempt nor pride, nor for any desire of glory, that 13 I did not bow down to proud Aman. 13<sup>d</sup> For I could have been content with good will for the salvation of Israel to kiss the soles of his feet. 14 But I did this, that I might not prefer the glory of man above the glory of God: neither will I bow down unto any but to thee, which art my Lord, neither will I do it in pride. 15 And now, O Lord, thou God and King, *the God of Abraham, *spare thy people: for their eyes are upon us to bring us to nought, and they desire to destroy 16 the heritage, that hath been thine from the beginning. 16<sup>d</sup> Despise not thy portion, which thou didst redeem out of the land of Egypt for thine own self. 17 Hear my prayer, and be merciful unto thine inheritance: *and turn our mourning into feasting, that we may live, O Lord, and sing praises to thy name: and destroy not 18 the mouth of them that praise thee, O Lord.

18<sup>d</sup> And all Israel cried out mightily, because their death was before their eyes. 19 Queen Esther also, being seized as it were with the agony of death, resorted unto the Lord: *and laid away her glorious apparel, and put on the garments of anguish and mourning: and instead of the most excellent ointments, 20 she covered her head with ashes and dung, and she humbled her body greatly, and all the places of the ornaments of her joy she covered with her tangled hair. 3 And she prayed unto the Lord, the God of Israel, saying, O my Lord, thou only art our King: help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee: 4 for my danger is in mine hand. 5 From my youth up I have heard in the tribe of my family, that thou, O Lord, tookest Israel from among all the nations, and *our fathers from all their progenitors, for a perpetual inheritance, and didst perform for them whatsoever thou didst promise. 6 And now we have sinned before thee, *and thou hast given us into the hands of our enemies, 7 because we glorified their gods: *O Lord, thou art righteous. 8 Nevertheless it satisfieth them not, that we are in bitter captivity: but *they have stricken hands with their idols, <sup>9</sup> that they will abolish the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordained, and destroy thine inheritance, and stop <sup>10</sup> the mouth of them that praise thee, and quench the glory of thy house, and thine altar, <sup>11</sup> and open the mouths of the heathen to set forth the virtues of <sup>12</sup> idols, and <sup>13</sup> that a fleshly king shall be magnified for ever. <sup>14</sup> O Lord, give not thy sceptre unto them <sup>15</sup> that be nothing, and let them not laugh at our fall; <sup>16</sup> but turn their device upon themselves, and make him an example, that hath begun this against us. <sup>17</sup> Remember, O Lord, make thyself known in the time of our affliction, and give me boldness, O <sup>18</sup> King of the gods, and holder of all dominion. <sup>19</sup> Give me eloquent speech in my mouth <sup>20</sup> before the lion: and turn his heart to hate him that fighteth against us, that there may be an end of him, and of them that are likeminded with him: <sup>21</sup> but deliver us with thine hand, and help me that am desolate and have no other helper but thee, O Lord. <sup>22</sup> Thou hast knowledge of all things; and thou knowest that I hate the glory of the wicked, and abhor the bed of the uncircumcised, and of every alien. <sup>23</sup> Thou knowest my necessity: that I abhor the sign of my high estate, <sup>24</sup> which is upon mine head in the days wherein I shew myself. I abhor it <sup>25</sup> as a menstuous rag, and I wear it not when I am private by myself. <sup>26</sup> And thine handmaid / hath not eaten at Aman's table, neither have I honoured the king's feast, nor <sup>27</sup> drunk the wine of the drink offerings. <sup>28</sup> Neither had thine handmaid any joy since the day that I was brought hither to this present, but in thee, O Lord, thou God of Abraham. <sup>29</sup> O God, that art mighty above all, <sup>30</sup> hear the voice of the forlorn, and deliver us out of the hands of the mischievous, and deliver me out of my fear.

countenance that was flushed with glory, he looked upon her in fierce anger: <sup>11</sup> and the queen fell down, and turned pale, and fainted, and she bowed herself upon the head of the maid that went before. <sup>12</sup> Then God changed the spirit of the king into mildness, who in an agony leaped from his throne, and took her in his arms, till she came to herself again, and comforted her with soothing words, and said unto her, <sup>13</sup> Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheer: <sup>14</sup> thou shalt not die, for <sup>15</sup> our commandment is for our subjects: come near. <sup>16</sup> So he held up his golden sceptre, and laid it upon her neck, <sup>17</sup> and embraced her, and said, Speak unto me. <sup>18</sup> Then said she unto him, I saw thee, my lord, <sup>19</sup> as an angel of God, and my heart was troubled for fear of thy glory. <sup>20</sup> For wonderful art thou, my lord, and thy countenance is full of grace. <sup>21</sup> And as she was speaking, she fell down for faintness. <sup>22</sup> Then the king was troubled, and all his servants comforted her. <sup>23</sup>

received of us, <sup>12</sup> had so far forth obtained the favour that we shew toward every nation, as that he was called <sup>13</sup> our father, and was continually honoured of all men, <sup>14</sup> as the next person unto the royal throne. <sup>15</sup> But he, not bearing his high estate, went about to deprive us of our kingdom and our life; <sup>16</sup> having by manifold and cunning deceits sought of us the destruction, as well of Mardocheus, who saved our life, and continually procured our good, as also of Esther the blameless partaker of our kingdom, together with their whole nation. <sup>17</sup> For by these means he thought, finding us destitute of friends, to have translated the kingdom of the Persians to the Macedonians. <sup>18</sup> But we find that the Jews, whom this most ungracious wretch hath delivered to utter destruction, are no evil-doers, but live by most just laws: <sup>19</sup> and that they be children of <sup>20</sup> the most high and most mighty living God, who hath ordered the kingdom both unto us and to our progenitors in the most excellent manner. <sup>21</sup> Wherefore ye shall do well not to put in execution the letters <sup>22</sup> sent unto you by Aman the son of Amadathus. <sup>23</sup> For he, that was the worker of these things, <sup>24</sup> is hanged at the gates of <sup>25</sup> Susa <sup>26</sup> with all his family: God, who ruleth all things, speedily rendering vengeance to him according to his deserts. <sup>27</sup> Therefore ye shall publish openly the copy of this letter in all places, and let the Jews live after their own laws, <sup>28</sup> and ye shall aid them, that even the same day, <sup>29</sup> being the thirteenth day of the twelfth month Adar, they may defend themselves against those who set upon them in the time of their affliction. <sup>30</sup> For Almighty God hath made this day to be a joy unto them, instead of the destruction of the chosen people. <sup>31</sup> And ye shall therefore among your commemorative feasts keep it a high day with all feasting: <sup>32</sup> that both now and hereafter there may be safety to us, and the well affected Persians; but to those which do conspire against us a memorial of destruction. <sup>33</sup> Therefore every city or country whatsoever, which shall not do according to these things, shall be utterly destroyed without mercy with <sup>34</sup> fire and sword; it shall be made not only unpassable for men, <sup>35</sup> but also most hateful to wild beasts and fowls for ever.

Think ye of the Lord <sup>2</sup> with a good mind,
And in singleness of heart seek ye him;
<sup>3</sup> Because he is found of them that tempt him not,
And <sup>4</sup> is manifested to them that do not distrust him.
And the supreme Power, when it is brought to the proof, <sup>6</sup> putteth to confusion the foolish:
<sup>7</sup> Because wisdom will not enter into a soul that deviseth evil,
Nor dwell in a body that is held in pledge by sin.
<sup>8</sup> For a holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit,
And will start away <sup>9</sup> from thoughts that are without understanding,
And will be <sup>10</sup> put to confusion when unrighteousness hath come in.

And she will not hold a <sup>13</sup> blasphemer guiltless for his lips;
Because <sup>14</sup> God beareth witness of his reins,
And is a true overseer of his heart,
And <sup>15</sup> a hearer of his tongue:
And that <sup>19</sup> which holdeth all things together hath knowledge of every voice.
<sup>20</sup> Therefore no man that uttereth unrighteous things shall be unseen;
<sup>22</sup> For in the midst of his counsels the ungodly shall be searched out;
And the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord
To bring to conviction his lawless deeds:
<sup>23</sup> Because there is an ear of <sup>24</sup> jealousy that listeneth to all things,

Pa. 2. 6.
/ ch. 3. 3.	6 For children unlawfully begotten are witnesses of wickedness Against parents when God searcheth them out.	30 They shall come, <sup>s</sup> when their sins are reckoned up, with coward fear; And <sup>t</sup> their lawless deeds shall convict them to their face.	/ Cp. Jer. 2. 19.

/ See Iml. 6. 8.	13 Being made perfect in a little while, he fulfilled long <sup>2</sup> years;	7 We <sup>a</sup> took our fill of the paths of lawlessness and destruction, And we journeyed <sup>a</sup> through trackless deserts,	/ Cp. ch. 2. 18, 18.

	<sup>13</sup> So we also, as soon as we were born, <sup>1</sup> ceased to be ; And of virtue we had no sign to shew, But in our wickedness we were utterly consumed.	<sup>2</sup> Give ear, ye that have dominion over much people, And make your boast <sup>5</sup> in multitudes of nations.

19 The circuits of years and the <sup>10</sup>positions of stars;

20 <sup>P</sup>The natures of living creatures and the ragings of wild beasts,
The violences of <sup>w</sup>winds and the thoughts of men, <sup>P</sup>The diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:

21 All things that are either secret or manifest I learned,

22 For she that is <sup>t</sup>the artificer of all things taught me, even wisdom.

For there is in her a spirit quick of understanding, holy,

<sup>a</sup>Alone in kind, <sup>r</sup>manifold, Subtil, <sup>s</sup>freely moving,

<sup>c</sup>Clear in utterance, <sup>u</sup>unpolluted, Distinct, unharmed,

Loving what is good, <sup>v</sup>keen, unhindered,

<sup>w</sup>Benevolent, <sup>32</sup>loving toward man,
Stedfast, sure, <sup>v</sup>free from care,

All-powerful, all-surveying,
And penetrating through all spirits

That are quick of understanding, pure, most subtil:

24 <sup>a</sup>For wisdom is more mobile than any motion;

Yea, <sup>a</sup>she pervadeth and penetrateth all things by reason of her pure-ness.

25 For she is <sup>b</sup>a <sup>a</sup>breath of the power of God,

And a clear effluence of the glory of the Almighty;

Therefore can <sup>a</sup>nothing defiled find entrance into her.

26 For she is an <sup>c</sup>effluence from everlasting light,

And an unspotted mirror of the working of God,

And an <sup>d</sup>image of his goodness.

27 And she, being one, <sup>e</sup>hath power to do all things;

And remaining in herself, <sup>f</sup>reneweth
all things:

And from generation to generation passing into holy souls

She maketh men <sup>g</sup>friends of God and prophets.

28 For nothing doth God love save him that dwelleth with wisdom.

29 For she is fairer than the sun,
And above <sup>h</sup>all <sup>a</sup>the constellations of the stars:

Being compared with light, she is found to be before it;

30 For <sup>i</sup>to the light of day succeedeth night,

But against wisdom evil doth not prevail;

8 <sup>x</sup> But <sup>a</sup>she <sup>r</sup>reacheth from one end of the world to the other with full strength,

And ordereth all things <sup>g</sup>graciously.

31 <sup>j</sup>Her I loved and sought out from my youth,

And <sup>k</sup>I sought to take her for my bride,

And I became enamoured of her beauty.

32 She glorifieth <sup>her</sup> noble birth in that it is given her to live with God,

And <sup>l</sup>the Sovereign Lord of all loved her.

33 For she is initiated into the knowledge of God,

And she <sup>m</sup>chooseth out for him his works.

34 But if riches are a desired possession in life,

<sup>n</sup>What is richer than wisdom, <sup>n</sup>which worketh all things?

35 <sup>10</sup>And if understanding worketh, Who more than <sup>11</sup>wisdom is <sup>a</sup>an artificer of the things that are?

36 And if a man loveth righteousness, <sup>12</sup>The fruits of wisdom's labour are virtues,

For she teacheth soberness and understanding, righteousness and courage;

And there is nothing in life for men more profitable than these.

37 And if a man longeth even for <sup>o</sup>much experience,

She knoweth <sup>13</sup>the things of old, and <sup>14</sup>divineth the things to come:

<sup>p</sup>She understandeth subtilties of speeches and interpretations of dark sayings:

She foreseeeth <sup>q</sup>signs and wonders, and the issues of seasons and times.

38 <sup>r</sup>I determined therefore to take her unto me to live with me,

Knowing that she is one who would <sup>15</sup>give me good thoughts for counsel,

And <sup>16</sup>encourage me in cares and grief.

39 Because of her I shall have glory
<sup>s</sup>among multitudes,

And honour in the sight of elders,
<sup>t</sup>though I be young.

40 I shall be found of a quick conceit
<sup>u</sup>when I give judgement,

And in the presence of <sup>17</sup>princes I shall be admired.

41 <sup>v</sup>When I am silent, they shall wait for me;

And when I open my lips, they shall give heed unto me;

And if I continue speaking, <sup>w</sup>they shall lay their hand upon their mouth.

42 Because of her <sup>x</sup>I shall have immortality,

And leave behind an eternal memory to them that come after me.

18 And it was thus that the ways of them which are on earth were corrected,
 *And men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee;
 And <sup>a</sup>through wisdom were they saved.

IO <sup>1</sup>Wisdom guarded to the end <sup>b</sup>the first formed father of the world, <sup>c</sup>that was created alone,
 And delivered him out of his own transgression,
 2 And <sup>d</sup>gave him strength to get dominion over all things.
 3 But <sup>e</sup>when an unrighteous man fell away from her in his anger,
 He perished himself in the rage wherewith he slew his brother.
 4 And when for his cause <sup>f</sup>the earth was drowning with a flood,
 Guiding <sup>h</sup>the righteous man's course <sup>i</sup>by a poor piece of wood.

5 Moreover, <sup>j</sup>when nations consenting together in wickedness had been confounded, <sup>1</sup>Wisdom <sup>k</sup>knew the righteous man, and preserved him blameless unto God,
 And <sup>l</sup>kept him strong when his heart yearned toward his child.

 When he fled from the fire that descended out of heaven <sup>p</sup>on <sup>q</sup>Pentapolis.

7 To whose wickedness a smoking waste still witnesseth,
 And plants bearing fair fruit that cometh not to ripeness;
 Yea and a <sup>r</sup>disbelieving soul hath a memorial <sup>s</sup>there, <sup>t</sup>a pillar of salt still standing.

8 For having passed wisdom by,
 Not only were they disabled from recognising the things which are good,
 But they also left behind them <sup>u</sup>for human life a monument of their folly;
 To the end that <sup>v</sup>where they <sup>w</sup>went astray they might fail even to be unseen:

9 But wisdom delivered out of troubles those that waited on her.

10 <sup>x</sup>When a righteous man was a fugitive from a brother's wrath, <sup>y</sup>wisdom guided him in straight paths;

 And gave him knowledge of holy things;

<sup>aa</sup>She prospered him in his toils, and multiplied the fruits of his labour;

11 <sup>ab</sup>When in their covetousness men dealt hardly with him,
 She stood by him and made him rich;

12 <sup>ac</sup>She guarded him from enemies,
 And from those that lay in wait she kept him safe,
 And <sup>ad</sup>over his sore conflict she watched as judge,
 That he might know that godliness is more powerful than <sup>ae</sup>all.

13 <sup>af</sup>When a righteous man was sold,

<sup>aj</sup>She went down with him into a dungeon,

14 <sup>ak</sup>And in bonds she left him not,
 Till she brought him the sceptre of a kingdom,
 And authority over those that dealt tyrannously with him;
 She shewed them also to be false that had mockingly accused him,
 And gave him eternal glory.

16 <sup>ap</sup>She entered into the soul of <sup>aq</sup>a servant of the Lord,
 And <sup>ar</sup>withstood terrible kings <sup>as</sup>in wonders and signs.

17 She rendered unto holy men <sup>at</sup>a reward of their toils;
 She guided them along a marvellous way,
 And became unto them a covering in the day-time,
 And a flame of stars through the night.

18 <sup>au</sup>She brought them over the Red sea,
 And led them through much water;

19 <sup>av</sup>But their enemies she drowned,
 And out of the bottom of the deep she cast them up.

20 <sup>aw</sup>Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly;

 And extolled with one accord thy hand that fought for them:

21 Because wisdom opened <sup>ay</sup>the mouth of the dumb,
 And made <sup>az</sup>the tongues of babes <sup>ba</sup>to speak clearly.

II * She prospered their works in the hand of a holy q prophet.

* They journeyed through a desert without inhabitant, And in trackless regions they pitched their tents.

* They thirsted, and they called upon thee, And <sup>2</sup>there was given them water out of <sup>3</sup>the <sup>4</sup>stinty rock, And healing of their thirst out of the hard stone.

For by what things their foes were punished, By these they in their need were benefited.

* When the enemy were troubled * with clotted blood instead of a river's ever-flowing fountain,

To rebuke * the decree for the slaying of babes, Thou gavest them abundant water beyond all hope,

Having shewn them by <sup>4</sup>the thirst which they had suffered <sup>5</sup>how thou didst punish the adversaries.

* For when they were tried, albeit but in mercy chastened, They learned how the ungodly were tormented, being judged with wrath:

For these, * as a father, <sup>6</sup>admonishing them, thou didst prove; But those, as a stern king, condemning them, thou didst search out.

Yea and whether they were far off from the righteous or near them, they were alike distressed;

For a double grief took hold on them, And a groaning at the remembrance of things past.

For when they heard that through their own punishments the others <sup>7</sup>had been benefited,

In the last issue of what came to pass <sup>11</sup>they marvelled, Having thirsted in another manner than the righteous.

But in requital of <sup>12</sup>the senseless imaginings of their unrighteousness,

* Wherein they were led astray to worship irrational reptiles and wretched vermin,

* Thou didst send upon them a multitude of irrational creatures for vengeance;

<sup>13</sup>That they might learn, that by what things a man sinneth, by these he is punished.

For thine all-powerful hand, That created the world out of <sup>14</sup>a formless matter, <sup>15</sup>Lacked not means to send upon them <sup>16</sup>a multitude of bears, or fierce lions,

Or <sup>17</sup>new-created wild beasts, <sup>18</sup>full of rage, of unknown kind, Either breathing out a blast of fiery breath,

<sup>19</sup>Or blowing forth from their nostrils noisome smoke, Or flashing dreadful sparkles from their eyes;

Which had power not only to consume them by their <sup>20</sup>violence, But to destroy them even by the terror of their sight.

Yea and without these might they have fallen by a single breath, Being pursued by <sup>21</sup>Justice, and scattered abroad by the breath of thy power.

* But by measure and number and weight thou didst order all things.

For to be greatly strong is thine at all times;

And <sup>22</sup>the might of thine arm who shall withstand?

Because the whole world before thee is <sup>23</sup>as <sup>24</sup>a grain <sup>25</sup>in a balance, And <sup>26</sup>as a drop of dew that at morning cometh down upon the earth.

But <sup>27</sup>thou hast mercy on all men, because thou hast power to do all things,

And <sup>28</sup>thou overlookest the sins of men <sup>29</sup>to the end they may repent.

For <sup>30</sup>thou lovest all things that are, And abhorrest none of the things which thou didst make;

For never wouldest thou have formed anything if thou didst hate it.

And how would anything have endured, except thou hadst willed it?

Or that which was not <sup>31</sup>called by thee, how would it have been preserved?

But <sup>32</sup>thou sparest all things, because they are thine, O Sovereign Lord, <sup>33</sup>thou lover of men's <sup>34</sup>lives;

<sup>3</sup> For that vessel the hunger for gains devised,
And an <sup>c</sup>artificer, even wisdom, built it;

<sup>3</sup> And thy providence, O Father, guideth it along,

And in the waves a sure path,

<sup>4</sup> Shewing that thou canst save out of every danger,
That so even without art a man may put to sea;

<sup>5</sup> And it is thy will that the works of thy wisdom should not be idle;
Therefore also do men intrust their lives to <sup>e</sup> a little piece of wood,
And passing through the surge <sup>1</sup> on a raft are brought safe to land.

The hope of the world, <sup>g</sup> taking refuge on a raft,

Because his was the working, and <sup>k</sup> the corruptible thing was named a god:

<sup>11</sup> Therefore also <sup>m</sup> among the idols of the nations shall there be a visitation,

Because, though formed of things which God created, they were made <sup>n</sup> an abomination,

And stumblingblocks to the souls of men,

And <sup>q</sup> the invention of them the corruption of life:

And therefore was a speedy and devised for them.

Making an image of the child quickly taken away,

Now honoured him as a god which was then a dead man,

And delivered to those that were under him <sup>s</sup> mysteries and solemn rites.

<sup>16</sup> Afterward the ungodly custom, in process of time grown strong, was kept as a law,

And <sup>t</sup> by the commandments of princes the graven images received worship.

<sup>17</sup> And when men could not honour them in presence because they dwelt far off,

Imagining the likeness from afar,

They made a visible image of the king whom they honoured,

That by their zeal they might flatter the absent as if present.

<sup>18</sup> But unto a yet higher pitch was worship raised even by them that knew him not,

Urged forward by the ambition of the artificer:

Because men, in bondage either <sup>z</sup> to calamity or <sup>aa</sup> to tyranny, Invested stones and stocks <sup>ab</sup> with the incommunicable Name.

But also, while they live <sup>ac</sup> in <sup>ad</sup> sore conflict through ignorance of him,

Or <sup>ah</sup> holding frantic revels of strange ordinances,

But one brings upon another either death by treachery, or anguish by adulterate offspring.

27 For the worship of <sup>29</sup> those 'nameless idols
Is a beginning and cause and end of every evil.

28 For their worshippers either make merry unto madness, or prophesy lies, Or live unrighteously, or lightly forswear themselves.

29 For putting their trust in lifeless idols,
When they have sworn a wicked oath, they expect not to suffer harm.

30 But for both <sup>31</sup> sins shall the just doom pursue them, Because they had evil thoughts of God by giving heed to idols, And <sup>32</sup> swore unrighteously in deceit through contempt for holiness.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom men swear, But it is <sup>33</sup> that <sup>34</sup> Justice which hath regard to them that sin, That visiteth always the transgression of the unrighteous.

15 <sup>1</sup> But thou, our God, art gracious and true, Longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things.

2 For even if we sin, <sup>3</sup> we are thine, knowing thy dominion; But we shall not sin, knowing that we have been accounted thine:

3 For <sup>4</sup> to be acquainted with thee is <sup>5</sup> perfect righteousness, And to know thy dominion is <sup>6</sup> the root of immortality.

4 For neither were we led astray by any evil device of men's art, Nor yet by <sup>7</sup> painters' fruitless labour, A form stained with varied colours;

5 The sight whereof leadeth fools into <sup>8</sup> lust:
Their desire is for the <sup>9</sup> breathless form of a <sup>10</sup> dead image.

6 Lovers of evil things, and worthy of such hopes as these,
Are <sup>11</sup> both they that do, and they that desire, and they that worship.

7 For a potter, kneading soft earth, Laboriously mouldeth each several vessel for our service:

Nay, <sup>12</sup> out of the same clay doth he fashion Both <sup>13</sup> the vessels that minister to clean uses, and those of a contrary sort, All in like manner; But what shall be the use of each vessel of either sort, The <sup>14</sup> craftsman himself is the judge.

8 And also, labouring to an evil end, he mouldeth a vain god out of the same clay, He who, having but a little before been made of earth, After a short space <sup>15</sup> goeth his way to the earth out of which he was taken, When he is <sup>16</sup> required to render back the <sup>17</sup> soul <sup>18</sup> which was lent him.

9 Howbeit he hath anxious care, Not because his powers must fail, Nor because his span of life is short; But he matcheth himself against goldsmiths and <sup>19</sup> silver-smiths, And he imitateth moulders in <sup>20</sup> brass, And esteemeth it glory that he mouldeth counterfeits.

10 His heart is ashamed, And his hope of less value than earth, And his life of less honour than clay:

11 Because he was ignorant of him that moulded him, And of him that inspired into him <sup>21</sup> an active <sup>22</sup> soul, And <sup>23</sup> breathed into him a vital spirit.

12 But <sup>24</sup> he accounted our very life to be a <sup>25</sup> plaything, And our <sup>26</sup> lifetime <sup>27</sup> a gainful <sup>28</sup> fair; For, saith he, one must get gain whence one can, though it be by evil.

13 For this man beyond all others knoweth that he sinneth, Out of earthy matter making brittle vessels and graven images.

14 But most foolish <sup>29</sup> were they all, and <sup>30</sup> of feeble soul than a babe, The enemies of thy people, who oppressed them;

15 Because they even accounted all the idols of the nations to be gods; Which have neither the use of eyes for seeing, Nor nostrils <sup>31</sup> for drawing breath, Nor ears to hear, Nor fingers for handling, And <sup>32</sup> their feet are helpless for walking.

16 For a man made them, And one <sup>33</sup> whose own spirit is borrowed moulded them; For no one hath power, being a man, to mould a god like unto himself,

18 Yea, and <sup>m</sup>the creatures that are most hateful do they worship,

<sup>2</sup>For, being compared as to want of sense, these are worse than all others;

19 Neither, as seen beside other creatures, are they beautiful, so that one should desire them, But <sup>n</sup>they have escaped both the praise of God and his blessing.

16 <sup>1</sup> For this cause were these men <sup>o</sup>worthily punished through creatures like those which they worship,

And tormented through a multitude of vermin.

<sup>4</sup> For it was needful that upon those should come inexorable want in their tyrannous dealing,

But that <sup>t</sup>to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.

Thy wrath continued not to the uttermost;

<sup>7</sup> For he that turned toward it was not saved <sup>x</sup>because of that which was beheld,

But because of thee, <sup>y</sup>the Saviour of all.

<sup>8</sup> Yea, and in this didst thou <sup>z</sup>persuade our enemies, That thou art he that delivereth out of every evil.

And there was not found a healing for their life, Because they were worthy to be punished by such as these;

But thy word, O Lord, <sup>h</sup>which healeth all things;

<sup>k</sup>Yet the spirit that is gone forth he turneth not again, Neither giveth release to the soul that Hades hath received.

<sup>17</sup> For, what was most marvellous of all,

In the water which queneth all things <sup>n</sup>the fire wrought yet more mightily;

Bread having the virtue of <sup>s</sup>every pleasant savour,

And agreeing to every taste;

<sup>21</sup> For <sup>1</sup>thy <sup>2</sup>nature manifested <sup>3</sup>thy desire of the eater, Tempered itself according to every man's choice.

<sup>22</sup> "But snow and ice endured fire, and melted not, <sup>23</sup> That men might know that fire was destroying the fruits of the ene-

Burning in the hail and flashing in the rains;

<sup>23</sup> And <sup>4</sup>that this element again, in order that righteous men may be nonrished,
Hath even forgotten its own power.

<sup>24</sup> "For the creation, ministering to thee its maker,
Straineth its force against the unrighteous, for punishment,
And slackeneth it in behalf of them that trust in thee, for beneficence.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore at that time also, <sup>5</sup>converting itself into all forms,
It ministered to thine all-nourishing bounty,
According to the desire of them that <sup>6</sup>made supplication;

O Lord, might learn

<sup>7</sup> That it is not the <sup>8</sup>growth of the

But that thy word preserveth them

<sup>27</sup> For that which was <sup>9</sup>not marred by fire,

<sup>10</sup> When it was simply warmed by a faint sunbeam melted away;

<sup>28</sup> That it might be known that <sup>11</sup>we must rise before the sun to give thee thanks,

<sup>12</sup> And must plead with thee at the dawning of the light:

<sup>29</sup> For the hope of <sup>13</sup>the unthankful shall melt as the winter's hoar frost,
And shall flow away as water that hath no use.

<sup>3</sup>and hard to <sup>4</sup>interpret;
Therefore souls <sup>5</sup>undisciplined went astray.

<sup>2</sup> For when lawless men had supposed that they held a holy nation in their power,

<sup>3</sup> They themselves, prisoners of darkness, and bound in the fetters of a long night,
Close kept beneath their roofs,
Lay exiled from the eternal providence.

<sup>3</sup> For <sup>4</sup>while they thought that they were unseen in their secret sins,

They were <sup>5</sup>sundered one from another by a dark curtain of forgetfulness,
Stricken with terrible awe, and sore troubled by <sup>6</sup>spectral forms.

<sup>4</sup> For neither did <sup>7</sup>the dark recesses that held them guard them from fears,

But <sup>8</sup>sounds <sup>9</sup>rushing down rang around them,
And <sup>10</sup>phantoms appeared, cheerless with unsmiling faces.

<sup>5</sup> And no force of fire prevailed to give them light,

<sup>11</sup> Neither were the brightest flames of the stars strong enough to illumine that gloomy night:

<sup>6</sup> But only there appeared to them the glimmering of a fire self-kindled, full of fear;

And in terror they deemed the things which they saw

To be worse than that sight, on which they could not gaze.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>12</sup> And they lay helpless, <sup>13</sup>made the sport of magic art,

And <sup>14</sup>a shameful rebuke of their vaunts of understanding:

<sup>8</sup> For they that promised to drive away terrors and troublings from a sick soul,

These were themselves sick with a ludicrous fearfulness:

<sup>9</sup> For even if no troublous thing affrighted them,

Yet, <sup>15</sup>scared by the creepings of vermin and hissings of serpents, <sup>16</sup>to they perished <sup>17</sup>for very trembling,

Refusing even to look on the air, which could on no side be escaped.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>18</sup> For wickedness, <sup>19</sup>condemned by a witness within, <sup>20</sup>is a coward thing,

And, <sup>21</sup>being pressed hard by conscience, <sup>22</sup>always <sup>23</sup>forecasteth the worst lot:

<sup>12</sup> For fear is nothing else but <sup>24</sup>a surrender of the succours which reason offeth;

<sup>13</sup> And from within the heart the expectation of them being less

Maketh of greater account the ignorance of the cause that bringeth the torment.

<sup>14</sup> But they, all through the night which was powerless indeed,

And which came upon them out of the recesses of powerless Hades,
All sleeping the same sleep,

<sup>15</sup> Now were haunted by <sup>25</sup>monstrous apparitions,

And now were paralysed by their soul's <sup>26</sup>surrendering;

For fear sudden and unlooked for

Not without the tokens that were given <sup>1</sup> beforehand by the force of the thunders;
For justly did they suffer through their own wickednesses,

<sup>7</sup> Since they received as enemies them that were aliens;

When, being compassed about with yawning darkness,
They sought every one the passage through his own door.

<sup>18</sup> For as the notes of a <sup>10</sup> psalter vary the character of the rhythm, Even so did the elements, changing their order one with another, Continuing always the same, each in its several sound;

As may clearly be <sup>6</sup> divined from the sight of the things that are come to pass.

<sup>19</sup> For creatures of the dry land were turned into creatures of the waters,
And creatures that swim trode now upon the earth:

<sup>20</sup> <sup>11</sup> Fire kept the mastery of its own power in the midst of water,
And water forgot its quenching nature:

And thou didst glorify them and not lightly regard them;

THE WISDOM OF JESUS THE SON OF SIRACH,

OR

ECCLESIASTICUS.

The Prologue of the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach.

WHEREAS many and great things have been delivered unto us by <sup>a</sup> the law and the prophets, and by the others that have followed in their steps, for the which things we must give Israel the praise of instruction and wisdom; and since not only the readers must needs become skilful themselves, but also they that love learning must be able to profit them which are without, both by speaking and writing; my grandfather Jesus, having much given himself to the reading of the law, and the prophets, and the other books of our fathers, and having gained great familiarity therein, was drawn on also himself to write somewhat pertaining to instruction and wisdom; in order that those who love learning, and are addicted to these things, might make progress much more by living according to the law. Ye are instructed therefore to read with favour and attention, and to pardon us, if in any parts of what we have laboured to interpret, we may seem to fail in some of the phrases. For things originally spoken <sup>b</sup> in Hebrew have not the same force in them, when they are translated into another tongue: and not only these, but <sup>c</sup> the law itself, and the prophecies, and the rest of the books, have no small difference, when they are spoken in their original language. For having come into Egypt in the eight and thirtieth year of Energetes the king, and having continued there some time, I found <sup>d</sup> a copy affording no small instruction. I thought it therefore most necessary for me to

And the days of eternity, who shall number?

<sup>4</sup> The height of the heaven, and the breadth of the earth,
And the deep, and wisdom, who shall search them out?

And the understanding of prudence from everlasting.<sup>1</sup>

And who hath known her shrewd counsels?<sup>2</sup>

The Lord sitting upon his throne:

<sup>8</sup> He created her,
And saw, and numbered her,
And poured her out upon all his works.

<sup>9</sup> She is with all flesh according to his gift;
And he gave her freely to them that love him.

<sup>10</sup> The fear of the Lord is glory, and exultation,
And gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.

And shall give gladness, and joy, and length of days.

And in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

And it was created together with the faithful in the womb.

<sup>14</sup> With men she laid an eternal foundation;
And with their seed shall she be had in trust.

And she satiateth men with her fruits.

Making peace and perfect health to flourish.<sup>3</sup>

<sup>18</sup> He both saw and numbered her;
He rained down skill and knowledge of understanding,
And exalted the honour of them that hold her fast.

And her branches are length of days.<sup>4</sup>

For the sway of his wrath is his downfall.

<sup>21</sup> A man that is long suffering will bear for a season,
And afterward gladness shall spring up unto him;

<sup>22</sup> He will hide his words for a season,
And the lips of many shall tell forth his understanding.

<sup>23</sup> A parable of knowledge is in the treasures of wisdom;
But godliness is an abomination to a sinner.

<sup>24</sup> If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments,
And the Lord shall give her unto thee freely:

<sup>25</sup> For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction;
And in faith and meekness is his good pleasure.

<sup>26</sup> Disobey not the fear of the Lord;
And come not unto him with a double heart.

<sup>27</sup> Be not a hypocrite in the mouths of men;
And take good heed to thy lips.

<sup>28</sup> Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall,
And bring dishonour upon thy soul;
And so the Lord shall reveal thy secrets,
And shall cast thee down in the midst of the congregation;
Because thou camest not unto the fear of the Lord,
And thy heart was full of deceit.

2 <sup>1</sup> My son, if thou comest to serve the Lord,
Prepare thy soul for temptation.

<sup>2</sup> Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure,
And make not haste in time of calamity.

<sup>3</sup> Cleave unto him, and depart not,
That thou mayest be increased at thy latter end.

<sup>4</sup> Accept whatsoever is brought upon thee,
And be long suffering when thou passest into humiliation.

25 Speak not against the truth ;

And be ashamed for thine ignorance.

26 Be not ashamed to make confession of thy sins ;

And force not the current of the river.

27 Lay not thyself down for a fool to tread upon ;

And vaccept not the person of one that is mighty.

28 Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord God shall fight for thee.

29 Be not <sup>1</sup>hasty in thy tongue,

And in thy deeds slack and remiss.

30 Be not <sup>a</sup>as a lion in thy house,

<sup>b</sup>Nor fanciful among thy servants.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and <sup>2</sup>closed when thou shouldest repay.

5 <sup>c</sup>Set not thy heart upon thy goods ;

And say not, <sup>e</sup>They are sufficient

for me.

6 Follow not thine own mind and thy strength,

To walk in the desires of thy heart ;

3 And say not, <sup>g</sup>Who shall have dominion over me ?

For the Lord will surely take vengeance on thee.

4 <sup>h</sup>Say not, I sinned, and what happened unto me ?

5 Concerning atonement, be not without fear,

<sup>j</sup>To add sin upon sins :

6 And say not, His compassion is great ;

He will be pacified for the multitude of my sins :

<sup>k</sup>For mercy and wrath are with him,

And his indignation will rest upon sinners.

7 <sup>l</sup>Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord ;

And put not off from day to day :

<sup>m</sup>For suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth ; <sup>4</sup>

And thou shalt perish in the time of vengeance.

8 <sup>n</sup>Set not thine heart upon unrighteous gains :

<sup>o</sup>For thou shalt profit nothing in the day of calamity.

9 Winnow not with every wind,

And walk not in every path :

Thus doeth the sinner <sup>p</sup>that hath a double tongue.

10 Be steadfast in thy understanding ;

And let thy word be one.

11 <sup>q</sup>Be swift to hear ; <sup>5</sup>

And <sup>r</sup>with patience make thine answer.

12 <sup>s</sup>If thou hast understanding, answer

thy neighbour ;

And if not, <sup>t</sup>let thy hand be upon thy mouth.

13 <sup>u</sup>Glory and dishonour is in talk :

And the tongue of a man is his

14 Be not called <sup>v</sup>a whisperer ;

And lie not in wait with thy tongue :

For upon the thief there is shame,

And an evil condemnation upon him

15 In a great matter and in a small, be not ignorant ;

6 <sup>x</sup>And instead of a friend become not an enemy ;

For an evil name shall inherit shame and reproach :

Even so shall the sinner <sup>y</sup>that hath a double tongue.

7 <sup>z</sup>Exalt not thyself in the counsel of thy soul ;

That thy soul be not torn in pieces

as a bull :

8 Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and destroy thy fruits,

And leave thyself <sup>a</sup>as a dry tree.

9 A wicked soul shall destroy him that bath gotten it,

And shall make him <sup>b</sup>as a laughingstock to his enemies.

10 <sup>c</sup>Sweet words will multiply <sup>a</sup>a man's friends ;

And a fair-speaking tongue will multiply courtesies.

6 Let those that are at peace with thee be many ;

But thy counsellors <sup>e</sup>one of a thousand.

7 <sup>f</sup>If thou wouldest get thee a friend, get him <sup>g</sup>by proving,

And be not in haste to trust him.

8 For there is a friend <sup>h</sup>that is so for his own occasion ;

And <sup>i</sup>he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

9 And there is a friend that turneth to enmity ;

And he will discover strife to thy reproach.

10 And <sup>j</sup>there is a friend that is a companion at the table ;

And <sup>k</sup>he will not continue in the day of thy affliction.

11 And in thy prosperity he will be as thyself,

And will be bold over thy servants :

12 If thou shalt be brought low, he will be against thee,

And will hide himself from thy face.

13 Separate thyself from thine enemies ;

And beware of thy friends.

14 <sup>l</sup>A faithful friend is a strong <sup>10</sup>defence ;

15 <sup>1</sup> He that feareth the Lord will do this;
And he that hath possession of the law shall obtain her.

And receive him <sup>2</sup>as a wife married in her virginity.

And give him <sup>3</sup>water of wisdom to drink.

And shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.

<sup>5</sup> <sup>4</sup>And she shall exalt him above his neighbours;
And in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.

And an everlasting name.

<sup>7</sup> <sup>5</sup>Foolish men shall not obtain her;
And sinners shall not see her.

<sup>8</sup> She is far from pride;
And liars shall not remember her.

<sup>9</sup> <sup>6</sup>Praise is not comely in the mouth of a sinner;
For it was not sent him from the Lord.

<sup>10</sup> For praise shall be spoken in wisdom;
And the Lord will prosper it.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>7</sup>Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away;
For thou shalt not do the things that he hateth.

And they that fear him love it not.

And <sup>8</sup>left him in the hand of his own counsel.

<sup>15</sup> If thou wilt, thou shalt keep the commandments;
And to perform faithfulness is of thine own good pleasure.

<sup>16</sup> He hath set fire and water before thee;
Thou shalt stretch forth thy hand unto whichsoever thou wilt.

<sup>17</sup> <sup>9</sup>Before man is life and death;
And whichsoever he liketh, it shall be given him.

He is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things;

<sup>19</sup> And <sup>10</sup>his eyes are upon them that fear him;
And <sup>10</sup>he will take knowledge of every work of man.

And he hath not given any man licence to sin.

Neither delight in ungodly sons.

<sup>2</sup> If they multiply, delight not in them,
Except the fear of the Lord be with them.

<sup>3</sup> Trust not thou in their life,
Neither rely on their condition:
For one is better than a thousand;
And <sup>2</sup>to die childless than to have ungodly children.

<sup>5</sup> Many such things have I seen with mine eyes;
And mine ear hath heard mightier things than these.

<sup>6</sup> <sup>4</sup>In the congregation of sinners shall a fire be kindled;
And in a disobedient nation wrath is kindled.

<sup>7</sup> He was not pacified toward <sup>5</sup>the giants of old time,
Who revolted in their strength.

<sup>9</sup> He pitied not the people of perdition,
Who were taken away in their sins.

<sup>10</sup> <sup>6</sup>And in like manner <sup>6</sup>the six hundred thousand footmen,
Who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.

<sup>11</sup> Even if there be one stiffnecked person,
It is marvel if he shall be unpunished:
<sup>7</sup>For mercy and wrath are with him;
He is mighty to forgive, and he poureth out wrath.

And the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.

And who shall remember me from on high?

I shall not be known among so many people;
For what is my soul in a boundless creation?

16 As <sup>b</sup> the terebith I stretched out my branches;
And my branches are branches of glory and grace.

17 As <sup>c</sup> the vine I put forth grace;
And <sup>d</sup> my flowers are the fruit of glory and riches.<sup>1</sup>

19 <sup>e</sup> Come unto me, ye that are desirous of me,
And be ye filled with my produce.

20 For my memorial is <sup>f</sup> sweeter than honey,
And mine inheritance than the honey-comb.

21 They that eat me shall yet be hungry;
And they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.

22 He that obeyeth me shall not be ashamed;
And they that work in me shall not do amiss.

23 All these things are the book of the covenant of the Most High God, Even <sup>g</sup> the law which Moses commanded us for a heritage unto the assemblies of Jacob.<sup>2</sup>

25 It is he that <sup>h</sup> maketh wisdom abundant, as <sup>i</sup> Pishon,
And as <sup>j</sup> Tigris in the days of new fruits;

26 That maketh understanding full as <sup>k</sup> Euphrates,
And as <sup>l</sup> Jordan in the days of harvest;

27 That maketh instruction to shine forth as the light,
As <sup>m</sup> Gihon in the days of vintage.

28 The first man knew her not perfectly;
And in like manner the last hath not traced her out.

29 For her thoughts are filled from the sea,
And her counsels from the great deep.

30 And I came out as a <sup>n</sup> stream from a river,
And as a conduit into a garden.

31 I said, I will water my garden,
And will water abundantly my garden bed;

And, lo, <sup>o</sup> my stream became a river,
And my river became a sea.

32 I will yet bring instruction to light as the morning,
And will make <sup>p</sup> these things to shine forth afar off.

33 <sup>q</sup> I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy,
And leave it unto generations of ages.

34 Behold that <sup>r</sup> I have not laboured for myself only,
But for all them that diligently seek her.

25

<sup>s</sup> In three things I was beautified,
And stood up beautiful before the Lord and men:

<sup>t</sup> The concord of brethren, and <sup>u</sup> friendship of neighbours,
And <sup>v</sup> a woman and her husband that walk together in agreement.

<sup>w</sup> But three sorts of men my soul hateth,
And I am greatly offended at their life:

A poor man that is haughty, and a rich man <sup>x</sup> that is a liar,
And an old man that is an adulterer lacking understanding.

3 <sup>y</sup> In thy youth thou hast not gathered, And how shouldest thou find in thine old age?

4 <sup>z</sup> How beautiful a thing is judgment for gray hairs,
And for elders to know counsel!

5 How beautiful is the wisdom of old men,
And thought and counsel to men that are in honour!

6 <sup>a</sup> Much experience is the crown of old men;
And <sup>b</sup> their glorying is the fear of the Lord.

7 There be nine things that I have thought of, and in mine heart counted happy;

And the tenth I will utter with my tongue:

<sup>c</sup> A man that hath joy of his children;
<sup>d</sup> A man that liveth and looketh upon the fall of his enemies:

8 Happy is he that dwelleth with a wife of understanding;

And he that hath not slipped with his tongue;

And he that hath not served a man that is unworthy of him:

9 <sup>e</sup> Happy is he that hath found prudence;

And he that discourseth in the ears of them that listen.

10 <sup>f</sup> How great is he that hath found wisdom!

11 <sup>h</sup> The fear of the Lord passeth all things:
He that holdeth it, to whom shall he be likened?<sup>3</sup>

13 <sup>i</sup> Give me any plague but the plague of the heart;

And any wickedness but <sup>j</sup> the wickedness of a woman;

14 Any calamity, but a calamity <sup>k</sup> from them that hate me;
And any vengeance, but the vengeance of enemies.

And 'men of understanding that are counted as refuse:

<sup>1</sup> One that turneth back from righteousness to sin;
The Lord shall prepare him for the sword.

<sup>29</sup> <sup>2</sup> A merchant shall hardly keep himself from wrong doing;
And a huckster shall not be acquitted of sin.

27 <sup>3</sup> Many have sinned for 'a thing indifferent;
And 'he that seeketh to multiply gain will turn his eye away.

<sup>4</sup> A nail will stick fast between the joinings of stones;
'And sin will thrust itself in between buying and selling.

<sup>5</sup> Unless a man hold on diligently in the fear of the Lord,
His house shall soon be overthrown.

<sup>6</sup> In the shaking of a sieve, the refuse remaineth;
So the filth of man in his reasoning.

<sup>7</sup> The furnace will prove the potter's vessels;
And the trial of a man is in his reasoning.

<sup>8</sup> The fruit of a tree declareth the husbandry thereof;
'So is the utterance of the thought of the heart of a man.

<sup>9</sup> Praise no man before thou hearest him reason;
For this is the trial of men.

<sup>10</sup> If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her,
And 'put her on, as 'a long robe of glory.

<sup>11</sup> Birds will resort unto their like;
And truth will return unto them that practise her.

<sup>12</sup> The lion lieth in wait for prey;
So doth sin for them that work iniquity.

<sup>13</sup> The discourse of a godly man is always wisdom:
But the foolish man changeth as the moon.

<sup>14</sup> Among men void of understanding 'observe the opportunity;
But stay continually among the thoughtful.

<sup>15</sup> The discourse of fools is an offence;
And 'their laughter is in the wantonness of sin.

<sup>16</sup> The talk of a man of many oaths will make the hair stand upright;
And their strife maketh one stop his ears.

<sup>17</sup> The strife of the proud is a shedding of blood;
And their reviling of each other is a grievous thing to hear.

<sup>18</sup> He that revealeth secrets destroyeth credit,
And shall not find a friend to his mind.

<sup>19</sup> Love a friend, and keep faith with him:

'But if thou reveal his secrets,
Thou shalt not pursue after him;

<sup>20</sup> For as a man hath destroyed his enemy,
So hast thou destroyed the friendship of thy neighbour.

<sup>21</sup> And as a bird which thou hast loosed out of thy hand,
So hast thou let thy neighbour go,
and thou wilt not catch him again:

<sup>22</sup> Pursue him not, for he is gone far away,
And hath escaped 'as a gazelle out of the snare.

<sup>23</sup> For a wound may be bound up, 'and after reviling there may be a reconciliation;
But he that revealeth secrets hath lost hope.

<sup>24</sup> One that winketh with the eye con-triveth evil things;
And no man will remove him from it.

<sup>25</sup> When thou art present, 'he will speak sweetly,
And will admire thy words;
But afterward he will writhe his mouth,
And set a trap for thee in thy words.

<sup>26</sup> I have hated many things, but nothing like him;
And 'the Lord will hate him.

<sup>27</sup> One that casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head;
And a deceitful stroke will open wounds.

<sup>28</sup> He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it;
And 'he that setteth a snare shall be taken therein.

<sup>29</sup> He that doeth evil things, they shall roll upon him,
And he shall not know whence they have come to him.

<sup>30</sup> Mockery and reproach are from the haughty;
And vengeance, 'as a lion, shall lie in wait for him.

<sup>31</sup> They that rejoice at the fall of the godly shall be taken in a snare;
And 'anguish shall consume them before they die.

<sup>32</sup> Wrath and anger, these also are abominations;
And a sinful man shall possess them.

28 <sup>1</sup> He that taketh vengeance shall find vengeance from the Lord;
And he will surely 'make firm his sins.

<sup>a</sup> Healthy sleep cometh of moderate eating;
He riseth early, and his wits are with him:

<sup>a</sup> Hear me, my son, and despise me not, And at the last thou shalt find my words true:

<sup>c</sup> In all thy works be quick, And no disease shall come unto thee.

<sup>a</sup> Him that is liberal of his meat the lips shall bless;
And the testimony of his excellence shall be believed.

<sup>a</sup> Him that is <sup>a</sup> a niggard of his meat the city shall murmur at;
And the testimony of his niggardness shall be sure.

What life is there to a man that is without wine?

And <sup>h</sup> it hath been created to make men glad.

<sup>a</sup> Wine drunk in season and to satisfy Is joy of heart, and gladness of soul:

With provocation and conflict.

It diminisheth strength, and addeth wounds.

<sup>a</sup> Rebuke not thy neighbour at a banquet of wine,
Neither set him at nought in his mirth:
Speak not unto him a word of reproach,
And press not upon him <sup>c</sup> by asking back a debt.

32 <sup>c</sup> Have they made thee <sup>d</sup> ruler of a feast?

Be thou lifted up,
Be thou among them as one of them;
<sup>c</sup> Take thought for them, and so sit down.

<sup>a</sup> And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place,
That thou mayest be gladdened on their account,
And receive <sup>a</sup> a crown for thy well ordering.

<sup>a</sup> Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound knowledge;
And hinder not music.

<sup>a</sup> Pour not out talk where there is a performance of music,
And <sup>a</sup> display not thy wisdom out of season.

<sup>a</sup> As a signet of emerald in a work of gold, So is a strain of music with pleasant wine.

<sup>a</sup> Speak, young man, if there be need of thee;

Yet scarcely if thou be twice asked.

<sup>a</sup> Sum up thy speech, many things in few words;

Be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.

And when another is speaking, make not much babbling.

And sin not by proud speech:

<sup>a</sup> And <sup>c</sup> for these things bless him that made thee,

And giveth thee to drink freely of his good things.

And <sup>c</sup> they that seek him early shall find favour.

But <sup>c</sup> the hypocrite shall stumble thereat.

And shall <sup>c</sup> kindle righteous acts as a light.

<sup>a</sup> A sinful man shunneth reproof, And <sup>c</sup> will find a judgement according to his will.

A strange and proud man will not crouch in fear,

Even <sup>c</sup> after he hath done a thing by himself without counsel.

A man of understanding will put his trust in the law;  And the law is faithful unto him, as when one asketh <sup>k</sup> at the oracle.  Prepare <sup>l</sup> thy speech, and so shalt thou be heard;  Bind up instruction, and make thine answer.  <sup>m</sup> The heart of a fool is as a cart-wheel;  And his thoughts like a rolling axle-tree.  A stallion horse is as a mocking friend;  He neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.  <sup>n</sup> Why doth one day excel another,  When all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?  <sup>o</sup> By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished;  And <sup>p</sup> he varied seasons and feasts:  Some of them he exalted and <sup>q</sup> hallowed,  And some of them hath he made ordinary days.  And <sup>r</sup> all men are from the ground,  And <sup>s</sup> Adam was created of earth.  In the abundance of his knowledge the Lord <sup>t</sup> distinguished them,  And made their ways various:  Some of them he blessed and exalted,  And some of them he hallowed and <sup>u</sup> brought nigh to himself:  Some of them he cursed and brought low,  And overthrew them from their place.  <sup>v</sup> As the clay of the potter in his hand,  All his ways are according to his good pleasure;  So men are in the hand of him that made them,  To render unto them according to his judgement.	<sup>w</sup> Good is set over against evil,  And life over against death:  So is <sup>x</sup> the sinner over against the godly.  And thus look upon all the works of the Most High;  <sup>y</sup> Two and two, one against another.  And I awaked up last,  <sup>z</sup> As one that gleaneth after the grape-gatherers:  By the blessing of the Lord I got before them,  And filled <sup>aa</sup> my winepress as one that gathereth grapes.  <sup>ab</sup> Consider that I laboured not for myself alone,  But for all them that seek instruction.  Hear me, ye great men of the people,  And hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.  <sup>ac</sup> To son and wife, to brother and friend,  Give not power over thee while thou livest;  And give not thy goods to another,  Lest thou repent and make supplication for them <sup>ad</sup> again.  Whilst thou yet livest, and breath is in thee,  Give not thyself over to anybody.  <sup>ae</sup> For better it is that thy children should supplicate thee,  Than that thou shouldst look to the hand of thy sons.  In all thy works keep the upper hand;  Bring not a stain on thine honour.  <sup>af</sup> In the day that thou endest the days of thy life,  And in the time of death, distribute thine inheritance.  <sup>ag</sup> Fodder, a stick, and burdens, for an ass;  Bread, and discipline, and work, for a servant.  Set thy servant to work, and thou shalt find rest:  Leave his hands idle, and he will seek liberty.  <sup>ah</sup> Yoke and thong will bow the neck:  And <sup>ai</sup> for an evil servant there are racks and tortures.  Send him to labour, that he be not idle;  <sup>aj</sup> For idleness teacheth much mischief.  Set him to work, as is fit for him;  And <sup>ak</sup> if he obey not, make his fetters heavy.  And <sup>al</sup> be not excessive toward any;  And without judgement do nothing.  <sup>am</sup> If thou hast a servant, let him be as thyself,  Because thou hast bought him with blood.	<sup>an</sup> Cp. <sup>1</sup> A line of this verse is here omitted by the best authorities.

32 <sup>b</sup>If thou hast a servant, treat him as thyself;
 1 For as thine own soul wilt thou have need of him:
 If thou treat him ill, and he depart and run away,
 Which way wilt thou go to seek him?

34

<sup>a</sup> Vain and false hopes are for a man void of understanding;
 And dreams give wings to fools.

3 <sup>a</sup>As one that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind,
 So is he that setteth his mind on dreams.

3 The vision of dreams is as this thing against that,
 d The likeness of a face over against a face.

4 <sup>a</sup>Of an unclean thing what shall be cleansed?
 And of that which is false what shall be true?

5 <sup>d</sup>Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain:
 And the heart fancieth, as a woman's in travail.

6 <sup>d</sup>If they be not sent from the Most High in thy visitation, Give not thy heart unto them.

7 For dreams have led many astray:
 And they have failed by putting their hope in them.

8 Without lying shall the law be accomplished;
 And wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.

9 A well-instructed man knoweth many things;
 And <sup>a</sup>he that hath much experience will declare understanding.

10 He that hath no experience knoweth few things:
 But <sup>a</sup>he that hath wandered shall increase his skill.

11 <sup>j</sup>In my wandering I have seen many things;
 And more than my words is my understanding.

12 <sup>k</sup> Ofttimes was I in danger even unto death;
 And I was preserved because of these things.

13 <sup>i</sup> The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live;
 For their hope is upon him that saveth them.

14 <sup>m</sup> Whoso feareth the Lord shall not be afraid, and shall not play the coward;
 For <sup>a</sup>he is his hope.

15 Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord:
 To whom doth he give heed? and who is his stay?

16 <sup>e</sup> The eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him,

17 He raiseth up the soul, and <sup>e</sup>enlighteneth the eyes:

He giveth healing, life, and blessing.

18 <sup>e</sup> He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is made in mockery;

And the mockeries of wicked men are not well-pleasing.

19 <sup>a</sup> The Most High hath no pleasure in the offerings of the ungodly;

20 <sup>a</sup> As one that killeth the son before his father's eyes

Is <sup>w</sup> he that bringeth a sacrifice from the goods of the poor.

21 The bread of the needy is the life of the poor:

He that depriveth him thereof is a man of blood.

22 <sup>a</sup> As one that slayeth his neighbour is <sup>a</sup>he that taketh away his living;

And <sup>v</sup> as a shedder of blood is he that depriveth a hireling of his hire.

23 One building, and another pulling down,

What profit have they had but toil?

24 One praying, and another cursing, Whose voice will the Lord listen to?

25 <sup>a</sup> He that washeth himself after touching a dead body, and toucheth it again,

What profit hath he in his washing?

26 Even so a man <sup>a</sup>fasting for his sins,
<sup>b</sup> And going again, and doing the same;

Who will listen to his prayer?

And what profit hath he in his humiliation?

35 <sup>a</sup> He that keepeth the law multiplieth offerings;

He that taketh heed to the commandments sacrificeth <sup>a</sup> a peace offering.

And he that giveth alms sacrificeth a thank offering.

3 <sup>j</sup> To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord;

And to depart from unrighteousness is a propitiation.

4 <sup>d</sup> See that thou appear not in the presence of the Lord empty.

5 For all these things are to be done because of the commandment.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat;

And the <sup>a</sup> sweet savour thereof is before the Most High.

7 'The sacrifice of a righteous man is acceptable;
'And the memorial thereof shall not be forgotten.

8 Glorify the Lord <sup>2</sup>with a good eye, And <sup>3</sup>stint not the firstfruits of thine hands.

9 <sup>4</sup>In every gift shew a cheerful countenance, And dedicate thy tithe with gladness.

10 <sup>5</sup>Give unto the Most High according as he hath given;
And as thy hand hath found, give <sup>6</sup>with a good eye.

11 <sup>7</sup>For the Lord recompenseth, And he will recompense thee sevenfold.

12 Think not to corrupt with gifts; for he will not receive them:
And set not thy mind on an unrighteous sacrifice;
For <sup>8</sup>the Lord is judge,
And <sup>9</sup>with him is no respect of persons.

13 He will not accept any person against a poor man;
And <sup>10</sup>he will listen to the prayer of him that is wronged.

14 <sup>11</sup>He will in no wise despise the supplication of the fatherless;
Nor the widow, <sup>12</sup>when she poureth out her tale.

15 Do not the tears of the widow run down her cheek?
And is not her cry against him that hath caused them to fall?

16 He that serveth God according to his good pleasure shall be accepted, And his supplication shall reach unto the clouds.

17 The prayer of the humble <sup>13</sup>pierceth the clouds;
And till it come nigh, he will not be comforted;

And <sup>14</sup>he will not depart, till the Most High shall visit;
And he shall judge <sup>15</sup>righteously, and execute judgement.

18 And the Lord <sup>16</sup>will not be slack, <sup>17</sup>neither will he be longsuffering toward them,

Till he have <sup>18</sup>crushed the loins of the unmerciful;
And he shall repay vengeance to the heathen;
Till he have taken away the multitude of the haughty,
And <sup>19</sup>broken in pieces the sceptres of the unrighteous;

19 <sup>20</sup>Till he have rendered to every man according to his doings,
And to the works of men according to their devices;
Till he have judged the cause of his people;

And he shall make them to rejoice in his mercy.

20 <sup>21</sup>Mercy is seasonable in the time of his afflicting them, <sup>22</sup>As clouds of rain in the time of drought.

36 <sup>23</sup>Have mercy upon us, O Lord the God of all, and behold;
<sup>24</sup>And send thy fear upon all the nations:<sup>25</sup>

3 <sup>26</sup>Lift up thy hand against the strange nations;
And let them see thy mighty power.

4 As thou wast <sup>27</sup>sanctified in us before them,
So be thou magnified in them before us.

5 And <sup>28</sup>let them know thee, as we also have known thee,
That there is no God but only thou, O God.

6 Shew new signs, and work divers wonders;
Glorify thy hand and thy right arm.<sup>29</sup>

7 <sup>30</sup>Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath;
Take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.

8 <sup>31</sup>Hasten the time, and <sup>32</sup>remember the oath;
And let them declare thy mighty works.

9 Let him that escapeth be devoured by the rage of fire;
And may they that harm thy people find destruction.

10 <sup>33</sup>Crush the heads of the rulers of the enemies,
That say, There is none but we.

11 <sup>34</sup>Gather all the tribes of Jacob together,
And <sup>35</sup>take them for thine inheritance, as from the beginning.

12 <sup>36</sup>O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name,
And upon Israel, <sup>37</sup>whom thou didst liken unto a firstborn.

13 Have compassion upon the city of thy sanctuary, Jerusalem, <sup>38</sup>the place of thy rest.

14 Fill Zion; exalt thine <sup>39</sup>oracles, And <sup>40</sup>fill thy people with thy glory.

15 Give testimony unto those that were thy creatures in the beginning,
And raise up <sup>41</sup>the prophecies that have been in thy name.

16 Give reward unto <sup>42</sup>them that wait for thee:
And men shall put their trust in thy prophets.

17 Harken, O Lord, to the prayer of thy suppliants,

16 <sup>1</sup>Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated,
Being an example of repentance to all generations.

17 <sup>m</sup>Noah was found perfect and righteous;
In the season of wrath he was taken in exchange for the world;
<sup>n</sup>Therefore was there left a remnant unto the earth,
When the flood came.

18 <sup>o</sup>Everlasting covenants were made with him,
That all flesh should no more be blotted out by a flood.

19 <sup>p</sup>Abraham was a great father of a multitude of nations;
And there was none found like him in glory;

20 Who kept the law of the Most High,
And was taken into covenant with him:

<sup>q</sup>In his flesh he established the covenant;
And <sup>r</sup>when he was proved, he was found faithful.

21 <sup>s</sup>Therefore he assured him by an oath,
That the nations should be blessed in his seed;
That he would multiply him <sup>t</sup>as the dust of the earth,
And exalt his seed <sup>u</sup>as the stars,
And cause them to inherit from sea to sea,
And <sup>v</sup>from the River unto the utmost part of the earth.

22 <sup>w</sup>In Isaac also did he establish likewise, for Abraham his father's sake,
The blessing of all men, and the covenant:

23 And <sup>x</sup>he made it rest upon the head of Jacob;
He acknowledged him in his blessings,
And gave to him by inheritance,
And divided his portions;
<sup>y</sup>Among twelve tribes did he part them.

45 <sup>z</sup> And he brought out of him a man of mercy, <sup>a</sup>Which found favour in the sight of all flesh;

A man beloved of God and men, even Moses,

<sup>b</sup>Whose memorial is blessed.
<sup>c</sup>He made him like to the glory of the saints,
And magnified him in the fears of his enemies.

3 <sup>d</sup>By his words he caused the wonders to cease;
He glorified him in the sight of kings;

<sup>e</sup>He gave him commandment for his people,
And <sup>f</sup>shewed him part of his glory.

4 He sanctified him in his faithfulness and <sup>g</sup>meekness;
He chose him out of all flesh.

5 He made him to hear his voice,
And led him <sup>h</sup>into the thick darkness,
And gave him commandments <sup>i</sup>face to face,

Even the law of life and knowledge,
That he might teach Jacob the covenant,
And Israel his judgements.

6 <sup>j</sup>He exalted Aaron, a holy man like unto him,
Even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.

7 He established for him an everlasting covenant,
And <sup>k</sup>gave him the priesthood of the people;
He <sup>l</sup>beautified him with comely ornaments,

<sup>m</sup>And girded him about with a robe of glory.

8 He clothed him with the perfection of exultation;
And strengthened him with apparel of <sup>n</sup>honour,

9 And he compassed him <sup>r</sup>with pomegranates of gold,

And with many bells round about,
<sup>s</sup>To send forth a sound as he went,
To make a sound that might be heard in the temple,
For a memorial to the children of his people;

10 With a holy garment, with gold and blue and purple, the work of the embroiderer,

11 With twisted scarlet, the work of the craftsman;

<sup>v</sup>With precious stones graven like a signet, in a setting of gold, the work of the jeweller,
For a memorial engraved in writing, after the number of the tribes of Israel;

12 <sup>w</sup>With a crown of gold upon the mitre, <sup>x</sup>having graven on it, as on a signet, <sup>y</sup>HOLINESS,
An ornament of honour, a work of might,
The desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.

13 Before him there never have been any such;

No stranger put them on, <sup>z</sup>but his sons only, and his offspring perpetually.

14 His sacrifices shall be wholly consumed

And anointed him with holy oil:
It was unto him for an everlasting covenant,

And to his seed, <sup>w</sup>all the days of heaven,
To minister unto him, and to execute also the priest's office,

And <sup>a</sup>bless his people in his name.

<sup>16</sup> <sup>v</sup>He chose him out of all living To offer sacrifice to the Lord, Incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial,
To make reconciliation for thy people.

<sup>17</sup> <sup>a</sup>He gave unto him in his commandments,
Yea, authority in the covenants of judgements,

<sup>a</sup>To teach Jacob the testimonies,
And to enlighten Israel in his law.

<sup>18</sup> <sup>b</sup>Strangers gathered themselves together against him,
And envied him in the wilderness, Even Dathan and Abiram with their company,
And the congregation of Korah, with wrath and anger.

<sup>19</sup> <sup>c</sup>The Lord saw it, and it displeased him;
And in the wrath of his anger they were destroyed:

He did wonders upon them,
To consume them with flaming fire.

<sup>20</sup> And <sup>d</sup>he added glory to Aaron,
And gave him a heritage:
<sup>e</sup>He divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase;
And first did he prepare bread in abundance:

<sup>21</sup> <sup>f</sup>For they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord,
Which he gave unto him and to his seed.

<sup>22</sup> <sup>g</sup>Howbeit in the land of the people he shall have no inheritance,
And he hath no portion among the people:

For he himself is thy portion and inheritance.

<sup>23</sup> And <sup>h</sup>Phineas the son of Eleazar is the third in glory,
In that he was zealous in the fear of the Lord,

And stood fast in the good forwardness of his soul when the people turned away,

And he made reconciliation for Israel.
<sup>24</sup> Therefore was there a covenant of peace established for him,
That he should be leader of the <sup>i</sup>saints and of his people;
That he and his seed should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever.

<sup>25</sup> <sup>j</sup>Also he made a covenant with David the son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah;

The inheritance of the king is his alone from son to son;
So the inheritance of Aaron is also unto his seed.

<sup>26</sup> <sup>k</sup>God give you wisdom in your heart
To judge his people in righteousness,
That their good things be not abolished,
And that their glory endure for all their generations.

46 <sup>1</sup> Joshua the son of <sup>2</sup>Nun was valiant in war,
And was the successor of Moses <sup>3</sup>in prophecies:

Who according to his name was made great

<sup>4</sup>For the saving of <sup>5</sup>God's elect,
To take vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them,

And in stretching out his sword against the cities!

<sup>8</sup> Who before him so stood fast?
For the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.

<sup>9</sup> <sup>p</sup>Did not the sun go back by his hand?

And did not one day become as two?

<sup>10</sup> He called upon the Most High and Mighty One,
When his foes pressed him round about;

And the great Lord heard him.

<sup>11</sup> <sup>q</sup>With hailstones of mighty power He caused war to break violently upon the nation,
And <sup>r</sup>in the going down he destroyed them that resisted;

That the nations might know his <sup>s</sup>armour,
How that he fought in the sight of the Lord;

<sup>12</sup> For he followed after the Mighty One.
<sup>13</sup> Also in the time of Moses he did a work of mercy,

<sup>14</sup>He and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, In that they withstood the adversary, Hindered the people from sin,
And stilled the murmuring of wickedness.

<sup>15</sup> And of <sup>16</sup>six hundred thousand people on foot, <sup>17</sup>they two alone were preserved

To bring them into the heritage,
Even into a land <sup>18</sup>flowing with milk and honey.

And it remained with him unto his old age;

So that he entered upon the height of the land,
And his seed obtained it for a heritage:

<sup>a</sup> He smote the camp of the Assyrians,
 And his angel utterly destroyed them.
<sup>a</sup> For Hezekiah did that which was pleasing to the Lord,
 And was strong in the ways of David his father,
 Which Isaiah the prophet commanded,
 Who was great and faithful in his vision.
<sup>a</sup> In his days the sun went backward;
 And he added life to the king.
<sup>a</sup> He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last;
 And <sup>a</sup>he comforted them that mourned in Sion.
<sup>a</sup> He shewed the things that should be to the end of time,
 And the hidden things or ever they came.

49 <sup>a</sup> The memorial of <sup>a</sup>Josiah is like the composition of incense Prepared by the work of the apothecary:
 It shall be sweet as honey in every mouth,
 And <sup>a</sup>as music at a banquet of wine.
<sup>a</sup> He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people, And <sup>a</sup>took away the abominations of iniquity.
<sup>a</sup> He set his heart right toward the Lord;
 In the days of wicked men he made godliness to prevail.

<sup>a</sup> Except <sup>a</sup>David and <sup>a</sup>Hezekiah and <sup>a</sup>Josiah,
 All committed trespass:
 For they forsook the law of the Most High;
 The kings of Judah failed.
<sup>a</sup> For <sup>a</sup>they gave their <sup>a</sup>power unto others,
 And their glory to a strange nation.
<sup>a</sup> They set on fire the chosen city of the sanctuary,
 And made her streets desolate, <sup>a</sup>as it was written by the hand of Jeremiah.
<sup>a</sup> For they entreated him evil;
 And yet <sup>a</sup>he was sanctified in the womb to be a prophet,
 To root out, and to afflict, and to destroy;
 And in like manner to build and to plant.
<sup>a</sup> It was Ezekiel who saw the vision of glory,
 Which <sup>a</sup>God shewed him upon the chariot of the cherubim.
<sup>a</sup> For verily he remembered <sup>a</sup>the enemies in <sup>a</sup>storm,
 And to do good to them that directed their ways aright.
<sup>a</sup> Also of <sup>a</sup>the twelve prophets<sup>a</sup> / May the bones flourish again out of their place.

And he comforted Jacob,
 And delivered them by confidence of hope.

<sup>a</sup> How shall we magnify <sup>a</sup>Zerubbabel?
 And he was <sup>a</sup>as a signet on the right hand:
<sup>a</sup> So was <sup>a</sup>Jesus the son of Josedek:
 / Who in their days builded the house,
 And exalted a <sup>a</sup>people holy to the Lord,
 Prepared for everlasting glory.
<sup>a</sup> Also of <sup>a</sup>Nehemiah the memorial is great;
 Who raised up for us the walls that were fallen,
 And set up the gates and bars,
 And raised up our homes again.

<sup>a</sup> No man was created upon the earth such as was <sup>a</sup>Enoch;
 For he was taken up from the earth.
<sup>a</sup> Neither was there a man born like unto Joseph,
 A governor of his brethren, <sup>a</sup>a stay of the people:
 Yea, his bones were visited.
<sup>a</sup> Shem and <sup>a</sup>Seth were glorified among men;
 And <sup>a</sup>above every living thing in the creation is Adam.

50 <sup>a</sup> It was Simon, the son of Onias, the <sup>a</sup>great priest,
 Who in his life repaired the house,
 And in his days strengthened the temple:
<sup>a</sup> And by him was built from the foundation the height of the double wall,
 The lofty underworks of the inclosure of the temple:
<sup>a</sup> In his days <sup>a</sup>the cistern of waters was <sup>a</sup>diminished,
 The brazen vessel in compass as the sea.
<sup>a</sup> It was he that took thought for his people that they should not fall,
 And fortified the city <sup>a</sup>against besieging:
<sup>a</sup> How glorious was he when the people gathered round him
 At his coming forth out of the <sup>a</sup>sanctuary!
<sup>a</sup> As the morning star in the midst of a cloud,
 As the moon at the full:
<sup>a</sup> As the sun shining forth upon the temple of the Most High,
 And as <sup>a</sup>the rainbow giving light in clouds of glory:
<sup>a</sup> As the flower of <sup>a</sup>roses in the days of new fruits,
 As <sup>a</sup>lilies at the waterspring,
 As the shoot of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:

<sup>9</sup> As fire and incense in the censer,
As a vessel all of beaten gold Adorned with all manner of precious stones:

<sup>10</sup> As an olive tree budding forth fruits,
And <sup>11</sup> as a cypress growing high among the clouds.

<sup>11</sup> When he took up <sup>12</sup> the robe of glory,
And put on the perfection of exultation,
In the ascent of the holy altar,
He made glorious the precinct of the sanctuary.

<sup>12</sup> And when he received the portions out of the priests' hands, Himself also standing by the hearth of the altar,
His brethren as a garland round about him,

He was as a young cedar in Libanus;
And as stems of palm trees com-passed they him round about,

<sup>13</sup> And all the sons of Aaron in their glory,
And the Lord's offering in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.

<sup>14</sup> And finishing the service at the altars, That he might adorn the offering of the Most High, the Almighty,

<sup>15</sup> He stretched out his hand to the <sup>16</sup> cup,
And poured of <sup>17</sup> the blood of the grape;
He poured out at the foot of the altar

<sup>18</sup> A sweet-smelling savour unto the Most High, the King of all.

<sup>19</sup> Then shouted the sons of Aaron, <sup>20</sup> They sounded the trumpets of beaten work,

They made a great noise to be heard,
For a remembrance before the Most High.

<sup>21</sup> Then all the people together hasted, And fell down upon the earth on their faces

To worship their Lord, the Almighty, God Most High.

<sup>22</sup> The singers also praised him with their voices;
In the whole house was there made sweet melody.

<sup>23</sup> And the people besought the Lord
Most High,
In prayer before him that is merciful, Till the <sup>24</sup> worship of the Lord should be ended;
And so they accomplished his service.

<sup>25</sup> Then he went down, and lifted up his hands Over the whole congregation of the children of Israel,
To give blessing unto the Lord with his lips,
And to glory in his name.

<sup>26</sup> And he bowed himself down in worship the second time, <sup>27</sup> To declare the blessing from the Most High.

<sup>28</sup> And now bless ye the God of all, <sup>29</sup> Which everywhere doeth great things,

<sup>30</sup> Which exalteth our days from the womb,
And dealeth with us according to his mercy.

<sup>31</sup> May he grant us joyfulness of heart,
And that peace may be in our days in Israel for the days of eternity:

<sup>32</sup> To intrust his mercy with us;
And let him deliver us in his time!

<sup>33</sup> With two nations is my soul vexed,
And the third is no nation:

<sup>34</sup> They that sit upon the mountain of <sup>35</sup> Samaria, and <sup>36</sup> the Philistines, And that foolish people that dwelleth in <sup>37</sup> Sichem.

<sup>38</sup> I have <sup>39</sup> written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge,

I Jesus, the son of Sirach Eleazar, of Jerusalem,
<sup>40</sup> Who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.

<sup>41</sup> Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things;
And he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.

<sup>42</sup> For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things:
For <sup>43</sup> the light of the Lord is his <sup>44</sup> guide.

A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.

51

<sup>1</sup> I will give thanks unto thee,
O Lord, O King,
<sup>2</sup> And will praise thee, God my Saviour:

<sup>3</sup> I do give thanks unto thy name:
<sup>4</sup> For thou wast my protector and helper,
And didst deliver my body out of destruction,
And <sup>5</sup> out of the snare of a slanderous tongue,
From lips that forge lies,
And wast my helper before them that stood by;

<sup>6</sup> And didst deliver me, <sup>7</sup> according to the abundance of thy mercy, and greatness of thy name, <sup>8</sup> From the gnashings of teeth ready to devour,
Out of the hand of such as sought my life,
Out of the manifold afflictions which I had;

And thy working which hath been from everlasting,

How thou deliverest <sup>e</sup> them that wait for thee,
And savest them out of the hand of the enemies.

9 And I lifted up my supplication from the earth,
And prayed for deliverance from death.

10 I called upon the Lord, <sup>f</sup> the Father of my Lord,
That he would not forsake me in the days of affliction,
In the time when there was no help against the proud.

11 I will praise thy name continually,
And will sing praise with thanksgiving;

And my supplication was heard:
12 For thou savedst me from destruction,
And <sup>g</sup> deliveredst me from the evil time:

Therefore will I give thanks and praise unto thee,
And bless the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet young,
<sup>h</sup> Or ever I went abroad,

<sup>i</sup> I sought wisdom openly in my prayer.

14 <sup>j</sup> Before the temple I asked for her,
And I will seek her out even to the end.

15 From <sup>k</sup> her flower as from the ripening grape my heart delighted in her:
My foot trod in uprightness,
From my youth I tracked her out.

16 I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her,
And found for myself much instruction.

17 I profited in her:
Unto him that giveth me wisdom I will give glory.

18 For I purposed to practise her,
And I was zealous for that which is good;

And I shall never be put to shame.

19 My soul hath wrestled in her,
And in my doing I was exact:

I spread forth my hands to the heaven above,
And bewailed my ignorances of her.

20 I set my soul aright unto her,
And in pureness I found her.

I gat me a heart <sup>l</sup> joined with her from the beginning:

<sup>m</sup> Therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My inward part also was troubled to seek her:
Therefore have I gotten a good possession.

22 The Lord <sup>n</sup> gave me a tongue for my reward;

And I will praise him therewith.

23 <sup>o</sup> Draw near unto me, ye unlearned,
And lodge in the house of instruction.

24 Say, wherefore are ye lacking in these things,
And your souls are very thirsty?

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, Get her for yourselves <sup>p</sup> without money.

26 Put your neck <sup>q</sup> under the yoke,
And let your soul receive instruction:

<sup>r</sup> She is hard at hand to find.

27 Behold with your eyes,
How that <sup>s</sup> I laboured but a little,
And found for myself much rest.

28 <sup>t</sup> Get you instruction with a great sum of silver,
And <sup>u</sup> gain much gold by her.

29 May your soul rejoice in his mercy,
And may ye not be put to shame in praising him.

BARUCH.

I <sup>1</sup>AND these are the words of the book, which <sup>a</sup>Baruch the son of <sup>b</sup>Nerias, the son of Maaseas, the son of Sedekias, the son of Helkias, wrote in Babylon, <sup>a</sup>in the fifth year, and in the <sup>c</sup>seventh day of the month, <sup>d</sup>what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, <sup>e</sup>and burnt it with fire. <sup>3</sup>And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of <sup>f</sup>Jechonias the son of Joakim king of Judah, and in the hearing of all the people that came to hear the book, <sup>4</sup>and in the hearing of the mighty men, and of the kings' sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and in the hearing of all the people, <sup>5</sup>from the least unto the greatest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud. <sup>5</sup>And they wept, and fasted, <sup>1</sup>and prayed before the Lord; <sup>6</sup>they made also a collection of money <sup>7</sup>according to every man's power: <sup>7</sup>and they sent <sup>1</sup>to Jerusalem unto Joakim the high priest, the son of <sup>2</sup>Helkias, the son of <sup>3</sup>Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem, <sup>8</sup>at the same time when he took <sup>1</sup>the vessels of the house of the Lord, that had been carried out of the temple, to return <sup>them</sup> into the land of Judah, the tenth day of the month <sup>9</sup>Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which <sup>10</sup>Sedekias the son of Josias king of Judah had made, <sup>9</sup>after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away <sup>10</sup>Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon. <sup>10</sup>And they said, <sup>10</sup>Behold, we have sent you money; buy you therefore with the money <sup>11</sup>burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare <sup>12</sup>an oblation, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God; <sup>11</sup>and <sup>12</sup>pray for the life of <sup>13</sup>Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of <sup>14</sup>Baltasar his son, that their days may be <sup>15</sup>as the days of heaven above the earth: <sup>12</sup>and the Lord will give us strength, and <sup>13</sup>lighten our eyes, and we shall live <sup>14</sup>under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of <sup>15</sup>Baltasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight. <sup>13</sup>Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God; and unto this day the wrath of the Lord and his indignation is not turned from us. <sup>14</sup>And ye shall read <sup>15</sup>this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon <sup>16</sup>the day of the feast and on the days of the solemn assembly.

<sup>15</sup>And ye shall say, <sup>16</sup>To the Lord our God <sup>17</sup>belongeth righteousness, but unto us <sup>18</sup>confusion of face, as at this day, unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, <sup>19</sup>and to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers: <sup>20</sup>for that we have sinned before the Lord, <sup>21</sup>and disobeyed him, and <sup>22</sup>have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us: <sup>23</sup>since the day that the Lord brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have dealt unadvisedly in not hearkening unto his voice. <sup>24</sup>Wherefore the plagues clave unto us, <sup>25</sup>and the curse, which the Lord commanded Moses his servant to pronounce in the day that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land <sup>26</sup>that floweth with milk and honey, as at this day. <sup>27</sup>Nevertheless we hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, <sup>28</sup>whom he sent unto us: <sup>29</sup>but we walked every man in the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do that which is evil in the sight of the Lord our God. <sup>30</sup>Therefore the but unto us and to our fathers per confusion of face, as at this day. <sup>7</sup> For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us. <sup>8</sup> Yet have we not intreated the favour of the Lord, in turning every one from the thoughts of his wicked heart. <sup>9</sup> Therefore hath the Lord kept watch over the plagues, and the Lord hath brought them upon us; for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us. <sup>10</sup> Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord that he hath set before us.

2 Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Judah, <sup>31</sup>to bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, <sup>32</sup>as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that are written in the law of Moses; <sup>33</sup>that we should eat every man the flesh of his own son, and every man the flesh of his own daughter. <sup>34</sup>Moreover he hath given them to be in subjection to <sup>35</sup>all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be <sup>36</sup>a reproach and <sup>37</sup>a desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them. <sup>38</sup>Thus were they cast down, and not exalted, because we sinned against the Lord our God, in not hearkening unto his voice. <sup>39</sup>To the Lord our God <sup>40</sup>belongeth righteousness:

<sup>11</sup> And now, O Lord, thou God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and with a high arm, and hast gotten thyself a name, as at this day: <sup>12</sup> O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances. <sup>13</sup> Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us. <sup>14</sup> Hear our prayer, O Lord, and our petition, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away captive: <sup>15</sup> that all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name. <sup>16</sup> O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: incline thine ear, O Lord, and hear: <sup>17</sup> open thine eyes, and behold: for the dead that are in the grave, whose breath is taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither glory nor righteousness: <sup>18</sup> but the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee glory and righteousness, O Lord. <sup>19</sup> For we do not present our supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings. <sup>20</sup> For thou hast sent thy wrath and thine indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying, <sup>21</sup> Thus saith the Lord, Bow your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon, and remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers. <sup>22</sup> But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon, <sup>23</sup> I will cause to cease out of the cities of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate without inhabitant. <sup>24</sup> But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good thy words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their places. <sup>25</sup> And, lo, they are cast out to the heat by day, and to the frost by night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence. <sup>26</sup> And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as at this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Judah. <sup>27</sup> Yet, O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy kindness, and according to all that great mercy of thine, as thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, <sup>28</sup> If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them. <sup>29</sup> For I know that they will not hear me, because it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captivity they shall lay it to heart, and shall know that I am the Lord their God: and I will give them a heart, and ears to hear: and they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name, and shall return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord. <sup>30</sup> And I will bring them again into the land which I sware unto their fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished. <sup>31</sup> And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more remove my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

<sup>32</sup> O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, the soul in anguish, the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee. <sup>33</sup> Hear, O Lord, and have mercy: for thou art a merciful God: yea, have mercy upon us, because we have sinned before thee. <sup>34</sup> For thou sittest as king for ever, and we perish evermore. <sup>35</sup> O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of the children of them which were sinners before thee, that hearkened not unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues came unto us. <sup>36</sup> Remember not the iniquities of our fathers: but remember thy power and thy name now at this time. <sup>37</sup> For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise. <sup>38</sup> For for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name: and we will praise thee in our captivity, for we have called to mind all the iniquity of our fathers, that sinned before thee. <sup>8</sup>Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, <sup>9</sup>for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to penalty, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.

is none that knoweth her way, nor any that comprehendeth her path. <sup>33</sup>But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, he found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts: <sup>34</sup>he that sendeth forth the light, and it goeth; he called it, and it obeyed him with fear: <sup>35</sup>and the stars shined <sup>u</sup>in their watches, and were glad: when <sup>v</sup>he called them, they said, Here we be; they shined with gladness unto him that made them. <sup>36</sup>This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him. <sup>37</sup>He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and <sup>w</sup>hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel that is beloved of him. <sup>38</sup>Afterward did she appear upon earth, and <sup>x</sup>was conversant with men.

mandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: <sup>1</sup>all they that hold it fast are appointed to life; but such as leave it shall die. <sup>2</sup>Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: <sup>3</sup>walk towards her shining in the presence of the light thereof. <sup>4</sup>Give not thy glory to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation. <sup>5</sup>O Israel, happy are we: <sup>6</sup>for the things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us. <sup>7</sup>Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel. <sup>8</sup>Ye were sold to the nations, but not for destruction: because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto your adversaries. <sup>9</sup>For ye provoked him that made you <sup>z</sup>by sacrificing unto demons, and not to God. <sup>10</sup>Ye forgot the everlasting God, that brought you up; ye grieved also Jerusalem, that nursed you. <sup>11</sup>For she saw the wrath that is come upon you from God, and said, Harken, <sup>12</sup>ye women that dwell about Sion: for God hath brought upon me great mourning; <sup>13</sup>for I have seen the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. <sup>14</sup>For with joy did I nourish them; <sup>15</sup>but sent them away with weeping and mourning. <sup>16</sup>Let no man rejoice over me, <sup>17</sup>a widow, and forsaken of many: for the sins of my children am I left desolate; <sup>18</sup>because they turned aside from the law of God, <sup>19</sup>and had no regard to his statutes, neither walked they in the ways of God's commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness. <sup>20</sup>Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them. <sup>21</sup>For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, <sup>22</sup>who neither revered old man, nor pitied child. <sup>16</sup> And they have carried away the dear beloved sons of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate of her daughters. <sup>17</sup> But I, what can I help you? <sup>18</sup> For he that brought <sup>2</sup> these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hand of your enemies. <sup>19</sup> Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate. <sup>20</sup> I have put off the garment of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my petition: <sup>21</sup> I will cry unto the Everlasting as long as I live. <sup>22</sup> Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto God, and he shall deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies. <sup>23</sup> For I have trusted in the Everlasting, that he will save you; and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you <sup>1</sup> from the Everlasting your Saviour. <sup>24</sup> For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: <sup>2</sup> but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever. <sup>25</sup> For like as now they that dwell about Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from <sup>3</sup> our God, which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting. <sup>26</sup> My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee; but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread <sup>4</sup> upon their necks. <sup>27</sup> My delicate ones have gone rough ways; they were taken away as a flock carried off by the enemies. <sup>28</sup> Be of good cheer, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that hath brought <sup>5</sup> these things upon you. <sup>29</sup> For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, return and seek him ten times more. <sup>30</sup> For he that brought <sup>2</sup> these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy again with your salvation. <sup>31</sup> Be of good cheer, O Jerusalem: for he that <sup>6</sup> called thee by name will comfort thee. <sup>32</sup> Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall. <sup>33</sup> Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons. <sup>34</sup> For as she rejoiced at thy fall, and was glad of thy ruin: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation. <sup>35</sup> And I will take away her exultation in her great multitude, and her boasting shall be turned into mourning. <sup>36</sup> For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure; and she shall be inhabited of <sup>7</sup> devils for a great time.

the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God. <sup>1</sup> Put off, O Jerusalem, <sup>2</sup> the garment of thy mourning and affliction, and <sup>3</sup> put on the comeliness of the glory that <sup>4</sup> cometh from God for ever. <sup>5</sup> Cast about thee <sup>6</sup> the robe of the righteousness which <sup>7</sup> cometh from God; <sup>8</sup> set a diadem on thine head of the glory of the Everlasting. <sup>9</sup> For God will shew thy brightness unto every region under heaven. <sup>10</sup> For thy name shall be called of God for ever <sup>11</sup> The peace of righteousness, and The glory of godliness. <sup>12</sup> Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand upon the height, and <sup>13</sup> look about thee toward the east, and behold thy children <sup>14</sup> gathered from the going down of the sun unto the rising thereof at the word of the Holy One, rejoicing that God hath remembered them. <sup>15</sup> For they went from thee on foot, being led away of their enemies: <sup>16</sup> but God bringeth them in unto thee borne on high with glory, <sup>17</sup> as on a royal throne. <sup>18</sup> For God hath appointed that every high mountain, and the everlasting hills, should be made low, and the valleys filled up, to make plain the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God. <sup>19</sup> Moreover the woods and every sweet-smelling tree have overshadowed Israel by the commandment of God. <sup>20</sup> For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

THE EPISTLE OF JEREMY.

<sup>1</sup> A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.

<sup>2</sup> Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians. <sup>3</sup> So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, even for seven generations: and after that I will bring you out peaceably from thence. <sup>4</sup> But now shall ye see in Babylon <sup>5</sup> gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, <sup>6</sup> borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear. <sup>7</sup> Beware therefore that ye in no wise become like unto the strangers, neither let fear take hold upon you because of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them. <sup>8</sup> But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee. <sup>9</sup> For mine angel is with you, <sup>10</sup> and I myself do care for your <sup>11</sup> souls. <sup>12</sup> For their tongue is polished by the workman, and they themselves are <sup>13</sup> overlaid with gold and with silver; yet are they but false, and <sup>14</sup> cannot speak. <sup>15</sup> And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods: <sup>10</sup>and sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves; <sup>11</sup>and will even give thereof to <sup>12</sup>the common harlots: <sup>13</sup>and they deck them as men with garments, <sup>14</sup>even <sup>15</sup>the gods of silver, and gods of gold, and of wood. <sup>16</sup>Yet cannot these gods save themselves from <sup>17</sup>rust and moths, though they be covered <sup>18</sup>with purple raiment. <sup>19</sup>They wipe their faces because of <sup>20</sup>the dust of the temple, which is thick upon them. <sup>21</sup>And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth against him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were judge of a country. <sup>22</sup>He hath also a dagger in his right hand, and an axe: but cannot deliver himself from war and <sup>23</sup>robbers. <sup>24</sup>Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not. <sup>25</sup>For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken; even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temples their eyes be full of <sup>26</sup>dust through the feet of them that come in. <sup>27</sup>And as the courts are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death; <sup>28</sup>even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, <sup>29</sup>lest they be carried off by robbers. <sup>30</sup>They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof <sup>31</sup>they cannot see one. <sup>32</sup>They are <sup>33</sup>as one of the beams of the temple; and men say their hearts are eaten out, when things creeping out of the earth devour both them and their raiment: they feel it not <sup>34</sup>when their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple: <sup>35</sup>upon their bodies and heads alight bats, swallows, and birds; and in like manner the cats also. <sup>36</sup>Whereby ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not. <sup>37</sup>Notwithstanding the gold <sup>38</sup>wherewith they are beset to make them beautiful, except one wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for not even when they were molten did they feel it. <sup>39</sup>Things <sup>40</sup>wherein there is no breath are bought at any cost. <sup>41</sup>Having no feet, <sup>42</sup>they are borne upon shoulders, whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth. <sup>43</sup>They also that serve them are ashamed: for <sup>44</sup>if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be set awry, can they make themselves straight: <sup>45</sup>but the offerings are set before them, as if they were dead men. <sup>46</sup>And the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and spend; and in like manner their wives also lay up part thereof in full; <sup>47</sup>but unto the poor and to the impotent will they give nothing thereof. <sup>48</sup>The menstuous woman and <sup>49</sup>the woman in childbed touch their sacrifices: <sup>50</sup>knowing therefore by these things that they are no gods, fear them not. <sup>51</sup>For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before <sup>52</sup>the gods of silver, gold, and wood. <sup>53</sup>And in their temples the priests <sup>54</sup>sit on seats, <sup>55</sup>having their clothes rent, and <sup>56</sup>their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads. <sup>57</sup>They roar and cry before their gods, as men do <sup>58</sup>at the feast when one is dead. <sup>59</sup>The priests also take off <sup>60</sup>garments from them, and clothe their wives and children withal. <sup>61</sup>Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither <sup>62</sup>set up a king, nor put him down. <sup>63</sup>In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: <sup>64</sup>though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will never exact it. <sup>65</sup>They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty. <sup>66</sup>They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor deliver any that is in distress. <sup>67</sup>They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless. <sup>68</sup>They are like the stones that be <sup>69</sup>hewn out of the mountain, <sup>70</sup>these gods of wood, and that are <sup>71</sup>overlaid with gold and with silver: <sup>72</sup>they that minister unto them shall be confounded. <sup>73</sup>How should a man then think or say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them? <sup>74</sup>Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and treat him to call upon <sup>75</sup>Bel, as though he were able to understand. <sup>76</sup>Yet they cannot perceive this themselves, and forsake them: for they have no understanding. <sup>77</sup>The women also with cords about them sit in the ways, <sup>78</sup>burning bran for incense: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken. <sup>79</sup>Whatsoever is done among them is false: how should a man then think or say that they are gods? <sup>80</sup>They are fashioned by carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be. <sup>81</sup>And they themselves that fashioned them can never continue long; how then should the things that are fashioned by them? <sup>82</sup>For they have left <sup>83</sup>lies and <sup>84</sup>reproaches to them that come after. <sup>85</sup>For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them. <sup>86</sup>How then cannot men understand that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague? <sup>87</sup>For seeing they be but of wood, and <sup>a</sup> overlaid with gold and with silver, it shall be known hereafter that they are false: <sup>54</sup> and it shall be manifest to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but <sup>b</sup> the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them. <sup>55</sup> Who then may not know that they are no gods? <sup>53</sup> For neither can they <sup>c</sup> set up a king in a land, nor <sup>d</sup> give rain unto men. <sup>54</sup> Neither can they judge their own cause, nor <sup>e</sup> redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crowns between heaven and earth. <sup>55</sup> For even when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or <sup>f</sup> overlaid with gold or with silver, their priests will flee away, and escape, but they themselves shall be burnt asunder /like beams. <sup>56</sup> Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how should a man then allow or think that they be gods? <sup>57</sup> Neither are those gods of wood, and <sup>g</sup> overlaid with silver or with gold, <sup>h</sup> able to escape either from thieves or robbers. <sup>58</sup> Whose gold, and silver, and <sup>i</sup> garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong will take from them, and go away withal: <sup>j</sup> neither shall they be able to help themselves. <sup>59</sup> Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his manhood, or else <sup>k</sup> a vessel in a house profitable for that whereof the owner shall have need, than such false gods; or even a door in a house, to keep the things safe that be therein, than such false gods; or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods. <sup>60</sup> For sun, and moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, <sup>l</sup> are obedient. <sup>61</sup> Likewise also the lightning when it glittereth is fair to see; and 'after the same manner the wind also bloweth in every country. <sup>62</sup>And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden. <sup>63</sup>And 'the fire sent from above to consume mountains and wood doeth as it is commanded: but these are to be likened unto them neither in shew nor power. <sup>64</sup>Wherefore a man should neither think nor say that they are gods, <sup>65</sup>seeing they are able neither to judge causes, <sup>66</sup>nor to do good unto men. <sup>67</sup>Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not. <sup>68</sup>For <sup>69</sup>they can neither curse nor bless kings: <sup>70</sup>neither can they shew <sup>71</sup>signs in the heavens among the nations, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon. <sup>72</sup>The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a covert, and help themselves. <sup>73</sup>In no wise then is it manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not. <sup>74</sup>For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers that keepeth nothing, so are their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver. <sup>75</sup>Likewise also their gods of wood, and overlaid with gold and with silver, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon; as also to a dead body, that is cast forth into the dark. <sup>76</sup>And ye shall know them to be no gods by the <sup>77</sup>bright <sup>78</sup>purple that rotteth upon them: and they themselves afterward shall be consumed, and shall be <sup>79</sup>a reproach in the country. <sup>80</sup>Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

THE SONG OF THE THREE HOLY CHILDREN.

Which followeth in the third Chapter of DANIEL after this place,—fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.—Verse 23. That which followeth is not in the Hebrew, to wit, And they walked—unto these words, Then Nebuchadnezzar—verse 24.

1 AND they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.
2 Then a Azarias stood, and prayed on this manner; and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said, 3 Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers,
4 and worthy to be praised; and thy name is glorified for evermore: 4a for thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done: yea, 4b true are all thy works, and thy ways are right, and all thy judgements truth. 5 In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon <sup>the</sup> holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgements: for according to truth and justice hast thou brought all these things upon us because of our sins. <sup>6</sup> For we have sinned and committed iniquity, in departing from thee. <sup>7</sup> In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, <sup>8</sup> that it might go well with us. <sup>9</sup> Wherefore

all that thou hast brought upon us, and everything that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgement. <sup>9</sup>And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, and most hateful forsakers of God, and to <sup>10</sup>an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world. <sup>11</sup>And now 'we cannot open our mouth; <sup>12</sup>shame and reproach have befallen thy servants, and them that worship thee. <sup>13</sup>Deliver us not up utterly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant: <sup>14</sup>and cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for the sake of Abraham 'that is beloved of thee, and for the sake of Isaac thy servant, and Israel thy holy one; <sup>15</sup>to whom thou didst promise, 'that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is upon the sea shore. <sup>16</sup>For we, O Lord, 'are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins. <sup>17</sup>Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to offer before thee, and to find mercy. <sup>18</sup>Nevertheless in a contrite heart and a humble spirit let us be accepted; <sup>19</sup>like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs; so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee, 'for they shall not be ashamed that put their trust in thee. <sup>20</sup>And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face. <sup>21</sup>Put us not to shame: but 'deal with us after thy kindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercy. <sup>22</sup>Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and 'give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be confounded: <sup>23</sup>and let them be ashamed of all their 'power and might, and let their strength be broken: <sup>24</sup>and let them know that thou art the Lord, the only God, and glorious over the whole world. <sup>25</sup>And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the furnace hot with naphtha, pitch, tow, and small wood; <sup>26</sup>so that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits. <sup>27</sup>And it spread, and 'burned those Chaldeans whom it found about the furnace. <sup>28</sup>But 'the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace together with 'Azarias and his fellows, and he smote the flame of the fire out of the furnace; <sup>29</sup>and made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist 'whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither 'hurt nor troubled them. <sup>30</sup>Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, and glorified, and blessed God in the furnace, saying, <sup>31</sup>Blessed art thou, O Lord, thou God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>32</sup>And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>33</sup>Blessed art thou 'in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever. <sup>34</sup>Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and 'sittest upon the cherubim: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever. <sup>35</sup>Blessed art thou on the throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and 'extolled above all for ever. <sup>36</sup>Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and to be praised and glorified for ever.

THE ## HISTORY OF SUSANNA,

Set apart from the beginning of DANIEL, because it is not in the Hebrew, as neither the Narration of Bel and the Dragon.

* THERE dwelt a man in Babylon, and his name was Joakim: * and he took a wife, whose name was *Susanna, the daughter of Helkias, <sup>a</sup> a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord. <sup>3</sup> Her parents also were *righteous, and taught their daughter <sup>d</sup> according to the law of Moses. <sup>4</sup> Now Joakim was a great rich man, and had a *fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews; because he was more honourable than all others. <sup>5</sup> And the same year there were appointed <sup>f</sup> two of the ancients of the people to be judges, <sup>g</sup> such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who were accounted to govern the people. <sup>6</sup> These kept much at Joakim's house: and <sup>h</sup> all that had any suits in law came unto them. <sup>7</sup> Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk. <sup>8</sup> And the two elders beheld her going in every day, and walking; and they were inflamed with love for her. <sup>9</sup> And <sup>i</sup> they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgements. <sup>10</sup> And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief. <sup>11</sup> For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her. <sup>12</sup> Yet they watched jealously from day to day to see her. <sup>13</sup> And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time. <sup>14</sup> So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place; and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: and then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone. <sup>15</sup> And it fell out, as they watched a fit day, she went in as aforetime with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in <sup>j</sup> the garden: for it was hot. <sup>16</sup> And there was nobody there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her. <sup>17</sup> Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me. <sup>18</sup> And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at the side doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: and they saw not the elders, because they were hid. <sup>19</sup> Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying, <sup>20</sup> Behold, the garden doors are shut, <sup>k</sup> that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee; therefore consent unto us, and lie with us. <sup>21</sup> If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee. <sup>22</sup> Then Susanna sighed, and said, <sup>23</sup> I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, <sup>24</sup> it is death unto me: and if I do it not, I cannot escape your hands. <sup>25</sup> It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than <sup>a</sup>to sin in the sight of the Lord. <sup>24</sup> With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her. <sup>25</sup> Then ran the one, and opened the garden doors. <sup>26</sup> So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the side door, to see what had befallen her. <sup>27</sup> But when the elders had told their tale, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of Susanna. <sup>28</sup> And it came to pass on the morrow, <sup>o</sup>when the people assembled to her husband Joakim, the two elders came full of their wicked intent against Susanna to put her to death; <sup>29</sup> and said before the people,

mean these words that thou hast spoken? <sup>48</sup> So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned <sup>z</sup>a daughter of Israel? <sup>49</sup> Return again to the place of judgement: for these have borne false witness against her. <sup>50</sup> Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder. <sup>51</sup> Then said Daniel unto them, Put them asunder one far from another, and I will examine them. <sup>52</sup> So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, <sup>53</sup> now are thy sins come home to thee which thou hast committed aforetime, <sup>54</sup> in pronouncing unjust judgement, and condemning the innocent, and letting the guilty go free; albeit the Lord saith, <sup>55</sup> The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay. <sup>56</sup> Now then, if thou sawest her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree. <sup>57</sup> And Daniel said, Right well hast thou lied against thine own head; for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God and <sup>58</sup> shall cut thee in two. <sup>59</sup> So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou <sup>60</sup> seed of Canaan, and not of Judah, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust <sup>61</sup> hath perverted thine heart. <sup>62</sup> Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companied with you: but <sup>63</sup> the daughter of Judah would not abide your wickedness. <sup>64</sup> Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under a holm tree. <sup>65</sup> Then said Daniel unto him, Right well hast thou also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword <sup>66</sup> to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you. <sup>67</sup> With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and blessed God, who saveth them <sup>68</sup> that hope in him. <sup>69</sup> And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness out of their own mouth: <sup>70</sup> and <sup>71</sup> according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death, and the innocent blood was saved the same day. <sup>72</sup> Therefore <sup>73</sup> Helkias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joakim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her. <sup>74</sup> And from that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

BEL AND THE DRAGON.

in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drink up all. <sup>27</sup>In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him. <sup>28</sup>And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole. <sup>29</sup>And as soon as he had opened the door, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all. <sup>30</sup>Then <sup>31</sup>laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these. <sup>32</sup>And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry, <sup>33</sup>and took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him <sup>34</sup>the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table. <sup>35</sup>Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who overthrew him and his temple.

<sup>36</sup>And in that same place there was a great <sup>37</sup>dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped. <sup>38</sup>And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say <sup>39</sup>that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, and eateth and drinketh; thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him. <sup>40</sup>Then said Daniel, <sup>41</sup>I will worship the Lord my God: for he is <sup>42</sup>a living God. <sup>43</sup>But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave. <sup>44</sup>Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, so the dragon did eat and burst in sunder: and <sup>45</sup>Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship. <sup>46</sup>When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he <sup>47</sup>hath pulled down Bel, and slain the dragon, and <sup>48</sup>put the priests to the sword. <sup>49</sup>So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house. <sup>50</sup>Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, the king delivered Daniel unto them: <sup>51</sup>who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days. <sup>52</sup>And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every

33 Now there was in Jewry ¶ the prophet <sup>1</sup>Habakkuk, who had made pottage, and had broken bread into a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers. 34 But the angel of the Lord said unto Habakkuk, Go carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, in the lions' den. 35 And Habakkuk said, Lord, I never saw Babylon; neither do I know where the den is. 36 Then the angel of the Lord ¶ took him by the crown, and lifted him up by the hair of his head, and with the blast of his breath set him in Babylon over the den. 37 And Habakkuk cried,

O LORD Almighty, ¶ that art in heaven, ¶ thou God of our fathers, of Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and of ¶ their righteous seed; who hast made heaven and earth, with all the ¶ ornament thereof; ¶ who hast bound the sea by the word of thy commandment; who hast shut up the deep, and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious name; whom all things fear, yea, tremble before thy power; for the majesty of thy glory cannot be borne, and the anger of thy threatening toward sinners is importable: thy merciful promise is unmeasurable and ¶ unsearchable; for thou art the Lord Most High, ¶ of great compassion, longsuffering and abundant in mercy, and repentest ¶ of bringing evils upon men. ¶ Thou, O Lord, according to thy great goodness hast promised repentance and forgiveness to them that have sinned against thee: and of thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance unto sinners, ¶ that they may be saved. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the just, hast not appointed repentance to the just, to Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, which have not sinned against thee; but ¶ thou hast appointed repentance unto me that am a sinner: for I have sinned ¶ above the number of the sands of the sea. ¶ My transgressions are multiplied, ¶ O Lord: my transgressions are multiplied, and ¶ I am not worthy to behold and see the height of heaven for the multitude of mine iniquities. I am bowed down ¶ with many iron bands, that ¶ I cannot lift up mine head ¶ by reason of my sins, neither have I any respite: for I have provoked thy wrath, and done that which is evil before thee: ¶ I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandments: ¶ I have set up abominations, and have multiplied ¶ detestable things. Now therefore I bow the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I have sinned, O Lord, I have sinned, and ¶ I acknowledge mine iniquities: but, I humbly beseech thee, forgive me, O Lord, forgive me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities. Be not angry with me for ever, by reserving evil for me; neither condemn me into ¶ the lower parts of the earth. For thou, ¶ O Lord, art the God of them that repent; and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodness: for thou wilt save me, that am unworthy, according to thy great mercy. And I will praise thee for ever all the days of my life: ¶ for all the host of heaven do sing thy praise, and ¶ thine is the glory for ever and ever. Amen.

THE FIRST BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

I <sup>1</sup>AND it came to pass, after that <sup>2</sup>Alexander the Macedonian, the son of Philip, who came out of the land of <sup>3</sup>Chittim, and smote Darius king of the Persians and Medes, it came to pass, after he had smitten him, that he reigned in his stead, in former time, over <sup>1</sup>Greece. <sup>2</sup>And he fought many battles, and won many strongholds, and slew the kings of the earth, <sup>3</sup>and went through to the ends of the earth, and took spoils of a multitude of nations. And <sup>4</sup>the earth was quiet before him, and he was exalted, and his heart was lifted up, <sup>5</sup>and he gathered together an exceeding strong host, and ruled over countries and nations and principalities, and they became tributary unto him. <sup>6</sup>And after these things he fell sick, and perceived that he should die. <sup>7</sup>And he called his servants, which were honourable, which had been brought up with him from his youth, and he divided unto them his kingdom, while he was yet alive. <sup>8</sup>And Alexander reigned twelve years, and he died. <sup>9</sup>And his servants bare rule, each one in his place. <sup>10</sup>And they did all put <sup>11</sup>diadems upon themselves after that he was dead, and so did their sons after them many years: and they multiplied evils in the earth.

<sup>16</sup>In those days <sup>17</sup>came there forth out of Israel <sup>18</sup>transgressors of the law, and persuaded many, saying, <sup>19</sup>Let us go and make a covenant with the <sup>20</sup>Gentiles that are round about us; for since we were parted from them many evils have befallen us. <sup>21</sup>And the saying was good in their eyes. <sup>22</sup>And certain of the people were forward <sup>23</sup>herein and <sup>24</sup>went to the king, and he gave them licence to do after the ordinances of the <sup>25</sup>Gentiles. <sup>26</sup>And <sup>27</sup>they built a place of exercise in Jerusalem according to the laws of the <sup>28</sup>Gentiles; <sup>29</sup>and <sup>30</sup>they made themselves uncircumcised, and forsook the holy covenant, and

smote it very sore, and destroyed much people out of Israel. <sup>32</sup> And he took the spoils of the city, and set it on fire, and pulled down the houses thereof and the walls thereof on every side. <sup>33</sup> And they led captive the women and the children, and the cattle they took in possession. <sup>34</sup> And they builded the city of David with a great and strong wall, with strong towers, and it became unto them <sup>a</sup> a citadel. <sup>35</sup> And they put there <sup>a</sup> a sinful nation, † transgressors of the law, and they strengthened themselves therein. <sup>36</sup> And they stored up arms and victuals, and gathering together the spoils of Jerusalem, they laid them up there, and they became a sore snare; <sup>37</sup> and it became a place to lie in wait in against the sanctuary, and † an evil adversary to Israel continually. <sup>38</sup> And † they shed innocent blood on every side of the sanctuary, and defiled the sanctuary. <sup>39</sup> And the inhabitants of Jerusalem fled because of them; and she became a habitation of strangers, and she became strange to them that were born in her, and her children forsook her. <sup>40</sup> Her sanctuary was laid waste like a wilderness, † her feasts were turned into mourning, her sabbaths into reproach, her honour into contempt. <sup>41</sup> According to her glory, so was her dishonour multiplied, and her high estate was turned into mourning.

<sup>42</sup> And king Antiochus wrote to his whole kingdom, that all should be one people, <sup>43</sup> and that each should forsake his own laws. <sup>44</sup> And all the nations agreed according to the word of the king; <sup>45</sup> and many of Israel consented to his worship, and sacrificed to the idols, and profaned the sabbath. <sup>46</sup> And the king sent letters by the hand of messengers unto Jerusalem and the cities of Judah, <sup>47</sup> that they should follow laws strange to the land, <sup>48</sup> and should forbid whole burnt offerings and sacrifice and drink offerings in the sanctuary; and should † profane the sabbaths and feasts, <sup>49</sup> and pollute the sanctuary and them that were holy; <sup>50</sup> that they should build altars, and temples, and shrines for idols, and † should sacrifice swine's flesh and unclean beasts; <sup>51</sup> and that they should leave their sons uncircumcised, that they should make their souls abominable with all manner of uncleanness and profanation; <sup>52</sup> so that they might forget the law, and change all the ordinances. <sup>53</sup> And whosoever shall not do according to the word of the king, he shall die. <sup>54</sup> According to all these words wrote he to his whole kingdom; and † he appointed overseers over all the people, and he commanded the cities of Judah to sacrifice, city by city. <sup>55</sup> And from the people were gathered together unto them many, every one that had forsaken the law; and they did evil things in the land; <sup>56</sup> and they made Israel † to hide themselves in every place of refuge which they had.

<sup>8</sup> And he saw the blasphemies that were committed in Judah and in Jerusalem, <sup>9</sup> and he said,

Woe is me! wherefore was I born to see the destruction of my people, and the destruction of † the holy city, and to dwell there, when it was given into the hand of the enemy, the sanctuary into the hand of aliens? <sup>2</sup> Her temple is become as a man <sup>3</sup> that was glorious: <sup>4</sup> her vessels of glory are carried away into captivity, <sup>5</sup> her infants are slain in her streets, her young men with the sword of the enemy. <sup>6</sup> What nation hath not inherited her palaces, and gotten possession of her spoils? <sup>7</sup> Her adorning is all taken away; instead of a <sup>8</sup> free woman she is become a bond woman: <sup>9</sup> and, behold, our holy things and our beauty and our glory are laid waste, and the Gentiles have profaned them. <sup>13</sup> Wherefore should we live any longer?

<sup>15</sup> And the king's officers, that were enforcing the apostasy, came into the city <sup>16</sup> Modin to sacrifice. <sup>16</sup> And many of Israel came unto them, and Mattathias and his sons were gathered together. <sup>17</sup> And the king's officers answered and spake to Mattathias, saying, Thou art a ruler and an honourable and great man in this city, and strengthened with sons and brethren: <sup>18</sup> now therefore come thou first and do the commandment of the king, <sup>19</sup> as all the nations have done, and the men of Judah, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou and thy house shall be in the number of the king's <sup>20</sup> Friends, and thou and thy sons shall be honoured with silver and gold and many gifts. <sup>21</sup> And Mattathias answered and said with a loud voice, If all the nations that are in the house of the king's dominion hearken unto him, <sup>22</sup> to fall away each one from the worship of his fathers, and have made choice to follow his commandments, <sup>23</sup> yet will I and my sons and my brethren walk in the covenant of our fathers. <sup>24</sup> Heaven forbid that we should forsake the law and the ordinances. <sup>25</sup> We will not hearken to the king's words, to go aside from our worship, <sup>26</sup> on the right hand, or on the left.

<sup>27</sup> And when he had left speaking these words, there came a Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice on the altar which was at <sup>28</sup> Modin, according to the king's commandment. <sup>29</sup> And Mattathias saw it, and his zeal was kindled, and <sup>30</sup> his reins trembled, and he shewed forth his wrath <sup>31</sup> according to judgement, and ran, and slew him upon the altar. <sup>32</sup> And the king's officer, who compelled men to sacrifice, he killed at that time, and pulled down the altar. <sup>33</sup> And he was zealous for the law, <sup>34</sup> even as Phinehas did unto Zimri the son of Salu. <sup>35</sup> And Mattathias cried out in the city with a loud voice, saying, Whosoever is zealous for the law, and maintaineth the covenant, let him come forth after me. <sup>36</sup> And he and his sons fled into the mountains, and forsook all that they had in the city.

<sup>37</sup> Then many that sought after justice and judgement went down into the wilderness, to dwell there, <sup>38</sup> they, and their sons, and their wives, and their cattle; because evils were multiplied upon them. <sup>39</sup> And it was told the king's officers, and <sup>40</sup> the forces that were in

Jerusalem, the city of David, that certain men, who had broken the king's commandment, were gone down into <sup>41</sup> the secret places in the wilderness; <sup>42</sup> and many pursued after them, and having overtaken them, they encamped against them, and set the battle in array against them on the sabbath day. <sup>43</sup> And they said unto them, Thus far. Come forth, and do according to the word of the king, and ye shall live. <sup>44</sup> And they said, We will not come forth, neither will we do the word of the king, <sup>45</sup> to profane the sabbath day. <sup>46</sup> And they hasted to give them battle. <sup>47</sup> And they answered them not, neither cast they a stone at them, nor stopped up <sup>48</sup> the secret places, <sup>49</sup> saying, Let us die all in our innocency: heaven and earth witness over us, that ye put us to death without trial. <sup>50</sup> And they rose up against them in battle on the sabbath, and they died, they <sup>51</sup> and their wives and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand <sup>52</sup> souls.

<sup>53</sup> And Mattathias and his friends knew it, and they mourned over them exceedingly. <sup>54</sup> And one said to another, If we all do as our brethren have done, and fight not against the Gentiles for our lives and our ordinances, they will now quickly destroy us from off the earth. <sup>55</sup> And they took counsel on that day, saying, Whosoever shall come against us to battle on the sabbath day, <sup>56</sup> let us fight against him, and we shall in no wise all die, as our brethren died in <sup>57</sup> the secret places. <sup>58</sup> Then were gathered together unto them a company of <sup>59</sup> Hasidæans, mighty men of Israel, every one that offered himself willingly for the law. <sup>60</sup> And all they that fled from the evils were added to them, and became a stay unto them. <sup>61</sup> And they mustered a host, and smote <sup>62</sup> sinners in their anger, and lawless men in their wrath: and the rest fled to the Gentiles for safety. <sup>63</sup> And Mattathias and his friends went round about, and pulled down the altars; <sup>64</sup> and they circumcised by force the children that were uncircumcised, as many as they found in the coasts of Israel. <sup>65</sup> And they pursued after the sons of pride, and the work prospered in their hand. <sup>66</sup> And they rescued the law out of the hand of the Gentiles, and out of the hand of the kings, neither <sup>67</sup> suffered they the sinner to triumph.

<sup>68</sup> And the days of Mattathias drew near that he should die, and he said unto his sons,

Now have pride and rebuke gotten strength, and a season of overthrow, and wrath of indignation. <sup>69</sup> And now, my children, be ye zealous for the law, and give your lives for the covenant of your fathers. <sup>70</sup> And call to remembrance the deeds of our fathers which they did in their generations; and receive great glory and an everlasting name. <sup>52</sup> Was not Abraham found faithful in temptation, and <sup>53</sup> it was reckoned unto him for righteousness? <sup>53</sup> Joseph in the time of his distress kept the commandment, and became lord of Egypt. <sup>54</sup> Phinehas our father, for that he was zealous exceedingly, obtained the covenant of an everlasting priesthood. <sup>55</sup> Joshua for fulfilling the word became a judge in Israel. <sup>56</sup> Caleb for bearing witness in the congregation obtained a heritage in the land. <sup>57</sup> David for being merciful inherited the throne of a kingdom for ever and ever. <sup>58</sup> Elijah, for that he was exceeding zealous for the law, was taken up into heaven. <sup>59</sup> Hananiah, Azariah, Mishael, believed, and were saved out of the flame. <sup>60</sup> Daniel for his innocence was delivered from the mouth of lions. <sup>61</sup> And thus consider ye from generation to generation, that none that put their trust in him shall want for strength. <sup>62</sup> And be not afraid of the words of a sinful man; for his glory shall be dung and worms. <sup>63</sup> To-day he shall be lifted up, and to-morrow he shall in no wise be found, because he is returned unto his dust, and his thought is perished. <sup>64</sup> And ye, my children, be strong, and shew yourselves men in behalf of the law; for therein shall ye obtain glory. <sup>65</sup> And, behold, Simon your brother, I know that he is a man of counsel; give ear unto him always: he shall be a father unto you. <sup>66</sup> And Judas Maccabeus, he hath been strong and mighty from his youth: he shall be your captain, and shall fight the battle of the people. <sup>67</sup> And take ye unto you all the doers of the law, and avenge the wrong of your people. <sup>68</sup> Render a recompense to the Gentiles, and take heed to the commandments of the law.

And he blessed them, and was gathered to his fathers. <sup>70</sup> And he died in the hundred and forty and sixth year, and his sons buried him in the sepulchres of his fathers at Modin, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

And his son Judas, who was called Maccabeus, rose up in his stead. And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that clave unto his father, and they fought with gladness the battle of Israel. And he gat his people great glory, and put on a breastplate as a giant, and girt his warlike harness about him, and set battles in array, protecting the army with his sword. And he was like a lion in his deeds, and as a lion's whelp roaring for prey. And he pursued the lawless, seeking them out, and he burnt up those that troubled his people. And the lawless shrunk for fear of him, and all the workers of lawlessness were sore troubled, and salvation prospered in his hand. And he angered many kings and made Jacob glad with his acts, and his memorial is blessed for ever. And he went about among the cities of Judah and destroyed the ungodly out of the land, and turned away wrath from Israel: and he was renowned unto the utmost part of the earth, and he gathered together such as were ready to perish.

And Apollonius gathered the Gentiles together, and a great host from Samaria, to fight against Israel. And Judas perceived it, and he went forth to meet him, and smote him, and slew him: and many fell wounded to death and the rest fled. And they took their spoils, and Judas took the sword of Apollonius, and therewith he fought all his days.

And Seron, the commander of the host of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered a gathering and a congregation of faithful men with him, and of such as went out to war; and he said, I will make myself a name and get glory in the kingdom; and I will fight against Judas and them that are with him, that set at nought the word of the king. And there went up with him also a mighty army of the ungodly to help him, to take vengeance on the children of Israel.

And he came near unto the going up of Bethhoron, and Judas went forth to meet him with a small company. But when they saw the army coming to meet them, they said unto Judas: What? shall we be able, being a small company, to fight against so great an strong a multitude? and we for our part are faint, having tasted no food this day. And Judas said, It is an easy thing for many to be shut up in the hands of a few; and with heaven it is all one, to save by many or by few for victory in battle standeth not in the multitude of a host; but strength in heaven. They come unto us in fullness of insolence and lawlessness, they destroy us and our wives and our children, for to spoil us: but we fight for our lives and our laws. And himself will discomfit them before our face: but as for you, be ye not afraid of them.

Now when he had left off speaking he leapt suddenly upon them, and Sero and his army were discomfited before him. And they pursued them in the going down of Bethhoron unto the plain, and there fell of them about eight hundred men; but the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 And the fear of Judas and his brethren, and the dread of them, began to fall upon the nations round about them: 26 and his name came near even unto the king, and every nation told of the battles of Judas.

27 But when king Antiochus heard these words, he was full of indignation: and he sent and gathered together all the forces of his realm, an exceeding strong army. 28 And he opened his treasury, and gave his forces pay for a year, and commanded them to be ready for every need. 29 And he saw that the money failed from his treasures, and that the tributes of the country were small, because of the disension and plague which he had brought upon the land, to the end that he might take away the laws which had been from the first days; 30 and he feared that he should not have enough as at other times for the charges and the gifts which he gave aforesaid with a liberal hand, and he abounded above the kings that were before him. 31 And he was exceedingly perplexed in his mind, and he determined to go into Persia, and to take the tributes of the countries, and to gather much money. 32 And he left Lysias, an honourable man, and one of the seed royal, to be over the affairs of the king from the river Euphrates unto the borders of Egypt, 33 and to bring up his son Antiochus, until he came again. 34 And he delivered unto him the half of his forces, and the elephants, and gave him charge of all the things that he would have done, and concerning them that dwell in Judaea and in Jerusalem, 35 that he should send a host against them, to root out and destroy the strength of Israel, and the remnant of Jerusalem, and to take away their memorial from the place; 36 and that he should make strangers to dwell in all their coasts, and should divide their land to them by lot. 37 And the king took the half that remained of the forces, and removed from Antioch, from his royal city, the hundred and forty and seventh year; and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the upper countries.

38 And Lysias chose Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men of the king's Friends; 39 and with them he sent forty thousand footmen, and seven thousand horse, to go into the land of Judah, and to destroy it, according to the word of the king. 40 And they removed with all their host, and came and pitched near unto Emmaus in the plain country. 41 And the merchants of the country heard the fame of them, and took silver and gold exceeding much, with fethers, and came into the camp to take the children of Israel for servants: and there were added unto them the forces of Syria and of the land of the Philistines.

42 And Judas and his brethren saw that evils were multiplied, and that the forces were encamping in their borders; and they took knowledge of the king's words which he had commanded, to destroy the people and make an end of them; 43 and they said each man to his neighbour, Let us raise up the ruin of our people, and let us fight for our people and the holy place. 44 And the congregation was gathered together, that they might be ready for battle, and that they might pray, and ask for mercy and compassion. 45 And Jerusalem was without inhabitant as a wilderness, there was none of her offspring that went in or went out; and the sanctuary was trodden down, and the sons of strangers were in the citadel, the Gentiles lodged therein; and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and the harp ceased. 46 And they gathered themselves together, and came to Mizpeh, over against Jerusalem; for in Mizpeh was there a place of prayer aforesaid for Israel. 47 And they fasted that day, and put on sackcloth, and put ashes upon their heads, and rent their clothes, 48 and laid open the book of the law, concerning which the Gentiles were wont to inquire, seeking the likenesses of their idols. 49 And they brought the priests' garments, and the firstfruits, and the tithes: and they stirred up the Nazirites, who had accomplished their days. 50 And they cried aloud toward heaven, saying, What shall we do with these men, and whither shall we carry them away? 51 And thy holy place is trodden down and profaned, and thy priests are in heaviness and brought low. 52 And, behold, the Gentiles are assembled together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what things they imagine against us. 53 How shall we be able to stand before them, except thou be our help? 54 And they sounded with the trumpets, and cried with a loud voice.

55 And after this Judas appointed leaders of the people, captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens. 56 And he said to them that were building houses, and were betrothing wives, and were planting vineyards, and were fearful, that they should return, each man to his own house, according to the law. 57 And the army removed, and encamped upon the south side of Emmaus. 58 And Judas said, Gird yourselves, and be valiant men, and be in readiness against the morning, that ye may fight with these Gentiles, that are assembled together against us to destroy us, and our holy place: <sup>59</sup> for it is better for us to die in battle, than to look upon the evils of our nation and the holy place. <sup>60</sup> Nevertheless, as may be the will <sup>61</sup> in heaven, so shall he do.

4 <sup>1</sup> And / Gorgias took five thousand footmen, and a thousand chosen horse, and the army removed by night, <sup>2</sup> that it might fall upon the army of the Jews and smite them suddenly: and <sup>3</sup> the men of the citadel were his guides. <sup>3</sup> And Judas heard thereof, and removed, he and the valiant men, that he might smite the king's host which was at <sup>4</sup> Emmaus, <sup>4</sup> while as yet the forces were dispersed from the camp. <sup>5</sup> And Gorgias came into the camp of Judas by night, and found no man; and he sought them in the mountains; for he said, These men flee from us. <sup>6</sup> And as soon as it was day, Judas appeared in the plain with three thousand men: howbeit they had not armour nor swords to their minds. <sup>7</sup> And they saw the camp of the Gentiles strong and fortified, and horsemen compassing it round about; and these were expert in war. <sup>8</sup> And Judas said to the men that were with him, Fear ye not their multitude, neither be ye afraid of their onset. <sup>9</sup> Remember how our fathers / were saved in the Red sea, when Pharaoh pursued them with a host. <sup>10</sup> And now let us cry <sup>11</sup> unto heaven, if he will have us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and destroy this army before our face to-day: <sup>12</sup> and <sup>13</sup> all the Gentiles shall know that there is one who redeemeth and saveth Israel. <sup>14</sup> And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming over against them: <sup>15</sup> and they went out of the camp to battle. And they that were with Judas <sup>16</sup> sounded their trumpets, <sup>17</sup> and joined battle, and the Gentiles were discomfited, and fled into the plain. <sup>18</sup> But all the hindmost fell by the sword: and they pursued them unto <sup>19</sup> Gazara, and unto the plains of Idumaea and <sup>20</sup> Azotus and <sup>21</sup> Jamnia, and there fell of them about three thousand men. <sup>22</sup> And Judas and his host returned from pursuing after them, <sup>23</sup> and he said unto the people, Be not greedy of the spoils, inasmuch as there is a battle before us; <sup>24</sup> and Gorgias and his host are high unto us in the mountain. But stand ye now against our enemies, and fight against them, and afterwards take the spoils with boldness. <sup>25</sup> While Judas was yet making an end of these words, there appeared a part of them looking out from the mountain: <sup>26</sup> and they saw that their host had been put to flight, and that the Jews were burning the camp; for the smoke that was seen declared what was done. <sup>27</sup> But when they perceived these things, they were sore afraid; and perceiving also the army of Judas in the plain ready for battle, <sup>28</sup> they fled all of them into <sup>29</sup> the land of the <sup>30</sup> Philistines. <sup>31</sup> And Judas returned to spoil the camp, and they got much gold, and silver, and blue, and sea purple, and great riches. <sup>32</sup> And they returned home, and sang a song of thanksgiving, and gave praise <sup>33</sup> unto heaven; <sup>34</sup> because <sup>35</sup> his mercy is good, because his mercy endureth for ever. <sup>36</sup> And Israel had a great deliverance that day.

<sup>37</sup> But the strangers, as many as had escaped, came and told <sup>38</sup> Lysias all the things that had happened: <sup>39</sup> but when he heard thereof, he was confounded and discouraged, because neither had such things as he would been done unto Israel, nor had such things as the king commanded him come to pass.

<sup>40</sup> And in the next year he gathered together threescore thousand chosen footmen, and five thousand horse, that he might subdue them. <sup>41</sup> And they came into Idumaea, and encamped at <sup>42</sup> Bethsura; and Judas met them with ten thousand men. <sup>43</sup> And he saw that the army was strong, and he prayed and said,

<sup>51</sup> And they joined battle; and there fell of the army of <sup>52</sup> Lysias about five thousand men, and they fell down over against them. <sup>53</sup> But when Lysias saw that his array was put to flight, and the boldness that had come upon them that were with Judas, and how they were ready either to live or to die nobly, he removed to <sup>54</sup> Antioch, and gathered together hired soldiers, that he might come again into Judaea with even a greater company.

<sup>55</sup> But Judas and his brethren said, Behold, our enemies are discomfited: let us go up to <sup>56</sup> cleanse the holy place, and to dedicate it afresh. <sup>57</sup> And all the army was gathered together, and they went up unto mount Sion. <sup>58</sup> And they saw the sanctuary laid desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burned up, and shrubs growing in the courts as in a forest or as on one of the mountains, and the priests' chambers pulled down; <sup>39</sup> and they rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, and put ashes upon their heads, <sup>40</sup> and fell on their faces to the ground, and blew with <sup>41</sup> the solemn trumpets, and cried toward heaven. <sup>42</sup> Then Judas appointed certain men to fight against those that were in the citadel, until he should have cleansed the holy place.

<sup>43</sup> And he chose blameless priests, such as had pleasure in the law: <sup>43</sup> and they cleansed the holy place, and bare out the stones of defilement into an unclean place. <sup>44</sup> And they took counsel concerning the altar of burnt offerings, which had been profaned, what they should do with it: <sup>45</sup> and there came in to their mind a good counsel, that they should pull it down, lest it should be a reproach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it: and they pulled down the altar, <sup>46</sup> and laid up the stones in the mountain of the house in a convenient place, until there should come a prophet to give an answer concerning them. <sup>47</sup> And they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar after the fashion of the former; <sup>48</sup> and they built the holy place, and the inner parts of the house; and they hallowed the courts. <sup>49</sup> And they made the holy vessels new, and they brought the candlestick, and the altar of burnt offerings, and of incense, and the table, into the temple. <sup>50</sup> And they burned incense upon the altar, and they lighted the lamps that were upon the candlestick, and they gave light in the temple. <sup>51</sup> And they set loaves upon the table, and spread out the veils, and finished all the works which they made.

<sup>52</sup> And they rose up early in the morning, on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month, which is the month 'Chislew, in the hundred and forty and eighth year, <sup>53</sup> and offered sacrifice according to the law upon the new altar of burnt offerings which they had made. <sup>54</sup> At what time and on what day the Gentiles had profaned it, even on that day was it dedicated afresh, with songs and harps and lutes, and with cymbals. <sup>55</sup> And all the people fell upon their faces, and worshipped, and gave praise unto heaven, which had given them good success. <sup>56</sup> And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and offered burnt offerings with gladness, and sacrificed a sacrifice of deliverance and praise. <sup>57</sup> And they decked the forefront of the temple with crowns of gold and small shields, and dedicated afresh the gates and the priests' chambers, and made doors for them. <sup>58</sup> And there was exceeding great gladness among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away. <sup>59</sup> And Judas and his brethren and the whole congregation of Israel ordained, that the days of the dedication of the altar should be kept in their seasons from year to year by the space of eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month 'Chislew, with gladness and joy. <sup>60</sup> And at that season they builded up the mount Sion with high walls and strong towers round about, lest haply the Gentiles should come and tread them down, as they had done aforetime. <sup>61</sup> And he set there a force to keep it, and they fortified Bethsura to keep it; that the people might have a stronghold over against Idumæa.

5 And it came to pass, when the Gentiles round about heard that the altar was built, and the sanctuary dedicated as aforetime, they were exceeding wroth. <sup>2</sup> And they took counsel to destroy the race of Jacob that was in the midst of them, and they began to alay and destroy among the people. <sup>3</sup> And Judas fought against the children of Esau in Idumæa at 'Akabattine, because they besieged Israel: and he smote them with a great slaughter, and brought down their pride, and took their spoils. <sup>4</sup> And he remembered the wickedness of the children of Beaan, who were unto the people a snare and a stumblingblock, lying in wait for them in the ways. <sup>5</sup> And they were shut up by him in the towers; and he encamped against them, and destroyed them utterly, and burned with fire the towers of the place, with all that were therein. <sup>6</sup> And he passed over to the children of Ammon, and found a mighty band, and much people, with 'Timotheus for their leader. <sup>7</sup> And he fought many battles with them, and they were discomfited before his face; and he smote them, and gat possession of 'Jazer, and the villages thereof, and returned again into Judæa.

<sup>9</sup> And the Gentiles that were in 'Gilead gathered themselves together against the Israelites that were on their borders, to destroy them. And they fled to the stronghold of Dathema, and sent letters unto Judas and his brethren, saying, The Gentiles that are round about us are gathered together against us to destroy us: and they are preparing to come and get possession of the stronghold whereunto we are fled for refuge, and Timotheus is the leader of their host. <sup>12</sup> Now therefore come and deliver us from their hand, for many of us are fallen. <sup>13</sup> And all our brethren that were in the land of 'Tubias have been put to death; and they have carried into captivity their wives and their children and their stuff; and they destroyed there about a thousand men. <sup>14</sup> While the letters were yet reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee <sup>15</sup> with their clothes rent, bringing a report after this wise, <sup>16</sup> saying, That there were gathered together against them those of <sup>17</sup> Ptolemais, and of <sup>18</sup> Tyre, and of Sidon, and all <sup>19</sup> Galilee of the <sup>20</sup> Gentiles, to consume them.

<sup>21</sup> Now when Judas and the people heard these words, there assembled together a great congregation, to consult what they should do for their brethren, that were in tribulation, and were assaulted of them. <sup>22</sup> And Judas said unto <sup>23</sup> Simon his brother, Choose thee out men, and go and deliver thy brethren that are in <sup>24</sup> Galilee, but I and <sup>25</sup> Jonathan my brother will go into the land of <sup>26</sup> Gilead. <sup>27</sup> And he left <sup>28</sup> Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias, as leaders of the people, with the remnant of the host, in Judaea, for to keep it. <sup>29</sup> And he gave commandment unto them, saying, Take ye the charge of this people, and <sup>30</sup> fight no battle with the Gentiles until that we come again. <sup>31</sup> And unto <sup>32</sup> Simon were divided three thousand men to go into <sup>33</sup> Galilee, but unto Judas eight thousand men to go into the land of <sup>34</sup> Gilead.

city with fire. <sup>55</sup> And he removed from thence by night, and went till he came to <sup>56</sup> the stronghold. <sup>57</sup> And the morning came, and they lifted up their eyes, and, behold, much people which could not be numbered, bearing ladders and engines of war, to take the stronghold; and they were fighting against them. <sup>58</sup> And Judas saw that the battle was begun, and that the cry of the city went up to heaven, with trumpets and a great sound, <sup>59</sup> and he said unto the men of his host, <sup>60</sup> Fight this day for your brethren. <sup>61</sup> And he went forth behind them <sup>62</sup> in three companies, <sup>63</sup> and they sounded with their trumpets, and cried out in prayer. <sup>64</sup> And the army of Timotheus perceived that it was Maccabeus, and they fled from before him; and he smote them with a great slaughter; and there fell of them on that day about eight thousand men. <sup>65</sup> And he turned aside to <sup>66</sup> Mizpeh and fought against it, and took it, and slew all the males thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burned it with fire. <sup>67</sup> From thence he removed, and took <sup>68</sup> Casphor, Maked, Bosor, and the other cities of the land of Gilead.

<sup>84</sup> And Judas gathered together all Israel, them that were in the land of Gilead, from the least unto the greatest, and their wives, and their children, and their stuff, an exceeding great army, that they might come into the land of Judah. <sup>45</sup> And <sup>46</sup> they came as far as Ephron, and this same city was great, and it was in the way as they should go, exceeding strong: they could not turn aside from it on the right hand or on the left, but must needs pass through the midst of it. <sup>47</sup> And they of the city shut them out, and stopped up the gates with stones. <sup>48</sup> And Judas sent unto them with words of peace, saying, <sup>49</sup> We will pass through thy land to go into our own land, and none shall do you any hurt, we will only pass by on our feet. And they would not open unto him. <sup>50</sup> And Judas commanded proclamation to be made in the army, that each man should encamp in the place where he was. <sup>51</sup> And the men of the host encamped, and fought against the city all that day and all that night, and <sup>52</sup> the city was delivered into his hands; <sup>53</sup> and he destroyed all the males with the edge of the sword, and rased the city, and took the spoils thereof, and passed through the city over them that were slain. <sup>54</sup> And they went <sup>55</sup> over Jordan into <sup>56</sup> the great plain over against <sup>57</sup> Bethshan. <sup>58</sup> And Judas gathered together those that lagged behind, and encouraged the people all the way through, until he came into the land of Judah. <sup>59</sup> And they went up to mount Sion with gladness and joy, and offered whole burnt offerings, because not so much as one of them was slain until they returned in peace.

<sup>77</sup> And the man Judas and his brethren were glorified exceedingly in the sight of all Israel, and of all the Gentiles, whosoever their name was heard of; <sup>78</sup> and men gathered together unto them, acclaiming them.

<sup>93</sup> And king Antiochus was journeying through the upper countries; and he heard say, that in <sup>94</sup> Elymais in <sup>95</sup> Persia there was a city renowned for riches, for silver and gold; <sup>96</sup> and that the temple which was in it was rich exceedingly, and that therein were golden shields, and breastplates, and arms, which <sup>97</sup> Alexander, son of Philip, the Macedonian king, who reigned first among the Greeks, left behind there. <sup>98</sup> And he came and sought to take the city, and to pillage it; and he was not able, because the thing was known to them of the city, <sup>99</sup> and they rose up against him to battle: and he fled, and removed thence with great heaviness, to return unto Babylon.

tribulation am I come, and how great a flood is it, wherein I now am! for I was gracious and beloved in my power. <sup>12</sup> But now I remember the evils which I did at Jerusalem, and that <sup>13</sup> I took all the vessels of silver and gold that were therein, and <sup>14</sup> sent forth to destroy the inhabitants of Judah without a cause. <sup>15</sup> I perceive that on this account these evils are come upon me, and, behold, I perish through great grief in a strange land. <sup>16</sup> And he called for <sup>17</sup> Philip, one of his <sup>18</sup> Friends, and set him over all his kingdom. <sup>19</sup> And gave him his <sup>20</sup> diadem, and his robe, and his <sup>21</sup> signet-ring, to the end he should bring Antiochus his son, and nourish him up that he might be king. <sup>22</sup> And king Antiochus died there in <sup>23</sup> the hundred and forty and ninth year. <sup>24</sup> And <sup>25</sup> Lysias knew that the king was dead, and he set up Antiochus his son to reign, <sup>26</sup> whom he had nourished up being young, and he called his name <sup>27</sup> Eupator.

<sup>28</sup> And they <sup>29</sup> that were in the citadel shut up Israel round about the sanctuary, and sought always their hurt, and the strengthening of the Gentiles. <sup>30</sup> And Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together to besiege them. <sup>31</sup> And they were gathered together, and besieged them <sup>32</sup> in <sup>33</sup> the hundred and fiftieth year, and he made <sup>34</sup> mounds to shoot from, and engines of war. <sup>35</sup> And there came forth some of them that were shut up, and there were joined unto them <sup>36</sup> certain ungodly men of Israel. <sup>37</sup> And they went unto the king, and said, How long wilt thou not execute judgement, and avenge our brethren? <sup>38</sup> We were willing to serve thy father, and to walk after his words, and to follow <sup>39</sup> his commandments; <sup>40</sup> and for this cause the children of our people besieged <sup>41</sup> the citadel, and were alienated from us; but as many of us as they could light on <sup>42</sup> they slew, and spoiled our inheritances. <sup>43</sup> And not against us only did they stretch out their hand, but also against all their borders. <sup>44</sup> And, behold, they are encamped this day against the citadel at Jerusalem, to take it: <sup>45</sup> and the sanctuary and <sup>46</sup> Bethsura have they fortified. <sup>47</sup> And if ye are not beforehand with them quickly, they will do greater things than these, and thou shalt not be able to control them.

trained for war. <sup>55</sup> And they went through Idumæa, <sup>56</sup> and encamped against <sup>57</sup> Bethsura, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war; and they of <sup>58</sup> Bethsura came out, and burned them with fire, and fought valiantly. <sup>59</sup> And Judas removed from the citadel, and encamped at Bethzacharias, over against the king's camp. <sup>60</sup> And the king rose early in the morning, and removed his army <sup>61</sup> at full speed along the road to Bethzacharias, and his forces made them ready to battle, and sounded with the trumpets. <sup>62</sup> And they shewed the elephants <sup>63</sup> the blood of grapes and mulberries, that they might prepare them for the battle. <sup>64</sup> And they divided the beasts among the phalanxes, and they set by each elephant a thousand men armed with coats of mail, and helmets of brass on their heads; and for each beast were appointed five hundred chosen horsemen. <sup>65</sup> These were ready beforehand, wheresoever the beast was; and whithersoever the beast went, they went with him; they departed not from him. <sup>66</sup> And towers of wood were upon them, strong and covered, one upon each beast, girt fast upon him with cunning contrivances; and upon each <sup>67</sup> beast were two and thirty valiant men that fought upon them, beside his Indian <sup>68</sup> (and the residue of the horsemen he set on this side and that side at the two parts of the army), striking terror into the enemy, and protected by the <sup>69</sup> phalanxes. <sup>70</sup> Now when the sun shone upon the shields of gold and brass, the mountains shone therewith, and blazed like torches of fire. <sup>71</sup> And a part of the king's army was spread upon the high mountains, and some on the low ground, and they went on firmly and in order. <sup>72</sup> And all that heard the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the multitude, and the rattling of the arms, did quake: for the army was exceeding great and strong. <sup>73</sup> And Judas and his army drew near for battle, and there fell of the king's army six hundred men. <sup>74</sup> And Eleazar, <sup>75</sup> who was called Avaran, saw one of the beasts armed with royal breastplates, and he was higher than all the beasts, and the king seemed to be upon him; <sup>76</sup> and he gave himself to deliver his people, and to get him <sup>77</sup> an everlasting name; <sup>78</sup> and he ran upon him courageously into the midst of the <sup>79</sup> phalanx, and slew on the right hand and on the left, and they parted asunder from him on this side and on that. <sup>80</sup> And he crept under the elephant, and thrust him from beneath, and slew him; and the elephant fell to the earth upon him, and he died there. <sup>81</sup> And they saw the strength of the kingdom, and the fierce onset of the hosts, and turned away from them.

48 But they of the king's army went up to Jerusalem to meet them, and the king encamped toward Judæa, and toward mount Zion. 49 And he made peace with them of Bethsura; and he came out of the city, because they had no food there to endure the siege, because it was <sup>a</sup>a sabbath to the land. 50 And the king took <sup>a</sup>Bethsura, and appointed a garrison there to keep it. 51 And he encamped against the sanctuary many days; and set there <sup>a</sup>mounds to shoot from, and engines of war, and instruments for casting fire and stones, and pieces to cast darts, and slings. 52 And they also made engines against their engines, and fought for many days. 53 But there were no victuals in the sanctuary, because it was <sup>a</sup>the seventh year, and they that fled for safety into Judæa from among the Gentiles had eaten up the residue of the store; 54 and there were but a few left in the sanctuary, because the famine prevailed against them, and they were scattered, each man to his own place.

55 And <sup>a</sup>Lysias heard say, that <sup>a</sup>Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet alive, appointed to nourish up his son Antiochus, that he might be king, 56 was returned from <sup>a</sup>Persia and Media, and with him the forces that went with the king, and that he was seeking to take unto him the government. 57 And he made haste, and gave consent to depart; and he said to the king and the leaders of the host and to the men, We decay daily, and our food is scant, and the place where we encamp is strong, and the affairs of the kingdom lie upon us: 58 now therefore let us give the right hand to these men, and make peace with them and with all their nation, 59 and covenant with them, that they shall walk after their own laws, as aforetime: for because of their laws which we abolished they were angered, and did all these things. 60 And the saying pleased the king and the princes, and he sent unto them to make peace; and they accepted thereof. 61 And the king and the princes swore unto them: thereupon they came forth from the stronghold. 62 And the king entered into mount Zion; and he saw the strength of the place, and set at nought the oath which he had sworn, and gave commandment to pull down <sup>a</sup>the wall round about. 63 And he removed in haste, and <sup>a</sup>returned unto <sup>a</sup>Antioch, and found <sup>a</sup>Philip master of the city; and he fought against him, and took the city by force.

7 In <sup>a</sup>the hundred and one and fiftieth year <sup>a</sup>Demetrius the son of Seleucus came forth from Rome, and went up with a few men unto a city by the sea, and reigned there. <sup>a</sup>And it came to pass, when he would go into the house of the kingdom of his fathers, that the army <sup>a</sup>laid hands on Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them unto him. 3 And the thing was known to him, and he said, Shew me not their faces. 4 And the army slew them. And Demetrius sat upon the throne of his kingdom. 5 And there came unto him all <sup>a</sup>the lawless and ungodly men of Israel; and <sup>a</sup>Alcimus was their leader, desiring to be high priest; 6 and they accused the people to the king, saying, Judas and his brethren have destroyed all thy friends, and have scattered us from our own land. 7 Now therefore send a man whom thou trustest, and let him go and see all the havock which he hath made of us, and of the king's country, and how he hath punished them and all that helped them. 8 And the king chose <sup>a</sup>Bacchides, one of the king's <sup>a</sup>Friends, who was ruler in the country beyond <sup>a</sup>the river, and was a great man in the kingdom, and faithful to the king. 9 And he sent him, and that ungodly <sup>a</sup>Alcimus, and made sure to him the high priesthood, and he commanded him to take vengeance upon the children of Israel.

10 And they removed, and came with a great host into the land of Judah, and he sent messengers to Judas and his brethren with words of peace deceitfully. 11 And they gave no heed to their words; for they saw that they were come with a great host. 12 And there were gathered together unto <sup>a</sup>Alcimus and <sup>a</sup>Bacchides a company of scribes, to seek for justice. 13 And the <sup>a</sup>Hasideans were the first among the children of Israel that sought peace of them; 14 for they said, One <sup>a</sup>that is a priest of the seed of Aaron is come with the forces, and he will do us no wrong. 15 And he spake with them words of peace, and swore unto them, saying, We will seek the hurt neither of you nor your friends. 16 And they gave him credence: and he laid hands on threescore men of them, and slew them in one day, according to the word which <sup>a</sup>the psalmist wrote,

17 <sup>a</sup>The flesh of thy saints did they cast out,
And their blood did they shed round about Jerusalem;
And there was no man to bury them.

18 And <sup>a</sup>the fear and the dread of them fell upon all the people, for they said, There is neither truth nor judgement in them; for they have broken the covenant and the oath which they swore. 19 And <sup>a</sup>Bacchides removed from Jerusalem, and encamped in Bezeth; and he sent and took many of the deerseters that were with him, and certain of the people, and he slew them, and <sup>a</sup>cast them into the great pit. 20 And he made sure the country to Alcimus, and left with battle, and conquered them: <sup>6</sup>Antiochus also, the great king of <sup>c</sup>Asia, who came against them to battle, having a hundred and twenty elephants, with horse, and chariots, and an exceeding great host, and he was discomfited by them, <sup>7</sup>and they took him alive, and appointed that both he and such as reigned after him should give them a great tribute, and should give hostages, and a parcel of land, to wit, <sup>8</sup>the country of India, and Media, and Lydia, and of the goodliest of their countries; and they took them from him, and gave them to king Eumenes: <sup>9</sup>and how they of Greece took counsel to come and destroy them; <sup>10</sup>and the thing was known to them, and they sent against them a captain, and fought against them, and many of them fell down wounded to death, and they made captive their wives and their children, and spoiled them, and conquered their land, and pulled down their strongholds, and spoiled them, and brought them into bondage unto this day: <sup>11</sup>and the residue of the kingdoms and of the isles, as many as rose up against them at any time, they destroyed and made them to be their servants; <sup>12</sup>but with their friends and such as relied upon them they kept amity; and they conquered the kingdoms that were nigh and those that were far off, and all that heard of their fame were afraid of them: <sup>13</sup>moreover, whosoever they will to succour and to make kings, these do they make kings; and whosoever they will, do they depose; and they are exalted exceedingly: <sup>14</sup>and for all this none of them did ever put on a diadem, neither did they clothe themselves with purple, to be magnified thereby: <sup>15</sup>and how they had made for themselves a senate house, and day by day three hundred and twenty men sat in council, consulting always for the people, to the end they might be well ordered: <sup>16</sup>and how they commit their government to <sup>h</sup>one man year by year, that he should rule over them, and be lord over all their country, and all are obedient to that one, and there is neither envy nor emulation among them.

<sup>17</sup>And Judas chose <sup>i</sup>Eupolemus the son of John, the son of Accos, and Jason the son of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, to make a league of amity and confederacy with them, <sup>18</sup>and that they should take <sup>j</sup>the yoke from them: for they saw that <sup>k</sup>the kingdom of the Greeks did keep Israel in bondage. <sup>19</sup>And they went to Rome (and the way was exceeding long), and they entered into the senate house, and answered and said, <sup>20</sup>Judas, <sup>l</sup>who is also called Maccabæus, and his brethren, and the people of the Jews, have sent us unto you, to make a confederacy and peace with you, and that we might be registered your confederates and friends.

<sup>21</sup>And the thing was well-pleasing in their sight. <sup>22</sup>And this is the copy of the writing which they wrote back again <sup>23</sup>on tables of brass, and sent to Jerusalem, that it might be with them there for a memorial of peace and confederacy:

<sup>24</sup>Good success be to the Romans, and to the nation of the Jews, by sea and by land for ever: the sword also and the enemy be far from them. <sup>25</sup>But if war arise for Rome first, or any of their confederates in all their dominion, <sup>26</sup>the nation of the Jews shall help them as confederates, as the occasion shall prescribe to them, with all their heart: <sup>27</sup>and unto them that make war upon them they shall not give, neither supply, food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome, and they shall keep their ordinances without taking anything therefore. <sup>28</sup>In the same manner, moreover, if war come first upon the nation of the Jews, the Romans shall help them as confederates with all their soul, as the occasion shall prescribe to them: <sup>29</sup>and to them that are confederates with their foes there shall not be given food, arms, money, or ships, as it hath seemed good unto Rome; and they shall keep these ordinances, and that without deceit. <sup>30</sup>According to these words have the Romans made a covenant thus with the people of the Jews. <sup>31</sup>But if hereafter the one party and the other shall take counsel to add or diminish anything, they shall do it at their pleasure, and whatsoever they shall add or take away shall be established. <sup>32</sup>And as touching the evils which king <sup>m</sup>Demetrius doeth unto them, we have written to him, saying, Wherefore hast thou made <sup>n</sup>thy yoke heavy upon <sup>o</sup>our friends and confederates the Jews? <sup>33</sup>If therefore they plead any more against thee, we will do them justice, and fight with thee by sea and by land.

exceedingly: and many slipped away out of the army; there were not left of them more than eight hundred men. <sup>7</sup>And Judas saw that his army slipped away, and that the battle pressed upon him, and he was sore troubled in heart, for that he had no time to gather them together, and he waxed faint. <sup>8</sup>And he said to them that were left, Let us arise and go up against our adversaries, if peradventure we may be able to fight with them. <sup>9</sup>And they would have dissuaded him, saying, We shall in no wise be able: but let us rather save our lives now: let us return again, we and our brethren, and fight against them: but we are few. <sup>10</sup>And Judas said, Let it not be so that I should do this thing, <sup>11</sup>to flee from them: and if our time is come, let us die manfully for our brethren's sake, and not leave a cause of reproach against our glory. <sup>12</sup>And the host removed from the camp, and stood to encounter them, and the horse was parted into two companies, and the slingers and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men that fought in the front of the battle. <sup>13</sup>But Bacchides was in the right wing; and the phalanx drew near on the two parts, and they blew with their trumpets. <sup>14</sup>And the men of Judas' side, even they <sup>15</sup>sounded with their trumpets, and the earth shook with the shout of the armies, and the battle was joined, and continued from morning until evening. <sup>16</sup>And Judas saw that Bacchides and the strength of his army were on the right side, and there went with him all that were brave in heart, <sup>17</sup>and the right wing was discomfited by them, and he pursued after them unto the mount Asotus. <sup>18</sup>And they that were on the left wing saw that the right wing was discomfited, and they turned and followed upon the footsteps of Judas and of those that were with him: <sup>19</sup>and the battle waxed sore, and many on both parts fell wounded to death. <sup>20</sup>And Judas fell, and the rest fled. <sup>21</sup>And Jonathan and Simon took Judas their brother, and buried him in the sepulchre of his fathers at <sup>22</sup>Modin. <sup>23</sup>And they bewailed him, and all Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned many days, and said, <sup>24</sup>How is the mighty fallen, the saviour of Israel! <sup>25</sup>And the rest of the acts of Judas, and his wars, and the valiant deeds which he did, and his greatness, they are not written; for they were exceeding many. <sup>26</sup>And it came to pass after the death of Judas, that <sup>27</sup>the lawless put forth their heads in all the coasts of Israel, and all they that wrought iniquity rose up <sup>28</sup>(in those days was there an exceeding great famine), and the country went over with them. <sup>29</sup>And Bacchides chose out <sup>30</sup>the ungodly men, and made them lords of the country. <sup>31</sup>And they sought out and searched for the friends of Judas, and brought them unto Bacchides, and he took vengeance on them, and used them despitefully. <sup>32</sup>And there was great tribulation in Israel, such as was not <sup>33</sup>since the time that no prophet appeared unto them. <sup>34</sup>And <sup>35</sup>all the friends of Judas were gathered together, and they said unto Jonathan, <sup>36</sup>Since thy brother Judas hath died, we have no man like him to go forth against our enemies and Bacchides, and among <sup>37</sup>them of our nation that hate us. <sup>38</sup>Now therefore we have chosen thee this day to be our prince and leader in his stead, that thou mayest fight our battles. <sup>39</sup>And Jonathan took the governance upon him at that time, and <sup>40</sup>rose up in the stead of his brother Judas.

<sup>51</sup>But after these things they brought word to Jonathan and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri were making a great marriage, and were bringing the bride from Nadabath with a great train, a daughter of one of the great nobles of <sup>52</sup>Canaan. <sup>53</sup>And they remembered John their brother, and went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain: <sup>54</sup>and they lifted up their eyes, and saw, and behold, a great ado and much baggage: and the bridegroom came forth, and his friends and his brethren, to meet them with timbrels, and minstrels, and many weapons. <sup>55</sup>And they rose up against them <sup>56</sup>from their ambush, and slew them, and many fell wounded to death, and the remnant fell into the mountain, and they took all their spoils. <sup>57</sup>And the marriage was turned into mourning, and the voice of their minstrels into lamentation. <sup>58</sup>And they avenged fully the blood of their brother, and turned back to <sup>59</sup>the marsh of Jordan.

is on this side and on that side, and marsh and wood; and there is no place to turn aside. <sup>45</sup> Now therefore cry unto heaven, that ye may be delivered out of the hand of your enemies. <sup>47</sup> And the battle was joined, and Jonathan stretched forth his hand to smite Bacchides, and he turned away back from him. <sup>48</sup> And Jonathan and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over to the other side: and they did not pass over Jordan against them. <sup>49</sup> And there fell of Bacchides' company that day about a thousand men; <sup>50</sup> and he returned to Jerusalem. And they builded strong cities in Judaea, the stronghold that was in Jericho, and Emmaus, and Beth-horon, and Bethel, and Timnath, and Parathon, and Tephon, <sup>51</sup> with high walls and gates and bars. <sup>52</sup> And in them he set a garrison, to vex Israel. <sup>53</sup> And he fortified the city Bethsura, and Gazara, and the citadel, and put forces in them, and store of victuals. <sup>54</sup> And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in ward in the citadel at Jerusalem.

<sup>54</sup> And in the hundred and fifty and third year, in the second month, Alcimus commanded to pull down the wall of the inner court of the sanctuary; he pulled down also the works of the prophets; <sup>55</sup> and he began to pull down. At that time was Alcimus stricken, and his works were hindered; and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, and he could no more speak anything and give order concerning his house. <sup>56</sup> And Alcimus died at that time with great torment. <sup>57</sup> And Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, and he returned to the king: and the land of Judah had rest two years.

<sup>58</sup> And all the lawless men took counsel, saying, Behold, Jonathan and they of his part are dwelling at ease, and in security: now therefore we will bring Bacchides, and he shall lay hands on them all in one night. <sup>59</sup> And they went and consulted with him. <sup>60</sup> And he removed, and came with a great host, and sent letters privily to all his confederates that were in Judaea, that they should lay hands on Jonathan and those that were with him: and they could not, because their counsel was known unto them. <sup>61</sup> And they that were of Jonathan's part laid hands on about fifty of the men of the country, that were authors of the wickedness, and he slew them. <sup>62</sup> And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, gat them away to Bethbasi, which is in the wilderness, and he built up that which had been pulled down thereof, and they made it strong. <sup>63</sup> And Bacchides knew it, and he gathered together all his multitude, and sent word to them that were of Judaea. <sup>64</sup> And he went and encamped against Bethbasi, and fought against it many days, and made engines of war. <sup>65</sup> And Jonathan left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth into the country, and he went with a few men. <sup>66</sup> And he smote Odamera and his brethren, and the children of Phasiron in their tent. <sup>67</sup> And they began to smite them, and to go up with their forces. And Simon and they that were with him went out of the city, and set on fire the engines of war, <sup>68</sup> and fought against Bacchides, and he was discomfited by them, and they afflicted him sore; for his counsel was in vain, and his inroad. <sup>69</sup> And they were very wroth with the lawless men <sup>70</sup> that gave him counsel to come into the country, and they slew many of them. And he took counsel to depart into his own land. <sup>71</sup> And Jonathan had knowledge thereof, and sent ambassadors unto him, to the end that they should make peace with him, and that he should restore unto them the captives. <sup>72</sup> And he accepted the thing, and did according to his words, and swore unto him that he would not seek his hurt all the days of his life. <sup>73</sup> And he restored unto him the captives which he had taken aforetime out of the land of Judah, and he returned and departed into his own land, and came not any more into their borders. <sup>74</sup> And the sword ceased from Israel. And Jonathan dwelt at Michmash; and Jonathan began to judge the people; and he destroyed the ungodly out of Israel.

IO And in the hundred and sixtieth year Alexander Epiphanes, the son of Antiochus, went up and took possession of Ptolemais: and they received him, and he reigned there. And king Demetrius heard thereof, and he gathered together exceeding great forces, and went forth to meet him in battle.

<sup>3</sup> And Demetrius sent letters unto Jonathan with words of peace, so as to magnify him. <sup>4</sup> For he said, Let us be beforehand to make peace with them, ere he make peace with Alexander against us: for he will remember all the evils that we have done against him, and unto his brethren and unto his nation. <sup>5</sup> And he gave him authority to gather together forces, and to provide arms, and that he should be his confederate: and he commanded that they should deliver up to him the hostages that were in the citadel.

<sup>7</sup> And Jonathan came to Jerusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in "the citadel: <sup>8</sup>and they were sore afraid, when they heard that the king had given him authority to gather together a host. <sup>9</sup>And they of the citadel delivered up the hostages unto Jonathan, and he restored them unto their parents. <sup>10</sup>And Jonathan dwelt in Jerusalem, and began to build and renew the city. <sup>11</sup>And he commanded them that did the work <sup>v</sup>to build the walls and the mount Sion round about with <sup>1</sup>square stones for defence; and they did so. <sup>12</sup>And the strangers, that were in <sup>w</sup>the strongholds which Bacchides had built, fled away; <sup>13</sup>and each man left his place, and departed into his own land. <sup>14</sup>Only at <sup>2</sup>Bethsura were there left certain of those <sup>v</sup>that had forsaken the law and the commandments; for it was a place of refuge unto them.

<sup>15</sup>And king Alexander heard all the promises which Demetrius had sent unto Jonathan: and they told him of the battles and the valiant deeds which he and his brethren had done, and of the toils which they had endured; <sup>16</sup>and he said, Shall we find such another man? and now we will make him our <sup>3</sup>Friend and confederate. <sup>17</sup>And he wrote letters, and sent them unto him, according to these words, saying,

<sup>22</sup>And Demetrius heard these things, and he was grieved, and said, <sup>23</sup>What is this that we have done, that Alexander <sup>f</sup>hath been beforehand with us in establishing friendship with the Jews, to strengthen himself? <sup>24</sup>I also will write unto them words of encouragement and of honour and of gifts, that they may be with me to aid me. <sup>25</sup>And he sent unto them according to these words:

King Demetrius unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>26</sup>Forasmuch as ye have kept your covenants with us, and continued in our friendship, and have not joined yourselves to our enemies, we have heard hereof, and are glad. <sup>27</sup>And now continue ye still to keep faith with us, and we will recompense unto you good things in return for your dealings with us, <sup>28</sup>and <sup>g</sup>will grant you many immunities, and give you gifts. <sup>29</sup>And now do I free you, and release all the Jews, from the tributes, <sup>h</sup>and from the customs of salt, and <sup>i</sup>from the crowns. <sup>30</sup>And instead of the third part of the seed, and instead of the half of the fruit of the trees, which falleth to me to receive, I release it from this day and henceforth, so that I will not take it from the land of Judah, and from <sup>j</sup>the three governments which are added thereunto from the country of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth and for all time. <sup>31</sup>And <sup>k</sup>let Jerusalem be holy and free, and her borders; <sup>l</sup>the tenths and the tolls also. <sup>32</sup>I yield up also my authority over <sup>m</sup>the citadel which is at Jerusalem, and give it to the high priest, that he may appoint in it such men as he shall choose to keep it. <sup>33</sup><sup>n</sup>And every soul of the Jews, that hath been carried captive from the land of Judah into any part of my kingdom, I set at liberty without price; and let all remit the tributes of their cattle also. <sup>34</sup>And all the feasts, and the sabbaths, <sup>o</sup>and new moons, and appointed days, and three days before a feast, and three days after a feast, let them all be <sup>p</sup>days of immunity and release for all the Jews that are in my kingdom. <sup>35</sup>And no man shall have authority to exact from any of them, or to trouble them concerning any matter. <sup>36</sup><sup>q</sup>And let there be enrolled among the king's forces about thirty thousand men of the Jews, and pay shall be given unto them, as belongeth to all the king's forces. <sup>37</sup>And of them some shall be placed in the king's great strongholds, and some of them shall be placed over the affairs of the kingdom, which are of trust: and let those that are over them, and their rulers, be of themselves, and let them walk after their own laws, even as the king hath commanded in the land of Judah. <sup>38</sup>And <sup>r</sup>the three governments that have been added to Judaea from the country of Samaria, let them be added to Judaea, that they may be reckoned to be under one, that they may not obey other authority than the high priest's. <sup>39</sup>As for <sup>s</sup>Ptolemais, and the land pertaining thereto, I have given it as a gift to the sanctuary that is at Jerusalem, for the expenses that befit the sanctuary. <sup>40</sup>And I give every year fifteen thousand shekels of silver from the king's revenues from the places that are convenient. <sup>41</sup>And all the overplus, which they that manage the king's affairs paid not in as in the first years, they shall give from henceforth toward the works of the house. <sup>42</sup>And beside this, the five thousand shekels of silver, which they received from the uses of the sanctuary from the revenue year by year, this also is released, because it appertaineth to the priests that minister. <sup>43</sup>And whosoever shall flee unto the temple that is at Jerusalem, and be

46 Now when Jonathan and the people heard these words, they gave no credence unto them, nor received them, because they remembered the great evil which he had done in Israel, and that he had afflicted them very sore. 47 And they were well pleased with Alexander, because he was the first that spake words of peace unto them, and they were confederate with him always. 48 And king Alexander gathered together great forces, and encamped over against Demetrius. 49 And the two kings joined battle, and the army of Alexander fled; and Demetrius followed after him, and prevailed against them. 50 And he strengthened the battle exceedingly until the sun went down: and Demetrius fell that day.

51 And Alexander sent ambassadors to Ptolemy king of Egypt according to these words, saying, 52 Forasmuch as I am returned to my kingdom, and am set on the throne of my fathers, and have gotten the dominion, and have overthrown Demetrius, and have gotten possession of our country; 53 yea, I joined battle with him, and he and his army were discomfited by us, and we sat upon the throne of his kingdom: 54 now also let us establish amity one with the other, and give me now thy daughter to wife: and I will make affinity with thee, and will give both thee and her gifts worthy of thee. 55 And Ptolemy the king answered, saying, Happy is the day wherein thou didst return into the land of thy fathers, and didst sit on the throne of thy kingdom. 56 And now will I do to thee, as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another; and I will make affinity with thee, even as thou hast said. 57 And Ptolemy went out of Egypt, himself and Cleopatra his daughter, and came unto Ptolemais in the hundred and threescore and second year: 58 and king Alexander met him, and he bestowed on him his daughter Cleopatra, and celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais with great pomp, as the manner of kings is.

59 And king Alexander wrote unto Jonathan, that he should come to meet him. 60 And he went with pomp to Ptolemais, and met the two kings, and gave them and their friends silver and gold, and many gifts, and found favour in their sight. 61 And there were gathered together against him certain pestilent fellows out of Israel, men that were transgressors of the law, to complain against him: and the king gave no heed to them. 62 And the king commanded, and they took off Jonathan's garments, and clothed him in purple: and thus they did. 63 And the king made him sit with him, and said unto his princes, Go forth with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter, and let no man trouble him for any manner of cause. 64 And it came to pass, when they that complained against him saw his glory according as the herald made proclamation, and saw him clothed in purple, they all fled away. 65 And the king gave him honour, and wrote him among his chief friends, and made him a captain, and governor of a province. 66 And Jonathan returned to Jerusalem with peace and gladness.

67 And in the hundred and threescore and fifth year came Demetrius, son of Demetrius, out of Crete into the land of his fathers: 68 and king Alexander heard thereof, and he was grieved exceedingly, and returned unto Antioch. 69 And Demetrius appointed Apollonius, who was over Coele Syria, and he gathered together a great host, and encamped in Jamnia, and sent unto Jonathan the high priest, saying,

70 Thou alone liftest up thyself against us, but I am had in derision and in reproach because of thee. And why dost thou vaunt thy power against us in the mountains? 71 Now therefore, if thou trustest in thy forces, come down to us into the plain, and there let us try the matter together; for with me is the power of the cities. 72 Ask and learn who I am, and the rest that help us; and they say, Your foot cannot stand before our face; for thy fathers have been twice put to flight in their own land. 73 And now thou shalt not be able to abide the horse and such a host as this in the plain, where is neither stone nor flint, nor place to flee unto.

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind, and he chose out ten thousand men, and went forth from Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him for to help him. 75 And he encamped against Joppa: and they of the city shut him out, because Apollonius had a garrison in Joppa: 76 and they fought against it. And they of the city were afraid, and opened unto him: and Jonathan became master of Joppa. 77 And Apollonius heard, and he gathered an army of three thousand horse, and a great host, and went to <sup>a</sup>Azotus as though he were on a journey, and therewithal drew onward into the plain, because he had a multitude of horse, and trusted therein. <sup>76</sup> And he pursued after him to <sup>a</sup>Azotus, and the armies joined battle<sup>1</sup>. <sup>79</sup> And Apollonius had left a thousand horse behind them privily. <sup>80</sup> And Jonathan knew that there was an ambushment behind him. And they compassed round his army, and cast their darts at the people, from morning until evening: <sup>81</sup> but the people stood still, as Jonathan commanded them: and their horses were wearied. <sup>82</sup> And Simon drew forth his host, and joined battle with <sup>a</sup>the phalanx (for the horsemen were spent), and they were discomfited by him, and fled. <sup>83</sup> And the horsemen were scattered in the plain, and they fled to <sup>a</sup>Azotus, and entered into <sup>a</sup>Beth-dagon, their idol's temple, to save themselves. <sup>84</sup> And Jonathan burned Azotus, and the cities round about it, and took their spoils; and the temple of <sup>a</sup>Dagon, and them that fled into it, <sup>85</sup> he burned with fire. <sup>85</sup> And they that had fallen by the sword, with them that were burned, were about eight thousand men. <sup>86</sup> And from thence Jonathan removed, and encamped against <sup>a</sup>Ascalon, and they of the city came forth to meet him with great pomp. <sup>87</sup> And Jonathan, with them that were on his side, returned unto Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>88</sup> And it came to pass, when king Alexander heard these things, he honoured Jonathan yet more; <sup>89</sup> and he sent unto him <sup>a</sup>a buckle of gold, as the use is to give to such as are of the kindred of the kings: and he gave him <sup>a</sup>Ekron and all the coasts thereof for a possession.

II And <sup>a</sup>the king of Egypt gathered together great forces, <sup>a</sup>as the sand which is by the sea shore, and many ships, and sought to make himself master of Alexander's kingdom by deceit, and to add it to his own kingdom. <sup>a</sup>And he went forth into Syria with words of peace, and they of the cities opened unto him, and met him; for king Alexander's commandment was that they should meet him, because he was his father in law. <sup>3</sup> Now as he entered into the cities of <sup>a</sup>Ptolemais, he set his forces for a garrison in each city. <sup>4</sup> But when he came near to <sup>a</sup>Azotus, they shewed him the temple of <sup>a</sup>Dagon <sup>a</sup>burned with fire, and <sup>a</sup>Azotus and the suburbs thereof pulled down, and the bodies cast abroad, and them that had been burned, whom he burned in the war, for they had made heaps of them in his way. <sup>5</sup> And they told the king what things Jonathan had done, that they might cast blame on him: and the king held his peace. <sup>6</sup> And Jonathan met the king with pomp at

<sup>20</sup> In those days <sup>a</sup>Jonathan gathered together them of Judaea, to take <sup>a</sup>the citadel that was at Jerusalem: and he made many engines of war against it. <sup>21</sup> And certain that hated their own nation, <sup>a</sup>men that transgressed the law, went unto the king, and reported to him that Jonathan was besieging the citadel. <sup>22</sup> And he heard, and was angered; but when he heard it, he set forth immediately, and came to <sup>a</sup>Ptolemais, and wrote unto Jonathan, that he should not besiege it, and that he should meet him and speak with him at <sup>a</sup>Ptolemais with all speed. <sup>23</sup> But when Jonathan heard this, he commanded to besiege it still: and he chose certain of the elders of Israel and of the priests, and put himself in peril, <sup>24</sup> and <sup>a</sup>taking silver and gold and raiment and divers presents besides, went to <sup>a</sup>Ptolemais unto the king. And he found favour in his sight. <sup>25</sup> And <sup>a</sup>certain lawless men of them that were of the nation made complaints against him, <sup>26</sup> and the king did unto him even as his predecessors had done unto him, and exalted him in the sight of all his <sup>p</sup>Friends, <sup>7</sup>and <sup>9</sup>confirmed to him the high priesthood, and all the other honours that he had before, and gave him preeminence among his <sup>r</sup>Chief Friends. <sup>28</sup>And Jonathan requested of the king, that he would make Judaea <sup>o</sup>free from tribute, and <sup>t</sup>the three <sup>1</sup>provinces, and the country of Samaria; and promised him three hundred talents. <sup>29</sup>And the king consented, and wrote letters unto Jonathan concerning all these things after this manner:

<sup>30</sup>King Demetrius unto <sup>o</sup>his brother Jonathan, and unto the nation of the Jews, greeting: <sup>31</sup>The copy of the letter which we wrote unto Lasthenes our kinsman concerning you, we have written also unto you, that ye may see it. <sup>32</sup>King Demetrius unto Lasthenes <sup>o</sup>his father, greeting: <sup>33</sup>We have determined to do good to the nation of the Jews, who are our friends, and observe what is just toward us, because of their good will toward us. <sup>34</sup>We have confirmed therefore unto them the borders of Judaea, and also <sup>t</sup>the three governments of Aphærema and <sup>w</sup>Lydda and <sup>2</sup>Ramathaim (these were added unto Judaea from the country of Samaria), and all things appertaining unto them, for all such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem, instead of the king's dues which the king received of them yearly aforetime <sup>7</sup>from the produce of the earth and the fruits of trees. <sup>35</sup>And as for the other things that pertain unto us from henceforth, of <sup>2</sup>the tenths and the tolls that pertain unto us, and <sup>o</sup>the salt pits, and <sup>o</sup>the crowns that pertain unto us, all these we will bestow upon them. <sup>36</sup>And not one of these things shall be annulled from this time forth and for ever. <sup>37</sup>Now therefore be careful to make a copy of these things, and let it be given unto Jonathan, and let it be set up on the holy mount in a meet and conspicuous place.

metrius, that he should cast out of Jerusalem <sup>t</sup>them of the citadel, and them <sup>2</sup>that were in the strongholds; for they fought against Israel continually. <sup>43</sup>And Demetrius sent unto Jonathan, saying, I will not only do this for thee and thy nation, but I will greatly honour thee and thy nation, if I find fair occasion. <sup>43</sup>Now therefore thou shalt do well, if thou send me men who shall fight for me; <sup>7</sup>for all my forces are revolted. <sup>44</sup>And Jonathan sent him three thousand valiant men unto <sup>2</sup>Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was glad at their coming. <sup>45</sup>And they of the city gathered themselves together into the midst of the city, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and they were minded to slay the king. <sup>46</sup>And the king fled into the court of the palace, and they of the city seized the passages of the city, and began to fight. <sup>47</sup>And the king called the Jews to help him, and they were gathered together unto him all at once, and they dispersed themselves in the city, and slew that day to the number of a hundred thousand. <sup>48</sup>And they set the city on fire, and gat many spoils that day, and saved the king. <sup>49</sup>And they of the city saw that the Jews had made themselves masters of the city as they would, and they waded faint in their hearts, and they cried out to the king with supplication, saying, <sup>50</sup>"Give us thy right hand, and let the Jews cease from fighting against us and the city. <sup>51</sup>And they cast away their arms, and made peace; and the Jews were glorified in the sight of the king, and before all that were in his kingdom; and they returned to Jerusalem, having many spoils. <sup>52</sup>And king Demetrius sat on the throne of his kingdom, and <sup>o</sup>the land was quiet before him. <sup>53</sup>And he lied in all that he spake, and estranged himself from Jonathan, and recompensed him not according to the benefits with which he had recompensed him, and afflicted him exceedingly.

and <sup>a</sup> to be clothed in purple, and to have <sup>a</sup> golden buckle. <sup>59</sup> And his brother <sup>a</sup> Simon he made captain from the Ladder of <sup>a</sup> Tyre unto the borders of Egypt. <sup>60</sup> And Jonathan went forth, and took his journey beyond the river and through the cities; and all the forces of Syria gathered themselves unto him for to be his confederates. And he came to <sup>a</sup> Ascalon, and they of the city met him honourably. <sup>61</sup> And he departed thence to <sup>a</sup> Gaza, and they of Gaza shut him out; and he laid siege unto it, and burned the suburbs thereof with fire, and spoiled them. <sup>62</sup> And they of <sup>a</sup> Gaza made request unto Jonathan, and he <sup>b</sup> gave them his right hand, and took the sons of their princes for hostages, and sent them away to Jerusalem; and he passed through the country as far as <sup>a</sup> Damascus.

I2 <sup>a</sup> And Jonathan saw that the time served him, and <sup>a</sup> he chose men, and sent them to Rome, to confirm and renew <sup>a</sup> the friendship that they had with them. <sup>a</sup> And to the <sup>a</sup> Spartans, and to other places, he sent letters after the same manner. <sup>3</sup> And they went unto Rome, and entered into <sup>a</sup> the senate house, and said, Jonathan the high priest, and the nation of the Jews, have sent us, to renew for them the friendship and the confederacy, <sup>a</sup> as in former time. <sup>4</sup> And they gave them letters unto the men in every place, that they should bring them on their way to the land of Judah in peace. <sup>5</sup> And this is the copy of the letters which Jonathan wrote to the Spartans:

this is come to our knowledge, ye shall do well to write unto us of your prosperity. <sup>23</sup> And we moreover do write on our part to you, that your cattle and goods are ours, and ours are yours. We do command therefore that they make report unto you on this wise.

<sup>24</sup> And Jonathan heard that Demetrius' princes were returned to fight against him <sup>d</sup> with a greater host than afore, <sup>25</sup> and he removed from Jerusalem, and met them in the country of Hamath; for he gave them no respite to set foot in his country. <sup>26</sup> And he sent spies into his camp, and they came again, and reported to him that they were appointed in such and such a way to fall upon them in the night season. <sup>27</sup> But so soon as the sun was down, Jonathan commanded his men to watch, and to be in arms, that all the night long they might be ready for battle: and he put forth sentinels round about the camp. <sup>28</sup> And the adversaries heard that Jonathan and his men were ready for battle, and they feared, and trembled in their hearts, and they kindled fires in their camp. <sup>29</sup> But Jonathan and his men knew it not till the morning; for they saw the lights burning. <sup>30</sup> And Jonathan pursued after them, and overtook them not; for they were gone over the river Eleutherus. <sup>31</sup> And Jonathan turned aside to the Arabians, who are called Zabadeans, and smote them, and took their spoils. <sup>32</sup> And he set out from thence, and came to Damascus, and took his journey through all the country. <sup>33</sup> And Simon went forth, and took his journey as far as Ascalon, and the strongholds that were near unto it. And he turned aside to Joppa, and took possession of it; <sup>34</sup> for he had heard that they were minded to deliver the stronghold unto the men of Demetrius; and he set a garrison there to keep it.

<sup>35</sup> And Jonathan returned, and called the elders of the people together; and he took counsel with them to build strongholds in Judaea, <sup>36</sup> and to make the walls of Jerusalem higher, and to raise a great mound between the citadel and the city, for to separate it from the city, that so it might be all alone, that men might neither buy nor sell. <sup>37</sup> And they were gathered together to build the city, and there fell down part of the wall of the brook that is on the east side, and he repaired that which is called Chaphenatha. <sup>38</sup> And Simon also built Adda in the plain country, and made it strong, and set up gates and bars.

<sup>39</sup> And Tryphon sought to reign over Asia and to put on himself the diadem, and to stretch forth his hand against Antiochus the king. <sup>40</sup> And he was afraid lest haply Jonathan should not suffer him, and lest he should fight against him; and he sought a way how to take him, that he might destroy him. And he removed, and came to Bethshan. <sup>41</sup> And Jonathan came forth to meet him with forty thousand men chosen for battle, and came to Bethshan. <sup>42</sup> And Tryphon saw that he came with a great host, and he was afraid to stretch forth his hand against him: <sup>43</sup> and he received him honourably, and commanded him unto all his friends, and gave him gifts, and commanded his forces to be obedient unto him, as unto himself. <sup>44</sup> And he said unto Jonathan, Why hast thou put all this people to trouble, seeing there is no war betwixt us? <sup>45</sup> And now send them away to their homes, but choose for thyself a few men who shall be with thee, and come thou with me to Ptolemais, and I will give it up to thee, and the rest of the strongholds and the rest of the forces, and all the king's officers: and I will return and depart; for this is the cause of my coming. <sup>46</sup> And he put trust in him, and did even as he said, and sent away his forces, and they departed into the land of Judah. <sup>47</sup> But he reserved to himself three thousand men, of whom he left two thousand in Galilee, but one thousand went with him. <sup>48</sup> Now as soon as Jonathan entered into Ptolemais, they of Ptolemais shut the gates, and laid hands on him; and all them that came in with him they slew with the sword. <sup>49</sup> And Tryphon sent forces and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plain, to destroy all Jonathan's men. <sup>50</sup> And they perceived that he was taken and had perished, and they that were with him; and they encouraged one another, and went on their way close together, prepared to fight. <sup>51</sup> And they that followed upon them saw that they were ready to fight for their lives, and turned back again. <sup>52</sup> And they all came in peace into the land of Judah, and they mourned for Jonathan, and them that were with him, and they were sore afraid; and all Israel mourned with a great mourning. <sup>53</sup> And all the Gentiles that were round about them sought to destroy them utterly: for they said, They have no ruler, nor any to help them: now therefore let us fight against them, and take away their memorial from among men.

I3 And Simon heard that Tryphon had gathered together a mighty host to come into the land of Judah, and destroy it utterly. And he saw that the people trembled and was in great fear; and he went up to Jerusalem, and gathered the people together; and he encouraged them, and said unto them, Ye yourselves know all the things that I, and my brethren, and my father's house, have done for the laws and the sanctuary, and the battles and the distresses which we have seen: <sup>4</sup> by reason hereof <sup>5</sup> all my brethren have perished for Israel's sake, and I am left alone. <sup>5</sup> And now be it far from me, that I should spare mine own life in any time of affliction; <sup>6</sup> for I am not better than my brethren. <sup>6</sup> Howbeit I will take vengeance for my nation, and for the sanctuary, and for our wives and children; because <sup>7</sup> all the Gentiles are gathered to destroy us of very hatred. <sup>7</sup> And the spirit of the people revived, as soon as they heard these words. <sup>8</sup> And they answered with a loud voice, saying, Thou art our leader instead of <sup>9</sup> Judas and <sup>10</sup> Jonathan thy brother. <sup>9</sup> Fight thou our battles, and all that thou shalt say unto us, that will we do. <sup>10</sup> And he gathered together all the men of war, and made haste <sup>11</sup> to finish the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about. <sup>12</sup> And he sent Jonathan the son of <sup>13</sup> Absalom, and with him a great host, to <sup>14</sup> Joppa: and he cast out them that were therein, and abode there in it.

he slew Jonathan, and he was buried there. <sup>35</sup> And Tryphon returned, and went away into his own land.

43 In those days he encamped against <sup>1</sup>Gazara, and compassed it round about with armies; and he made an engine of siege, and brought it up to the city, and smote a tower, and took it. 44 And they that were in the engine leaped forth into the city; and there was a great uproar in the city: 45 and they of the city rent their clothes, and went up on the walls with their wives and children, and cried with a loud voice, making request to Simon to <sup>2</sup>give them <sup>3</sup>his right hand. 46 And they said, Deal not with us according to our wickednesses, but according to thy mercy. 47 And Simon was reconciled unto them, and did not fight against them: and he put them out of the city, and cleansed the houses wherein <sup>4</sup>the idols were, and so entered into it with singing and giving praise. 48 And he put all uncleanness out of it, and placed in it such men as would keep the law, and made it stronger than it was before, and built therein <sup>5</sup>a dwelling place for himself.

49 But <sup>6</sup>they of the citadel in Jerusalem were hindered from going forth, and from going into the country, and from buying and selling; and they hungered exceedingly, and a great number of them perished through famine. 50 And they cried out to Simon, that he should <sup>7</sup>give them his right hand; and he gave it to them: and he put them out from thence, and he <sup>8</sup>cleansed the citadel from its pollutions. 51 And he entered into it on the three and twentieth day of the second month, in <sup>9</sup>the hundred and seventy and first year, with praise and <sup>10</sup>palm branches, and <sup>11</sup>with harps, and with cymbals, and with viols, and with hymns, and with songs: <sup>12</sup>because a great enemy was destroyed out of Israel. 52 And he ordained that they should keep that day every year with gladness. <sup>13</sup>And the hill of the temple that was by the citadel he made stronger than before, and there he dwelt, himself and his men. 53 And Simon saw that <sup>14</sup>John his son was a valiant man, and he made him leader of all his forces: and <sup>15</sup>he dwelt in <sup>16</sup>Gazara.

4 And the land <sup>25</sup>had rest all the days of Simon: and he sought the good of his nation; and his authority and his glory was well-pleasing to them all his days. 5 And amid all his glory he took <sup>26</sup>Joppa for a haven, and made it an entrance for the isles of the sea; <sup>27</sup>and he enlarged the borders of his nation, and gat possession of the country; <sup>28</sup>and he gathered together a great number of captives, and gat the dominion of <sup>29</sup>Gazara, and <sup>30</sup>Bethsura, and the citadel, and <sup>31</sup>he took away from it its uncleanness; and there was none that resisted him. <sup>32</sup>And they tilled their land in peace, and <sup>33</sup>the land gave her increase, and the trees of the plains their fruit. <sup>34</sup>The ancient men sat in the streets, they communed all of them together of good things, and the young men put on glorious and warlike apparel. <sup>35</sup>He provided victuals for the cities, and furnished them with <sup>36</sup>all manner of munition, until the name of his glory was named <sup>37</sup>unto the end of the earth. <sup>38</sup>He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy: <sup>39</sup>and <sup>40</sup>they sat each man under his vine and his fig tree, and there was none to make them afraid: <sup>41</sup>and there ceased in the land any that fought against them: and the kings were discomfited in those days. <sup>42</sup>And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low: the law he searched out, and every lawless and wicked person he took away. <sup>43</sup>He glorified the sanctuary, and the vessels of the temple he multiplied.

46 And it was heard at <sup>44</sup>Rome that Jonathan was dead, and even unto <sup>45</sup>Sparta, and they were exceeding sorry. <sup>46</sup>But as soon as they heard that his brother Simon was made <sup>47</sup>high priest in his stead, and ruled the country, and the cities therein, <sup>48</sup>they wrote unto him <sup>49</sup>on tables of brass, to renew with him the friendship and the confederacy which they had confirmed with <sup>50</sup>Judas and <sup>51</sup>Jonathan his brethren; <sup>52</sup>and they were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. <sup>53</sup>And this is the copy of the letters which the Spartans sent:

The rulers of the Spartans, and the city, unto Simon <sup>54</sup>the high priest, and unto the elders, and the priests, and the residue of the people of the Jews, our brethren, greeting: <sup>55</sup>The ambassadors that were sent unto our people made report to us of your glory and honour: and we were glad for their coming, <sup>56</sup>and we did register the things that were spoken by them in the <sup>57</sup>public records after this manner: <sup>58</sup>Numenius son of Antiochus, and Antipater son of Jason, the Jews' ambassadors, came unto us to renew the friendship they had with us. <sup>59</sup>And it pleased the people to entertain the men honourably, and to put the copy of their words in the public records, to the end that the people of the Spartans might have a memorial thereof: moreover they wrote a copy of these things unto Simon the high priest.

After this Simon sent Numenius to Rome with a great shield of gold of a thousand pound weight, in order to confirm the confederacy with them.

But when the people heard these things, they said, What thanks shall we give to Simon and his sons? for he and his brethren and the house of his father have made themselves strong, and have chased away in fight the enemies of Israel from them, and confirmed liberty to Israel. And they wrote on tables of brass, and set them upon pillars in mount Sion: and this is the copy of the writing:

On the eighteenth day of Elul, in the hundred and seventy and second year, and this is the third year of Simon the high priest, in Asaramel, in a great congregation of priests and people and princes of the nation, and of the elders of the country, was it notified unto us: Forasmuch as oftentimes there have been wars in the country, but Simon the son of Mattathias, the son of the sons of Joarib, and his brethren, put themselves in jeopardy, and withstood the enemies of their nation, that their sanctuary and the law might be established, and glorified their nation with great glory: and Jonathan assembled their nation together, and became their high priest, and was gathered to his people: and their enemies purposed to invade their country, that they might destroy their country utterly, and stretch forth their hands against their sanctuary: then rose up Simon, and fought for his nation, and spent much of his own substance, and armed the valiant men of his nation, and gave them wages: and he fortified the cities of Judaea, and Bethsura that lieth upon the borders of Judaea, where the arms of the enemies were aforesome, and set there a garrison of Jews: and he fortified Joppa which is upon the sea, and Gazara which is upon the borders of Azotus, wherein the enemies dwelt aforesome, and placed Jews there, and set therein all things convenient for the reparation thereof: and the people saw the faith of Simon, and the glory which he thought to bring unto his nation, and they made him their leader and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice and the faith which he kept to his nation, and for that he sought by all means to exalt his people: and in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the Gentiles were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David, they that were in Jerusalem, who had made themselves a citadel, out of which they issued, and polluted all things round about the sanctuary, and did great hurt unto its purity: and he placed Jews therein, and fortified it for the safety of the country and the city, and made high the walls of Jerusalem: and king Demetrius confirmed to him the high priesthood according to these things, and made him one of his Friends, and honoured him with great honour; for he had heard say, that the Jews had been called by the Romans friends and confederates and brethren, and that they had met the ambassadors of Simon honourably; and that the Jews and the priests were well pleased that Simon should be their leader and high priest for ever, until there should arise a faithful prophet; and that he should be captain over them, and should take charge of the sanctuary, to set them over their works, and over the country, and over the arms, and over the strongholds; and that he should take charge of the sanctuary, and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all instruments in the country should be written in his name, and that he should be clothed in purple, and wear gold; and that it should not be lawful for any of the people or of the priests to set at nought any of these things, or to gainsay the words that he should speak, or to gather an assembly in the country without him, or to be clothed in purple, or wear a buckle of gold; but whosoever should do otherwise, or set at nought any of these things, he should be liable to punishment. All the people consented to ordain for Simon that he should do according to these words; and Simon accepted hereof, and consented to be high priest, and to be captain and governor of the Jews and of the priests, and to be protector of all.

And they commanded to put this writing on tables of brass, and to set them up within the precinct of the sanctuary in a conspicuous place; and moreover to put the copies thereof in the treasury, to the end that Simon and his sons might have them.

And Antiochus son of Demetrius the king sent letters from the isles of the sea unto Simon the priest and governor of the Jews, and to all the nation; and the contents thereof were after this manner:

King Antiochus to Simon the chief priest and governor, and to the nation of the Jews, greeting: 3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent fellows have made themselves masters of the kingdom of our fathers, but my purpose is to claim the kingdom, that I may restore it as it was before; and moreover I have raised a multitude of foreign soldiers, and have prepared ships of war; 4 moreover I am minded to land in the country, that I may punish them that have destroyed our country, and them that have made many cities in the kingdom desolate:

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the exactions which the kings that were before me remitted unto thee, and whatsoever gifts besides they remitted unto thee: 6 and I give thee leave to coin money for thy country with thine own stamp, 7 but that Jerusalem and the sanctuary should be free: and all the arms that thou hast prepared, and the strongholds that thou hast built, which thou hast in thy possession, let them remain unto thee: 8 and everything owing to the king, and the things that shall be owing to the king from henceforth and for evermore, let them be remitted unto thee: 9 moreover, when we shall have established our kingdom, we will glorify thee and thy nation and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In the hundred and seventy and fourth year went Antiochus forth into the land of his fathers; and all the forces came together unto him, so that there were few men with Tryphon. 11 And king Antiochus pursued him, and he came, as he fled, unto Dor, which is by the sea: 12 for he knew that troubles were come upon him all at once, and that his forces had forsaken him. 13 And Antiochus encamped against Dor, and with him a hundred and twenty thousand men of war, and eight thousand horse. 14 And he compassed the city round about, and the ships joined in the attack from the sea; and he vexed the city by land and sea, and suffered no man to go out or in.

15 And Numenius and his company came from Rome, having letters to the kings and to the countries, wherein were written these things:

16 Lucius, consul of the Romans, unto king Ptolemy, greeting: 17 The Jews' ambassadors came unto us as our friends and confederates, to renew the old friendship and confederacy, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Jews: 18 moreover they brought a shield of gold of a thousand pound. 19 It pleased us therefore to write unto the kings and unto the countries, that they should not seek their hurt, nor fight against them, and their cities, and their country, nor be confederates with such as fight against them. 20 Moreover it seemed good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore any pestilent fellows have fled from their country unto you, deliver them unto Simon the high priest, that he may take vengeance on them
according to their law.

22 And the same things wrote he to Demetrius the king, and to Attalus, and to Arathes, and to Arsaces, and unto all the countries, and to Sampsasmes, and to the Spartans, and unto Delos, and unto Myndos, and unto Si-cyon, and unto Caria, and unto Samos, and unto Pamphylia, and unto Lycia, and unto Halicarnassus, and unto Rhodes, and unto Phaselis, and unto Cos, and unto Side, and unto Aradus, and Gortyna, and Cnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene. 24 But the copy hereof they wrote to Simon the high priest.

25 But Antiochus the king encamped against Dor the second day, bringing his forces up to it continually, and making engines of war, and he shut up Tryphon from going in or out.
26 And Simon sent him two thousand chosen men to fight on his side; and silver, and gold, and instruments of war in abundance. 27 And he would not receive them, but set at nought all the covenants which he had made with him aforetime, and was estranged from him.
28 And he sent unto him Athenobius, one of his friends, to commune with him, saying,

Ye hold possession of Joppa and Gazara, and the citadel that is in Jerusalem, cities of my kingdom. 29 The borders thereof ye have wasted, and done great hurt in the land, and got the dominion of many places in my kingdom. 30 Now therefore deliver up the cities which ye have taken, and the tributes of the places whereof ye have gotten dominion without the borders of Judea: 31 or else give me for them five hundred talents of silver; and for the harm that ye have done, and the tributes of the cities, other five hundred talents: or else we will come and subdue you.

32 And Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem; and he saw the glory of Simon, and the cupboard of gold and silver vessels, and his great attendance, and he was amazed; and he reported to him the king's words.
33 And Simon answered, and said unto him,

We have neither taken other men's land, nor have we possession of that which appertaineth to others, but of the inheritance of our fathers; howbeit, it

16 <sup>a</sup>And <sup>a</sup>John went up from <sup>a</sup>Gazara, and told Simon his father what <sup>a</sup>Cendebeus was doing. <sup>a</sup>And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and <sup>a</sup>John, and said unto them, <sup>a</sup>I and my brethren and my father's house have fought the battles of Israel from our youth, even unto this day; <sup>a</sup>and things have prospered in our hands, that we should deliver Israel oftentimes. <sup>3</sup> But now I am old, and ye moreover, by <sup>a</sup>his mercy, are of a sufficient age: be ye instead of me and <sup>a</sup>my brother, and go forth and fight for our nation; but let the help which is from heaven be with you. <sup>4</sup> And he chose out of the country twenty thousand men of war and horsemen, and they went against <sup>a</sup>Cendebeus, and slept at <sup>a</sup>Modin. <sup>5</sup> And rising up in the morning, they went into the plain, and, behold, a great host came to meet them, of footmen and horsemen: and there was a brook betwixt them. <sup>6</sup> And he encamped over against them, he and his people: and he saw that the people were afraid to pass over the brook, and he passed over first, and the men saw him, and passed over after him. <sup>7</sup> And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: but the enemies' horsemen were exceeding many. <sup>8</sup> And <sup>a</sup>they sounded with the trumpets; and <sup>a</sup>Cendebeus and his army were put to the rout,

<sup>11</sup> And Ptolemy the son of Abubus had been appointed captain for <sup>a</sup>the plain of Jericho, and <sup>a</sup>he had much silver and gold; <sup>12</sup> for he was the high priest's son in law. <sup>13</sup> And <sup>a</sup>his heart was lifted up, and he was minded to make himself master of the country, and he took counsel deceitfully against Simon and his sons, to make away with them.

<sup>14</sup> Now Simon was visiting the cities that were in the country, and taking care for the good ordering of them; and he went down to <sup>a</sup>Jericho, himself and Mattathias and Judas his sons, in <sup>1</sup>the hundred and seventy and seventh year, in the eleventh month, the same is the month <sup>a</sup>Sebat:

<sup>15</sup> and the son of Abubus received them deceitfully into the little stronghold that is called Dok, which he had built, and made them a great banquet, and hid men there. <sup>16</sup> And when Simon and his sons had drunk freely, Ptolemy and his men rose up, and took their arms, and came in upon Simon into the banquetting place, and slew him, and <sup>17</sup>his two sons, and certain of his servants.

<sup>18</sup> And he committed a great iniquity, and recompensed evil for good. <sup>19</sup> And Ptolemy wrote these things, and sent to <sup>a</sup>the king, that he should send him forces to aid him, and should deliver him their country and the cities. <sup>20</sup> And he sent others to <sup>a</sup>Gazara to make away with John: and unto <sup>a</sup>the captains of thousands he sent letters to come unto him, that he might give them <sup>a</sup>silver and gold and gifts. <sup>21</sup> And others he sent to take possession of Jerusalem, and the mount of the temple. <sup>22</sup> And one ran before to <sup>a</sup>Gazara, and told John that his father and brethren were perished, and he hath sent to slay thee also. <sup>23</sup> And when he heard, he was sore amazed; and he laid hands on the men that came to destroy him, and slew them; for he perceived that they were seeking to destroy him.

<sup>24</sup> And the rest of the acts of John, and of his wars, and of his valiant deeds which he did, and of the building of the walls which he built, and of his doings, <sup>25</sup> behold, they are written in the <sup>a</sup>chronicles of his high priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

THE SECOND BOOK OF THE MACCABEES.

IN THE brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem and they that are in the country of Judæa, send greeting to the brethren, the Jews that are throughout Egypt, and wish them good peace: <sup>2</sup>and may God do good unto you, and <sup>3</sup>remember his covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, his faithful servants; <sup>4</sup>and give you all a heart to worship him and do his <sup>1</sup>pleasure with a great heart and a willing soul; <sup>4</sup>and <sup>5</sup>open your heart in his law and in his statutes, and make peace, <sup>5</sup>and hearken to your supplications, and <sup>6</sup>be reconciled with you, and not forsake you in an evil time. <sup>6</sup>And now we here are praying for you. <sup>7</sup>In the reign of <sup>2</sup>Demetrius, in the hundred threescore and ninth year, we the Jews have already written unto you in the tribulation and in the extremity that hath come upon us in these years, from the time that <sup>8</sup>Jason and his company revolted from <sup>9</sup>the holy land and the kingdom, <sup>8</sup>and set <sup>9</sup>the <sup>2</sup>gate on fire, and shed innocent blood: and we besought the Lord, and were heard; and <sup>10</sup>we offered sacrifice and meal offering, and we lighted the lamps, and we set forth the <sup>11</sup>shewbread. <sup>9</sup>And now see that ye keep the days of <sup>12</sup>the feast of tabernacles of the month <sup>13</sup>Chislew. <sup>10</sup>Written in the hundred fourscore and eighth year.

THEY that are in Jerusalem and they that are in Judæa and <sup>14</sup>the senate and Judas, unto Aristobulus, <sup>15</sup>king Ptolemy's teacher, who is also of the stock of the <sup>16</sup>anointed priests, and unto the Jews that are in Egypt, send greeting and health. <sup>11</sup>Having been saved by God out of great perils, as men arrayed against <sup>12</sup>a king, we thank him greatly. <sup>12</sup>For himself cast forth into <sup>13</sup>Persia them that arrayed themselves <sup>14</sup>against us in <sup>15</sup>the holy city. <sup>13</sup>For when the prince was come there, and the army with him that seemed irresistible, they were cut to pieces in the temple of Nanea by the treachery of Nanea's priests. <sup>14</sup>For <sup>15</sup>Antiochus, on the pretence that he would marry her, came into the place, he and his <sup>16</sup>Friends that were with him, that they might take a great part of the treasures in name of a dowry. <sup>15</sup>And when the priests of Nanea's temple had set <sup>16</sup>the treasures forth, and he was come there with a small company within the wall of the precincts, they shut to the temple when Antiochus was come in: <sup>16</sup>and opening the secret door of the panelled ceiling, they threw stones and <sup>17</sup>struck down the prince, and they hewed <sup>18</sup>him and his company in pieces, and smote off their heads, and cast them to those that were without. <sup>17</sup>Blessed be our God in all things, who gave for a prey them that had committed impiety.

<sup>18</sup>Whereas we are now about to keep <sup>19</sup>the purification of the temple in the month <sup>19</sup>Chislew, on the five and twentieth day, we thought it necessary to certify you thereof, that <sup>20</sup>ye also may keep <sup>21</sup>a feast of tabernacles, and a memorial of the fire which was given when Nehemiah offered sacrifices, after that he had builded both the temple and the altar. <sup>19</sup>For indeed when our fathers were about to be led into the land of Persia, <sup>22</sup>the godly priests of that time took of the fire of the altar, and hid it privily in the hollow of a well that was without water, wherein they made it sure, so that the place was unknown to all men. <sup>20</sup>Now after many years, when it pleased God, Nehemiah, <sup>23</sup>having received a charge from the king of Persia, sent in quest of the fire the descendants of the priests that hid it. When they declared to us that they had found no fire, but thick water, <sup>21</sup>he commanded them to draw out thereof and bring to him: and when <sup>24</sup>the sacrifices had been offered on the altar, Nehemiah commanded the priests <sup>25</sup>to sprinkle with the water both the wood and the things laid thereupon. <sup>22</sup>And when it was done, and some time had passed, and the sun shone out, which before was hid with clouds, there was kindled a great blaze, so that all men marvelled. <sup>23</sup>And the priests made a prayer while the sacrifice was consuming, both the priests and all others, <sup>24</sup>Jonathan leading and the rest answering, as Nehemiah did. <sup>24</sup>And the prayer was after this manner: O Lord, Lord God, <sup>25</sup>the Creator of all things, who art terrible and strong and righteous and merciful, who alone art King and gracious, <sup>25</sup> who alone <sup>26</sup> suppliest every need, who <sup>27</sup> alone art righteous and almighty and eternal, thou that savest Israel out of all evil, who madest the fathers <sup>28</sup> thy chosen, and didst sanctify them: <sup>29</sup> accept the sacrifice for all thy people Israel, and guard <sup>30</sup> thine own portion, and consecrate it. <sup>31</sup> Gather together our <sup>32</sup> Dispersion, <sup>33</sup> set at liberty them that are in bondage among the heathen, look upon them that are despised and abhorred, and <sup>34</sup> let the heathen know that thou art our God. <sup>35</sup> Torment them that oppress us and in arrogance shamefully treat us. <sup>36</sup> Plant thy people in <sup>37</sup> thy holy place, even <sup>38</sup> as Moses said.

<sup>39</sup> And thereupon the priests sang the hymns. <sup>40</sup> And as soon as the sacrifice was consumed, then Nehemiah commanded <sup>41</sup> to pour on great stones the water that was left. <sup>42</sup> And when this was done, a flame was kindled; <sup>43</sup> but when the light from the altar <sup>44</sup> shone over against it, <sup>45</sup> all was consumed. <sup>46</sup> And when the matter became known, and it was told the king of the Persians, that, in the place where the priests that were led away had hid the fire, there appeared the water, wherewith also Nehemiah and they that were with him purified the sacrifice, <sup>47</sup> then the king, inclosing the place, made it sacred, after he had proved the matter. <sup>48</sup> And when the king would shew favour to any, he would take <sup>49</sup> from them many presents and give them some of <sup>50</sup> this water. <sup>51</sup> And Nehemiah and they that were with him called this thing Nephthar, which is <sup>52</sup> by interpretation, Cleansing; but most men call it Nephthai.

<sup>2</sup> It is also found in the records, that Jeremiah the prophet commanded them that were carried away to take of the fire, <sup>3</sup> as hath been signified above: <sup>4</sup> and how that the prophet charged them that were carried away, having given them the law, that they should not forget the statutes of the Lord, neither <sup>5</sup> be led astray in their minds, when they saw images of gold and silver, and the adornment thereof. <sup>6</sup> And with other such words exhorted he them, that the law should not depart from their heart. <sup>7</sup> And it was contained in the writing, that the prophet, being warned of God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should follow with him, <sup>8</sup> when he went forth into the mountain <sup>9</sup> where Moses went up and beheld the heritage of God. <sup>10</sup> And <sup>11</sup> Jeremiah came and found <sup>12</sup> a chamber in the rock, and there he brought in the tabernacle, and <sup>13</sup> the ark, and the altar of incense; and he made fast the door. <sup>14</sup> And some of those that followed with him came there that they might mark the way, and could not find it. <sup>15</sup> But when <sup>16</sup> Jeremiah perceived it, he blamed them, saying, Yea and the place shall be unknown <sup>17</sup> until God <sup>18</sup> gather the people again together, and mercy come: <sup>19</sup> and then shall the Lord disclose these things, and <sup>20</sup> the glory of the Lord shall be seen, <sup>21</sup> and the <sup>22</sup> cloud.

As also it was shewed with Moses; as also Solomon <sup>23</sup> besought that the place might be consecrated greatly, <sup>24</sup> and it was also declared that he, having wisdom, <sup>25</sup> offered a sacrifice of dedication, and of the finishing of the temple; <sup>26</sup> so we would have it now. <sup>27</sup> As Moses prayed unto the Lord, and fire came down out of heaven and consumed the sacrifice, even so prayed Solomon also, and <sup>28</sup> the fire came down and consumed the burnt offerings; <sup>29</sup> <sup>30</sup> (and Moses said, Because the sin offering had not been eaten, it was consumed in like manner with the rest;) <sup>31</sup> and <sup>32</sup> Solomon kept the eight days.

<sup>33</sup> And the same things were related <sup>34</sup> both in the public archives <sup>35</sup> and in <sup>36</sup> the records that concern Nehemiah; and how he, founding a library, gathered together the books about the kings and prophets, and the books of David, and letters of kings <sup>37</sup> about sacred gifts. <sup>38</sup> And in like manner Judas also gathered together for us all those writings that had been scattered by reason of the war that befell, and they are <sup>39</sup> still with us. <sup>40</sup> If therefore ye have need thereof, send some to fetch them unto you.

<sup>41</sup> Seeing then that we <sup>42</sup> are about to keep the purification, we write unto you; ye will therefore do well if ye keep the days. <sup>43</sup> Now God, who saved all his people, and restored the heritage to all, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and <sup>44</sup> the hallowing, <sup>45</sup> even as he promised through the law,—in God have we hope, that he will quickly have mercy upon us, <sup>46</sup> and gather us together out of <sup>47</sup> all the earth into <sup>48</sup> the holy place: for he delivered us out of great evils, and <sup>49</sup> purified the place.

3 <sup>a</sup> WHEN <sup>1</sup> the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws were kept very well, because of the godliness of <sup>2</sup> Onias the high priest, and his hatred of wickedness, <sup>3</sup> it came to pass that even the kings themselves did honour the place, and glorify the temple with the noblest presents; <sup>4</sup> inasmuch that even <sup>5</sup> Seleucus the king of Asia of his own revenues <sup>6</sup> bare all the costs belonging to the services of the sacrifices. <sup>7</sup> But one <sup>8</sup> Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, having been made guardian of the temple, fell out with the high priest about the <sup>9</sup> ruling of the market in the city. <sup>10</sup> And when he could not overcome <sup>11</sup> Onias, he gat him to <sup>12</sup> Apollonius the son of <sup>13</sup> Thraseus, who at that time was governor of <sup>14</sup> Coele Syria and Phoenicia: <sup>15</sup> and he brought him word how that <sup>16</sup> the treasury in Jerusalem was full of untold sums of money, so that the multitude of the funds was innumerable, and that they did not pertain to the account of the sacrifices, but that it was possible that these should fall under the king's power. <sup>17</sup> And when <sup>18</sup> Apollonius met the king, he informed him of the money whereof he had been told; and the king appointed Heliodorus, who was his chancellor, and sent him with a commandment to accomplish the removal of the aforesaid money. <sup>19</sup> So forthwith Heliodorus took his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of <sup>20</sup> Coele Syria and Phoenicia, but in fact to execute the king's purpose. <sup>21</sup> And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received by the high priest <sup>22</sup> of the city, he laid before <sup>23</sup> them an account of the information which had been given him, and declared wherefore he was come; and he inquired if in truth these things were so. <sup>24</sup> And the high priest explained to him that there were in the treasury deposits <sup>25</sup> of widows and orphans, <sup>26</sup> and moreover some money belonging to Hyrcanus the son of Tobias, a man in very high place, <sup>27</sup> and that the case was not as that impious <sup>28</sup> Simon falsely alleged; and that in all there were four hundred talents of silver and two hundred of gold; <sup>29</sup> and that it was altogether impossible that wrong should be done unto them that had put trust in the holiness of the place, and in the majesty and inviolable sanctity of the temple, <sup>30</sup> honoured over all the world. <sup>31</sup> But <sup>32</sup> Heliodorus, because of the king's commandments given him, said that in any case this money must be confiscated for the king's treasury.

<sup>33</sup> So having appointed a day, he entered in to direct the inquiry concerning these matters; and there was no small distress throughout the whole city. <sup>15</sup> And the priests, prostrating themselves before the altar <sup>16</sup> in their priestly garments, and looking toward heaven, called upon him <sup>17</sup> that gave the law concerning deposits, that he should preserve these treasures safe for those that had deposited them. <sup>18</sup> And whosoever saw the mien of the high priest was wounded in mind; for his countenance and the change of his colour betrayed the distress of his soul. <sup>17</sup> For a terror and a shuddering of the body had come over the man, whereby the pain that was in his heart was plainly shewn to them that looked upon him. <sup>18</sup> And they that were in the houses rushed flocking out to make a universal supplication, because the place was like to come into contempt. <sup>19</sup> And the women, <sup>20</sup> girl with sackcloth under their breasts, thronged the streets, and the virgins that were kept in ward ran together, some <sup>21</sup> to the <sup>22</sup> gates, others to the walls, and some looked out through the windows. <sup>20</sup> And all, <sup>21</sup> stretching forth their hands toward heaven, made their solemn supplication. <sup>22</sup> Then it would have pitted a man to see the multitude prostrating themselves all mingled together, and the expectation of the high priest in his sore distress.

<sup>23</sup> While therefore they called upon the Almighty Lord to keep the things intrusted to them <sup>24</sup> safe and sure for <sup>25</sup> those that had intrusted them, <sup>26</sup> Heliodorus went on to execute that which had been decreed. <sup>27</sup> But when he was already present there with his guards over against <sup>28</sup> the treasury, <sup>29</sup> the Sovereign of spirits and of all authority caused <sup>30</sup> a great <sup>31</sup> apparition, so that all that had presumed to come in with him, stricken with dismay at the power of God, fainted and were sore afraid. <sup>32</sup> For there was seen by them a horse with a terrible rider upon him, and adorned with <sup>33</sup> beautiful trappings, and he rushed fiercely and smote at Heliodorus with his forefeet, and it seemed that he that sat upon the horse had <sup>34</sup> complete armour of gold. <sup>35</sup> Two other also appeared unto him, young men notable in their strength, and beautiful in their glory, and splendid in their apparel, who stood by him on either side, and <sup>36</sup> scourged him unceasingly, inflicting on him many sore stripes. <sup>37</sup> And <sup>38</sup> when he had fallen suddenly unto the ground, and great darkness had come over him, his <sup>39</sup> guards caught him up and put him <sup>40</sup> into a litter, <sup>41</sup> and carried him, <sup>42</sup> him that had just now entered with a great train and all his guard into <sup>43</sup> the aforesaid treasury, himself now brought to utter helplessness, ness, manifestly made to recognise the sovereignty of God. <sup>39</sup> And so, while he, through the working of God, speechless and bereft of all hope and deliverance, lay prostrate, <sup>40</sup> they blessed the Lord, that made marvellous his own place; and the temple, which a little afore was full of terror and alarm, was filled with joy and gladness after the Almighty Lord appeared.

<sup>41</sup> But quickly certain of Heliodorus's familiar friends besought <sup>42</sup> Onias <sup>43</sup> to call upon the Most High, and grant life to him who lay quite at the last gasp. <sup>44</sup> And the high priest, secretly <sup>45</sup> fearing lest the king might come to think that some treachery toward Heliodorus had been perpetrated by the Jews, brought a sacrifice for the deliverance of the man. <sup>46</sup> But as the high priest was making the propitiation, <sup>47</sup> the same young men appeared again to Heliodorus, arrayed in the same garments; and they stood and said, Give Onias the high priest great thanks, for <sup>48</sup> for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life; <sup>49</sup> and do thou, since thou hast been scourged from heaven, publish unto all men the sovereign majesty of God. And when they had spoken these words, they vanished out of sight. <sup>50</sup> So Heliodorus, having offered a sacrifice unto the Lord and vowed <sup>51</sup> great vows unto him that had saved his life, and having graciously received Onias, returned with his host to the king. <sup>52</sup> And he testified to all men the works of the <sup>53</sup> great God which he had beheld with his eyes.

<sup>54</sup> And when the king asked Heliodorus, what manner of man was fit to be sent yet once again to Jerusalem, he said, <sup>55</sup> If thou hast any enemy or <sup>56</sup> conspirator against the state, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him back well scourged, if he even escape with his life; because of a truth there is about the place a power of God. <sup>57</sup> For he <sup>58</sup> that hath his dwelling in heaven himself hath his eyes upon that place, and helpeth it; and them that come to hurt it he smiteth and destroyeth.

<sup>61</sup> But <sup>62</sup> the aforesaid Simon, he who had given information of the money, and had betrayed his country, slandered Onias, <sup>63</sup> saying that it was he who had incited Heliodorus, and made himself the author of these evils. <sup>64</sup> And him that was <sup>65</sup> the benefactor of the city, and the guardian of his fellow-countrymen, and a zealot for the laws, he dared to call <sup>66</sup> a conspirator against the state. <sup>67</sup> But when the growing enmity between them waxed so great, that even murders were perpetrated through one of <sup>68</sup> Simon's trusted followers,

<sup>7</sup>But when <sup>8</sup>Seleucus was deceased, and <sup>9</sup>Antiochus, who was called Epiphanes, succeeded to the kingdom, <sup>10</sup>Jason the brother of Onias supplanted his brother in the high priesthood, <sup>11</sup>having promised unto the king at an audience three hundred and threescore talents of silver, and out of another fund eighty talents; <sup>12</sup>and beside this, he undertook to assign a hundred and fifty more, if it might be allowed him <sup>13</sup>through the king's authority to set him up <sup>14</sup>as a Greek place of exercise and form a body of youths to be trained therein, and to register the inhabitants of Jerusalem <sup>15</sup>as citizens of Antioch. <sup>16</sup>And when the king <sup>17</sup>had given assent, and he had gotten possession of the office, he forthwith brought over them of his own race to the Greek fashion. <sup>18</sup>And setting aside the royal ordinances of special favour to the Jews, granted by the means of John the father of <sup>19</sup>Eupolemus, who went on the embassy to the Romans for friendship and alliance, and seeking to overthrow the lawful modes of life, he brought in new customs forbidden by the law: <sup>20</sup>for he eagerly established <sup>21</sup>as a Greek place of exercise under <sup>22</sup>the citadel itself; and caused the noblest of the young men to wear the Greek cap. <sup>23</sup>And thus there was an extreme of Greek fashions, <sup>24</sup>and in advance of an alien religion, by reason of the exceeding profaneness of Jason, that ungodly man and no high priest; <sup>25</sup>so that the priests had no more any zeal for the services of the altar: but despising the sanctuary, and neglecting the sacrifices, they hastened <sup>26</sup>to enjoy that which was unlawfully provided in the palestra, after the summons <sup>27</sup>of the discus; <sup>28</sup>making of no account the honours of their fathers, and thinking the glories of the Greeks best of all. <sup>29</sup>By reason whereof sore calamity beset them; and the men whose ways of living they earnestly followed, and unto whom they desired to be made like in all things, these they had to be their enemies and to punish them.

<sup>a</sup> Acts 9. 11. things, it came to pass that they of <sup>a</sup>Tarsus and Mallus made insurrection, because they were to be given as a present to Antiochis, the king's concubine. <sup>32</sup> The king therefore came to <sup>a</sup>Cilicia in all haste to settle matters, leaving for his <sup>a</sup>deputy Andronicus, a man of high rank. <sup>33</sup> And Menelaus, supposing that he had gotten a favourable opportunity, <sup>a</sup>presented to Andronicus certain vessels of gold belonging to the temple, which he had stolen: other vessels also he had already sold into <sup>a</sup>Tyre and the cities round about. <sup>33</sup> And when Onias had sure knowledge of this, he sharply reproved him, having withdrawn himself into a sanctuary at Daphne, that lieth by <sup>a</sup>Antioch. <sup>34</sup> Wherefore Menelaus, taking Andronicus apart, prayed him <sup>2</sup>to kill Onias. And coming to Onias, and <sup>a</sup>being persuaded to use treachery, and being received as a friend, Andronicus gave him his right hand with oaths of <sup>a</sup>fidelity, and, though he was suspected by him, <sup>a</sup>so persuaded him to come forth of the sanctuary; and forthwith he <sup>a</sup>despatched him without regard of justice. <sup>35</sup> For the which cause not only Jews, but many also of the other nations, had indignation and displeasure at the unjust murder of the man. <sup>36</sup> And when the king was come back again <sup>a</sup>from the places in <sup>a</sup>Cilicia, the Jews that were <sup>5</sup>in the city pleaded before him against Andronicus (the Greeks also joining with them in hatred of the wickedness), urging that Onias had been wrongfully slain. <sup>37</sup> Antiochus therefore was heartily sorry, and was moved to pity, and wept, because of <sup>b</sup>the sober and well ordered life of him that was dead; <sup>38</sup> and being inflamed with passion, forthwith he stripped off Andronicus's <sup>a</sup>purple robe, and <sup>a</sup>rent off his under garments, and when he had led him round through the whole city unto that very place where he had committed impiety against Onias, there he put the murderer out of the way, the Lord <sup>a</sup>rendering to him the punishment he had deserved.

<sup>39</sup> Now when many sacrifices had been committed in the city by <sup>a</sup>Lysimachus with the consent of Menelaus, and when the bruit thereof was spread abroad outside, the people gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, <sup>a</sup>after many vessels of gold had been already dispersed. <sup>40</sup> And when the multitudes were rising against him, and were filled with anger, <sup>a</sup>Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and with unrighteous violence began the conflict, one Hauran, a man far gone in years and no less also in madness, leading the attack. <sup>41</sup> But when they perceived the assault of <sup>a</sup>Lysimachus, some caught up stones, others logs of wood, and some took handfuls of the ashes that lay near, and they flung them all pell-mell upon <sup>a</sup>Lysimachus and them that were with him; <sup>42</sup> by reason of which they wounded many of them, and some they struck to the ground, and all of them they forced to flee, but the author of the sacrilege himself they killed beside <sup>a</sup>the treasury.

<sup>43</sup> But touching these matters there was an accusation laid against Menelaus. <sup>44</sup> And when the king was come to <sup>a</sup>Tyre, the three men that were sent by <sup>a</sup>the senate pleaded the cause before him. <sup>45</sup> But Menelaus, seeing himself now defeated, promised much money to <sup>a</sup>Ptolemy the son of Dorymenes, that he might win over the king. <sup>46</sup> Whereupon Ptolemy taking the king aside into a cloister, as it were to take the air, brought him to be of another mind: <sup>47</sup> and him that was the cause of all the evil, Menelaus, he discharged from the accusations; but those hapless men, who, if they had pleaded even before <sup>a</sup>Scythians, would have been discharged uncondemned, them he sentenced to death. <sup>48</sup> Soon then did they, that were <sup>a</sup>spokesmen for the city and the families of Israel and the holy vessels suffer that unrighteous penalty. <sup>49</sup> For which cause even certain Tyrians, moved with hatred of the wickedness, provided magnificently for their burial. <sup>50</sup> But <sup>a</sup>Menelaus through the covetous dealings of them that were in power <sup>a</sup>remained still in his office, <sup>a</sup>cleaving to wickedness, <sup>a</sup>as <sup>a</sup>a great conspirator against his fellow-citizens.

5 Now about this time Antiochus made his <sup>a</sup>second inroad into Egypt. <sup>a</sup> And it so befell that throughout all the city, for the space of almost forty days, there appeared <sup>a</sup>in the midst of the sky horsemen in swift motion, wearing robes inwrought with gold and carrying spears, equipped in troops for battle; and drawing of swords; and on the other side squadrons of horse in array; and encounters and <sup>a</sup>pursuits of both armies; and shaking of shields, and multitudes of lances, and casting of darts, and flashing of golden trappings, and girding on of all sorts of armour. <sup>4</sup> Wherefore all men besought that <sup>a</sup>the vision might have been given for good.

But when a false rumour had arisen that Antiochus was deceased, <sup>a</sup>Jason took not less than a thousand men, and suddenly <sup>11</sup>made an assault upon the city; and they that were upon the wall being routed, and the city being now at length well nigh taken, <sup>a</sup>Menelaus took refuge in <sup>a</sup>the citadel. <sup>6</sup> But <sup>a</sup>Jason slaughtered his own citizens without mercy, not considering that good success against kinsmen is the greatest ill success, but supposing himself to be setting up trophies over enemies, and not over fellow-countrymen. <sup>7</sup>The office however he did not get, but, receiving shame as the end of his conspiracy, he passed <sup>8</sup>again a fugitive into the country of the Ammonites. <sup>8</sup>At the last therefore he met with a miserable end: having been <sup>1</sup>shut up at the court of <sup>2</sup>Aretas the prince of <sup>3</sup>the Arabians, fleeing from city to city, pursued of all men, hated <sup>4</sup>as an apostate from the laws, and held in abomination as the butcher of his country and his fellow-citizens, he was cast forth into Egypt; <sup>9</sup>and he that had driven many from their own country into strange lands perished himself in a strange land, having crossed the sea to <sup>5</sup>the Lacedæmonians, as thinking to find shelter there because they were <sup>6</sup>near of kin; <sup>10</sup>and he that had cast out a multitude unburied <sup>11</sup>had none to mourn for him, nor had he any funeral at all, or place in the sepulchre of his fathers.

<sup>11</sup>Now when tidings came to the king concerning that which was done, he thought that Judæa was in revolt; whereupon setting out <sup>12</sup>from Egypt in a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, <sup>13</sup>and <sup>14</sup>commanded his soldiers to cut down without mercy such as came in their way, and to slay such as went up upon the houses; <sup>15</sup>and there was <sup>16</sup>killing of young and old, making away of boys, women, and children, slaying of virgins and infants. <sup>17</sup>And in all the three days of the slaughter there were destroyed fourscore thousand, whereof forty thousand were slain in close combat, and no fewer were sold than slain. <sup>18</sup>But not content with this <sup>19</sup>he presumed to enter into <sup>20</sup>the most holy temple of all the earth, having Menelaus for his guide (him that had proved himself <sup>21</sup>a traitor both to the laws and to his country), <sup>22</sup>even <sup>23</sup>taking the sacred vessels with his polluted hands, and dragging down with his profane hands <sup>24</sup>the offerings that had been dedicated by other kings to the augmentation and glory and honour of the place. <sup>25</sup>And Antiochus <sup>26</sup>was lifted up in mind, not seeing that because of the sins of them that dwell in the city <sup>27</sup>the Sovereign Lord had been provoked to anger <sup>28</sup>a little while, and therefore his eye was then <sup>29</sup>turned away from the place. <sup>30</sup>But had it not so been that they were already holden by many sins, this man, even <sup>31</sup>as Heliodorus who was sent by <sup>32</sup>Seleucus the king to view <sup>33</sup>the treasury, would, so soon as he pressed forward, have been scourged and turned back from his daring deed. <sup>34</sup>Howbeit the Lord did not choose the nation for the place's sake, <sup>35</sup>but the place for the nation's sake. <sup>36</sup>Wherefore also the place itself, having partaken in the calamities that befell the nation, did afterward share in its benefits; <sup>37</sup>and the place which was forsaken in the wrath of the Almighty was, at <sup>38</sup>the reconciliation of <sup>39</sup>the great Sovereign, restored again with all glory.

<sup>40</sup>As for Antiochus, when <sup>41</sup>he had carried away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he departed in all haste unto <sup>42</sup>Antioch, weening in his arrogance to make the land navigable and the sea passable by foot, because <sup>43</sup>his heart was lifted up. <sup>44</sup>And moreover <sup>45</sup>he let governors to afflict the race: at Jerusalem, <sup>46</sup>Philip, by race a Phrygian, and in character more barbarous than him that set him there; <sup>47</sup>and at <sup>48</sup>Gerizim, Andronicus; and besides these, Menelaus, who worse than all the rest exalted himself against his fellow-citizens. And having a malicious mind <sup>49</sup>toward the Jews whom he had made his citizens, <sup>50</sup>he sent that <sup>51</sup>lord of pollutions <sup>52</sup>Apollonius with an army of two and twenty thousand, commanding him to slay all those that were of full age, and to sell the women and the younger men. <sup>53</sup>And he coming to Jerusalem, and playing the man of peace, waited till the holy day of the sabbath, and finding the Jews at rest from work, he commanded his men to parade in arms. <sup>54</sup>And he put to the sword all them that came forth to the spectacle; and running into the city with the armed men he slew great multitudes. <sup>55</sup>But Judas, <sup>56</sup>who is also called Maccabæus, with nine others or thereabout, withdrew himself, and with his company kept himself alive <sup>57</sup>in the mountains after the manner of wild beasts; and they continued feeding on <sup>58</sup>such poor herbs as grew there, that they might not be partakers of the threatened pollution.

6 <sup>59</sup>And not long after this the king sent forth <sup>60</sup>an old man of <sup>61</sup>Athens to compel the Jews <sup>62</sup>to depart from the laws of their fathers, and not to live after the laws of God; <sup>63</sup>and also to pollute the sanctuary in Jerusalem, and to call it by the name of <sup>64</sup>Jupiter Olympius, and to call the sanctuary in <sup>65</sup>Gerizim by the name of <sup>66</sup>Jupiter the Protector of strangers, even as they <sup>67</sup>were that dwell in the place. <sup>68</sup>But sore and utterly grievous was the visitation of this evil. <sup>69</sup>For the temple was filled with riot and revellings by the heathen, who <sup>70</sup>dallied with harlots, and had to do with women within the sacred precincts, and moreover brought inside things that were not befitting; <sup>71</sup>and <sup>72</sup>the place of sacrifice was filled with those abominable things which had been prohibited by the laws. <sup>6</sup> And a man could neither keep the sabbath, nor observe the feasts of the fathers, nor <sup>7</sup> so much as confess himself to be a Jew. <sup>7</sup> And on the day of the king's birth every month they were led along with bitter constraint to eat of the sacrifices; and when the <sup>8</sup> feast of Bacchus came, they were compelled to go in procession in honour of <sup>9</sup> Bacchus, wearing wreaths of ivy. <sup>8</sup> And there went out a decree to the neighbouring Greek cities, by the suggestion of <sup>10</sup> Ptolemy, that they should observe the same conduct against the Jews, and should make them eat of the sacrifices; and that they should <sup>11</sup> slay such as did not choose to go over to the Greek rites. So the present misery was for all to see: <sup>12</sup> for two women were brought up for having circumcised their children; and these, when they had led them publicly round about the city, with the babes hung from their breasts, they cast down headlong from the wall. <sup>13</sup> And others, that had run together into the caves near by to keep the seventh day secretly, being betrayed to <sup>14</sup> Philip were all burnt together, because they scrupled to defend themselves, from regard to the honour of that most solemn day.

<sup>15</sup> I beseech therefore those that read this book, that they be not discouraged because of the calamities, but account that these punishments were not for the destruction, <sup>16</sup> but for the chastening of our race. <sup>17</sup> For indeed that those who act impiously be not let alone any long time, but straightway meet with retribution, is a sign of great beneficence. <sup>18</sup> For in the case of the other nations the Sovereign Lord doth with long-suffering forbear, until that he punish them when <sup>19</sup> they have attained unto the full measure of their sins; but not so judged he as touching us, <sup>20</sup> that he may not take vengeance on us afterward, <sup>21</sup> when we be come unto the height of our sins. <sup>22</sup> Wherefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us; but though he chasteneth with calamity, yet doth he not forsake his own people. <sup>23</sup> Howbeit let this that we have spoken suffice to put you in remembrance; <sup>24</sup> but after these few words we must come to the narrative.

to come that are resolute to repel such things as not even for the natural love of life is it lawful to taste. <sup>29</sup> But they that had the charge of that forbidden sacrificial feast took the man aside, for the acquaintance which of old times they had with him, and privately besought him to bring flesh of his own providing, such as was befitting for him to use, and to make as if he did eat of the flesh from the sacrifice, as had been commanded by the king; <sup>30</sup> that by so doing he might be delivered from death, and for his ancient friendship with them might be treated kindly. <sup>31</sup> But he, having formed a high resolve, and one that became his years, and the dignity of old age, and the gray hairs <sup>32</sup> which he had reached with honour, and his excellent education from a child, <sup>33</sup> or rather that became the holy laws of God's ordaining, declared his mind accordingly, bidding them quickly send him unto Hades. <sup>34</sup> For it becometh not our years to dissemble, said he, that through this many of the young should suppose that Eleazar, the man of fourscore years and ten, had gone over unto an alien religion; and so they, by reason of my dissimulation, and for the sake of this brief and momentary life, should be led astray because of me, and thus I get to myself a pollution and a stain of mine old age. <sup>35</sup> For even if for the present time I shall remove from me the punishment of men, yet shall I not escape the hands of the Almighty, either living or dead. <sup>36</sup> Wherefore, by manfully parting with my life now, I will shew myself worthy of mine old age, <sup>37</sup> and leave behind a noble ensample to the young to die willingly and nobly a glorious death for the reverend and holy laws. And when he had said these words, he went straightway to the instrument of torture. <sup>38</sup> And when they changed the good will they bare him a little before into ill will, because <sup>39</sup> these words of his were, as they thought, sheer madness, <sup>40</sup> and when he was at the point to die with the stripes, he groaned aloud and said, To the Lord, that hath the holy knowledge, it is manifest that, whereas I might have been delivered from death, I endure sore pains in my body, by being scourged; but in soul I gladly suffer these things for my fear of him. <sup>41</sup> So this man also died after this manner, leaving his death for an ensample of nobleness and a memorial of virtue, not only to the young but also to the great body of his nation.

<sup>42</sup> And it came to pass that seven brethren also with their mother were at the king's command taken and shamefully handled with scourges and cords, to compel them to taste of <sup>18</sup> the abominable swine's flesh. <sup>19</sup> But one of them made himself <sup>20</sup> the spokesman and said, What wouldst thou ask and learn of us? <sup>21</sup> For we are ready to die rather than transgress the laws of our fathers. <sup>22</sup> And the king fell into a rage, and commanded to heat pans and caldrons: <sup>23</sup> and when these forthwith were heated, he commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had been their spokesman, and to scalp him, and to cut off his extremities, the rest of his brethren and his mother looking on. <sup>24</sup> And when he was utterly <sup>25</sup> maimed, the king commanded to bring him to the fire, being yet alive, and to fry him in the pan. And as the vapour of the pan spread far, they and their mother also exhorted one another to die nobly, saying thus: <sup>26</sup> The Lord God beholdeth, and in truth is <sup>27</sup> intreated for us, as Moses declared in <sup>28</sup> this song, which witnesseth against the people to their faces, saying, And he shall be <sup>29</sup> intreated for his servants.

<sup>7</sup> And when the first had died after this manner, they brought the second to <sup>8</sup> the mocking; and they pulled off the skin of his head with the hair and asked him, Wilt thou eat, before thy body be punished in every limb? <sup>9</sup> But he answered <sup>10</sup> in the language of his fathers and said to them, No. Wherefore he also underwent the next torture in succession, as the first had done. <sup>11</sup> And when he was at the last gasp, he said, Thou, miscreant, dost release us out of this present life, but the King of the world <sup>12</sup> shall raise up us, who have died for his laws, unto an eternal renewal of life.

<sup>13</sup> And after him was the third made a mockstock. And when he was required, he quickly put out his tongue, and stretched forth his hands courageously, <sup>14</sup> and nobly said; From heaven I possess these; and for his laws' sake I condemn these; and from him I hope <sup>15</sup> to receive these back again: <sup>16</sup> inasmuch that the king himself and they that were with him were astonished at the young man's soul, for that he nothing regarded the pains.

<sup>17</sup> And when he too was dead, they shamefully handled and tortured the fourth in like manner. <sup>18</sup> And being come near unto death he said thus: It is good to die at the hands of men and look for the hopes which are given by God, <sup>19</sup> that we shall be raised up again by him; for as for thee, <sup>20</sup> thou shalt have no resurrection unto life.

<sup>21</sup> And next after him they brought the fifth, and shamefully handled him. <sup>22</sup> But he looked toward <sup>23</sup> the king and said, Because thou hast authority among men, though thou art thyself corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt; yet think not that our race hath been forsaken of God; <sup>24</sup> but hold thou on thy way, and behold his sovereign majesty, <sup>25</sup> how it will torture thee and thy seed.

<sup>26</sup> And after him they brought the sixth. And when he was at the point to die he said, Be not vainly deceived, <sup>27</sup> for we suffer these things for our own doings, as sinning against our own God: marvellous things are come to pass; <sup>28</sup> but think not thou <sup>29</sup> that thou shalt be unpunished, having assayed <sup>30</sup> to fight against God.

<sup>31</sup> But above all was the mother marvellous and worthy of honourable memory; for when she looked on seven sons perishing within the space of one day, she bare the night with a good courage for the hopes that she had set on the Lord. <sup>32</sup> And she exhorted each one of them <sup>33</sup> in the language of their fathers, filled with a noble temper and stirring up her womanish thought with manly passion, saying unto them, <sup>34</sup> I know not how ye came into my womb, neither was it I that bestowed on you your <sup>35</sup> spirit and your life, and it was not I that brought into order the first elements of each one of you. <sup>36</sup> Therefore <sup>37</sup> the Creator of the world, who fashioned the <sup>38</sup> generation of man and devised the <sup>39</sup> generation of all things, in mercy <sup>40</sup> giveth back to you again both your <sup>41</sup> spirit and your life, as ye now condemn your own selves for his laws' sake. <sup>42</sup> But Antiochus, thinking himself to be despised, <sup>43</sup> and suspecting the reproachful voice, whilst the youngest was yet alive did not only make his appeal to him by words, but also at the same time promised with oaths that <sup>44</sup> he would enrich him and <sup>45</sup> raise him to high estate, if he would turn from the customs of his fathers, and that he would take him for his <sup>46</sup> Friend and intrust him with affairs. <sup>47</sup> But when the young man would in no wise give heed, the king called unto him his mother, and exhorted her that she would counsel the lad to save himself. <sup>48</sup> And when he had exhorted her with many words, she undertook to persuade her son. <sup>49</sup> But bending toward him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorn, she spake thus <sup>50</sup> in the language of her fathers: My son, have pity upon me that carried thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished and brought thee up unto this age, and sustained thee. <sup>51</sup> I beseech thee, my child, to lift thine eyes unto the heaven and the earth, and to see all things that are therein, and thus to recognise that God <sup>52</sup> made them not of things that were, and that the race of men in this wise cometh into being. <sup>53</sup> Fear not this butcher, but, proving

30 But before she had yet ended speaking, the young man said, Whom wait ye for? I obey not the commandment of the king, but I hearken to the commandment of the law that was given to our fathers through Moses. 31 But thou, that hast devised all manner of evil against the Hebrews, shalt in no wise escape the hands of God. 32 For we are suffering because of our own sins; 33 and if for rebuke and chastening our living Lord hath been angered a little while, yet shall he again be reconciled with his own servants. 34 But thou, O unholy man and of all most vile, be not vainly lifted up in thy wild pride with uncertain hopes, raising thy hand against the heavenly children; 35 for not yet hast thou escaped the judgement of the Almighty God that seeth all things. 36 For these our brethren, having endured a short pain that bringeth everlasting life, have now died under God's covenant; but thou, through the judgement of God, shalt receive in just measure the penalties of thine arrogance. 37 But I, as my brethren, give up both body and soul for the laws of our fathers, calling upon God that he may speedily become gracious to the nation; and that thou amidst trials and plagues mayest confess that he alone is God; 38 and that in me and my brethren thou mayest stay the wrath of the Almighty, which hath been justly brought upon our whole race. 39 But the king, falling into a rage, handled him worse than all the rest, being exasperated at his mocking. 40 So he also died pure from pollution, putting his whole trust in the Lord.

41 And last of all after her sons the mother died.

42 Let it then suffice to have said thus much concerning the enforcement of sacrificial feasts and the king's exceeding barbarities.

8 But Judas, who is also called Maccabeus, and they that were with him, making their way privily into the villages, called unto them their kinsfolk; and taking unto them such as had continued in the Jews' religion, gathered together as many as six thousand. 9 And they called upon the Lord, beseeching him to look upon the people that was oppressed by all; and to have compassion on the sanctuary also that had been profaned by the ungodly men; 3 and to have pity on the city also that was suffering ruin and ready to be made even with the ground; and to hearken to the blood that cried unto him; 4 and to remember also the lawless slaughter of the innocent infants, and the blasphemies that had been committed against his name; and to shew his hatred of wickedness. 5 And when Maccabeus had trained his men for service, the heathen at once found him irresistible, for that the wrath of the Lord was turned into pity. 6 And coming unawares he set fire to cities and villages. And in winning back the most important positions, putting to flight no small number of the enemies, 7 he specially took advantage of the nights for such assaults. And his courage was loudly talked of everywhere.

8 But when Philip saw the man gaining ground by little and little, and increasing more and more in his prosperity, he wrote unto Ptolemy, the governor of Coele Syria and Phenicia, that he should support the king's cause. 9 And Ptolemy quickly appointed Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of the king's Chief Friends, and sent him, in command of no fewer than twenty thousand of all nations, to destroy the whole race of Judaea; and with him he joined Gorgias also, a captain and one that had experience in matters of war. 10 And Nicanor undertook by the sale of the captive Jews to make up for the king the tribute of two thousand talents which he was to pay to the Romans. 11 And immediately he sent unto the cities upon the sea coast, inviting them to buy Jewish slaves, promising to allow fourscore and ten slaves for a talent, not expecting the judgement that was to follow upon him from the Almighty.

12 But tidings came to Judas concerning the inroad of Nicanor; and when he communicated to them that were with him the presence of the army, 13 they that were cowardly and distrustful of the judgement of God ran away and left the country. 14 And others sold all that was left over to them, and withal besought the Lord to deliver them that had been sold as slaves by the impious Nicanor or ever he met them; 15 and this, if not for their own sakes, yet for the covenants made with their fathers, and because he had called them by his reverend and glorious name. 16 And Maccabeus gathered his men together, six thousand in number, and exhorted them not to be stricken with dismay at the enemy, nor to fear the great multitude of the heathen who came wrongfully against them; but to contend nobly, 17 setting before their eyes the outrage that had been law-lessly perpetrated upon <sup>2</sup>the holy place, and the shameful handling of the city that had been turned to mockery, and further the overthrow of the mode of life received from their ancestors. <sup>18</sup>For they, said he, trust to arms, and withal to deeds of daring; but <sup>19</sup>we trust on the Almighty God, since he is able at a beck to cast down them that are coming against us, and even the whole world. <sup>19</sup>And moreover he recounted unto them the help given from time to time in the days of their ancestors, both <sup>20</sup>the help given in the days of Sennacherib, how that a hundred fourscore and five thousand perished, <sup>20</sup>and the help given in the land of Babylon, even the battle that was fought against <sup>21</sup>the Gauls, how that they came to the engagement eight thousand in all, with four thousand Macedonians, and how that, the Macedonians being hard pressed, the <sup>22</sup>six thousand destroyed the hundred and twenty thousand, because of the succour which they had from heaven, and took great booty. <sup>21</sup>And when he had with these words made them of good courage, and ready to die <sup>2</sup>for the laws and their country, he divided his army into four parts; <sup>22</sup>and appointing his brethren to be with himself leaders of the several bands, to wit, <sup>23</sup>Simon and <sup>24</sup>Joseph and <sup>25</sup>Jonathan, giving each the command of fifteen hundred men, <sup>23</sup>and moreover <sup>26</sup>Elezazar also: then, having read aloud the sacred book, and <sup>27</sup>having given as watchword, THE HELP OF GOD, leading the first band himself, <sup>28</sup>he joined battle with Nicanor. <sup>24</sup>And, since the Almighty fought on their side, they slew of the enemy above nine thousand, and wounded and <sup>29</sup>disabled the more part of Nicanor's army, and compelled all to flee; <sup>25</sup>and they took the money of <sup>30</sup>those that had come there to buy them. And after they had pursued them for some <sup>31</sup>distance, they returned, being constrained by the time of the day; <sup>26</sup>for it was the day before the sabbath, and for this cause they made no effort to chase them far. <sup>27</sup>And <sup>28</sup>when they had gathered <sup>29</sup>the arms of the enemy together, and had stripped off <sup>30</sup>their spoils, <sup>31</sup>they occupied themselves about the sabbath, blessing and thanking the Lord exceedingly, who had saved them unto this day, for that he had caused a beginning of mercy to distil upon them. <sup>32</sup>And after the sabbath, when they had given of <sup>33</sup>the spoils to the <sup>34</sup>maimed, and to <sup>35</sup>the widows and orphans, the residue they distributed among themselves and their children.

<sup>29</sup>And when they had accomplished these things, and had made a common supplication, they besought <sup>30</sup>the merciful Lord to be wholly <sup>31</sup>reconciled with his servants.

<sup>30</sup>And having had an encounter with the forces of <sup>31</sup>Timotheus and <sup>32</sup>Bacchides, they killed above twenty thousand of them, and made themselves masters of strongholds exceeding high, and divided very much plunder, giving the <sup>33</sup>maimed and <sup>34</sup>orphans and widows, and moreover the aged also, an equal share with themselves. <sup>31</sup>And <sup>32</sup>when they had gathered the arms <sup>33</sup>of the enemy together, they stored them all up carefully in the most important positions, and the residue of the spoils they carried to Jerusalem.
<sup>32</sup>And they killed the <sup>33</sup>phylarch of Timotheus's forces, a most unholy man, and one who had done the Jews much hurt. <sup>33</sup>And as they kept the feast of victory in the <sup>34</sup>city of their fathers, they burned those that had <sup>35</sup>set the sacred <sup>36</sup>gates on fire, and among them Callisthenes, who had fled into <sup>37</sup>an outhouse; and so they received <sup>38</sup>the meet reward of their impiety.

<sup>34</sup>And <sup>35</sup>the thrice-accursed Nicanor, who had brought the thousand merchants <sup>36</sup>to buy the Jews for slaves, <sup>35</sup>being <sup>37</sup>through the help of the Lord humbled by them who in his eyes were held to be of least account, put off his glorious apparel, and <sup>38</sup>passing through the midland, <sup>39</sup>shunning all company like a fugitive slave, arrived at <sup>40</sup>Antioch, <sup>40</sup>having, as he thought, had the greatest possible good fortune, though his host was destroyed. <sup>36</sup>And he that had taken upon him <sup>37</sup>to make tribute sure for the Romans by the captivity of the men of Jerusalem <sup>38</sup>published abroad that the Jews had One who fought for them, and that <sup>39</sup>because this was so the Jews were invulnerable, because they followed the laws ordained by him.

<sup>39</sup>Now about that time <sup>40</sup>Pit befell that Antiochus had returned <sup>41</sup>in disorder from the region of Persia.
<sup>40</sup>For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and he assayed to rob <sup>41</sup>a temple and to hold down the city.
 Whereupon there was an onset of the multitudes, and <sup>42</sup>Antiochus and his men turned to make defence with arms; and it came to pass that Antiochus was put to flight by the people of the country and broke up his camp with disgrace.
<sup>42</sup>news was brought him what had hap-

* See ch. 8. 30.	*Timotheus. 4 And being lifted up <sup>1</sup> by his passion he thought to make the Jews suffer even for the evil-doing of those that had put him to rout. Wherefore, <sup>2</sup> the judgement from heaven even now accompanying him, he gave order to his charioteer to drive without ceasing and despatch the journey; for thus he arrogantly spake: I will make Jerusalem <sup>3</sup> a common graveyard of Jews, when I come there. 5 But <sup>4</sup> the All-seeing Lord, the God of Israel, smote him with a <sup>5</sup> fatal and invisible stroke; <sup>6</sup> and as soon as he had ceased speaking this word, an incurable pain of the bowels seized him, and bitter torments of the inner parts; <sup>7</sup> and <sup>8</sup> that most justly, for he had tormented other men's bowels with many and strange sufferings. 7 But he in no wise ceased from his rude insolence; nay, still more was he filled with arrogance, <sup>9</sup> breathing fire in his passion against the Jews, and commanding to haste the journey. But it came to pass moreover that he fell from his chariot as it rushed along, and having a grievous fall was racked in all the members of his body. 8 And he that but now supposed himself <sup>10</sup> to have the waves of the sea at his bidding, so vainglorious was he beyond the condition of a man, and that thought <sup>11</sup> to weigh the heights of the mountains in a balance, was now brought to the ground and carried <sup>12</sup> in a litter, <sup>13</sup> shewing unto all that the power was manifestly God's; <sup>14</sup> so that out of the body of the impious man <sup>15</sup> worms swarmed, and while he was still living in anguish and pains, his flesh fell off, and by reason of the stench all the army turned with loathing from his corruption. <sup>16</sup> And the man that a little afore supposed himself <sup>17</sup> to touch the stars of heaven, no one could endure to carry for his intolerable stench. <sup>18</sup> Hereupon therefore he began in great part to cease from his arrogance, being broken <sup>19</sup> in spirit, and to come to knowledge under the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment. <sup>20</sup> And when he himself could not abide his own smell, he said these words: It is right <sup>21</sup> to be subject unto God, <sup>22</sup> and that one who is mortal should not <sup>23</sup> be minded arrogantly. <sup>24</sup> And the vile man vowed unto the <sup>25</sup> Sovereign Lord, who now <sup>26</sup> no more would have pity upon him, saying on this wise: <sup>27</sup> that <sup>28</sup> the holy city, to the which he was going in haste, to lay it even with the ground and to <sup>29</sup> make it <sup>30</sup> a common graveyard, he would declare free; <sup>31</sup> and as touching the Jews, whom he had decided not even to count worthy of burial, but to cast them out to the beasts with their infants, for the birds to devour, he would make them all equal to citizens	of <sup>32</sup> Athens; <sup>33</sup> and the holy sanctuary, which before he had spoiled, he would adorn with goodliest offerings, and would restore <sup>34</sup> all the sacred vessels many times multiplied, and <sup>35</sup> out of his own revenues would defray the charges that were required for the sacrifices; <sup>36</sup> and, beside all this, that he would become a Jew, and would visit every inhabited place, publishing abroad the might of God. <sup>37</sup> But when his sufferings did in no wise cease, for the judgement of God had come upon him in righteousness, having given up all hope of himself, he wrote unto the Jews the letter written below, having the nature of a supplication, to this effect: <sup>38</sup> To the worthy Jews, <sup>39</sup> this fellow-citizens, Antiochus, king and general, wisheth much joy and health and prosperity. <sup>40</sup> May ye and your children fare well; and your affairs shall be to your mind. Having my hope in heaven, <sup>41</sup> I remembered with affection your honour and good will <sup>42</sup> toward me. Returning <sup>43</sup> out of the region of Persia, and being taken with a noisome sickness, I deemed it necessary to take thought for the common safety of all, <sup>44</sup> not despairing of myself, but having great hope to escape from the sickness. <sup>45</sup> But considering that my father also, at what time <sup>46</sup> he led an army into the upper country, appointed his successor, <sup>47</sup> to the end that, if anything fell out contrary to expectation, or if any unwelcome tidings were brought, they <sup>48</sup> that remained in the country, knowing to whom the state had been left, might not be troubled; <sup>49</sup> and, beside all this, observing how that the princes that are borderers and neighbours unto my kingdom watch opportunities, and look for the future event, <sup>50</sup> I have appointed my son Antiochus to be king, whom I often committed and commended to most of you, when I was hastening unto the upper provinces; and I have written to him what is written below. <sup>51</sup> I exhort you therefore and beseech you, having in your remembrance <sup>52</sup> the benefits done to you in common and severally, to preserve each of you your present good will toward me and my son. <sup>53</sup> For I am persuaded that he in gentleness and kindness will follow my purpose and treat you with indulgence. <sup>54</sup> So the murderer and blasphemer, having endured the sorest sufferings, even as he had dealt with other men, ended his life among the mountains by a most piteous fate in a strange land. <sup>55</sup> And <sup>56</sup> Philip his foster-brother conveyed the body <sup>57</sup> home; and then, fearing the son of Antiochus, he betook himself to <sup>58</sup> Ptolemy Philometor in Egypt.	* Cp. ch. 8. 1. * ch. 5. 16. * See ch. 3. 3. * Cp. ch. 4. 19 & 5. 23. * ver. 1. * Cp. 1 Macc. 2. 37. * See 1 Macc. 1. 10. * See ver. 14 —16. * Cp. 1 Macc. 6. 16. * 1 Macc. 6. 14, 26, 62. * ch. 4. 21. IO <sup>1</sup>And Maccabeus and they that were with him, the Lord leading them on, <sup>2</sup>recovered the temple and the city; <sup>3</sup>and they pulled down <sup>4</sup>the altars that had been built in the marketplace by the aliens, and also <sup>5</sup>the walls of sacred inclosures. <sup>6</sup>And <sup>7</sup>having cleansed the sanctuary <sup>8</sup>they made another altar of sacrifice; and <sup>9</sup>striking stones and taking fire out of them, they offered sacrifices, after they had ceased for two years, <sup>10</sup>and burned incense, and <sup>11</sup>lighted lamps, and set forth the shewbread. <sup>12</sup>And when they had done these things, <sup>13</sup>they fell prostrate and besought the Lord that they might fall no more into such evils; but that, if ever they should sin, <sup>14</sup>they might be chastened by him with forbearance, and not be delivered unto blaspheming and barbarous heathen. <sup>15</sup>Now on the same day that the sanctuary was profaned by aliens, upon that very day did it come to pass that the cleansing of the sanctuary was made, even on the five and twentieth day of the same month, which is <sup>16</sup>Chisleu. <sup>17</sup>And they kept eight days with gladness in the manner of the feast of tabernacles, remembering how that <sup>18</sup>not long afore, during the feast of tabernacles, they were wandering in the mountains and in the caves after the manner of wild beasts. <sup>19</sup>Wherefore bearing waunds wreathed with leaves, <sup>20</sup>and fair boughs, and <sup>21</sup>palms also, <sup>22</sup>they offered up hymns of thanksgiving to him that had prosperously brought to pass the cleansing of his own place. <sup>23</sup>They ordained also with a common statute and decree, for all the nation of the Jews, that they should keep these days every year.

<sup>43</sup>But <sup>44</sup>Gorgias, when he was made governor of the district, maintained a force of mercenaries, and at every turn kept up war with the Jews. <sup>45</sup>And together with him <sup>46</sup>the Idumeans also, being masters of important strongholds, harassed the Jews; and receiving unto them those that had taken refuge there from Jerusalem, they assayed to keep up war. <sup>47</sup>But Maccabeus and his men, having made solemn supplication and besought God to fight on their side, rushed upon the strongholds of the Idumeans; <sup>48</sup>and assaulting them vigorously they made themselves masters of the positions, and kept off all that fought upon the wall, and slew those that fell in their way, and killed no fewer than twenty thousand. <sup>49</sup>And because no less than nine thousand were fled into two towers exceeding strong and having all things needed for a siege, <sup>50</sup>Maccabeus, having left <sup>51</sup>Simon and <sup>52</sup>Joseph, and <sup>53</sup>Zaccheus besides and them that were with him, a force sufficient to besiege them, departed himself unto places where he was most needed. <sup>54</sup>But Simon and they that were with him, yielding to covetousness, were bribed by certain of those that were in the towers, and receiving seventy thousand <sup>55</sup>drachmas let some of them slip away. <sup>56</sup>But when word was brought to Maccabeus of what was done, he gathered the leaders of the people together, and accused those men of having sold their brethren for money, by setting their enemies free to fight against them. <sup>57</sup>So he slew these men for having turned traitors, and forthwith took possession of the two towers. <sup>58</sup>And <sup>59</sup>prospering with his arms in all things he took in hand, he destroyed in the two strongholds <sup>60</sup>more than twenty thousand.

<sup>61</sup>Now <sup>62</sup>Timotheus, who had been before defeated by the Jews, having gathered together foreign forces in great multitudes, and having collected the <sup>63</sup>horsemen which belonged to Asia, not a few, came as though he would take Judaea by force of arms. <sup>64</sup>But as he drew near, Maccabeus and his men <sup>65</sup>sprinkled earth upon their heads and <sup>66</sup>girded their loins with sackcloth, in supplication to God, <sup>67</sup>and falling down upon the step in front of the altar, besought him to become <sup>68</sup>gracious to them, and <sup>69</sup>be an enemy to their enemies and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law declareth. <sup>70</sup>And rising from their prayer they took up their arms, and advanced some distance from the city; and when they had come near to their enemies they <sup>71</sup>halted. <sup>72</sup>And when the dawn was now spreading, the two armies joined battle; the one part having this, beside their virtue, for a pledge of success and victory, that they had fled unto the Lord for refuge, the others making their passion their leader in the strife. <sup>29</sup> But when the battle waxed strong, <sup>30</sup> there appeared out of heaven unto their adversaries five men on horses with bridles of gold, in splendid array; <sup>31</sup> and two of them, <sup>32</sup> leading on the Jews, <sup>33</sup> and taking Maccabæus in the midst of them, and covering him with their own armour, guarded him from wounds, while on the adversaries they shot forth arrows and thunderbolts; by reason whereof they were blinded and thrown into confusion, and were cut to pieces, filled with bewilderment. <sup>34</sup> And there were slain twenty thousand and five hundred, beside six hundred horsemen.

<sup>35</sup> But Timotheus himself fled into a stronghold called Gazara, a fortress of exceeding strength, <sup>36</sup> Chareas being in command there. <sup>37</sup> But Maccabæus and his men were glad and laid siege to the fortress four and twenty days. <sup>38</sup> And they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and hurled forth impious words. <sup>39</sup> But at dawn of the five and twentieth day certain young men of the company of Maccabæus, inflamed with passion because of the blasphemies, assaulted the wall with masculine force and with <sup>40</sup> furious passion, and cut down whosoever came in their way. <sup>41</sup> And others climbing up in like manner, while the besieged were distracted with them that had made their way within, set fire to the towers, and kindling fires <sup>42</sup> burned the blasphemers alive; while others broke open the gates, and, having given entrance to the rest of the band, occupied the city. <sup>43</sup> And they slew <sup>44</sup> Timotheus, who was hidden in a cistern, and his brother Chareas, and Apollonaphanes. <sup>45</sup> And when they had accomplished these things, <sup>46</sup> they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgivings, him who doeth great benefits unto Israel, and giveth them the victory.

<sup>47</sup> Now after a very little time II <sup>48</sup> Lysias, the king's guardian and kinsman and chancellor, being sore displeased for the things that had come to pass, <sup>49</sup> collected about fourscore thousand footmen and all his horsemen and came against the Jews, thinking to make the city <sup>50</sup> a place for Greeks to dwell in, and to levy tribute on the temple, as <sup>51</sup> on the other sacred places of the nations, and <sup>52</sup> to put up the high priesthood to sale every year; <sup>53</sup> holding in no account the might of God, but puffed up with his ten thousands of footmen, and his thousands of horsemen, and his fourscore elephants. <sup>54</sup> And coming into Judæa

and drawing near to Bethsuron, which was a strong place and distant from Jerusalem about <sup>55</sup> five leagues, he pressed it hard. <sup>56</sup> But when Maccabæus and his men learned that he was besieging the strongholds, they and all the people with lamentations and tears made supplication unto the Lord <sup>57</sup> to send a good angel to save Israel. <sup>58</sup> And Maccabæus himself took up arms first, and exhorted the others to jeopard themselves together with him and succour their brethren; and they sallied forth with him right willingly. <sup>59</sup> And as they were there, close to Jerusalem, there appeared <sup>60</sup> at their head one on horseback in white apparel, brandishing <sup>61</sup> weapons of gold. <sup>62</sup> And they all together praised <sup>63</sup> the merciful God, and were yet more strengthened in heart: being ready to <sup>64</sup> assail not men only but the wildest beasts, and walls of iron, <sup>65</sup> they advanced in array, having him that is in heaven to fight on their side, for the Lord had mercy on them. <sup>66</sup> And hurling themselves <sup>67</sup> like lions upon the enemy, <sup>68</sup> they slew of them eleven thousand footmen and sixteen hundred horsemen, and forced all the rest to flee. <sup>69</sup> But the more part of them escaped wounded and naked; and Lysias also himself escaped by shameful flight. <sup>70</sup> But as he was a man not void of understanding, weighing with himself the defeat which had befallen him, and considering that <sup>71</sup> the Hebrews could not be overcome, because the Almighty God fought on their side, he sent again <sup>72</sup> unto them, <sup>73</sup> and persuaded them to come to terms on condition that all their rights were acknowledged, and <sup>74</sup> promised <sup>75</sup> that he would also persuade the king to become their friend. <sup>76</sup> And Maccabæus gave consent upon all the conditions which <sup>77</sup> Lysias proposed to him, being careful of the common good; for whatsoever <sup>78</sup> requests Maccabæus delivered in writing unto Lysias concerning the Jews the king allowed. <sup>79</sup> For the letters written unto the Jews from Lysias were to this effect:

King Antiochus unto his <sup>a</sup> brother Lysias, greeting. <sup>23</sup> Seeing that our father passed unto the gods having the wish that the subjects of his kingdom <sup>24</sup> should be undisturbed and give themselves to the care of their own affairs, <sup>25</sup> we, having heard that the Jews do not consent to our father's purpose <sup>b</sup> to turn them unto the customs of the Greeks, but choose rather their own manner of living, and make request <sup>c</sup> that the customs of their law be allowed unto them,—<sup>26</sup> choosing therefore that this nation also should be free from <sup>d</sup> disturbance, we determine that their temple <sup>e</sup> be restored to them, and <sup>f</sup> that they live according to the customs that were in the days of their ancestors. <sup>27</sup> Thou wilt therefore do well to send <sup>g</sup> messengers unto them and give them <sup>h</sup> the right hand of friendship, that they, knowing our mind, may be of good heart, and gladly occupy themselves with the conduct of their own affairs.

inhabited by a mixed multitude of divers nations; and it was named Caspin.
 14 But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the walls and to their store of provisions, behaved themselves rudely toward Judas and them that were with him, railing, and furthermore blaspheming and speaking impious words.
 15 But Judas and his company, calling upon the great Sovereign of the world, who without rams and cunning engines of war hurled down Jericho in the times of Joshua, rushed wildly against the wall; 16 and having taken the city by the will of God, they made unspeakable slaughter, inasmuch that the adjoining lake, which was two furlongs broad, appeared to be filled with the deluge of blood.

17 And when they had drawn off seven hundred and fifty furlongs from thence, they made their way to Charax, unto the Jews that are called 1 Tubieni.
 18 And 2 Timothyus they found not in occupation of that district, for he had then departed from the district without accomplishing anything, but had left behind a garrison, and that a very strong one, in a certain post. 19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus's captains, sallied forth and destroyed those that had been left by Timothyus in the stronghold, above ten thousand men. 20 And Maccabeus, ranging his own army by bands, set 2 these two over the bands, and marched in haste against Timothyus, 2 who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen and two thousand and five hundred horsemen. 21 But when Timothyus heard of the inroad of Judas, he at once sent away the women and the children and also the baggage into the fortrees called 3 Carnion; for the place was hard to besiege and difficult of access by reason of the narrowness of the approaches on all sides. 22 But when the band of Judas, who led the van, appeared in sight, and when terror came upon the enemy and fear, because 4 the manifestation of him who beholdeth all things came upon them, they fled amain, carried this way and that, so that they were often hurt of their own men, and pierced with the points of their swords. 23 And Judas continued the pursuit the more hotly, putting the wicked wretches to the sword, and he destroyed as many as thirty thousand men. 24 But 5 Timothyus himself, falling in with the company of Dositheus and Sosipater, besought them with much 6 crafty guile to let him go with his life, because he had in his power the parents of many of them and the brethren of some: 6 otherwise, said he, little regard will 6 be shewn to these. 25 So when he had with many words confirmed the agreement to restore them without hurt, they let him go that they might save their brethren.

26 And Judas, marching against 7 Carnion and the temple of Atergatis, slew five and twenty thousand persons. 27 And after he had put these to flight and destroyed them, 28 he marched against Ephron also, a strong city, 29 wherein were multitudes of people of all nations; and stalwart young men placed 30 on the walls made a vigorous defence; and there were great stores of engines and darts there. 31 But calling upon the Sovereign who with might 3 breaketh in pieces the 3 strength of 10 the enemy, they got the city into their hands, and slew as many as twenty and five thousand of them that were within. 32 And setting out from thence they marched in haste against 4 Scythopolis, which is distant from Jerusalem six hundred furlongs. 33 But when the Jews that were settled there testified of the good will that the Scythopolitans had shewn toward them, and of their kindly bearing toward them in the times of their misfortune, 34 they gave thanks, and further exhorted them to remain well affected toward the race for the future; and 35 they went up to Jerusalem, 36 the feast of weeks being close at hand.

37 But after the feast called 1 Pentecost they marched in haste against 2 Gorgias the governor of Idumea: 33 and he came out with three thousand footmen and four hundred horsemen. 34 And when they had set themselves in array, it came to pass that a few of the Jews fell. 35 And a certain Dositheus, one 11 of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback and a strong man, pressed hard on Gorgias, and taking hold of his cloke drew him along by main force; and while he was minded to take the accursed man alive, one of the Thracian horsemen bore down upon him and disabled his shoulder, and so Gorgias escaped unto 12 Marisa. 36 And when they that were with Eadris had been fighting long and were wearied out, Judas called upon the Lord to shew himself, fighting on their side and leading the van of the battle; 37 and then 13 in the language of his fathers he raised the battle-cry joined with hymns, and rushing unawares upon the troops of Gorgias put them to flight.

38 And Judas gathering his army came unto the city of 14 Adullam; and as the seventh day was coming on, 15 they purified themselves according to the custom, and 16 kept the sabbath there.

39 And on the day following, <sup>1</sup>at which time it had become necessary, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that had fallen, <sup>2</sup>and in company with their kinsmen to bring them back unto the sepulchres of their fathers.

40 But under the garments of each one of the dead they found <sup>3</sup>consecrated tokens of the idols of <sup>4</sup>Jamnia, <sup>5</sup>which the law forbids the Jews to have ought to do with; and it became clear to all that it was for this cause that they had fallen.

41 All therefore, blessing the <sup>6</sup>works of the Lord, <sup>7</sup>the righteous Judge, <sup>8</sup>who maketh manifest the things that are hid, <sup>9</sup>betook themselves unto supplication, beseeching that the sin committed might be wholly blotted out. And the noble Judas exhorted the multitude to keep themselves from sin, forso much as they had seen before their eyes what things had come to pass because of the sin of them that had fallen. 43 And when he had made a collection man by man to the sum of two thousand

44 For if he were not expecting that they that had fallen would rise again, it were superfluous and idle to pray for the dead. 45 (And if he did it looking unto an honourable memorial of gratitude laid up for them that <sup>13</sup>'die <sup>14</sup>in godliness, holy and godly was the thought.) Wherefore he made <sup>15</sup>the propitiation for them that had died, that they might be released from their sin.

3 And <sup>22</sup>Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the saving of his country, but because he thought that he would be set over the government. 4 But the <sup>23</sup>King of kings stirred up <sup>24</sup>the passion of Antiochus against the wicked wretch; and when Lysias informed him that this man was the cause of all the evils, the <sup>25</sup>king commanded to bring him unto Beroea, and <sup>26</sup>to put him to death after the manner of that place. 5 Now there is in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had all round it a <sup>27</sup>gallery <sup>28</sup>descending sheer on every side into the ashes.

6 Here him that is <sup>29</sup>'guilty of sacrilege, or hath attained a preeminence in any other evil deeds, they <sup>30</sup>'all push forward into destruction. 7 By such a fate it befell the breaker of the law, <sup>31</sup>Menelaus, to die, without obtaining so much as a <sup>32</sup>grave in the earth, and <sup>33</sup>that right justly; <sup>34</sup>for inasmuch as he had perpetrated many sins <sup>35</sup>against the altar, whose fire and whose ashes were holy, in ashes did he receive his death.

9 Now the king, <sup>36</sup>inraged in spirit, was coming with intent to inflict on the Jews the very worst of the sufferings that had befallen them in his father's time. <sup>37</sup>But when Judas heard of these things, he gave charge to the multitude to call upon the Lord day and night, <sup>38</sup>beseeching him, if ever at any other time, so now to succour them that were at the point to be deprived of the law and their country and the holy temple, <sup>39</sup>and not to suffer the people that had been but now a little while revived to fall into the hands of those profane heathen.

10 So when they had all done the same thing together, <sup>40</sup>beseeching <sup>41</sup>the merciful Lord <sup>42</sup>with weeping and fastings and <sup>43</sup>prostration for three days without ceasing, Judas exhorted them and commanded they should join him for <sup>44</sup>service. 13 And having gone apart with the elders he resolved that, before the king's army should enter into Judea and make themselves masters of the city, they should go forth and try the matter <sup>45</sup>in fight <sup>46</sup>by the help of <sup>47</sup>God. 14 And committing the decision to <sup>48</sup>the <sup>49</sup>Lord of the world, and exhorting them that were with him to contend nobly even unto death <sup>50</sup>for laws, temple, city, country, <sup>51</sup>commonwealth, he pitched his camp by <sup>52</sup>Modin. 15 And <sup>53</sup>having given out to his men the watchword, VICTORY IS GOD'S, with a chosen body of the bravest young men he fell upon the camp <sup>54</sup>by night and <sup>55</sup>penetrated to the king's <sup>56</sup>tent, and slew <sup>57</sup>of the <sup>58</sup>army as many as two thousand men, and <sup>59</sup>brought down the chiefest elephant with him that was in the <sup>60</sup>tower upon him. 16 And at last they filled the <sup>61</sup>army with terror and alarm, and departed with good success. 17 And this had been accomplished when the day was but now dawning, because of <sup>62</sup>the Lord's protection that gave <sup>63</sup>Judas help.

18 But the king, having had a taste of the exceeding boldness of the Jews, made attempts by stratagem upon their positions, <sup>64</sup>and upon a strong fortress of the Jews at <sup>65</sup>Bethsura; he advanced, <sup>66</sup>and was turned back, failed, was defeated. <sup>20</sup> And Judas conveyed such things as were necessary unto them that were within. <sup>21</sup> But Rhodocus, from the Jewish ranks, made known to the enemy the secrets of his countrymen. He was sought out, and taken, and shut up in prison. <sup>22</sup> The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, <sup>23</sup> gave his hand, took theirs, departed, attacked the forces of Judas, was put to the worse, <sup>24</sup> heard that Philip who had been left as chancellor in Antioch had become reckless, was confounded, <sup>25</sup> made to the Jews an overture of peace, submitted himself and swore to acknowledge all their rights, came to terms with them and offered sacrifice, honoured the sanctuary and the place, <sup>26</sup> shewed kindness and graciously received Maccabeus, left Hegemonides governor from Ptolemais even unto the Gerrenians, <sup>27</sup> came to Ptolemais. The men of Ptolemais were displeased at the treaty, for they had exceeding great indignation against the Jews: they desired to annul the articles of the agreement. <sup>28</sup> Lysias <sup>29</sup> came forward to speak, made the best defence that was possible, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, <sup>30</sup> departed unto Antioch. This was the issue of the inroad and departure of the king.

14 Now after a space of three years tidings were brought to Judas and his company that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having sailed into the haven of Tripolis with a mighty host and a fleet, <sup>2</sup> had gotten possession of the country, <sup>3</sup> having made away with Antiochus and Lysias his guardian.

<sup>3</sup> But one Alcimus, who had formerly been high priest, and had wilfully polluted himself in the times <sup>4</sup> when there was no mingling with the Gentiles, considering that there was no deliverance for him in any way, nor any more access unto the holy altar, <sup>5</sup> came to king Demetrius <sup>6</sup> in about the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting to him a chaplet of gold and a palm, and beside these some of the festal olive boughs of the temple. And for that day he held his peace; <sup>7</sup> but having gotten opportunity to further his own madness, being called by Demetrius into a meeting of his council, and asked how the Jews stood affected and what they purposed, he answered thereunto, <sup>8</sup> Those of the Jews that he called <sup>9</sup> Hasidæans, whose leader is Judas Maccabeus, keep up war, and are seditious, not suffering the kingdom to find tranquillity. <sup>7</sup> Wherefore, having laid aside mine <sup>10</sup> ancestral glory, I mean the high priesthood, I am now come <sup>11</sup> hither; <sup>12</sup> first for the unfeigned care I have for the things that concern the king, and secondly because I have regard also to mine own fellow-citizens: for, through the unadvised dealing of those of whom I spake before, our whole race is in no small misfortune. <sup>9</sup> But do thou, O king, having informed thyself of these things severally, take thought both for our country and for our race, which <sup>10</sup> is surrounded by foes, according to the gracious kindness with which thou receivest all. <sup>11</sup> For as long as Judas remaineth alive, it is impossible that the state should find peace. <sup>12</sup> And when he had spoken such words as these, at once <sup>13</sup> the rest of the king's Friends, having ill will against Judas, inflamed Demetrius yet more. <sup>14</sup> And forthwith appointing <sup>15</sup> Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor of Judæa, he sent him forth, <sup>16</sup> giving him written instructions to make away with Judas himself and to scatter them that were with him and to set up Alcimus as high priest of the great temple. <sup>17</sup> And <sup>18</sup> those in Judæa that <sup>19</sup> had before driven Judas into exile thronged to Nicanor in flocks, supposing that the misfortunes and calamities of the Jews would be successes to themselves.

<sup>15</sup> But when the Jews heard of Nicanor's inroad and the assault of the heathen, <sup>16</sup> they sprinkled earth upon their heads and made solemn supplication to him <sup>17</sup> who had established his own people for evermore, and who alway, making manifest his presence, upholdeth them that are <sup>18</sup> his own portion. <sup>19</sup> And when the leader had given his commands, he straightway setteth out from thence, and joineth battle with them at a village called Lessau. <sup>20</sup> But <sup>21</sup> Simon, the brother of Judas, had encountered Nicanor, <sup>22</sup> yet not till late, having received a check by reason of the sudden consternation caused by his adversaries.

<sup>23</sup> Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the malice of them that were with Judas, and their courage in fighting for their country, shrank from bringing the matter to the decision of the sword. <sup>24</sup> Wherefore he sent Posidonius and Theodotus and Mattathias to give and receive pledges of friendship. <sup>25</sup> So when these proposals had been long considered, and the leader had made the <sup>26</sup> troops acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of like mind, they consented to the covenants. <sup>27</sup> And they appointed a day on which to meet together by themselves. And a litter was borne forward from each army; they set chairs of state; <sup>28</sup> Judas stationed armed men ready in convenient places, <sup>29</sup> lest haply there should suddenly be treachery on the part of the enemy; they held such conference as was meet. <sup>23</sup> Nicanor tarried in Jerusalem, and did nothing to cause disturbance, but dismissed the flocks of people that had gathered together. <sup>24</sup> And he kept Judas always in his presence; he had gained a hearty affection for the man; <sup>25</sup> he urged him to marry and beget children; he married, settled quietly, took part in common life.

<sup>26</sup> But Alcimus, perceiving the good will that was betwixt them, <sup>1</sup>and having got possession of the covenants that had been made, came unto Demetrius and told him that Nicanor was ill affected toward the state, for he had appointed <sup>2</sup>that conspirator against his kingdom, Judas, to be his successor. <sup>27</sup> And the king, falling into a rage, and being exasperated by the calumnies of that most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was displeased at the covenants, and commanding him to send Maccabeus prisoner unto Antioch in all haste. <sup>28</sup> And when this message came to Nicanor, he was confounded, and was sore troubled at the thought of annulling the articles that had been agreed upon, the man having done no wrong; <sup>29</sup> but because there was no dealing against the king, <sup>3</sup>he watched his time to execute this purpose by stratagem. <sup>30</sup> But Maccabeus, when he perceived that Nicanor was behaving more harshly in his dealings with him, and that he had become ruder in his customary bearing, understanding that this harshness came not of good, gathered together not a few of his men, and concealed himself from Nicanor.

<sup>31</sup> But the other, <sup>2</sup>when he became aware that he had been bravely defeated by the stratagem of Judas, came to the great and holy temple, <sup>3</sup>while the priests were offering the usual sacrifices, and commanded them to deliver up the man. <sup>32</sup> And when they declared with oaths that they had no knowledge where the man was whom he sought, <sup>33</sup>he stretched forth his right hand toward the sanctuary, and swore this oath: If ye will not deliver up to me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will break down the altar, and I will erect here a temple unto Bacchus for all to see. <sup>34</sup> And having said this he departed. But the priests, <sup>4</sup>stretching forth their hands toward heaven, called upon him that ever fighteth for our nation, in these words: <sup>35</sup>Thou, O Lord of the universe, who in thyself hast need of nothing, wast well pleased that a sanctuary of thy habitation should be set among us; <sup>36</sup>so now, O holy Lord of all hallowing, keep undefiled for ever this house that hath been lately cleansed.

<sup>37</sup> Now information was given to Nicanor against one Razias, an elder of Jerusalem, <sup>5</sup>as being a lover of his countrymen and a man of very good report, and one called Father of the Jews for his good will toward them. <sup>38</sup> For in the former times <sup>6</sup>when there was no mingling with the Gentiles he had been accused of cleaving to the Jews' religion, and had jeopardized body and life with all earnestness for the religion of the Jews. <sup>39</sup> And Nicanor, wishing to make evident the ill will that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred soldiers to take him; <sup>40</sup> for he thought by taking him to inflict a calamity upon them. <sup>41</sup> But when the troops were on the point of taking the tower, and were forcing the door of the court, and bade bring fire and burn the doors, he being surrounded on every side fell upon his sword, <sup>42</sup>choosing rather to die nobly than to fall into the hands of the wicked wretches, and suffer outrage unworthy of his own nobleness: <sup>43</sup> but since he missed his stroke through the excitement of the struggle, and the crowds were now rushing within the door, he ran bravely up to the wall and cast himself down manfully among the crowds. <sup>44</sup> But as they quickly gave back, a space was made, and he fell on the middle of his side. <sup>45</sup> And having yet breath within him, and being inflamed with passion, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out in streams and his wounds were grievous, he ran through the crowds, and standing upon a steep rock, <sup>46</sup>when as his blood was now well nigh spent, he drew forth his bowels through the wound, and taking them in both his hands he shook them at the crowds; and calling upon him who is Lord of the life and the spirit <sup>7</sup>to restore him <sup>8</sup>these again, he thus died.

<sup>9</sup> But Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the region of Samaria, resolved to set upon them with all security on the day of rest. <sup>10</sup> And when the Jews that were compelled to follow him said, O destroy not so savagely and barbarously, but give due glory to the day which he that beholdeth all things hath <sup>11</sup>honoured and hallowed above other days; <sup>12</sup> then the thrice-accursed wretch asked if there were <sup>13</sup>Pa Sovereign in heaven that had commanded to keep the sabbath day. <sup>14</sup> And when they declared, There is the Lord, living himself

6 And Nicanor, bearing himself haughtily in all vaingloriousness, had determined to set up a monument of complete victory over Judas and all them that were with him: 7 but Maccabeus still trusted unceasingly, with all hope that he should obtain help from the Lord. 8 And he exhorted his company not to be fearful at the 9 inroad of the heathen, but, keeping in mind 10 the help which of old they had oft-times received from heaven, so now also to look for the victory which would come unto them from the Almighty; 9 and comforting them out of 11 the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the conflicts that they had maintained, he made them more eager for the battle. 10 And when he had roused their 11 spirit, he gave them his commands, at the same time pointing out the perfidiousness of the heathen and their breach of their oaths. 11 And arming each one of them, not so much with the sure defence of shields and spears as with the encouragement that lieth in good words, and moreover relating to them a dream 12 worthy to be believed, he made them all exceeding glad. 12 And the vision of that dream was this: He saw 13 Onias, him that was high priest, a noble and good man, reverend in bearing, yet gentle in manner and well-spoken, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, 14 with outstretched hands invoking blessings on the whole body of the Jews: 13 thereupon he saw a man appear, of venerable age and exceeding glory, and wonderful and most majestic was the dignity around him: 14 and Onias answered and said, This is the lover of the brethren, he who prayeth much for the people and 15 the holy city, 16 Jeremiah the prophet of God: 15 and Jeremiah stretching forth his right hand delivered to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it addressed him thus, 16 Take the holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite down the adversaries.

17 And being encouraged by the words of Judas, which were of a lofty strain, and able to incite unto virtue and to stir the souls of the young unto manly courage, they determined 1 not to carry on a campaign, but nobly to bear down upon the enemy, and fighting hand to hand with all courage bring the matter to an issue, because the city and the sanctuary and the temple were in danger. 18 For their fear for wives and children, and furthermore for brethren and kinsfolk, was in less account with them; 19 but greatest and first was their fear for the consecrated sanctuary. 19 And they also that were shut up in the city were in no light distress, being troubled because of the encounter in the open ground.

20 And when all were now waiting for the decision of the issue, and the enemy had already joined battle, and the army had been set in array, and the 21 elephants brought back to a convenient post, and the horsemen drawn up 22 on the flank, 23 Maccabeus, perceiving the presence of the 24 troops, and the various arms with which they were equipped, and the savageness of the 25 elephants, holding up his hands unto heaven called upon the Lord 26 that worketh wonders, 27 recognising that success cometh not by arms, but that, according as the Lord shall judge, he gaineth the victory for them that are worthy. 28 And calling upon God he said after this manner: Thou, O Sovereign Lord, 29 didst send thine angel in the time of Hezekiah king of Judaea, and he slew of the 30 host of Sennacherib as many as a hundred fourscore and five thousand; 31 so now also, O Sovereign of the heavens, 32 send a good angel before us to bring terror and trembling: 33 through the greatness of thine arm let them be stricken with dismay that with blasphemy are come hither against thy holy people. And as he ended with these words, 34 Nicanor and his company advanced with trumpets and psalms; 35 but Judas and his company joined battle with the enemy with invocation and prayers. 36 And contending with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men, being made exceeding glad 37 by the manifestation of God.

38 And when the engagement was over, and they were returning again with joy, they recognised Nicanor 39 lying dead in full armour; 40 and there arose a shout and 41 tumult, and then they blessed the 42 Sovereign Lord 43 in the language of their fathers. 44 And he that in all things was in body and soul the foremost champion of his fellow-citizens, he that kept through life the good will of his youth toward his countrymen, commanded 45 to cut off Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem. 46 And when he had arrived there, and had called his countrymen together and set
